

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1892.

NOTICE.
The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, invariably in advance. No deviation from this rule. The paper will be stopped at the end of the time for which it is paid unless further ordered and paid for. A blue pencil mark around the notice indicates that your subscription has expired, and if you wish the paper continued you should remit the amount as soon as possible.

GLOBOSITIES.

Sheriff Wilcox and G. L. Neale made a trip to Arlington Thursday.

Misses Annie and Frankie Schott of Rock creek were in town Friday.

Something new in the business locals. Read them carefully, over and over.

Born—To the wife of Hon. William Hughes at Heppner, May 8th, a son.

Born—At Santa Rosa, Cal., May 1st, to the wife of Alonzo C. Stevens, a son.

Mrs. John Keeney of Heppner is visiting her parents near Condon, Mr. and Mrs. I. Hurt.

The dance at Mayville Friday night was an enjoyable affair. Several Condonites took it in.

We stop the press to announce that there is still room on our books for a few more subscriptions, at $1.50 in advance.

Dr. B. F. Nott, dentist, is in town. Those needing such work had better hurry up, as he will remain only a few days.

Howard Propst lost a fine gold watch- charm in town about ten days ago. The finder will confer a favor by returning same to the owner.

Col. Lucas made a business trip to Arlington this week. Mrs. Lucas left Wednesday for a couple of weeks visit to friends in the valley.

The young woman who marries a dissipated young man with the idea of reforming him is liable to have her hands full as well as her husband.—Exchange.

An explosion of gas or fire damp at Roslyn, Wash., Tuesday of last week, killed every person in the mine, 45 in all. The list of dead shows that nearly all killed had large families.

Mrs. J. H. Putnam and sister, Miss Emma Meek, came over Wednesday from Fossil and are visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. E. Meek, seven miles west of town.

Father Lemay of Heppner held mass in the Catholic church at Condon, Sunday, to a large and appreciative congregation. He is a well-educated gentleman, and a fluent orator.

An eastern editor announces the arrival of a twelfth responsibility at his house, and makes the following appeal thereafter: "More subscribers wanted immediately at this office!"

W. G. Keys and a number of other cattlemen will begin riding for cattle, June 1st, beginning at the head of Buckhorn for a general round-up, and on June 8th they will move to the old Cromwell corral, near Crown Rock.

Geo. Knox is levelling off the ground this week, preparatory to beginning work on a large new livery stable on North Main street, just north of where the Glasgow barn stood. The size of the new barn will be 64x70.

Condon is to have another store soon. Geo. Neale informs us that as soon as lumber can be procured he will build a notion and grocery store, between Miller's store and the harness shop, on the east side of Main street.

Notice L. W. Darling & Co.'s new ad. This wide-awake firm keeps almost anything you can think of—even to wagons, buggies, farming implements, furniture, etc., and their prices compare favorably with those of the city. Call and see for yourselves.

Thos. Morgan, who had been chief clerk in the Palace hotel at Heppner since last summer, is visiting relatives and old friends in Gilliam. He has secured a position with the Eastern Oregon Fair Association, with headquarters at Prairie City.

The booths for the June election should be erected at once, so that voters may get used to them. This voting under the new law is a serious matter. Keep one fact at least in your mind, that you are to scratch out all the names except those you wish to vote for.

Condon is to have a new enterprise soon in the form of a gin mill. J. M. Curl of Mayville purchased a gin mill in the valley and will move it up here at once. He thinks because Condon is centrally located, it is the most suitable place he could find for his distillery.

A change has been made in the time card of the Union Pacific. Passenger trains west-bound will be due at Arlington, one at 12:40 at night, the other at 1:50 p. m. East-bound, one at 2:15 a. m., the other 3:37 p. m. See new time card on page 1, of the GLOBE next week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Rinehart and baby came over from Lone Rock Friday and are visiting their relatives in town. They will move back to town about June 1st, that being the time Dan's mail contract expires. They are good neighbors and citizens, and we are glad to welcome them back.

Assessor D. Mason was in town several days this week. The Globe's complete and first-class job office turned out a lot of fine work for him this week. It is the only job office in the county, and our magnificent "Universal" jobber has been bustling almost incessantly during the last month or 2.

Jones—Miss Hugly is going to marry a printer, I hear. She—What could she see in him to admire? Jones—His excellent presswork, I guess.—Judge.

About a dozen of the Beecher Flat citizens, whose patience has been worn out waiting for this road district to improve its road on 30-mile grade, have left their plows and are improving the road themselves this week. They deserve much credit for this, and our people surely ought to appreciate the great favor.

It is astonishing how suddenly a first-class official paper can make a doctor out of a man. Last week in our mention of Mr. Dan Hodgkin's arrival here, our force of type-setters must have missed their toe-hold and got a D in front of the R, instead of an M, thus making it Dr. instead of Mr., as it should have been.

If you will show us a man who is kicking his home paper, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, he will prove to be unsuccessful in his own business, if he has any. Men of that calibre seldom ever get into business of any kind—except to waste all their time looking out for their neighbors' shortcomings.—Harney Times.

