THE FARMER'S HOPE--LOWER TAXES

THE OWL

VOL. 2, NO. 10.

BEAVERTON, OREGON, SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1914.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, $1.00 PER YEAR.

HARDY IS CHAMPION OF PORTLAND

At the big smoker, at the M. A. A. C. club Friday night, April 3, Morg Hardy, of Beaverton, won a clean-cut decision over Parlow, M. A. A. C., at 145 pounds. Hardy is now champion welter weight of Portland. Good boy, Morg, you are sure putting Beaverton on the map.

PETER L. CARLSON

Peter L. Carlson was born in Mexico, Sweden, May 3, 1860, living at his home until a young man. He was married to Caroline Syoberg, November 1, 1884, moving to America in 1886, locating in St. Paul, Minn.; later coming to California, where he worked in the railroad tunnels for five years; thence to Portland, Ore., Scappoose, Ranier, Wash., finally to Farmington, Ore., and then to his place about one mile west of Beaverton, where he built up a nice home by hard work and industry. In November, 1912, he was taken sick with a lingering illness, which turned out to be cancer of the stomach, and after 16 months he died Thursday, March 26, 1914, at the age of 53 years, 10 months, 23 days. He leaves to mourn his sad-going, his wife, 3 daughters, Mrs. H. Morton, of Welches, Ore., Hilda and Carrie, of Beaverton, three sons, Ernest Carlson, of Portland, Charles and Clarence, of this place, also a host of friends and acquaintances.

Buys Nice Home

Ed Pearlman and brother of Portland purchased 10 acres of the Merlo place at Santa Rosa, Thursday, for $2,500. When he erects his new house, he will have an ideal home in a fine community. The Owl Land company made the sale.

It Was this Way

"He" had a small lunch room, with which he paid his expenses thru College. "She" was caught in the rain and took refuge in his lunch room. "They" became interested. "Another," who was also interested, attempted to make "him" look ridiculous and absurd, but "he" turned the tables and that "other" met defeat. Such is a partial synopsis of Mr. Bateman's movies most successful; three-act comedy, "The Senior," which is to be produced by the Beaverton Tennis club, and under the personal direction of Geo. P. Kilton, who has been responsible for the recent successful production here. A large and well-selected cast, and attractive and appropriate stage settings, will surely make this a huge success.

The show is overflowing with clean bright, sparkling comedy, amusing situation and an interesting story.

This will, no doubt, be the last show of the season. So don't lose your last chance to see a big hit. Grange Hall, April 18, at 8:15 p. m.

Big Crowd at Bazaar

Cedar Mills, Ore. — There was a big crowd present at the big bazaar Friday night, given by the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church. A fine program, consisting of music, recitations and speaking, was rendered. About $60 worth of goods were sold, also four gallons of ice cream and large amount of candy, etc.

John Olson, a good-looking bachelor living on the hills, above his place, bought quite a number of aprons, dust caps, etc., and looks a little suspicious. Everybody present had a fine time.

Artistic Work

J. L. Hardy has installed in his confectionery a handsome back bar. The material was selected from the prettiest grain lumber worked into artistic design with an early English finish. This fine piece of furniture was made in Beaverton by George Hughson, one of our best carpenters. Those desiring to see a beautiful piece of artistic work, stop in at Hardy's.

HOME RUN-AIKIN

Corvallis, Ore. — In the exciting 4-8 contest O. A. C. defeated Baker Tristate team on the local diamond Wednesday. Henry Aikin, r. l., for Baker, who hales from Beaverton, was the star of the game, knocking a "screaming home run" to center with one man on. Oh, you Hank! seems we have heard about you before. "Hit 'em a mile." Thursday Aikin did the same trick again, knocking a home run with a man ahead of him.

Deputy Recorder Seeks Nomination

Fred A. Everest announces himself as candidate for the office of Recorder of Conveyances; is now and has been for past three years Deputy Recorder; is a resident of Hillsboro, and is running on the Republican ticket for the nomination on May 15. He pledges to serve faithfully and effectively. Is well known, having lived in this county for 19 years. (adv.)

METZGER

J. C. Jones, one of our prominent citizens, has just completed his five-thousand-dollar home on Locust street.

Milton Eldrid has sold his property on Second avenue to Mr. Ingram, who is building a home on the corner of Second avenue and Pine street.

L. Anderson has just finished a neat bungalow on Third avenue. Watch Metzger grow!

The woman's club of Metzger were instrumental in obtaining a professor from the University of Oregon to give a lecture (with stereopticon pictures) on birds, which was greatly enjoyed by the school children, as well as the older members.

E. Rhial has just purchased the A. G. Ross place on Locust street, and intends to make a home.

Some Musician

An Irishman, who had come to New York, was met at Ellis Island by his brother, Mike. The latter undertook to show Pat the sights of the big city, pointing out the city hall, Wall street, Trinity church and the tall buildings. At length they came to Chinatown.

Pointing to a Chinese laundry, Mike exclaimed, "Look at that sign, Pat! Sure, an' ye never saw the like o' that Ireland! Cae you read it?" "No," replied Pat, "but, be-gorra, if I had me flute here, I could play it." — Skamowka Eagle.

CEDAR MILLS

Mr. Aumeberry has rented the Lincoln Young place for this year.

Cedar Mills grange is in a flourishing condition, due to the able leadership of Master Ross Finley, assisted by the lecturer, Mrs. Pruden.

We are expecting cars in Cedar Mills some day, but haven't heard the whistle blow yet.

Much credit for the success of the bazaar, Friday night, is due the president, Mrs. Church, for her untiring efforts.

Mr. Kezler, who runs the delivery wagon for our genial merchant, E. S. May, will soon locate in the new house of R. B. Raeyes.

Miss Madelene Vincent was a Portland visitor, Wednesday.

Bob Hodge Sticks to His Text

Seattle — Robert Hodge, the Progressive candidate for Governor in nineteen-twelve, has enrolled as a freshman in the University of Washington with the intention of taking a full course. This action follows three failures to pass the state bar examinations.

Early Cabbage

That splendid new variety, which we have been telling you about, will be ready in a few days. Supply is limited and demand big. So you better order now if you want 10-pound early cabbage.

GRIFFITH-KILTON CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHN FROHNAUER, Beaverton, Ore.

The Beaverton Hardware company shipped a large order of implements and hardware to Columbia City, Ore., this week. They certainly must have the price to ship goods through Portland, down the river.

S. P. BRAKEMAN INJURED

Hillsboro, Ore. — A brakeman on the night freight train, while switching cars loaded with logs about 1 o'clock this (Saturday) morning, grabbed a stake, which broke. He fell backwards, striking his head on the rail of the main track, fracturing his skull. Conductor Fisher saw his lantern light go out and picked him off the track. The brakeman was put in the caboose and rushed to the hospital at Portland. He is severely injured.

LAST MEETING OF THE KINTON LITERARY SOCIETY

Good Friday evening, April 10, will be the last meeting of the Kinton Literary society for the season.

There will be a program and a basket social. The proceeds will be used in making the last payment on the piano.

GOOD WATER CHEAP RATES

Forest Grove, Ore. — A committee from the council at Orenco appeared before the city council concerning the matter of securing water from Forest Grove's splendid water supply, the company, from which the Orenco council had planned to get water had not fulfilled its agreement, and they were seeking a contract with the city. After discussion and deliberation a resolution prevailed, granting the town of Orenco an option of six months to secure the city water at a minimum charge of $50 per month and a rate of 8c per thousand gallons over the minimum. The resolution calls for a grant of fifteen years.
