The best proof of intelligence is when a man admits he is wrong. Ignorance feels too insecure to make such an admission.

During the two weeks from Armistice day, November 11, to Thanksgiving, November 24, the American Red Cross will hold its Fifth Annual Roll Call.

The farmer may never be threatened with unemployment as his city brother is, but nevertheless he has difficulties as serious with which he must contend.

A WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR
Women in general can make a dollar go farther than a man, and a certain type of women can make more dollars go.

In one western state a woman has made a 10-year record as administrator equalled by very few men in handling a public institution.

Many of them earn their way by doing work at fair pay by the hour and each year the dormitory earns about ten thousand dollars surplus.
Last year Miss Todd built a beautiful English colonial style cottage and furnished it out of her profits, that houses twenty-eight students.

THE MONUMENT TO THE PILGRIMS

A TOP TOWN HILL in Provincetown, Massachusetts, looking out over the restless sea from the great arm which that state flings into the bay, stands a great and impressive monument of extraordinary beauty and great dignity.

The site was provided by Provincetown; the cost of the monument was defrayed by a joint fund contributed by Congress, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the town of Provincetown and individuals in all parts of the country.

This staunch and magnificent commemorative structure, standing in silent triumph, is typical of the reliance and love of freedom which characterized this little band in their battle with the elements and fate and of their descendants in all parts of the world.

OREGON NOTES
News in Brief, Gathered From Various Parts of the State

The Eugene Rifle and Revolver club has been organized with 18 members. Black diptheria of the most virulent type has closed the Tualatin schools.

There were 1040 cows tested by the Tillamook Cow Testing association during October.

A freight train on the Valley Siletta railroad was wrecked near Hoskins when a bridge collapsed.

A score or more of sheep and goats have been killed by bear in Lincoln county during the past week.

A total of $153,753.14 was turned over to the state treasurer by G. G. Brown, clerk of the state land board, during October.

Geese are thick this year in eastern Oregon, according to George Tonkin of Baker, United States game warden for that district.

Cow testing work in Union county has resulted in finding that 95 1/2 per cent of the cows are free from all traces of tuberculosis.

By a vote of 233 to 208, the proposed bond issue of $18,000 placed before Ashland voters for approval the second time this year, was defeated.

Oregon had 87 deaths from automobile accidents in 1920, which was at the rate of 11 to each 100,000 population, according to the census bureau.

George W. Humphrey, identified with newspaper work in the Willamette valley for almost half a century, died at his home at Jefferson, aged 64 years.

W. L. Kusser of Des Moines, Ia., has accepted the superintendency of the Oregon state training school for boys and will enter upon his duties there January 1.

The Hood River Apple Growers' association is utilizing idle funds of its members and other citizens of the valley in financing the movement of the apple crop.

L. Mathews, 74, for the past 69 years a resident of Roseburg, is dead as the result of a fractured skull, suffered in a fall from an auto truck in which he was riding.

At a special election held at La Grande, the proposed bond issue for reconstructing the present waterworks system of the city was defeated by a vote of 340 to 448.

Graduates of Oregon Agricultural college since the college was founded in 1879, now number 3116, according to the figures compiled by Zelta Felke, secretary of the Alumni association.

Ralph S. Hamilton of Bend was appointed by Governor Olcott a member of the Oregon state tourist information bureau. He will succeed Wallace Birdsall, who died recently in Portland.

The big sawmill of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company at Springfield will resume operations December 1 after having been idle since last February, according to A. C. Dixon, manager of the company.

The Sherwood cannery in the season recently ended canned 180 tons of fruit—19 tons of strawberries, 17 of loganberries, 18 of cherries, 8 of raspberries, 6 of pears, 40 of prunes and 54 of blackberries.

A report now being prepared by A. H. Lea, secretary of the Oregon state fair board, will show that the revenue from this year's state fair exceeded the expenses by approximately $28,000. This money goes into the general fund of the state.

The cranberry crop of Cook bay has turned over to a paying proposition. On a tract on North slough the production has been about 100 to 150 bushels per acre. There are at the present time about 18 acres planted in cranberries in this district.

A paper mill worth $10,000 is now in the possession of the forestry school at Oregon Agricultural college. This machine is a miniature, and is complete in every detail and capable of turning out paper of any quality or size desired from wood pulp.

Careon D. (Pete) Beebe has been bound over to await the action of the Linx county grand jury on two charges of first-degree murder, in connection with the deaths of John Painter and his 13-year-old son, William Painter, with whose murder Beebe is charged.

An option has been taken by the Hill interests on the Galois Creek & Wilson River railroad, and officials of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern companies are making preparations for the purchase of the line and its extension down the Wilson river to Tillamook.

