POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

To the members of the Republican party and the voters of Washington County:

Having filed a petition for nomination for the office of County Clerk, I will say in seeking the nomination, I am not unmindful of the generous treatment and loyal support I have received in the past from the county of my birth and lifetime residence. In no sense am I demanding the nomination, but will certainly appreciate it if you desire to grant it.

That with laundry prices what they are now what the men of the country need isn't eight-day clocks but eight-day shirts.

That if some men are looking for the sins of men, all they need is a mirror.

That Brothers Stroud, Pegg and Dean, Beaverton's live wires, are 3 big men.

That our idea of the big sex problem is: "What is it, Doc—a boy or a girl."

That the man who is always down in the mouth seldom gets up in the world.

That a famous Portland saloon has been turned into a shirt-shop; and that they're still serving stuff with a collar.

That when the bride's friends give her a shower, the groom is lucky if his friends give him a few drops.

That in reply to the anxious one, Where is Diogenes now? The old boy has trimmed his lantern and is touring Beaverton, looking for a "House to Rent."

That the high rank and esteem in which the Bank of Beaverton is held, could be credited to the "Gray" matter at its head.

That if a man would follow the advice he gives to others, he would soon be perfect.

That it's a nice baby that goes to sleep as soon as its mother begins to sing.

That Editors, as a rule, sleep very little, but they provide lots of slumber for others.

That a Bishop can be a successful storekeeper.

That a Mason can be a hard working and able Physician.

That in his poem, "Vampire," Kipling wrote "even as you and I."

There's nothing even about it—the odds are all for the vamp.

There once was a lad from New Haven

Whose hair was as black as a raven, This New Haven wreck

Had a beautiful neck, The same being carefully shaven.

That if you decorate the garden hoe with a bow knot of satin ribbon, the wife may be inspired to co-operate in the noble task of eradicating the weeds.

That the returned resident to Beaverton, no matter what glories he has seen, invariably comes back with the feeling that the good old home town is the best place yet.

COOPER MT. NEWS

Frank Livermore is making his tractor hum again. Watanabe's colt ran away Sunday, upsetting the buggy and breaking a wheel—all the passengers jumped ashore.

Mr. Blumquist has been plowing the Gothard place.

Many of the farmers have been sowing land plaster on their clover this week.

Frank Livermore has been shearing his goats this week, and Bro. Goat now feels a little chilly.

Goa Kaufman, Blomquist and Susee went fishing on the Sandy this week. They catch them by the painful "over there."

Mrs. Oberg hurt her hand with a file the first of the week.

Joe Kemmer was in Beaverton Saturday getting some blacksmith work done.

Annie Leopold was quite ill last week.

John Mitsel is working at the Livermore ranch.

Harry Hughes, of St. Mary's, inquired recently, "if his bell was still on the school house." He and a fellow by name of Fritz had a hot time buying the bell at a basket social some years back—but Henry ate lunch with the school m'eam.

Otto Bertach was blasting stumps the first of the week.

A saw mill will soon be running on the Weir place.

The Sam's place is being plowed this week.

Albert Cole was down at school Thursday "warming up" the old base ball with the school boys.

The teacher sent to Congressman Hawley for garden seeds recently and was rewarded by a registered sack containing a fine assortment for each scholar—they will soon be growing.

The Corner Grocery Club "got together again" at the old stand Monday night. "Fighting the high cost of sugar" was on the docket. The Club decided that Beaverton could "beat the game." Here is the proposition: Each farmer in this locality grow one acre of sugar beets this season, next fall take the beets to the Starch Factory and grind out sugar instead of starch. It sounds like a sweet idea.
