The Security Benefit association, formerly the Knights and Ladies of Security, Beaverton Council, gave a very successful dancing party at Morse Hall Wednesday night which was largely attended. This lodge, an insurance order with exceptional policies, makes the social features of lodge work an important part of their activities and these dances will be a regular feature of their part in the community. Music was furnished by Bert's orchestra, which included Mr. Haulenbeck, violinist, and Mr. Freeman, pianist.

WANTED—Elderly woman or girl to care for little girl while mother works and assist with light housework. Best of home and good wages. Write 404 Benton St., Portland, Ore. 1911

There's a little band of hustlers. They're called the M. E. S. S. And when they start for business They always do their best.

The Bible is their platform. There are no broken planks. And now the campaign is on. You'd better join the ranks.

There must be something doing. It's plain as A. B. C. Last Sunday's record shows The figures 1-0-3.

They want to enlist a hundred more. That's legal, brave and true. So just put in your application. They'll tell you what to do.

When Sunday morning comes. Don't be a Mutt or mule; Remember the recruiting place Is the M. E. Sunday School.

The time is always 10 o'clock. You'll hear the bell a ringing. Be there Johnny on the spot. And join them in the singing.

The Moral Risk

When the time comes to seek credit, a bank will want to know what you ARE as well as what you HAVE. It's where the moral hazard comes in.

And you can't establish credit over night. Rather, it is a matter of becoming KNOWN at your bank, of establishing confidence by the way in which you have kept your account, regardless of the amount you have to your credit.

Get acquainted—that's the first thing. Then develop that acquaintance into friendship. It will stand you in splendid stead when the time comes. Remembering also, that this bank offers you a complete banking service.

Every Oregon Boy and Every Oregon Girl Is a possible College Student

Oregon sends a higher percentage of its children to college than any other state, without exception.

This is one of the State's proudest records

No state can have too much education. Education is the safeguard of freedom and of right, and higher education is the capstone of the public school system. But higher education in Oregon is in great danger. The State University and the Agricultural College have twice as many students as they have income to train.

Protect these Schools and their great work by voting on May 21 for the Higher Educational relief measure. Higher Education pays the state in dollars and cents, in improved living, in scientific progress, in farm, orchard, garden, and stock ranch development, and in the better quality of its public and high school teaching. LOS LI & LOS LI

LA FOLLETT FOR ROAD BONDS

Miracles of miracles, the impossible has happened.

In the legislature, Senator A. M. LaFollett, of Marion County fought against every road bond measure. His opposition to good roads was intense, bitter and habitual. It was supposed nothing could change it. Yesterday he dropped in to see his neighbor, C. C. Chapman, of Hope, well, just across the Willamette River from the celebrated LaFollett peach orchard in Mission Bottom, where the senator grew the first loganberries that ever grew in Oregon on a commercial scale. The two cronies passed the time of day and looked at some of Chapman's hogs and calves.

"Chapman, I'm for the bonds," finally blurted out the old senator who had led the fight against every state and county bond issue that had been up for years.

"What bonds?" demanded Chapman, amazed.

"The state road bonds, the amendment I voted against, raising the limit from 2% to 4%," he responded. "I'm for the measure. I looked over the figures that those expert accountants figured up, and I'm satisfied the bonds won't raise my taxes, so I'm for 'em, as I want all the good roads I can get. If they are going to be built in time for me to use them, they had better hurry up and build them, for I'm getting old. I really don't deserve any roads, the way I've fought 'em, but I guess I'll get them all right," he continued with a wink. "I'm getting all my neighbors to vote for the measure."

"Yes, I voted against the measure, but I'm for it now," he concluded. "Let's get the roads built just as soon as we can. We are paying our license fees and gas tax, and we may as well get the roads."

The bonding measure comes up before the people at the May 21 Election.
