Beautifying Metzger School Grounds

The Parent-Teachers' circle of Metzger have been doing some good work. In the early winter they paid for the hauling of several loads of sawdust for the playgrounds, and have bought rosebushes and set them out for a hedge on the south side of the school building.

McMinnville Wins

Forest Grove, Ore. — George Stewart, Jr., of McMinnville college, won the Intercollegiate Oratorical contest at Albany Friday evening with his oration on "The American Press and World Peace." Stewart received no first ranks, but his medium markings gave him the highest average. Hubbard, of Pacific college, and Bolt, of Willamette, were given second and third places, respectively.

Big Water Carnival

The Portland Press club, in offering the public one big Carnival week, commencing Saturday, April 4, at First and Oregon streets, can assure amusement seekers the latest and most meritorious list of interesting attractions.

After due consideration, the famous firm of Rice and Dore was selected to offer, produce and manage what is likely the largest, most expensive and varied line of outdoor, novel, attractive and entertaining exhibits ever gathered together for any like event. The new water circus is said to be the most costly and interesting production ever conceived and invented for traveling purposes. It presents over thirty aquatic stars in "Neptune's Daughter," or a "Trip to the Bottom of the Sea," offering all the mysterious wonders of the great water spectacles, as produced at the New York hippodrome for a whole year's sensation, also introducing deep-sea high divers, log-rollers, diving girls, water clowns, diving ponies and dogs, an entirely new and worthy attraction, well worth visiting.

Onions $4 Sack

E. E. Berst of Skookumville shipped his last car of onions, 100 sacks, Saturday, receiving $4 per sack.

Improving the Bakery

The Beaverton Home Bakery building has been thoroughly overhauled; the ceiling calciminated; the walls papered, and Mr. Pearson wears a new smile. All in all everything looks fine for the spring trade.

Depot Painted

The O. E. depot here has been painted this week; the body of the building golden, on account of the business transacted, and trimmed in green in honor of the nationality that live around this vicinity.

Shooting Match

The first shooting match of the season was "put on" Saturday morning. After the "smoke rolled by," it was found that Miller missed the board; Hansen shot in the same place; Squires hit the board, and Lester Squires "brought home the bacon," having hit the paper about center.

Dell Shackelford underwent a delicate operation, last of the week, and is recovering rapidly. Drs. Robinson and Barrett performed the operation.

Party at Metzger

The Woman's club of Metzger was entertained Wednesday at a St. Patrick's Day luncheon by Mrs. Royal and Mrs. Peters at the home of the former.

The table was artistically decorated with spring flowers, green predominating.

The place-cards were in the shape of the typical "old country" hat of green.

The color scheme was also carried out in the shamrock-bordered napkins.

Everyone spent a most pleasant afternoon, and the spirit of mirth and harmony, which prevailed, was very evident.

Mile Sidewalk at Metzger

The people of Metzger, at the instigation of the Parent-Teachers' circle, each donated what they could afford in money or work, and have built a mile of sidewalk, four planks in width, extending nearly through the entire tract.

A Solid Front in 1914

In determining not to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate from Oregon, Johnathan Bourne has done the cause of party unity a real service. Robert A. Booth of Eugene now seems to have a clear field, and the way seems open for elimination of the after-primary bitterness, which has characterized Republican politics in Oregon for many years, leading to the election of Democrats to our most important offices. Republicans should now get together and give Mr. Booth a strong vote in the primary for the moral effect, and give him their consistent support in the campaign proper.

"HAPPY DAYS"

APRIL FIRST

Hubler Bros. had a big purse in front of their home, nailed to the sidewalk with a spike. They had "lots of fun" until Paul Muessig got caught, "it being the opening of the fishing season." Well, Paul played a Dutch trick, and took purse, spike and all.

A certain fellow, from Garden Home, took a big plunge in the cattle guard at Earl Evans's crossing on the Southern Pacific track. It was full of water, and the frogs all left immediately. Earl Evans misses the singing now.

We got a new "circuser" in town by name of Smithy. He performs the "high dive and splash act" to perfection. Wednesday evening he got on Ed Hinchy's pony, which was tied at Thyng's confectionery and intended to play a trick on the Irish, and started on a gallop for the livery barn, but as he came to the big mudhole, just north of the Southern Pacific track, the horse fell, and Bro. Smith made the high dive 10 feet in the air, and came down like a big bullfrog in the grand splash act. "It was a bully sight."
