A California "big tree" has been selected in Tulare county to be shown at the exposition. A committee of the Board of Trade after an extended tour of inspection picked out a tree measuring 87 feet 9 inches in circumference at the base, 85 feet above the ground and 65 feet at a height of 16 feet.

CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS.

Another Attempt Made to Settle the Vexed Puyallup Indian Reservation Question.

The House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds has acted favorably on the following public building bills: Spokane, Wash., $150,000; Cheyenne, Wyo., $100,000.

Secretary Noble has rendered a decision in the case of Wentill Grant against the Northern Pacific, in which he holds in favor of Grant. The land involved is located near Spokane, Wash., and is said to be very valuable.

The Washington Senators expect to have a sub-part of entry established in the Puget Sound collection district at some point on the Columbia river within a short time. The Treasury Department is considering the matter.

The Washington delegation has been asked by Henry Hewitt of Tacoma to secure in the present river and harbor bill a provision for a survey of the Snohomish river, with a view to its improvement. The Senate Committee on Commerce may put this in the river and harbor bill when it goes over from the House.

The House Committee on Railways and Canals has ordered a favorable report on the bill authorizing the Secretary of War to cause a survey to be made and an estimate furnished on the construction of a ship canal from the great lakes to the navigable waters of the Hudson river, of sufficient capacity to transport the tonnage of the lakes to the sea. The bill appropriates $10,000 to defray the survey and estimates.

The President has directed the removal of Charles M. Leavy, appraiser of merchandise in San Francisco, for complicity in the recent frauds at that port in connection with the undervaluation of silk goods imported by Nemberger, Reis & Co. The action is the result of the investigation by Solicitor Hepburn and Special Agent Ingle. The case of Mr. Leavy is in the hands of the United States Attorney in San Francisco.

The Port Townsend Chamber of Commerce still keeps up its record in the way of petitions and memorials. The latest was presented by Senator Allen the other day, asking that all matters arising in Alaska which come under the jurisdiction of the United States Court may be referred hereafter to the Washington courts instead of Oregon, as at present. If there has been anything that the Port Townsend Chamber of Commerce has not petitioned for, it is something it has not heard of.

The Superintendent of Census has issued the following statistics of cereal production in Oregon and Washington for the census year ended May 31, 1890: Oregon—Wheat, 563,270 acres, 9,298,224 bushels; oats, 218,736 acres, 5,948,594 bushels; barley, 37,833 acres, 876,063 bushels. Washington—Wheat 372,658 acres, 6,945,420 bushels; oats, 65,068 acres, 2,373,182 bushels; barley, 51,661 acres, 1,509,140 bushels. In addition to the foregoing were corn, rye and buckwheat, aggregating 19,136 acres in Oregon and 11,373 acres in Washington. In Oregon the total area in cereals has increased since 1879 from 632,871 acres to 829,005 acres, not including at least 27,000 acres, mainly in Wasco and Gilliam counties, on which the crops were either destroyed by drouth or cut for forage. In Washington the total area devoted to cereals aggregated 500,871 acres, as compared with 136,937 acres at tenth census. The addition to the acreage in wheat represented 80.03 per cent. of the total increased acreage.

Contrary to general expectation, the Geary Chinese bill went through the House under a suspension of the rules. Senator Dolph was asked if he would give any expression upon the subject, and declined to do so. He said the bill as amended would now come to the Senate, and would probably go to the Committee on Foreign Relations. Geary says that the bill must go through the Senate, or every man who lives in a State where labor is employed will lose the support of the laboring men. The bill is certainly severe in its method, and is believed by some to be unconstitutional and in violation of all treaty rights. This matter will be taken into consideration by the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and perhaps a compromise measure may be reached which will keep out the great bulk of Chinese and yet work no violation of international law. The Senate will no doubt be more conservative than the House in consideration of this matter, for as a matter of fact the great body of the House never had an opportunity either to discuss or understand this Chinese bill.

Another attempt is being made to settle the vexed Puyallup Indian reservation question. Senator Dawes has introduced a bill providing an appropriation of $25,000 to pay the expenses of a commission, which shall determine the rights of individual Indians who have taken allotments and also secure a list of unallotted lands within the reservation. This commission is to make a plat of all lands, appraise the value of each tract and make a report to the Secretary of the Interior. If the report is approved, then the commission is to be authorized to sell the lands at auction owned by the Indians, and also the lands which have not been allotted adjacent to the city of Tacoma are to be laid out into lots and sold, the money to be deposited in the United States Treasury and draw interest for the Indians at the rate of 5 per annum. This would probably dispose of the Indians' allotted lands on the reservation, but there is yet a question to be considered. This is regarding the contract made by Indians who hold lands in severalty with other persons, and who claim that they have a distinct right on the lands, and that their contracts made with the Indians shall be first considered. It is evident that in anything done with the Puyallup lands considerable litigation will follow.
