An Evening in the South Seas

Chautauqua Presents Native Maori Singers

Ellison-White present on the closing evening of the Chautauqua Festival a big program, "An Evening in the South Seas," an attraction entirely unique on the American platform. Five Maori singers have been brought directly from New Zealand, and they will present for the first time in this country the bewitching native music of their New Zealand home. Headed by N. H. Papakura, famed throughout New Zealand as the leading tenor of the islands, and coming from a race that is essentially musical, they present a most interesting program.

SCHOOL NOTES

Items of Interest Gathered by Our Special Correspondent.

The school has been divided in the "Country Gentleman" contest. The loser gives a party for the winner and by the way the subscriptions are coming in, it looks like it will be a close race.

A name has been decided for the Annual which will be the "Enna." The Staff of the Annual are hard at work trying to make it a success.

The Boy's Glee Club gave a concert Wednesday morning for the school. It was noticed that two of the boys were inclined to be soloists for the occasion but the timely assistance of Mrs. Suttle saved them.

An amateur Athletic Club has been formed for the purpose of holding smokers.

The work on the High School Annual the "Enna" has now reached a point where advertisers are to be solicited. So far only a very small number of business men have shown the co-operation that is to be needed if this thing is put through. The printing of an annual of the quality and work that the Beaverton High School annual is to be, is no small item of expense with paper, printing, and engraving at their present prices.

The merchants are complaining to the solicitors of hard times now but all expect to see things open by spring. We are glad of this because the statements will not be handed out until the first week in May. Some complain of our high rates but in comparison with other annuals we have found that we have lower rates than any of the others, many of which did not come up to the standard of our annual.

Beaverton High School students wish to thank the people of Beaverton for their hearty co-operation in the "Country Gentleman" subscription campaign. The high school received as their commission, sixty-one dollars, which will be used toward the publication of the high school annual. We hope the people will give their support to the annual as well as they did toward the subscription campaign.

The Boys' Basketball team is practicing very hard as the season is now at hand. Watch the store windows for an announcement of our first game.

BEAVERTON PLEASED BY QUICK RESULTS

Everyone is pleased with the quick results of simple witchhazel, camphor, hyalastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One man's eyes were so badly strained he could not read without pain. Two applications relieved him. A lady with weak, inflamed eyes was greatly helped by ONE bottle. We guarantee a small bottle of Lavoptik to help ANY CASE weak, strained or inflamed eyes.—Dean's Drug Store.

Our former very excellent postmistress, Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, who resigned over a year ago in the belief that she could be of more service to the world than merely serving U. S. as postmistress, became Mrs. W. E. Carty, of Ridgefield, Wash., and on Armistice Day presented her husband with an eight-pound boy. Reports from Ridgefield are to the effect that the Armistice has been declared a permanent peace and father and son are loudly proclaiming their well-being while the mother is doing nicely. All who know Mrs. Carty will join the Times in extending congratulations.

GOV'T OPERATION OUT OF POLITICS

Party Leaders Convinced by Results of National Campaign of Editors.

VINDICATES FORMER POLL

Overwhelming Vote Like That of Year Before From Both Sides of Political Fence.

Washington.—Inner circles of both political parties here are greatly interested in the results of a national poll on the question of government operation among over 5,000 newspaper editors throughout the country. With 96 per cent of these editors, regardless of political faith, giving it as their impartial opinion that the public is more than ever opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens, observers here see little chance that either political party will find it a profitable campaign issue.

In the opinion of party leaders this sort of a canvass among newspaper editors is the best possible index of public opinion. They recall a similar questionnaire sent out a year ago in connection with the proposition that the government take over the railroads permanently. Replies at that time from approximately the same number of editors showed 83 per cent against the principle of government operation. They recall also that within two days from publication of the result of the former questionnaire the sentiment for return of the railroads to their owners had definitely crystallized.

Comparison of present results in detail with those of a year ago convinces the political student not only that these editors have been accurate in their judgment, but that party considerations played no part in forming it. From Democratic and supposedly radical Texas, for example, the present questionnaire brought replies from editors of 244 papers, only three of which are Republican. Yet the percentage against government operation was 92, which is exactly the same as that given by 200 editors from Republican Michigan, among whom were representatives of only three Democratic papers. Other states that pair percentages significantly are Massachusetts and Nevada, with 100; Connecticut and South Carolina, with 97; Maine and West Virginia, with 96; Kentucky and New York, with 91; Missouri and Pennsylvania, with 89; Ohio and Oklahoma, with 87.

The result of the present poll as to government operation in each state are graphically shown by the following chart:

WRONG DIRECTION

"You are an hour late this morning, Sam," said an employer to his negro servant.

"Yes, sah, I know it, sah. I was kicked by a mule on my way, sah."

"That ought not to have detained you an hour, Sam."

"Well, you see, boss, it wouldn't have if he'd only kicked me in this direction, but he kicked me de other way, sah."
