POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive. It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches as many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, fosters so many poles, has so many homes, belongs dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 320,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter. If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public. Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

APPARATUS FOR RECLAIMING OIL

Device Conserves 60 to 80 Per Cent by Eliminating Extraneous Matter in It.

REDUCES BILLS OF MOTORIST

Through Distillation of Some Lighter Lubricants Quality is Said to Be Improved—Abrasive Matter is Removed.

To conserve present-day resources for the benefit of posterity is not a particularly attractive proposition to the men of today, who are rather likely to ask why he should do anything for posterity, when so far as he can see, posterity has done nothing for him.

But when conservation puts money in his own pocket, that is another story altogether.

That is exactly what can now be done for the motorist by a recent invention of an apparatus for reclaiming his cleaning crank case oil. From 60 to 80 per cent of this oil can now be salvaged and used over again.

Extends Life of Motor.

One of the considerable items in a motorist's budget is lubricating oil, most of which goes into the crank case of his car. Upon the lubrication of that part of the mechanism largely depends the efficiency and life of his car.

Lubricating oil does not actually deteriorate through use. It merely collects a mass of abrasive matter from the wear on moving parts; carbon and unburned gasoline leak from the cylinder into the crank case; dirt and moisture and grit find their way in from the outer air. Although the oil itself does not lose its lubricating quality, all this adulteration eventually forms a mixture which cannot give proper lubrication.

Eliminates Extraneous Matter. What the new apparatus does is to eliminate all that extraneous matter and thus restore the original usefulness of the lubricant—frequently, indeed, through the distillation of the lighter oils, improving its original quality.

This new reclaiming machine is offered with the idea that when a motorist wishes to renew the oil in his crank chamber he will go to a garage equipped with the necessary outfit, have the old oil drained out and remove it to a garage without the equipment will make an allowance for the used oil and send it to be reclaimed by someone equipped for that job.

"Sugar" From Old Linn. A London periodical says that in pre-war days the Germans used to make quite a lot of "sugar" by treating old linn with sulphuric acid, which turned it into dextrine. It was then washed with lime water and treated with more acid, until it crystallized into glucose.

Mirth and the Maiden.

"He was a mirth-loving man, and perhaps that accounted not a little for his successful amours; since women, for the most part frivolous creatures, are excessively bored by the seriousness with which men treat them, and they can seldom resist the buffetment which makes them laugh. Their sense of humor is crude. Diana of Ephesus is always prepared to fling ridicule to the winds for the red-tressed chieftain who sits on his hat."—From "The Trembling of a Leaf," by Somerset Maugham.

REPUBLICANS!

Shall Oregon continue to hold the pre-eminence that is now hers? Shall she forge ahead as a leader in the Republican party?

Answer "Yes!"—Vote X13 for Ralph E. Williams for Republican National Committeeman

IN the presidential election of 1916 when there was dissension and diversion everywhere, Oregon was the only state west of the Missouri river to go Republican. Harmony!

Progressives and Republicans united in giving credit for this remarkable achievement to Ralph E. Williams, national committeeman since 1908.

In recognition of this and other services, Ralph Williams was elected vice-chairman, the second highest honor within the power of the Republican National Committee to bestow. It is a position of influence to be reached only by years of faithful and intelligent service.

Ralph Williams is the first committeeman representative from any western state to be elected to the vice-chairmanship.

Ralph Williams is a veteran of the national organization. He stands at the head with the leaders. A new man would, of custom and necessity, stand at the foot with the followers.

Republican leaders, in Congress and out, are Ralph Williams' friends. This friendship means much to Oregon and the Northwest. Without ostentation Ralph Williams enlists the aid of these leaders for the things the Northwest needs from the national government.

Keep Oregon to the front-- Don't let her slump