James A. Stevenson of Halsey, Linx county, drew license plate No. 1 in the drawing for motor vehicle numbers for 1922 held in the office of the secretary of state at Salem. License plate No. 13 went to R. R. Lewis of Echo, while John Baker, district attorney of Hood River county drew plate No. 23.

Complaint has been made to the treasury department that Dr. J. A. Linville, prohibition director for Oregon, is hampered in enforcing the prohibition law by the refusal of customs officers to permit the search of vessels immediately on their arrival in Columbia river port.

Deschutes county potatoes, recently exhibited at the Duluth International potato show, were the best of all peck displays entered, according to a letter received from the judging committee. The arrival of the exhibit too late for regular judging prevented Deschutes gems from taking any prizes.

Four persons were killed and 137 injured by automobiles in the city of Portland during the month of October, according to the report of Captain Lewis of the Portland police department. A total of 1987 automobile accidents occurred during the month and 1347 arrests were made.

Senator McNary has reintroduced his bill appropriating $2,500,000 to match the amount authorized by the voters of Oregon for the construction of the Roosevelt Memorial highway. The measure has no chance of consideration in this session of congress, but will be pressed in the regular session. It is understood, as offering a means for solving the unemployment dilemma.

Zooth Houser, sheriff of Umatilla county, filed a mandamus action in the state supreme court in an effort to compel the county court to pay expenses incurred by his office in making arrests. The mandamus action is looked upon as a test suit. If Sheriff Houser wins, all other sheriffs in Oregon can file like claims and collect upon them.

There were three fatalities due to industrial accidents in Oregon during the week ending November 3, according to a report prepared by the state industrial accident commission. The victims were Everett Robinson, chaser, Falls City; A. W. Boyd, electrician, Portland; and Joseph Burk, log scaler, Silverton. A total of 369 accidents were reported.

Representative Hawley has been advised by the navy department that he is authorized to appoint two principals and six alternates to the United States naval academy at Annapolis. Applications must be residents of the first congressional district of Oregon. Competitive examinations for the appointments will be held at the University of Oregon.

J. D. Mustard, who is known as the "potato king" of Crook county, has on display at the Portland Livestock show a fine assortment of potatoes grown in the Powell Butte section. The farmers in central Oregon have had unusually good crops of potatoes this year, those under the Ochoco project having made a specialty of potatoes the last season.

Because of the frequency of grade crossing accidents and the rapidly increasing number of traffic fatalities, the Oregon public service commission has sent letters to all county courts in Oregon, together with officials of all railroads operating in Oregon, asking that they co-operate with the commission in protecting dangerous crossings for the benefit of travelers.

Common school notes aggregating $6,784,177 were in the custody of the state land department at the close of business October 31, according to a report prepared by G. G. Brown, clerk of the state land board. The agricultural college notes totaled $178,830, while the University of Oregon securities aggregated $80,076. Rural credits loan notes had a value of $453,728.37.

While the number of manufacturing establishments in Portland grew only from 837 to 849 in the period from 1914 to 1920, the number of persons engaged in such establishments increased from 14,421 to 31,469, according to a report made by the census bureau. In the same time the payroll grew from $11,803,000 to $46,816,000 and the value of products from $55,697,000 in 1914 to $196,380,000 in 1920.

The city of McMinnville has filed an application in the office of the state engineer for permission to appropriate 45 feet of water and construct a reservoir at the headwaters of the Neustice river for the storage of approximately 6000 acre feet of water. This development contemplates the construction of a 50-foot earth fill dam, a tunnel approximately half a mile in length, about five miles of 48-inch pipeline and a powerhouse at an estimated cost of $850,000. The power will be used for municipal purposes by McMinnville.

The coast counties are making another effort in behalf of the Roosevelt highway, the chambers of commerce of Marshfield, North Bend, Coquille, Myrtle Point, Bandon, Reedsport, Powers, Gardiner, Newport, Tillamook, Seaside, Warrenton and Astoria having taken the initiative and lined up for another effort to have this highway built. These organizations believe the time is now ripe for the Oregon delegation to present the Roosevelt highway bill to congress, inasmuch as Oregon has $2,500,000 bonds waiting to be matched for the building of this highway along the Oregon coast, and as the government desires to obtain work for the unemployed.

MONEY AND MERIT
A Million Dollars, minus merit, would be a mighty poor investment to start in life with.
But a banking account—even a small one—well kept, is a mighty good asset, always.
It means that you are known at your bank, and that you are known favorably. Nominal capital, plus merit, outweighs phenomenal capital, minus merit.
A well-kept banking account is a real asset, especially when kept with a strong, progressive bank such as this. It will pay you to investigate the service we offer. Certainly it will be a privilege to have you call and to place some helpful banking information before you.
TAXES
We will be pleased to attend to paying the second half of your taxes which should be paid on or before October 5th, in order to avoid the penalty.
