LYCEUM AT P. U. ATTRACTING ATTENTION

The Lyceum course being offered this winter under the direction of the P. U. Student Body is attracting the attention of many citizens because of the remarkable program offered. The next number will be a modern morality play "Vanity" offered by the Mallory Players, a company of unusually gifted artists. At Marsh Hall, Wednesday, Jan. 5.

MALHEUR FARM BUREAU WANTS OUR COWS

S. P. Graham, representing the Malheur County Farm Bureau is now in this county looking for Jersey cows. Only high grade Jersey cows from herds headed by registered Jersey bulls are wanted. Those wishing to meet Mr. Graham can get in touch with him through the Farm Bureau office at Hillsboro.

The Malheur County Farm Bureau plans to establish 5000 dairy cows in that county in the next five years. They will therefore be in the market for good staff almost continuously during that time. One car load of 25 head has been purchased from the Scholla District.

Dairymen Want Appropriation

Many of the agricultural and dairy organizations are endorsing the measure that will ask the legislature for $15,000 for investigations in feeding and handling dairy cattle and for investigating diseases of dairy cattle. The Tillamook County Creamery Association at a recent meeting endorsed the plan for such an appropriation, the money to be handled through the state agricultural college. The dairymen are anxious this appropriation should go through as it would be a great help and protection.

ORCHARD MANAGEMENT SCHOOL TO BE HELD

An orchard management school, starting Tuesday, December 28th, at 1:00 P. M. will be held by the Hillsboro Farm Bureau Community. The meeting place the first day will be at the farm of D. G. Lilly, Committeeman, at Hillsboro.

Demonstrations will be given on the pruning of apples, pears, prunes, and in fact all tree fruits and nuts adapted to this locality. Questions of management of orchard soils, fertilization, etc., will also receive attention.

One feature of the school will be that those in attendance will do actual pruning work instead of just witnessing demonstrations. The school is free and open to all residents of the County.

Clayton Long, Horticultural Extension Specialist will be in charge of the school. Earl Johnson is Horticultural Project Leader for the Washington County Farm Bureau under whose auspices the work will be done.

Farm and Home Reminders

Owners of dogs that kill, wound or chase domestic animals in Oregon are liable for all damages thus caused. Anyone who sees a dog thus engaged or under such circumstances as show unmistakably that he has been so engaged, is authorized by the Oregon laws to pursue and kill such dog.—Political Science, O. A. C.

Flues are useful in potato storage bins in drawing off the moist warm air. Then if the doors are opened on a cool day a draft will be created sufficient to carry off this air and lower the temperature to proper degree—preferable 35 to 38, F.—Farm Crops, O. A. C.

Paint or just oil on the floor not only keeps the floor from splintering but saves the housewife much work in cleaning the floor and in laundering the children's clothes.—Home Demonstration, O. A. C.

In trying for a stand of clover in localities where clover is not commonly grown it is better to inoculate the seed rather than take a chance of getting a weak stand or no stand for lack of clover bacteria. Any soil that has produced a good crop of clover in recent years needs no inoculation. If in doubt write of conditions to O. A. C.—Bacteriology, O. A. C.

Rich, high yielding pasture is the best and cheapest course of green feed for livestock when available. Silage has many advantages in certain seasons over other systems. Soiling is likewise useful in connection with the other two plans in some of the districts of Oregon.—Farm Crops, O. A. C.

Nicotine sulfate is a powerful repellent for tent caterpillars, but if they do eat foliage sprayed with it they are killed almost instantly. With soap added the nicotine solution is an almost perfect codling moth egg destroyer.—Entomology, O. A. C.

Dairy Council Elects Officers

The Oregon Dairy Council at a recent meeting elected J. E. Dunne, President and P. O. Fowell, of Month, Vice-president. The council has stirred up a great interest in milk and all dairy products as foods and is planning to ask the co-operation of men in all lines of the industry to help the council.

The council has done its educational work all over the state. Splendid co-operation has been received from the farm bureaus, the county agents, home demonstration agents, libraries, schools and clubs and the children of the state have all heard the message of the real food values of dairy products. The council encourages high standards in butter and cheese and shows the housewife that ice cream is a food, not merely a dessert. Milk exhibits, lectures and milk stations are features of the work.

Do something to make somebody happy this Christmas and you in turn may be rewarded.

THE CAPITOL

News of General Public Interest at the County Seat.

