The Misses Bessie Tucker and Marion Barton and Messrs. Mark Ben and Harry Tucker, of Portland, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Wood, Sunday and in the afternoon enjoyed a very pleasant auto trip out to the farm formerly owned by the Tuckers in the Cooper Mountain vicinity. The Tucker family are former residents of this vicinity and thoroughly enjoyed getting back to the old home while Mr. and Mrs. Wood were extremely happy at the opportunity to entertain their old friends and charming guest.

Here's a good one on our sidewalks.

It hits home, but it's too good to keep so we'll tell it. The other day a resident of this county who comes to Beaverton quite often decided he was thirsty and went into a store to get a drink (soft, of course). Just as he entered the door something hit him in the back. He looked around to greet the familiar friend but could see no one. After a little puzzled investigation he found that he had stepped on a loose board and it had politely slapped him in the back in rebuke of his rather heavy tread. He says he likes friendly ways but when even the sidewalks get so familiar he thinks it is carrying friendship too far.

Kicking the Farmer

Lots of folks are kicking about the farmer—"the poor, misdirected, misguided, inefficient farmer"—you know how they talk. Why, they're so busy kicking about him, says that they don't realize how vastly more inefficient they are themselves. Look at the storekeeper—a lot of nerve he has, complaining about the farmer's inefficiency, when the percentage of store failures is way greater than that of farm failures!

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

And look at Congress—was ever anybody more inefficient than were our law-makers during the war? I should say not! Fact is, it's a popular thing—in the cities and towns—to lambaste the farmer for everybody's faults. Somebody's got to be the goat; kick the farmer, they say. But those folks are figuring without THE COUN-

TRY GENTLEMAN. It is on the job for the farmer with both feet, every week, fifty-two times a year. If you want to know how, let me lend you my copy to read. After seeing only one copy, you'll say: "Put my name on the subscribers' list. How much? Only one dollar? Cheap at the price." Why not let me order for you this week?

Ask Your Boy

WHEN THE FIGHTING WAS THICKEST—
WHEN THE SUFFERING WAS GREATEST—

WHERE WAS THE SALVATION ARMY LASSIE?

HE'LL SAY:

"She was right on the job"

And now, back home—in the byways and hidden places—where misery always lives, where a mother needs a home, where men, women and children are on the downgrade, she's still "RIGHT ON THE JOB."
