The section men are now busy moving the annual hay crop on the E. R. right of way, and we will soon be able to see across the street.

AUTO STAGE SMASHES SCHULTZ DELIVERY

A serious accident was narrowly averted Saturday when, the noon stage for Portland, a big Packard car, attempted to pass the Schultz delivery car at the intersection of Third Street and First Avenue. Archie Bryant was driving the Schultz delivery, a Ford ton truck, east on First Avenue. He was following Bruce Roe and William Goff in a Ford car and behind them came the Packard stage. Bryant put out his hand to indicate the turn north onto Third Street and the Ford slowed down but the Packard swerved out to pass them at the intersection and smashed into Bryant's left front wheel, driving the wheels out of alignment and bursting a tire.

Had Bryant been three feet further ahead it is hard to tell what might have been the consequence as bystanders assure that the stage was traveling at from 25 to 30 miles per hour. Bryant asserts that he was two-thirds of the way across the street when struck. Young Roe was not seen Bryant signal, as he was busy with his own car, but asserts that the stage went by him at a terrific rate of speed. Young Goff corroborates this statement and asserts that he saw Bryant signal. W. H. Milne was another witness of the accident.

CELEBRATION ENJOYED

It was a jolly crowd that came to Forest Grove for the Fourth and to say that they enjoyed themselves very much would be putting it mildly. There wasn't much doing Saturday. As a matter of fact there hadn't been much planned for that day except the airplane flight and the ball game. And when the airplane dropped into an air pocket at a low level and came tumbling down to earth in a wreck, that day before, it dashed all of Mayor Hoffman's hopes for an aerial ride into smaller fragments than the splinters of the piano. Then the hard-hitting, close-fighting, fast-running Honeman Hardware Company team went and put the local American Legion team on the short end of an 11 to 2 score and left little of joy for the local fan to brag about, even though it was a good game and full of entertaining plays.

But Sunday morning dawned cool and comfortable and as the day advanced the heat was just moderate, giving an air of comfortable outdoors to the beautiful grove in which the celebration was held and the services carried out were both patriotic and reverend. It was just the sort of program anyone would expect a fine town like Forest Grove to have on Sunday. Dr. C. R. Carlos was at his best in the afternoon address and won the hearts of all his hearers with his earnestness. He reminded his hearers that it was warm weather by taking off his coat and then he made them forget all about the weather in his patriotic devotion to his country and his God. His address was fine.

The singing was splendid. Forest Grove has many voices of which it may well be proud and when they blend in harmony in patriotic and devotional airs there is music and inspiration for the most exacting. There were many of them there Sunday afternoon and under the inspiring leadership of Rev. O. P. Burzla, they made Naylor's Grove ring with songs dear to every American heart.

The evening address by the Reverend W. Walter Blair was a masterful, forceful, thoughtful presentation of the problems which face Christian America today that won the thoughtful consideration of every hearer and convinced even the most skeptical that we have problems which no patriotic American can ignore and which every Christian in the land must consider in the course of his duty to himself and to his God.

The ball game in the afternoon was an enlivener for every loyal Forest Grove fan. The American Can Company team of Portland, has a reputation of being one of the best teams in the City League, an aggregation of semi-professional teams that keep a live interest in the national pastime among the resident of the metropolis and furnish a suitable recruiting ground for new players for the Pacific Coast League. They came to Forest Grove with the intention of putting the American Legion team into one of the containers for which this company is famous, but they returned in the evening with no scalp dangling where it might be preserved and only the consolation of a very short end of a 10-3 score.

Monday was advertised as the big day. Not all the things that the committee had hoped for could be secured, but there was enough to make everyone happy. The Yamhill band came and it was up to all expectations and more. It discoursed music of the highest quality and flavored it with selections that were just jazy enough to make everybody lighthearted and lightfooted. Its patriotic selections were well played and its popular numbers were popular indeed. There was just one disappointment, so far as the band was concerned. They couldn't find anything in the ball game in the afternoon to get noisy about. We were not able to find out just what kind of thrills this band has been used to, for there were certainly enough tense moments in that game to tempt anyone to noise. But the band never cheeped.

There was a parade. It wasn't long enough to be tiresome but it was long enough to show that many people in Forest Grove who knew how to decorate a float had had a hand in it and some of them probably two hands. The quality of exhibits was exceptionally good as a glance at the names of the winners will fully demonstrate. After it was over and the crowd had been given programs for the day and had got down to the celebration grounds there was another delay because the speaker of the day for some reason failed to put in an appearance. But as the hour dragged along and he did not come the committee found among those present our well-known citizen, W. A. Williams, an orator of considerable fame, who willingly filled the vacant rostrum and gave the assembled patriots a thrilling patriotic talk that took them back over glorious fields, through wonderful campaigns, amidst the triumphs of peace and re-created a pride in America and American achievements that can never die. Mr. Williams won the appreciation of his hearers and the undying thanks of the committee for his willing and masterful accomplishments on so short notice.

Doings at Hillsboro Told in Brief, Pithy Paragraphs

L. B. Flahback, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, officiated at the marriage, on June 27, of Mrs. Florence L. Percy, of Hillsboro, and Mr. George Edward Bantz, of North Plains.

Vernon Layton, an employee of the Lutz rock quarry, was hit in the eye by a flying bit of rock, but will probably be able to save his sight in spite of a bad injury.