Hillsboro has seen more than 50 houses constructed during the past year, yet there is scarcely a house available for rent and rooms and housekeeping rooms are scarce. Lumber prices being lower, there will doubtless be more houses constructed during the coming year.

Mrs. Lottie Smith, accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Georgia Turrell, has gone to Eagle Pass for a several months' visit. Her former home was in the Southern city, but for several years she has resided here.

Because the pavement was wet and slippery, and her husband was unable to control his car on the Canyon Road one day last week, Mrs. John Kamna suffered a severely wrenched back when the car turned turtle near the rock quarry on the Multnomah County side of the hill. She is resting well after being cared for at Dr. Smith's hospital.

Agent G. L. Thompson, of the Oregon Electric, had as his guest one day last week, traveling freight agent, T. T. Petty, of that line. They made a survey of the town and expect to have more freight going over the O. E. in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hensley celebrated their Silver Wedding at their home on South Sixth Street, December 11. Rev. Walton Skipworth spoke again the happy words that 25 years ago had united these two. Beautiful decorations, table linen, which the bride had kept since her sixteenth birthday and a bounteous feast, made the wedding dinner a great success. Many beautiful presents added to the festivity of the occasion. Among those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bagley, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Meierjergren, Mrs. Eimira Hensley, Miss Patricia Meierjergren, Miss Virginia Hensley, Mrs. Daniel Emrick, Miss Ethel Sample, Miss Harriet Pooley, Mrs. Wm. Jones, of Hillsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dapper, of Portland; Mrs. B. K. Haines and Miss Ella Magruder, Sheridan; Carl Hensley, Montana; Wilma Meierjergren, Master Kenneth Meierjergren, Master Harry Hensley, Vera Hensley.

Monteruma Lodge, I. O. O. F., recently elected the following officers for the coming term: A. C. Gilmore, Noble Grand; E. L. Brown, Vice Grand; E. L. McCormick, Secretary, and Cal Jack, Jr., Treasurer.

Married, December 10, Joseph Mueller and Miss Pauline Schaeff, of Mountaineer, at Portland.

Louis Meltebeke recently lost his auto in a mudhole near the Tom Cornelius farm. The car became stuck in the mud and in attempting to get it out, the carburetor became flooded and when he car was started it exploded and burned the car.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Riggs that they are now visiting at their old home in Enid, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Eugenia Rutherford and daughter, Mrs. J. P. Williams and the latter's two children have gone to San Diego, Calif., where they will try the effect of the milder climate for the little Williams boy's health. Mr. Williams will join them when he can close up his business here.

Mrs. Posey, who lives on Seventh Street and who has been on the sick list for some time, is able to be up and around.

Charles Elwell, former Portland mail carrier and known in Hillsboro, was recently sentenced to one year in the county jail at Portland for embezzlement of moneys from the government. He must also restore $2290.22 of this money. Elwell was postmaster at Jennings Lodge and was recently indicted by the Multnomah County Grand Jury for arson in connection with the burning of the post office there. He was convicted and appealed and was then indicted by the government. He first plead not guilty, but later admitted his guilt and was sentenced. He was given five days in which to arrange his affairs and begin serving his sentence. Elwell's wife, formerly Miss Louisa Tucker, a musician of note in this county and a daughter of the late Thomas Tucker, was severely injured in the fire, which destroyed the Elwell home together with the store and post office. An interesting part of his trial for arson was that he had hidden a part of his valuables in a barn prior to the fire and claimed that he had been warned by an Outis board that he was to have a fire.

Hillsboro Commercial Bank is being very creditably decorated throughout the interior by J. Morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miltenberger are here from Bend to spend the winter in the west part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paul, of Oregon, are the proud parents of a baby girl born Dec. 14.

The officers of the Washington County Mutual Fire Insurance Association will meet in Hillsboro, January 10. W. F. Hassel, of Hillsboro, A. L. Guerber, of Helvetia and Edwin Ritter, of Pethany, are the members of the local board.

R. L. Spencer, of Vernonia, was recently a visitor in the county seat where he put in good looks boasting for the highway. He has faith that Vernonia will soon have a railroad but he wants a pavement to go with it.

J. R. Sandford, of St. Johns, former resident of the North Plains district, was a guest in Hillsboro one day last week, being called here as a witness before the Circuit Court.

C. Hensley is here visiting his mother, Mrs. E. Hensley and his brother and sister. He is now running a steam shovel for Uncle Sam at Glacier National Park, Montana.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Riggs that they are now visiting at their old home in Enid, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Eugenia Rutherford and daughter, Mrs. J. P. Williams and the latter's two children have gone to San Diego, Calif., where they will try the effect of the milder climate for the little Williams boy's health. Mr. Williams will join them when he can close up his business here.

