The Kaiser Writes to Gott.

Dear Gott, chust dis von letter,
Und it vill pe der last,
I vant to tell der latest news,
I fear I'm now outclassed.
Dose cussed Yanks keep comin' on,

A million of der son,
I dells you, Gott, it's serious,
Und somedins must be done.
I vinds I'm gettin nervous, Gott,
It really looks to me,
As if there must pe millions
Of Yanks from o'er der sea.
Und fight! Say, Gott, it's awful,
De vay dose Sammies do,
Dey start chust like a whirlvind
Und den come right straight through.

Dere's noddings seems to stop dem,
Dey fight und yell like mad
Mine men chust drop der rifles,
Und holler "Kamerad!"
Und ven it comes to bombing,
Und gas, or camouflage,
Und working dose machine guns
Or t'rowing a barrage,
Vy, Gott, dose Yanks can best me,

I say it, Gott, to you.
Und if dey don't soon quit it,
I don't know vhat I'll do.
Pefore I start dis rumpus,
I t'ough der U. S. A.,
Vos sound asleeb, across der pond,

Und dere, of course, vould stay.
In blace of dot, dose Sammy poys
Are chust so vide a wake,
I nefer dreamed of dis,
Dot, Gott, vas my mistake.
I've sit up nights, chust scheming,

Dose Yankee pigs ter kill,
Instead of getting frightened,
Dey yell, "We're mit you, Pill!"
Now, Gott, you know I've always peen,

A faithful friend to you,
I've put your name upon my belt
Und on my helmet, too,
Und in der doped-up war news,
Ve sent across der Rhine,
I've taken pains in putting,
Your name chust after mine.
Und always mit der fighting,
I've said chust vot I t'ought,
Vich vas dot all dose pattles
Vere von py me—und Gott.
I'm disappointed mit you, Gott,
I'd t'ink dot you could see,
Despite mine vaunted shock troops,

Dose Yanks vas lickin' me.
Mine Gott, I hates to think it,
But still it seems to me
Dot now you're surely helping,
Dose Yanks from o'er der sea.
So, Gott, a vord of varning,
Dot you must stop it straight,
Or else I'll send my airplanes,
To bomb your pearly gates.
I'd chust as soon go bombing,
Oop dere in Heaven as not,
If dot vould help me any,
I hope you know it, Gott.
Und now dis ledder closes,
So come to you vot vill,
Remember dot I varned you,
Goot pye, From KAISER BILL.

Sand the Track

When a locomotive engineer starts up a grade with a heavy load he first sands the track. This keeps the wheels from slipping and gives his engine a "toe hold."

Gaining a fortune is uphill work for most of us. The track is not smooth, the load is heavy and the grade is steep. You need a "toe hold." The track must be sanded. This bank will furnish you a "toe hold;" will sand the track for you. We will pull you and we will push you. Couple on to us and we will help you up the hill.
