WHO AM I?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.
I am more deadly than bullets, and I have weakened more homes than the slightest of siege guns.
I steal in the United States alone over $300,000,000 each year.
I spare no one, and find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and the weak.
I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners in a year.
I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are warned against me, but you heed not.
I am relentless. I am everywhere; in the home, on the street, in the factory, at railroad crossings, and on the sea.
I bring sickness, degradation and death, and yet few seek to avoid me. I destroy, crush and maim; I give nothing, but take all.
I am your worst enemy.
I AM CARELESSNESS.

NO HIGHWAY WILL STAND TRAFFIC OF TRUCKS

Good roads propaganda is always well received, despite the increased taxes which follow. The farmers accept it because highway improvement simplifies their marketing problem and renders their property more accessible. City folk are friendly, for it tends to make their country drives more enjoyable. Shippers are in accord, for shipping by truck has many and obvious advantages.

But figures recently collated in Iowa indicate that, in the course of a single year, 483 public service trucks produced 6,140,210 ton-miles of transportation. Allowing for one man to the truck for loading, unloading, repairing, soliciting business and collecting bills, this means 13,710 ton-miles to the man for the year. In 1918, which may be taken for an average year, the nation's railroads produced 220,700 passenger miles of transportation to the man, counting everyone connected with them from section hand to president.

What does it mean?

Everywhere we hear how the motor truck helps to solve the nation's transportation problem, yet the railroads are suffering for lack of business. Have we forgotten how large a share of the cost of truck transportation falls on the taxpayer?

"Here is not a highway in the United States today that will stand up under truck traffic. No one has yet discovered how to build one that will, and, even did we know, the cost would be prohibitive at present. We do not know that roads which cost $50,000 a mile will stand up under the pounding."

Now the state of Iowa is considering building up its necessary secondary roads with gravel or macadam, purely in the farmer's interest. It does not propose to build $50,000 roads where $5000 roads will serve. Every state in the Union will watch with interest.

WILLAMETTE VALLEY PETITES ALL SOLD

Renewed activity in the prune market entirely cleaned up all of the Oregon Growers' association Petite prunes in the Willamette valley. A large tonnage of the association's holdings of Petites in the Umpqua valley went at the same time.

Increased prices on California prunes have created a demand for Oregon stock and several cars were sold during the last week, a part of them going to foreign buyers.

There has been a tendency on the part of eastern buyers to discredit information coming from the coast that holdings of prunes at the present time are very light. However, they are beginning to realize that a shortage actually exists and the market is showing signs of a rapid awakening.

There have been very light crops of most drying fruits in nearly all sections of the west and the pack of canned fruit during the last season is also about. These conditions are expected to work toward the early clean up of stocks of dried and canned fruit and it is thought that they will be largely sold out by the middle of the coming summer.

He will, quite likely, take possession of the store long before that time. George G. is still on the job but furniture took a big drop Tuesday, as all back numbers must be closed out.

—Elmer Hamilton drove Will Martin over to Garibaldi Saturday in one of the famous Chevrolet ton trucks, taking the family household effects to the new home where William has purchased a general store. Mr. Martin's mother and sister will be with him and keep house for him at the seashore resort. Mr. Hamilton says the roads were fine. He went by way of the Grand Ronde country and made the trip on high. The big mill at Garibaldi is scheduled to open for work January 15th when things will be quite lively over in that section.

—The Good Investment Company reports the sale of the A. Clark Smith chicken ranch in Curtis Addition to T. B. Edwards, of Billings, Mont. This is something new to Mr. Edwards as he has been in the banking business for a number of years, at this time being vice president of the Yegen Bros., bankers at Billings, also vice president of Anaconda National Bank, of Anaconda. The sale included 710 chickens and all personal property. Mr. Smith will move to the Tuttle property just south of the Oregon Electric depot. Sale price, $5000 cash. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards drove through in their car, inspected a number of places in Southern Oregon, but finally decided this was the place for them and have thus located in our midst.

MEN CHARGED WITH HOLD-UP IN JAIL

T. E. Johnson, 19 years old; Stanley Gibson, 24, Vernon Frost, 17, and Jack Holland, 27, are in the county jail charged with being the robbers who on October 29 last held up John Conzelmann of the Sherwood district and robbed him of $500 in Liberty bonds and a small sum in cash. The hold-up took place in a small room near the Conzelmann residence which the owner used as an office and in which there was a small safe which he kept his valuables. On the night of the robbery four men entered the office and by threatening him with a gun compelled him to open the safe. Mr. Conzelmann was so overcome by excitement that he suffered a stroke of paralysis and it was more than a week before he was able to report the robbery. Since then Sheriff Alexander and Portland officers have been running down all clues. The arrests were made by Sheriff Alexander of Washington and Deputies Christofferson and Schirmer of Multnomah. Holland, the oldest of the quartet, is a truck salesman. The bonds were registered and of no value to the thieves and are believed to have been destroyed.—Hillsboro Independent.

Back to Normalcy

Take me back to normalcy,
Where the square meal costs a dime;
Where a nickel will buy three Doughnuts any, every time;
Where the rent is 15 smacks
For an eight-room, modern house,
(With a choice of many shacks).
Where a dollar buys a blouse;
Where the butter costs two bits
For a 16 ounce pound;
Where the life of any poet is the Axis
And the life of any thief is the Axis;
Where $3 shoes are found,
Take me back to normalcy,
Where the musty ale's on draught;
Where the lunch is always free;
Where the politicians graft;
Where the seats are ten, twenty, thirty;
Where the overall is kind
In the piece of silken shirt;
Where the time-clock we can ring,
Where the wages are—but Geo—
Don't take this theory too far!
Take me back to normalcy,
But do not take my twin-six car.
