

DORT

Quality Goes Clear Through

The Dort is thoroughly deserving of its reputation as a car that gives able, faithful service at low cost. Its pronounced ability to travel smoothly, and comfortably, to endure capably hard usage and to keep operation costs at a low level, is a matter of exact record.

There's a Dort owner near you. Let tell you his name and show you what the Dort can do for you.

Airplanes

An airplane in operation gives the most severe test to the quality of an oil—and Zerolene meets the test successfully.

Zerolene is used by more than half the automotive equipment owners of the Pacific Coast, following the recommendations of our Board of Lubrication Engineers for the correct grade of Zerolene for automobiles, trucks and tractors. Ask your Zerolene distributor for a Correct Lubrication Booklet for your engine.

TRACTORS
There is a correct grade of Zerolene for each type of tractor.

OREGON NOTES

News in Brief, Gathered From Various Parts of The State.

As a result of washouts the McKenzie pass highway is reported to be impassable.

It is estimated that the total registration of Clatsop county will be less than 7000.

The Lorane valley pear crop has been sold, the total being 78 tons, all Bartlett's.

More than 100,000 automobiles were registered with the secretary of state up to October 1.

The total attendance of the Albany public schools in 1920, a gain of 128 over last year's enrollment.

Portland bank clearings for the month of September exceeded those of Seattle by nearly $5,000,000.

The Columbia Basin Alfalfa Growers' association has completed permanent organization at Hermiston.

Deputy State Treasurer Richardson has resigned. James Crawford of the inheritance tax department will succeed him.

According to the report of the county superintendent, every school district in Crook county is supplied with a teacher.

Experts have been trying to open the safe in the Bend postoffice the past week, using everything but a drill or nitro-glycerine.

During the recent good weather one troller fishing close to the mouth of the Columbia river caught 1500 pounds of fall chinooks.

Space for exhibits at the Wasco county fair is at a premium. Workmen have started the construction of the main pavilion.

Seven carpenters are at work lining with timbers the twin tunnels between Hood River and Mosier on the Columbia river highway.

Three Eugene public school buildings are reported overcrowded and the others are filling up rapidly. The high school is also congested.

Because of the recent heavy rains the Lun county fair, which was to have been held this week, beginning Tuesday, was called off.

Residents of North Roseburg are complaining of the odor of prune juice which comes from three prune packing plants in the vicinity.

Fire has destroyed the prune evaporating plant of F. A. Kuris, four miles from Salem. The loss is estimated at $17,000 with $5000 insurance.

Philomath college has opened with a 60 per cent increase over the first day's enrollment last year and nearly 100 per cent over two years ago.

The Umatilla agency will send a delegation of 40 children to the Chemawa school this year, the largest number ever sent from the agency.

Erskine Wood, of Portland, was appointed legal head of the admiralty department of the shipping board, to succeed Charles F. Dutch, resigned.

Medford merchants have made Wednesday of each week a bargain day at which goods will be offered at a reduction to attract out of town buyers.

Klamath Falls ministers have determined on a moral clean up of the city and have announced an intention to put a municipal ticket in the field.

H. G. Hayes, justice of the peace at McKenzie bridge, has pleaded guilty to the charge of killing deer out of season and been fined $100 and costs.

Providing the weather continues good for two weeks the Pacific highway north and south of Roseburg will be put in good condition for winter travel.

The public service commission has denied the request of the city of West Salem for authority to extend a street over the tracks of the Southern Pacific railroad.

The municipal employment bureau of Salem has issued a call for prune pickers. Although badly damaged, much of the crop can yet be saved if pickers are secured.

A petition circulated at Medford to remove the county seat of Jackson county from Jacksonville has received 2681 signatures. The question will be voted on in November.

William Marshall, chairman of the state industrial accident commission, will lead the discussion of accident prevention at the Pacific logging congress at Vancouver, B. C.

Seven thousand acres of timber were bought Friday by the Deer Island Logging company, adjoining the present holdings of that concern at Deer Island, the deal involving $1,500,000.

A total of $8,400,200 will have been spent for dock improvements in Portland under the jurisdiction of the commission of public docks by November 30, 1920, according to the annual report of the commission.

See our new liner column this week.

A large body of cinnabar ore was uncovered in the War Eagle company's quicksilver mine in the Gold Hill district, which is estimated will produce quicksilver to the value of $500,000.

St. Helens is to have two more important industries. One, a tile and timber mill, is now under construction at the shipyard site on Bawties Island. About 25 men will be employed. The other industry is a shingle mill.

George Elmore, aged 20, residing on a farm near Oakland, died as a result of injuries received while riding a wild horse. The animal fell in such a manner that the pommel of the saddle was driven through the young man's breast.

