The lofty stone monolith, which Wisconsin will exhibit at the fair, will remain at Jackson park permanently, the Park Commissioners having given their consent. The monolith is 107 feet high and cut from a solid block of stone. The contract for its erection has already been let.

The Hidden Hill, twenty-four miles southwest from Fenner, a station on the Atlantic and Pacific road, and about twenty-five miles west of Needles, is the latest big gold-mining find in Arizona.

The Klamath Indians have caught great quantities of mullet this season. They dry them, pile them as high as cord wood and haul them to their homes on the reservation for summer eating.

Three masked men entered the rooms of two ladies at Salt Lake, who had just returned from a ball, and with pistols forced them to give up their jewels. The ladies lost something over $6,000 in diamonds.

A dispatch from Virginia, Nev., says Charles Fair, a son of ex-United States Senator James G. Fair, has been offered the nomination as the Democratic candidate to represent the Lower House of Congress.

The books of the Kaweah colony, which are being investigated in the embezzlement trial at Los Angeles, show many discrepancies and the absence of many needed vouchers to explain intimated expenditures.

Great excitement prevails among the Catholic population of British Columbia over the sentence of Father Cherouse to one year's imprisonment for ordering an Indian woman on the La Fontaine reservation to be flogged.

The State Board of Equalization of California declines to rescind its action in directing County Assessors to add $15 per acre to the assessments on hop and alfalfa lands. These lands are to be classed separately.

British Columbia sealers are beginning to realize that the United States is in earnest, and they count on the British Minister of Marine to see that vessels are duly notified and not summarily dealt with as by instructions given by Secretary Tracy.

County Court Judge Cornwall of Lillooet, B. C., has sentenced Father Cherouse to one year's imprisonment, Chief Kille-Poot-kin to six months and four Indians to two months each for cruelly whipping an Indian girl, who was caught with her paramour.

I. J. Buttle of Kingsley, Wasco county, Or., reports a singularly fatal disease that has attacked young pigs, causing the death of eight head. The animals swell at the knees and ankle joints, and these when opened after death exude a large quantity of yellow matter.

The river and harbor bill as it passed the committee of the whole in the House authorizes preliminary surveys at the following-named localities in California: Old river, branch of the San Joaquin; San Joaquin river from Hill's Ferry to Firebaugh's Ferry, including the closing of the sloughs on the river above Stockton; Navigable Slough, the Bay of San Francisco, Merced river, mouth of Navarro river, Tuolumne river, harbor of Crescent, Stanislaus river, Alviso Slough and the entrance to the harbor of San Francisco (Golden Gate).

CONGRESSIONAL MATTERS.

Pot-pourri of What is Transpiring at the Capital of the United States of America.

Mr. Scott of Illinois has introduced a bill to apply the same provisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission to sleeping-car companies as are now applied to railroad and steamship companies.

On Senator Mitchell's recommendation the Postoffice Department has issued an order authorizing a contract with E. Wigle to carry the mails from Prineville by Desert and Haystack to Warm Springs, Or., and back twice a week from July 1.

The river and harbor bill as it passed the House carried an appropriation in round numbers of $21,300,000. In addition the Secretary of War is authorized to contract for the completion of important projects involving an ultimate expenditure of about $26,000,000.

No agreement has as yet been reached between the Washington Senators as to the course to be pursued on the Puyallup reservation bill. Senator Allen is very anxious that the Senators shall stand together in support of his bill and in opposition to that reported by the Indian Committee. No time has been set for consideration of the bill.

The bill to exclude political influence from the appointment of the 61,000 fourth-class postmasters in the country was agreed upon at a meeting of the House Committee on Civil Service Reform recently. The bill provides for a division of the country into postal districts, and that where vacancies occur open competition shall be announced by the Postoffice Inspectors, who shall recommend the best man to the Postmaster-General, after receiving the applications and examining the facts.

Representative Hermann has been trying to secure a larger appropriation for the Siuslaw river, which in the river and harbor bill is for $10,000. No amount of pleading by him in the House would induce it before, and it was only in deference to his earnest work that the small appropriation was allowed. The committee held that the commerce did not warrant a larger appropriation.

