FRED SUMMERS

In the death of the late Fred Summers, Beaverton lost a good citizen. A man that did his share of the hard work and didn't have much to say about it. He was an expert horseman and took a pride in keeping his team looking the best. He was one of the common people, the class that we are pleased to be with on Monday, as well as on Sunday.

JOHNNY'S AGE

Circumstances alter boys' ages as well as cases. Answering a question as to how old he was, a Topeka boy replied "Eight years old at home, 6 years on the railways, and 4 on the street cars."

SOCIETY.

Mrs. B. L. Griffith of Skookumville was a Beaverton visitor, Wednesday.

Mrs. John A. Van DeHey of Cornelius visited with friends at this place, Thursday.

Another evidence of spring; Paul Muessig is sailing around town on his motorcycle.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burke and son Charles of Forest Grove visited with relatives here, last of the week.

J. E. Mayer of Portland was over to his place northwest of town, Saturday.

Judge C. E. Kindt of Scholls was in this city, first of the week, on telephone business.

Henry Price of Forest Grove was down last of the week, greeting friends.

Ed Barry of East Beaverton was up, Tuesday night. He was a grower of fancy ducks.

Arthur Ball, the thresherman of Cedar Mills, was in this city, Friday.

Mr. Holsheimer of Elmonica was in our city Thursday on business, in regard to selling part of his potato crop.

Dix Boring, of the firm of Cady-Anderson Co., has just returned from San Francisco, where he underwent an operation for cancer. He is recovering nicely and the cancer is gone.

S. K. Nelson and wife of Portland were here, greeting old-time friends, Saturday.

Gen. Scoovey is busy looking over promising baseball players for the "Army Nine."

There will be a big dance at Morse hall Saturday night, February 21. Some time and Toelle's music has the vim.

Carl Behm, formerly of this place, was out from the Rose City Thursday, greeting friends, and subscribed for The Owl. He has just won a brand from the Straetcar company at Portland.

Ed Anderson of Hemlock, Ore., gave us a pleasant call the other evening, and subscribed for The Owl. He is running a store at Hemlock, and "business is good." It is bound to be, when "E. G." goes after it.

The Toggery is ordered sold by United States court. Bankrupt sale on shoes, clothing, hats and men's furnishings starts Thursday, February 19.

William Shackelford of Cedar Mills was over, Saturday. He says it would be a good plan for someone with a shovel to go along in the winter time, and let the water out of the wagon tracks while it is raining, and this would do away with the big ruts in the wagon roads when spring rolls around.

The editor noticed a pretty good-looking conductor on River-view Car 615 in Portland, Wednesday. When the car came nearer, it was our old friend, Charles Billstine, taking up the fares.

Mrs. McGowan of Progress was in town Saturday, shopping.

A Springfield, Ill., man got up early the other morning to build the fire and dropped dead before he had accomplished his purpose. No wife who really loves her husband will permit him to incur such a risk.

A. A. Walker was home visiting with his folks at Skookumville, Saturday.

CITY OF SPORTS

Beaverton is getting to the front as a city in many ways, especially in the line of sports. Our ball players win pennants and silver cups; our basketball players give a good account of themselves; our tennis players are among the best; our boxers put the other fellows through the ropes; our fancy jumper, Joe Fitzpatrick, is one of the best in the word, jumping from barrel to barrel.

The champion bear dancer of Coast, John Wolf, resides here. And now another star "looms up." His name is John Muessig in the role of juggler, grabs red-hot stoves, full of smoke and fire, and throws them out of store buildings.

Glad we live here, ain't you?

Abraham Lincoln never said "Hello, Central," never dodged an automobile, never held a strap in a trolley car, never pushed a button for a light, never heard a phonograph, and never posed for a motion picture, and yet Abraham Lincoln died only forty-eight years ago.

Ben Denney and family of Raleigh were down at Grange, Saturday. Mr. Denney has some fine dairy stock on his ranch.

Many thanks

Henry Aikin, Carl Desitger and Omer were playing ball Sunday, when these fellows begin "winter is over."

Mr. Barr had a party at his home Friday night in the big contest. Doc Woods lost 6 to 4, and we had some time at that.

John Rowe, the man who runs the "coning tower," east of town, on the night shift, was in the Rose City, Saturday.

C. Richardson of Progress was shopping in Beaverton, Monday.

Joe Kemmer of Fort Canby was out Saturday, visiting at his home on Cooper Mountain.

Who ever heard of a colored...

Gives Big Smoker

Bob Hocken gave a big smoker last Monday evening, when he set his straw stack on fire.

Building Up City

Harry Alexander of Portland is doing his part in putting up much-needed cottages here in Beaverton. He has four fine buildings already built, and is now building the fifth on his property in the western part of town. Mr. Alexander is doing a good work for the town, as well as for his bank account. He states quite a number have asked to rent the new building that he is now putting up, as there is a big demand for houses in Beaverton.

Butter Wrappers At This Office

When the weather is a little lamp and rain is on the program, the soles of your shoes are naturally wet and cold day by day; this causes toothache, etc. You can remedy the same for 10c by buying a pair of insoles, and place them in your shoes, for sale at Vincent Mazzei's shoe repairing shop.

L. S. Barnes, who has been on the sick list for a long while, is now able to walk from his bed to the table, and it would please his many friends to see "L. S." down town these warm days.

Earl Vaughn, the noted tenor, was out from the City of Roses on a visit at his mother's place, Mrs. Filner, west of town, Saturday.

Mrs. Lang of Portland is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Derr.

SPELLING CONTESTS

The Washington county spelling contest will be a big success again this year. More than fifty schools have sent in reports. Next week we will publish the names of the ten highest standing of the county. Now is the time to prepare for the local contests, which will be held April 25. The grand final will be held at Hillsboro, May 2.

A Future

"It cannot be that earth is man's only abiding place. It cannot be that our life is a bubble cast by eternity to float a moment upon its waves and sink into nothingness. Else why is it that the high and glorious aspirations which leap like angels from the temple of our hearts are forever wandering unsatisfied? Why is it that the rainbow and cloud come over us with a beauty that is not of earth, and then pass off to leave us to muse on their loveliness? Why is it that the stars which 'hold their festival around the midnight throne' are set above the grasp of our limited faculties, forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And, finally, why is it that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view and taken from us; leaving the thousands and streams of our affection to flow back in an Alpine torrent upon our hearts? There is a realm where the rainbow never fades; where the stars will be spread out before us like us like the islands that slumber on the ocean, and where the beautiful beings which pass before us like shadows will stay forever in our presence."

A certain fellow was seen standing on the bridge, east of town, the other night, singing "I stood on the bridge at midnight" waiting.

Promoter Billy Filley, was in Portland Saturday, hustling for that big smoker.

Quite a number were buying valentines at the bakery, Thursday.
