The Girls' teams in the relay race are drilling. Ruth Walker, Millie Jacobsen, Norma Sams, Dorothy Cole and Dollie Walker are in the race against Gertrude Oberg, Bernice Barron, Myrtle Walker, Alice Blomquist and Vivian Oberg.

EARL E. FISHER.

There are times when kind words fall on deaf ears and when charitable deeds find ungrateful reception, but unexpected apreciation is doubly sweet, says Mrs. Mary J. Baldwin. A few weeks ago when she gave neighborly care to Mrs. William Bahr during the latter's illness and helped with the last sad rites at her death it was with no thought of reward, but the other day when Ed. Wolf and Chas. Essig showed their appreciation in a very material way Mrs. Baldwin was one of the happiest women in town and she wants the boys to know that mere words cannot gon City, and is plowing for Charles express the pleasure they have giv-