A bill was reported to the Senate the other day as a substitute for a number of bills, making the act to settle certain accounts between the United States and State of Mississippi apply to other States, so that Minnesota, Oregon, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, Colorado, South Dakota, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming shall receive 5 per cent. of the sales of public land in their respective territories.

The report on the substitute Colville Indian bill, prepared by Senator Allen, has been given to a member of the Indian Committee to be placed before the Senate. Senator Allen says there is only one way to deal with the Indians, and that is by refusing to consult with them as to the disposition of their reservations, and that so long as they are wards of the government the government should deal with them, not as if the tribes were nations, but as its proteges.

Representative Wilson has been interviewing various members of the Senate Indian Committee in relation to the Colville bill. There is a disposition on the part of the Senate Committee to amend the bill by refusing to send the treaty back to the Indians for ratification. Some of the members of the committee declare that the treaty is all right as it stands, and it is poor policy on the part of this government to treat with the Indians upon subjects which are for their own interests and of which the government and Congress are the best judges. So it may be that the reservation will be opened by a simple act of Congress.

Representative Wilson has offered an amendment to the sundry civil bill, increasing the appropriation for the Gray's Harbor lighthouse from the $15,000 previously appropriated to $75,000. This was ruled out of order as new legislation, although one of the members of the Appropriation Committee stated that the objection to the amendment was that it "raised the limit." Wilson reported he understood the language. Although the amendment was defeated, Wilson had read and printed in the Record the memorials of other documents, showing the loss of life and property which had resulted because the lighthouse had not been established. The provision is covered in an omnibus bill, which is now pending in both Houses.

The Committee on Naval Affairs has reported to the Senate with a favorable recommendation the bill providing that any naval officer now on the retired list, who has been retired after serving forty years or on attaining the age of 63 years, shall receive the rank and pay of Commodore, provided he had served creditably the full term of four years as chief of a bureau in the Navy Department. The committee also reported favorably a bill amending the revised statutes so as to provide that any ordinary seaman, landsman, fireman, coalheaver or boy, who has been honorably discharged and shall re-enlist for four years within three months, shall be entitled to pay for the three months, provided the men enlisting for continuous service must be effective and able-bodied men between the ages of 18 and 35 years at the time of enlistment, but the age of limitation is not applicable to persons re-enlisting. The bill also provides that enlisted men of the navy or marine corps, who have served thirty years, may be placed on the retired list and receive 75 per cent. of their pay and allowances. War service is to be computed as double time in computing thirty years. The President is given discretion to permit enlisted men to the navy or marine corps to purchase their discharge, and pensioners who are inmates of the soldiers' homes are allowed to have their pensions paid to their wives, children or parents. Aliens who have served in the army or navy by the bill are entitled to citizenship without previous declaration.

It is estimated that the State of Vermont is $1,000,000 better off because of its recently adopted policy of liberally advertising its many attractions and resources for permanent and summer residents. It is estimated by the agents of the steamship companies that more than 100,000 Americans will visit Europe this year, and that at least six times as many Europeans will come to the United States.

It is reported that a movement will be made with excellent financial backing to obtain a charter from the present Legislature for an elevated road with accompanying tunnel through the heart of Boston. The authorities of Newark, N. J., have refused to accept a new water supply provided under contract by a company at a cost of nearly $4,000,000. It is claimed the work is not completed according to contract.

It is said that the enforcement of the Missouri law which provides that negroes convicted of vagrancy shall be sold for a stated period is having a wholesome effect, there being fewer vagrants in the State than ever before. Senator Teller has introduced a bill granting the Yuma Pumping and Irrigation Company the right of way for a canal across the Yuma depot Quartermaster's reservation. It was referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

The Mount Vernon Baptist Church in Camden, Pa., has been seized on an execution held by the pastor, Rev. J. D. Allansburg, for $3,728 for moneys advanced by him to run the church. The property is said to be worth $22,000. Duluth, Minn., has interested English capital in her development, and has made arrangements for great railroad terminal facilities and new monster docks. The overflow in Iowa and Illinois, caused by excessive rains, has done much damage, but the waters are falling, and the injury will not be as great as at first reported.

The International Association of Machinists in convention at New York has refused after a lively debate to strike from the constitution the clause limiting the membership to white men. The Southern delegates unanimously opposed any change, and enough Northern delegates voted with them to overwhelmingly bar out any colored men.