Rev. W. C. Wise left Saturday to attend the Mid-Columbia Association of the Congregational churches of Eastern Oregon, which met at Hood River on the 19th. Before returning to Condon, Mr. Wise will take a short and much-needed rest. He will visit Forest Grove, Scappoose and other points in the valley and on the coast.

Four carpenters—Messrs. S. S. Grider, H. M. Hoss, A. J. Walker and Squire Tatom, began the erection Monday of J. H. Miller's fine dwelling in the south end of town. A foot or so of water has been reached already in his well on the same lot, and when all is complete, Mr. Miller and family will have a very cozy and comfortable home.

Heppner Gazette: D. M. Rinehart, the Lone Rock stage man, informs us that work on the Lone Rock-Heppner road is being pushed very rapidly. The Sweetmilk canyon grade having been completed, and a crew of twelve men are now at work on the Buttermilk canyon. The people who subscribed to this work should appreciate the fact that the money is being used in the right direction.

Teachers' quarterly examination closed at Condon Friday. All of the 12 applicants, with one exception, were successful in securing certificates. Miss Ethel Parman has taught several successful terms, on a 3d grade; but according to the new school law, it made it compulsory for her to secure a 2d grade this time, which she felt just a little short of accomplishing. She will be better prepared for the next trial in August, at which time she hopes to be successful.

Steve Motteer and Henry Panning returned home this week from Custer county, Idaho, where they went early in the spring to secure work. That country depends entirely upon the support of mines, and for some reason all the mines shut down for the present, hence their return home. They say Gilliam county is away ahead of any country they saw on the entire round, in every respect. A person to thoroughly appreciate this section—our excellent climate, resources, advantages, etc., has only to try his luck on a hunt for better. It cures them every time. They all come back here again. Charley Gross and family are anxious to come back again, and we understand they will move back this spring from Athens.

The democratic candidate for member of the State Board of Equalization, 7th district, is Hon. William Hughes of Heppner. Mr. Hughes has all the necessary qualifications for the position for which he has been nominated. He is a man of shrewd business instincts, his judgment in all matters pertaining to the valuation of property is sound, his experience in business affairs covers a long period, and peculiarly fits him for the duties of the office. We have had the privilege of a personal acquaintance with Mr. Hughes for nearly five years, and we can honestly recommend him to the democratic and republican voters of this district as a man who has the public welfare at heart and who, if elected, will bring to the office tact, firmness and determination to do justice to all classes, irrespective of their circumstances or politics.—Moro Observer.

Johnny Maddock arrived home Monday, after three weeks medical treatment in the Keeley Institute at Forest Grove. This surely is one of the grandest and noblest institutions in the world. In 21 days Johnny has regained the vigor and manhood and brightness of intellect, that he had been unfortunately, cruelly deprived of for many years. He is a new man altogether, and it would be difficult to find words to express the joy and happiness of himself and family at his rescue and recovery from the awful and miserable affliction which made life a burden to him. Johnny is a man of rare intellect, and is certain that he will have no trouble in steering clear of any further inclination of allowing liquor to get the best of him again. The Keeley cure of the liquor habit, as well as that of excessive use of tobacco, opium, morphine, etc., is certainly a boon and God-send to humanity. In three weeks time it lifts any of the unfortunate victims out of the very jaws of degradation and worse than death, and returns them to life and usefulness again; it makes them human again, instead of remaining a sorrowful joke on humanity and a feeble-minded horror to their families and friends.

The special school meeting in this district Wednesday for the purpose of voting a small tax with which to defray the expenses of running the school, paying the teachers, etc., resulted in the tax being voted down. This will look badly to outsiders. If the citizens of this district have no interest in maintaining a good school here, who can they expect to have? No doubt all who voted against it are fully aware that nothing is so beneficial to their district as a good school; and that nothing increases the value of their property so much. Yet we venture the assertion that not one of them can give a sensible or satisfactory excuse why they voted against the tax. Not one of them feels proud over their victory. The little district of Moro, Sherman county (about half the size of ours) a few days ago voted a $5,000 tax for a new school house; at Wasco, a town the same size, a $10,000 tax; at Heppner a $12,000 tax; and all around us the people seem to have a natural pride in building up good schools and maintaining them. Why should we not be likewise? Our school house was built on the most economical plan possible, at a cost not to exceed $2000. Yet a few of the citizens (always on the lookout for a mare's nest) will try to leave the impression that the district has robbed them—when the records show plainly where every cent was spent in the most judicious manner—doubtless much more so than the kickers could have expended the school funds themselves.

Arlington Antontations.

Rev. Wise of Condon preached in the Methodist church here Sunday last.

Frank Remington has been appointed agent for the water works, from May 1st.

Mrs. C. A. Franks, who is visiting in Ellensburg, says it is still winter over there, with doodles of snow yet.

S. F. and Jake Ralston who have been scouring the country buying cattle the last month, received 300 head Sunday from Blurock & Peters.

A meeting is called for June 20th by the Arlington & Klickitat Ferry Co. So it looks as if there is going to be another boat put in here before long, after all.

