P. O. Box 425

BEAVERTON, OREGON

America and the Great War for Humanity and Freedom, by Willis Fletcher Johnson, A. M., L. H. D., professor of History of American Foreign Relations, New York University, tells the story of America's entrance into the great war in a clear, straightforward way that you can understand. Just what you want to know right now. Get a copy from R. O. Cooper, resident agent, Beaverton, Oregon, 46-48

Mrs. Mary Baldwin has recovered from an attack of influenza and was out in time to help celebrate the real signing of the armistice. She was sick 11 days and missed the excitement due to the premature report of peace last week.

These Bills Were Paid.

SIGNING OF ARMISTICE CELEBRATED MONDAY

Beaverton Proudly Hails Victory Over Forces of Autocracy as World's First Holiday.

 casion placarding the auto. At the bonfire he stopped and the dummy was lifted from the car and carried to the flaming pyre amid the plaudits of the crowd.

The crowd sang America and as the strains of the loved song died away, Rev. G. A. Gray gave fervent thanks to God for the signal victory that had so shortly crowned the efforts of America in the war. Father F. J. Kettenhofen spoke briefly in review of the war and the duties that have come to America. Then, as chairman of the evening, R. H. Jonas introduced B. F. Mulkey of Portland, the orator of the day, who reviewed the terms of the armistice and interpreted them in the light of the signal victory that has followed the Allied army's efforts during the past four or five months. He found instant approval from the crowd when he predicted that the Turk would be driven from Europe. He went on to show how the city of Constantinople had been founded to become the capital of the world and ventured to predict that if the Turk were driven into the deserts of Asia and the people of Europe given a chance to develop it, Constantinople would be the largest city in the world within 50 years.

S. H. Davis followed with an appeal for the support of the United War Work drive and when he had finished, the town was turned open to the crowd to enjoy themselves. At Morse

Hall the younger set enjoyed a social dance. Bells were rung, horns were blown, sirens screamed, cans rattled and anvils were fired. Long after the writer of this report had tired and gone to bed, the joy of new arrivals continued to swell the noise and keep the jubilee at its height.

Stamp Buyers Nearly All Make Good Their Pledges.

Reports are in from nearly all districts and show nearly everyone buying at least as fast as he agreed to in his pledge. Washington County has bought fully up to the schedule for the month ending October 31. If everyone will keep his pledge strictly up to the last, we will come in at the end of the year with flying colors. N. A. Frost, Chairman.

When They Can't Buy Fords, They Buy Fordsons of Otto.

Otto Erickson received a carload of Fordson tractors during the past week and distributed them to the following persons:

J. Gillimwater and E. E. Northrun of Mountindale; Remo Vulsteke and George Dooley of Ranks; J. A. Peters of Forest Grove; W. A. Thurnher of Cornelius; L. J. Lawrence of Reedville; and Adolph Schaffner and Conrad Algesheimer of Beaverton. Mr. Erickson also sold three one-ton trucks. W. S. Hahn of Mountindale and W. W. Mellor and Fred Vetter, both of Beaverton, are the lucky owners.

Two more carloads of tractors are now on the road and are expected to arrive here shortly for distribution, which proves that it makes no difference whether it is a Ford or a Fordson, it will sell. We don't know what the Forderson will be, but if Otto Erickson is still the selling agent, it will take like hotcakes in Washington County.

Late Potatoes Are Good Ones.

Mrs. F. M. Hobart left a basket of potatoes at this office Tuesday that compare favorably with any we have seen. Yet they were planted, grew and matured after the most of the potatoes grown in this valley were in blossom. In addition to the fine potatoes mentioned, she has one hill that was a veritable family of potatoes. There are seven perfectly formed tubers, all attached to each other. The spuds are a smooth, white variety, much resembling the Burbank variety, but shorter and rounder. Mrs. Hobart says they are "Yankee Victors."

Regular Services at Churches.

WHAT TO USE TO PREVENT APPENDICITIS

Beaverton people should know simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, flushes the ENTIRE bowel tract so completely that appendicitis is prevented. ONE SPOONFUL Adler-i-ka relieves ANY CASE of sour stomach, gas or constipation because it removes ALL foul matter which clogged and poisoned your system. The INSTANT action surprises both doctors and patients. L. R. Dean, druggist.
