

Your Future and Your Savings

Your future and your savings are the same thing. If when old age hits you there's no money to your credit you are indeed at the world's mercy.

If you haven't already started, start saving NOW. The money will stand you in good stead some day—sooner, perhaps than you expect. And while you are saving—no matter how little—your savings give you confidence to go after the real things of life.

A dollar opens a saving account at this bank. And you will be surprised to see how quickly small savings grow when put aside regularly. Come and let us lay out a savings plan for you.

HILLSBORO MILK IN AUSTRIA

While employed at the condenser last year L. J. Rushlow inclosed in a case of milk packed for export a slip requesting that the person finding it write him stating where the shipment had gone, price sold for, etc. Last week he received a letter dated January 1, 1920, and signed by E. H. Kubeck, of Styria, Austria, who said that Mr. Rushlow's note was found at the bottom of a case of 48 cans of milk shipped in by the American relief mission. For this reason the writer was unable to tell the price paid. The letter says that the writer is the storekeeper of the town and with another lady is responsible for the American relief goods confided to their care, and that all the donors require is a strict account how different articles sent have been used. The milk shipment, says the letter, was used to feed little children, weak and pale for want of food. The letter says that the country around the little town where it was written is most beautiful to look at, but not fertile. It is largely woods and stones and rocks, and food is scarce, and scarcer now than it was in the years before the horrid war.—Independent.

LAST NURSES' CLUB CLOSED IN FRANCE

The last Y. W. C. A. Nurses' Club in France closed in December, at Hospital 33, Brest. Since July, every nurse returning to this country from overseas service has passed through Brest, and has been entertained in one way or another at this Club. Among the nurses who enjoyed the hospitality of the Club during its last month of service were twenty Americans who had volunteered for service in Selles, and who went to Coblenz from Brest, to await orders to proceed.

More women went overseas as nurses than in any other capacity. Nearly 11,000 American nurses saw service abroad, and for these women the Y. W. C. A. Clubs furnished opportunities for rest and recreation in off-duty hours. There were thirty-eight Nurses' Clubs, of varying sizes, established and carried on during the war period. In one of the largest clubs, in Paris, 1200 cups of tea were poured in one month.

The Nurses' Clubs did not restrict their sphere of usefulness to Americans alone. The one which has just closed at Brest, for example, had entertained women from Canada, the Bermudas, Scotland, England, Ireland, Sweden and France, as well as from the United States.

American nurses appreciated so keenly the advantages of the Nurses' Clubs overseas that they refused to dispense with them when they returned to this country. Consequently the same sort of clubs were established by the Y. W. C. A. in army hospitals on this side of the water, and were carried on by Y. W. C. A. Secretaries until November first, when they were taken over by the Government to be conducted as a regular part of its program for army nurses.

On Thursday night of last week M. S. Allen's hardware store came near being the scene of a robbery. Along in the night a young Mr. Westcott who sleeps in the store was aroused from his peaceful slumbers by some one attempting to gain admittance through a front window. The young man plainly saw two men at the window and unthoughtfully turned on the light and frightened them away. Had he thought to quietly slip out the back way and notify the police the men might have been captured. The next morning the store window gave evidence of their work as the strips holding in the window glass had been removed and they were just about ready to gain entrance when the lad frightened them away.

NEWS ITEMS

Local, Personal and Other City Events Briefly Noted.

Last Friday night C. H. Preston of Portland, a railroad man of experience who formerly held the agency at Oregon City, at Wolf Creek and at other places and who has been in the ticket offices at Roseburg, Medford and Eugene, came to Beaverton to take up the second trick recently put on the boards by the resignation of S. W. McIlvaine.

Fred Jensen was at Vancouver on Saturday last to defend Private Lee, who was under Court Martial for alleged desertion in war time. It was the first time that Mr. Jensen had ever been in a military court, although he saw service in the late war and the proceedings were somewhat different to that of the civil courts. He handled the case to the satisfaction of the court and was complimented for his initiative. The findings will be made in Washington in two weeks or so, but the verdict will be a secret one.

Owing to the illness of his family, B. V. Peate has been unable to take the ten days' vacation he had planned and for which Mrs. Ollie Boyle came to Beaverton Wednesday night to relieve him. While Mr. Peate is quarantined away from home, he is back at his post again after being off only one night.

S. H. Davis, who has been quite ill, is again able to come down town.

Mrs. B. V. Peate and children are in quarantine with flu. Mrs. Peate was reported very low yesterday.

Miss Violetta Spraner left this morning for Corvallis where she will be the guest of Miss Edith Weed for Junior Week End at Oregon Agricultural College. Before leaving, Miss Spraner saw parents of nearly all of the Beaverton students there and has many messages of cheer for them. It is safe to say that she will be the bearer of an equal number of messages to the home folks on her return.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Becker and two of their children are quite ill of influenza.

Rita Fitzpatrick has returned to Portland after a week at home.

George Thynge, who has been under quarantine for smallpox, was released Tuesday, no additional cases having resulted.

The family of George Tefft is under quarantine with flu. The two daughters are quite ill, but are reported improving.

Fred Jensen was the attorney for Howard P. Cromwell of Aloha this week in a suit for divorce from Maud M. Cromwell. The suit was filed in Multnomah County. Mr. Cromwell was given the divorce and the custody of their five children. The property settlement was made out of court.

C. L. Preston, a conductor on the Chicago and East Illinois, whose home is at Salem, Ill., was here last Friday night on a visit to his brother, C. H. Preston, now second trick operator at the Southern Pacific.

Mrs. H. T. Stone and her friend, Mrs. Willey, who organized the Progressive Advertising Co., a multi-graphing concern, in Portland in December, are meeting with very good success in their venture. Mrs. Willey is making her home with Mrs. Stone in Beaverton.

Mrs. W. E. Pegg, who has been quite ill with la grippe, is much improved and able to be out.

Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick was home from McMinnville over Sunday returning Monday.
