OREGON GROWER NOTES OF SPECIAL INTEREST

With the rather bad weather to be expected during the next few weeks, the fruit grower can put in his time on inside work, such as mending boxes. It is also suggested that now would be a fine time to re-model dryers if necessary, rather than to wait until the busy season.

It is not too late to spray with Bordeaux for anthracnose. Although rather late, better late than not at all.

Growers who have pruning might begin now to relieve the rush of work next spring.

Good results are obtained by the application of nitrate soda on loganberries during the month of March. Some report increased diameter as well as length of cane. Those who intend to use this fertilizer should be planning orders.

The business of the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association has assumed such proportions that during a month of November, checks were issued for $440,199.33 by the Association and its affiliating company the Oregon Growers Packing Corporation, according to a report of W. I. Staley, secretary and treasurer.

The good results of advertising and co-operation were shown in an address recently delivered by C. I. Lewis, of the Oregon Growers Co-operative Association, before the State Horticultural society, in session at Eugene.

Four years ago, Mr. Lewis said, the peach growers of California were a discouraged lot. Many trees were grubbed out as peaches were selling for two cents a pound, below the cost of production.

The growers got together, formed a co-operative association and by judicious advertising, created a demand for certain peaches. This year the crop was sold for $8,000,000, an average of $340 a ton to the grower.

The California Peach Growers Association is now four years old. It has 6,500 members and controls 40,000 acres. Co-operation among growers, Mr. Lewis said, had in four years brought the peach industry in California from almost financial ruin to an established prosperous business.

"See what we found in your crankcase oil"

THIS lens shows some of the dirt that can be found in any crankcase after a few weeks of driving—road dust, carbon and fine particles of metal. Such dirt circulates with the lubricating oil through the engine, together with gasoline that escapes past the pistons and dilutes the oil.

Have the dirty, diluted oil in your crankcase drained out—now—before unnecessary wear begins. We can do that best for you with Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service—convenient, quick, economical. We use Calol Flushing Oil, the scientific, thorough flushing agent which does not contaminate the fresh oil. We assure proper lubrication for your engine by refilling the cleaned crankcase with Zerolene of the correct grade.

Make a regular habit of Modern Crankcase Cleaning Service. It gives better engine performance and longer life to your car.