An hour after he shot and seriously wounded T. F. Jones, stepson, and Mrs. Jones, his stepson's wife, during a quarrel in their apartment in a hotel in Klamath Falls, Frank J. Scott, 61, blacksmith and rancher, died in the city jail.

The Columbia river packers have increased the price paid for raw fall chinooks and silversides to 4 cents a pound. The figures which have been prevailing since the season opened are 3 cents for fall chinooks and 3 cents for silversides. The price for winter chinooks and steelheads continues at 9 cents a pound.

The first murder charge ever preferred in Deschutes county was filed in Bend with the arrest of Jack Weston, of Sisters, alleged slayer of Robert H. Krug, aged hermit rancher of reputed wealth, whose charred body was found in his fire-riddled cabin, four miles north of Sisters, on the morning of March 26, 1919.

There were two fatalities in Oregon due to industrial accidents during the week ending October 1, according to a report prepared by the state industrial accident commission. The victims were William W. Smith, laborer of Roseburg, and A. Bader, boiler-maker of Astoria. A total of 492 accidents were reported during the week.

George M. Brown, since January 1, 1916, attorney-general of Oregon, was appointed justice of the Oregon supreme court by Governor Olcott to succeed A. S. Bennett, who has resigned because of private business affairs needing his attention in Eastern Oregon. Attorney-General Brown will be succeeded by T. B. Handley, who was named corporation commissioner last May.

An expert from the United States department of biology at Washington, D. C., is expected to be sent to Oregon to direct a campaign for the extermination of gray diggers, pocket gophers and other destructive rodents. It was announced, as the result of an investigation of these rodents which has been made in Oregon by Vernon Bailey, biologist of the U. S. department of biology.

All advertising signs within the rights of way of state roads must be removed at once, according to a letter sent out by Herbert Nunn, state highway engineer, to all division engineers. The action was taken, according to Mr. Nunn's letter, on the theory that the highways are public property and no person has a right to appropriate a part of it to his own use by posting advertising matter.

Mrs. Mary L. Mallett of Portland was elected president of the Oregon Woman's Christian Temperance union at the 37th annual state convention in Portland. All the other officers were re-elected. They are: Mrs. Madge J. Mears of Portland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. W. Miller of Milton, recording secretary; Mrs. Jan Donaldson of Portland, treasurer; Mrs. M. Frances Swope, vice-president-at-large.

As a result of a verdict returned by a circuit court jury in Pendleton in the trial of Irvin Leroy Stoop and Floyd L. Henderson, charged with the murder of Sheriff T. H. Taylor July 25 last, Judge G. W. Phelps sentenced the men to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. The jury had returned a verdict of guilty of first-degree murder for both men, with a recommendation of life imprisonment.

Despite the heavy rains which materially reduced the attendance, the state fair which closed at Salem Saturday was a financial success, according to a report prepared by J. E. McClintock, cashier. Mr. McClintock's report showed that approximately 140,000 persons paid their way into the grounds during the week, while not less than 10,000 others were admitted on passes issued to exhibitors and employees. The cash receipts, totaling $72,300, will leave a surplus of $20,000.

Local union No. 41, International Jewelry Workers' union, has no legal right to station pickets in front of the establishments of Portland jewelry firms for the purpose of compelling them to recognize the union, according to an opinion written by Justice C. A. Johns and handed down by the Oregon supreme court. The opinion written by Justice Johns affirmed the findings of Judges Kavanaugh, Gaten and Stapleton, who presided at the time the case was originally heard in the circuit court for Multnomah county. In this action G. Heitkemper, a corporation, and eight other jewelers operating in Portland sought to obtain an injunction order restraining the defendants from placing pickets in front of the stores or shops of the plaintiffs.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Washington.

Scandinavian American Bank, a corporation, incorporated, organized and existing under the laws of Oregon, Plaintiff, vs.

Robert Madden, Defendant.

To the defendant, Robert Madden; In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby commanded to be and appear in the above court and cause on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, and that if you fail so to appear and answer, the complaint of the plaintiff on file herein, that it will take a decree against you for the relief prayed for in its complaint herein, to-wit: For a decree foreclosing that certain contract dated August 1, 1912, for the purchase of Lots 168 and 170 of Johnson Estate Addition to Beaverton-Redville Acreage, according to the well recorded maps and plats thereof, in Washington County, Oregon, and barring and foreclosing you of all right, title, interest and equity of redemption in and to said real property, and such other and further relief as may be necessary or proper in the premises.

This summons is served upon you by publication for six weeks in the Beaverton Times, a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in Washington County, Oregon, pursuant to an order of the Honorable George T. Bagley, judge of the above entitled court, made and entered the 27th day of September, 1920.
Date of first publication, October 1, 1920.
Date of last publication, November 12, 1920.