Mrs. Posey, who lives on Seventh Street and who has been on the sick list for some time, is able to be up and around.

One of Tualatin Academy Students Here in World War.

(From the College Index.)
Lieut. Edward C. Allsworth has been awarded a diamond medal as Washington's most gallant citizen-soldier of the recent world war. Mr. Allsworth is now a lieutenant in the regular army at Camp Gordon, Georgia, where the medal will be forwarded to him. The award was made from a citation issued from the War Department by National Guard Board at Seattle. According to the Oregonian the citation contains the following description:
"Allsworth as Captain in 60th Infantry, led part of his company in swimming the canal at Clery-le-Petit, France, under fire, Nov. 5, 1918, to support those of his command who had already crossed and were being handled roughly by the Germans. Rejoining his command, Allsworth led an attack that cleaned out large gun nests and forced the Germans back. Then he captured 100 prisoners which was more than his own company of men. This work re-established the bridge near at the canal and enabled the rest of the Americans to attack without further delay."

If Bone Dry Laws Continue:

Will a storm be allowed to brew?
Will cock-tails be allowed on farmers' roosters?
Will a captain be allowed to put in some port?
Will "hops" be allowed in dance halls?
Will the moon be allowed to get full?
Will it be allowed to name children Tom and Jerry?
Will a person be allowed to become drunk with success? Or intoxicated with joy?
Will a ship be allowed to anchor over a bar?
Will a man be punished for getting half shot in a fight?—Ex.

GROVE BOYS MAKING GOOD AT MILITARY SCHOOL

Robert Lee Strickland, a cadet officer at Hill Military Academy, Portland, and his brother, Grame, a cadet at the same school, are visiting their mother at Forest Grove. The cadet commissioned officers gave a dance just before the school closed for the holidays and Lee Strickland was one of the hosts. Both lads are making a good record in their studies and are popular in the student body. Gen. Hunter Liggett, U. S. A., who visited the academy recently wrote a letter saying he was greatly pleased with all the cadets and the boys were quite proud of such recognition. General Liggett is known as "The Hero of the Marne."

CHRISTMAS BAG FOR GUESTS

Container for Presents Attached to Backs of Chairs With Bow of Red Satin Ribbon.

THE Christmas bag is an innovation planned by one housekeeper. The breakfast table is to be decorated with a mirror in the center, outlined as a star by holly sprigs, and with a slender cut glass vase in the center holding red chrysanthemums. Long-stemmed flowers also radiate from the central star with the blossoms toward the plates of those for whom the flowers are intended. Every napkin lies beneath a Christmas card with a sprig of holly tied upon it with red ribbon, and to the back of every chair is tied a bag with a big red satin bow. The bags are of all sizes, and each is full of individual gifts. One is an opera bag, another a shopping bag in black and gold, still another is brown leather and gold nailheads, another a bag for collars and cuffs, another a gay laundry bag, one is suggestive of the scraps grandmother will put into it, and the other of books that a small girl will carry to school. All are as dainty and fine as careful workmanship and good materials can make them, and there will be fun emptying the materials out of the various bags.

Christmas Animals.

They're red.
They're of rubber.
And they're for baby.
They make good chewing.
They cannot possibly wound.
And they are wonderfully lovable.
One may indulge at from 20 cents upward.
The choice ranges from mice to elephants.

Plum Pudding of Other Days.

A great deal has been said, written and sung about the plum pudding of old England, but centuries ago it had a formidable rival for epicurean favor known as plum-pottage or porridge. It consisted of beef or mutton made into a broth, thickened with brown bread, which was then thoroughly boiled after raisins, currants, prunes, cloves, mace and ginger had been added. This dish is now entirely obsolete, though "Poor Richard's Almanac" mentions it as late as 1750, and a Mrs. Fraser, who published a cook-book in Edinburgh in 1791, announcing herself on its title page as the only teacher of the great art of cookery in that city, gives a recipe for making it, while Brand, the popular antiquary, tells how he partook of it at a Christmas dinner in the mansion of an old English gentleman in 1801, but it has long since been wholly supplanted by plum pudding. The origin of the latter is veiled into obscurity. The earliest cook-book which makes any reference to it is the one by Mrs. Fraser already referred to as containing a recipe for plum pottage.