The Hanna-Mathews sawmill north of Hillsboro, has been sold to William Merrick, of Portland, and H. H. Vaughn, of Vancouver, Wash., who will operate it as the Hillsboro Lumber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Friday, of Plush, Lake County, Ore., are here visiting her brother, Ed Lee. It is the first time that Mr. Friday had met his brother-in-law. Mrs. Friday was Miss Helen Luce, and was well-known here.

Detrick Huhman, who was out on parole from the Circuit Court under a statutory charge, was arrested at Sand Point, Idaho, recently on request of Washington County officers, and returned here for violation of parole. He faces a term of 500 days in jail and a fine of $3,000.

George L. Rutzkhaler has filed suit for divorce from Mary Pearl Burkhalter, charging that she has neglected her household duties, informed him that she has lost all affection for him and has recently left him without advising him of her intention until after she had been gone several weeks.

The onion crop at Tualatin is being seriously injured by the onion maggot and to date no means of combating the pest has been found, according to the statement of former County Commissioner John Nyberg, who was in Hillsboro recently. The maggot eats off the young shoots from the plant, completely destroying it.

L. O. Stockdale, Washington County Traffic officer, who was injured several weeks ago while pursuing traffic violators, was able to be out of the hospital, on crutches, early last week. He is very weak, but seems to be making a complete recovery.

After dispensing one car of gasoline which was ordered from an independent California refinery, and in which the local oil companies assisted to distribute, local dealers announce the arrival of another car. They expect to keep these cars coming until the local shortage is entirely relieved.

Earl Tarnstead, a Hillsboro boy with a criminal court record, is again in the toils. He has been arrested in Portland on a charge of peddling narcotics while on parole from a sentence for burglarizing the C. C. store last spring. He is also charged with operating a still at Boone Ferry and as soon as released from the penitentiary for the former offense will be placed on trial for his alleged violation of the prohibition laws.

C. E. Allen, of Beaverton, has been appointed guardian for his two sons, Vernon and Homer, and authorized to accept for them a settlement from the railroad company for injuries received in the railroad wreck at Bertha several weeks ago. Mr. Allen is Southern Pacific agent at Beaverton. Homer was awarded $800 and Vernon, $500 for injuries to person and clothing.

Marriage licenses issued recently include George E. Bantz and Mrs. Flora Luella Percy, Boyd F. Brown and Caryl D. Balderes, Howard P. Braman and Carrie I. Becher, Hubert J. Livengood and Ella M. Peterson, Claus Erickson and Elizabeth Greenburg, Frank Edgar Wilson and Lois Lambert, Walter E. White and Rita Jane Gabriel, Jerry Preston and Evelyn Vandervan, Max W. Rieker and Edna I. Mills, J. J. Crowley and Emma Hawn, Jacob E. Schroeder and Flora May Briggs, Frederick David Kribs and Frances Gordon Haseltine, Lee L. McKenna and Janet E. Hoefel, Paul W. Cap and Lillie Heynderick, Albert C. Ahlgren and Mary Alice Grey, Daniel B. Roe and Herma Stromberg, Lester B. Mullinsaux and Mary L. Drew, Herman W. Conwae and Esther Taylor.

E. F. Stewart has filed suit in the circuit court asking that an act of probate court, whereby Anabel Klem and her husband Richard Klem, professed by letters of administration issued by letters of administration issued to her on the estate of Dale J. Stewart, be set aside and the father recognized as the true heir to the estate. He alleges that he knew nothing of the death of his son until last month and wants all proceedings set aside, including a foreclosure on a 16 acre tract near this city.

34 BRANDS MADE IN OREGON

The list of 57 commercial fertilizers that may legally be sold in Oregon this year shows that 34 of them are made in Oregon by three Portland firms—Pacific Products Co., Portland Seed Co., and Swift & Co. The list as published by the O. A. C. Experiment station gives the fertilizer content of each brand as guaranteed on the container and as found by analyses of samples bought by the station in the open market. Farmers who aim to make intelligent use of commercial fertilizers get the station bulletin containing the list free of cost.

HELP SOLVE THE GASOLINE SITUATION

Little Gasoline Saver has Made Some Wonderful Gains in Mileage on Gasoline.

The agents for 17 counties in western Oregon have located in Forest Grove and are making their start from here. They wish to eventually have an agent in each county of the 17. Reports from the factory show that they are making 15,000 per day and cannot supply the demand as most all cars in the middle states are being equipped with them, which should relieve our gasoline situation here eventually, as the saving is so great that it will materially help.

In looking over the testimonials we find that the average percentage of gain is 23%, running as follows: Chas. Mertz, 1 1/2 ton ice truck, 20% gain; D. D. Bump, Ford Touring Car, 17% gain; A. E. Scott, Baby Grand Chevrolet, 25% gain; A. E. Gardner, Ford Touring Car, 30% gain; Dan Pierce, G. M. C. 2 ton truck, 14% gain; Dan Pierce, Studebaker 7-passenger touring car, 28% gain; H. T. Giltner, Ford delivery truck, gain 2 miles per gallon.

If each truck, tractor, and pleasure car was equipped with one of these gas savers the gasoline question would soon be answered.

Herb Parker and Geo. Brown, the agents for the Economy Atomizer, which is doing such wonderful work, will show you how YOU can help the situation and save you money besides.