Patsy Lynch's melodious voice was heard on the north end of Main St. Monday evening. His voice is better adapted for roast beef and pears, however, than for singing.

Wool teams throng the street daily, and the warehouses will soon be filled to their utmost capacity. In fact they are nearly as full now as some of the boys were a night or 2 ago.

Hon. W. L. Bradshaw of The Dalles was in town one day last week on business. The judge is extremely popular down here, and our people will give him a rousing vote the 6th of next month.

We understand E. B. Frum, S. Collins and C. Breese have taken up claims east of Castle Rock, and that they are "building" a ditch with a view to obtaining water for their places by means of the Columbia river.

Considerable disappointment was manifested in the Armory hall Monday when Miss Alice Hamill was ordered to liquidate a license before proceeding with her entertainment. She refused to do so, and refunded the admission fees.

W. L. Ballard and wife had been fast sinking with consumption. Saturday last the husband breathed his last, the remains being interred Sunday. The wife's lease of life is very short. Everything that human power can conceive has been done to alleviate their sufferings.

Contention Crosscuts.

McAllister & Peaslee have had the mutton barbers at work for over a week, yet only about 1200 have been sheared. Peaslee takes it pretty easy, but "Mc" scours so that it reverberates against the rocks for miles around.

The suit against G. L. Frizzell and H. H. Wheeler by the toll road company resulted in a victory for the defendants, at which decision everybody, excepting the plaintiffs, rejoices. This toll road is a nuisance and ought to be abolished.

Joe Chapman's large new barn was completed this week, and it's an honor to his place. It is a mammoth structure, but Joe will have grain to fill it so full that it will ooze out through the roof. In other words, "as full as a stalled tick."

Never in the history of the country has there been such good prospects for enormous crops of all kinds as at present. There will not be room to stack the hay on the ground it grows on, and the stacks will have to bag over onto the neighbors' farms.

The John Day is still very high, which state of affairs makes it pretty rocky for sheepmen who have to cross their flocks. Helms ferry broke loose Thursday while crossing with a lot of Zach Keys' sheep. It landed about three miles below on an island. All but 32 head swam ashore, and the rest were taken off safely.

Politics isn't sizzlin' much over here. Not a single candidate (or married one, either) has set a foot on this side of the divide yet. The other day a man here offered to bet 2 to 1 on Val Wheeler's election for assessor, but no one would take the bet. Bully for Val! There never was a better or more worthy man placed on any ticket than Val, and he ought to, and we think will, receive the solid vote from this end of the county, regardless of party feeling. URR.

Dated May 6, 1892.

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

School in the upper district is progressing nicely, with good attendance.

The heavy rains of last Sunday caused a suspension of our Sunday school that day, it being the first failure of this kind for many Sundays.

Little Ethel Goff had her collar bone broken while at play a few days ago, but is getting along nicely and will be well again in a few days.

Paul Jones has brought his band of 300 head of cattle to the Juniper range for the summer. Bill Matlock is his foreman, buccaroo and rustler.

After trying his luck several weeks at road work, Pat Lynch abandoned the pick and shovel. He says too many bosses, and long-hour clocks does not meet with his approval.

Of course we all accept Rev. Wise's excuse of last week as bona fide, and truly hope the weather may become mild and tranquil in the course of a few months, so he can try it again.

The weather the last couple of days has been warm and sunny, which change of weather is duly appreciated by our people. Farmers are about through seeding and are preparing for harvest, which is not a great distance off.

The road workers on the L. R. & Heppner road are sending up fire and smoke in such vast quantities that people are beginning to think that the cause of so much rain. Old Jupiter Pluvius has favored us with abundance of rain this season, a fact that most of you have noticed, no doubt. Cowboy.

Germany Gems.

"D—n the grippie" becomes very audible (?) quite often nowadays.

S. M. Thomas, of Cal., a nephew of P. C. Martin, arrived here recently, accompanied by his little son.

A private letter from California states that cherries are ripe down there "in the land of the orange and palm." Poor consolation to us, however; we can yet cast our eagle eye upon snow-covered hills almost every day.

Ugh! the rain won't stop. But my! doesn't the grass and grain look fine? Some fear is entertained that the rapid and rank growth will not be able to stand the hot, dry winds of June. It is best to not borrow trouble before it comes, however.

We are glad to think there is a prospect for a friendly meeting of companies H and E on July 24 at Fossil. We hope the thing will be made to go. If so, we will, as an inducement, promise to go to see them "perform." FRISKY.

Of No Use.

Stern parent—I tell you what it is, Hanna Jane, I'm tired of seeing that young fellow coming here two or three evenings a week. I think I shall have to sit down on him.

Hanna Jane—I wouldn't, pa; 'twould be of no use; I've done it myself several times, and I rather think he likes it.—Texas Siftings.

She—I will give you just one hour in which to take your arm away from there, Charley; you have had it there long enough. He—Well, I don't mind "waisting" my time this way.—Siftings.

He—If you will be mine, darling, you shall always have all the luxuries heart could wish for—fine house, servants, carriages and all. She—How very kind and good of you, Augustus; and all on $8 a week, too.—Life.
