NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, invariably in advance. No deviation from this rule. ## GLOBOSITIES.

Read the new U. P. time card.

Mrs. J. T. Anthony and children are visiting relatives near Fossil.

Died—At Fossil, Tuesday, May 24, '92, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Parker.

E. Van Schoiack of Gooseberry was in this section this week looking after his cattle interests.

Mr. Jas. Royse and his son Charles of Gooseberry paid our city a visit the fore part of the week.

Walt Rinehart and wife visited relatives at Gilliam's capital and metropolis the first of the week.

The GLOBE has several thousand blanks—mortgage and warranty deeds, chattel mortgage, etc., for sale cheap.

Any person who exhibits his ballot so as to let it be known how he votes, is liable to a fine of from $50 to $200.

Died—At Arlington, Saturday, May 21, 1892, Mrs. Lillie Ballard, just one week after the death of her husband.

Herman Seekamp has sold all of his sheep to Messrs. Summerfield & Bennett, Germans who recently came to this section.

It has been rather a backward spring for the fish liar, but no doubt he has all the qualifications necessary to make up for lost time.

The GLOBE comes out a little earlier this week than usual, on account of the editor making a trip out of town, to be absent until Monday.

Charley Gross of Athena was in town a couple of days this week on business. He is a little undecided whether he will move back here this spring or not.

Jas. McMillan of Sherman county is visiting his old California friends in this section, Jas. and Wm. Cooke. He expects to take up a claim and settle here.

W. A. Goodwin and family moved out a few days ago to their farm, 2½ miles east of town. Walt now spends his time pushing against "Oliver Chilled" plowhandles.

J. J. Ahalt of Camp creek was in town the first of the week on business. He has a splendid, well-improved home over there, and says he will have enormous crops this season.

As we go to press, a law suit is going on before Squire Tatom, over a land dispute, wherein C. W. Burton and wife are plaintiffs and Geo. Robinson and wife defendants.

A Mr. Coon started this week with over 7000 head of sheep, overlaid to California. Blake & Clay have had the larger portion of these sheep on the shares the last year or two.

Everybody expects to take in the grand military ball at Condon the coming Friday night, 27th. It will be the gayest event of the season, and no one can afford to miss it.

Bert Young has about recovered his health again. He went out to the ranch a few days ago and brought in a lot of garden "saus," a part of which was sampled by the GLOBE force.

Charley Pinkham and family left this week for their new home in San Francisco, where Charley has secured an excellent position in his brother's large sugar refinery. We are sorry to see such good citizens leave. G. J. Caven took them to Arlington Tuesday by private conveyance.

Roscoe Conkling once paid the country newspaper the following high compliment: "The smallest country newspaper is worth more to its country subscribers in one month than its price one year; and it does more for its neighborhood for nothing than many an official does for his magnificent salary."

Tom Johnson is painting Sheriff Wilcox's fine dwelling this week. Nothing adds more to the appearance of property than paint, and we are glad to see our citizens take such pride in improving the looks of their property. Paint and oil is cheap, and we hope to see every building in town painted before fall.

Mudge—What an aggravating habit Frigglesnoots has of answering a question by asking another. Snicklefritz—I never noticed it. Mudge—Now, for instance, last night I asked him if he would lend me $10. He didn't say whether he could or not, but simply asked me if I took him for a damphorn.—Tit-Bits.

According to the opinion of the owners, there are a great many race horses in the county, and it seems that each one of the owners is certain that his horse is the fastest. In order to decide the thing, R. W. Crane suggests that all persons having fast horses in Gilliam county meet at Mayville on July 4th and have the thing settled, there being a splendid race track at that place. Mr. Crane suggests that all who wish to run their horses, pay as an entrance fee $10 each, and the winner take the entire purse; the money to be paid to Wm. Trask at Mayville, not later than June 15th. Distance, single dash of one mile. No trained horses admitted. What do the race horse men think of this suggestion?

A popular official in Oregon once went fishing with a minister. Bites were plentiful, but the official seemed to get all of them. The minister fished away, but never got a bite. He was about to give up in despair, when lo, and behold! he was at last favored with a nibble. The fish broke the line, and the preacher fell in, heels over appetite. He came up blowing like a whale, and frantically shrieked to his companion: "John, if my early education had been neglected what do you suppose I'd have said?"

A great many lots were sold in different parts of our city this week. W. S. Myers bought two lots lying east of the public square, for W. R. Wakefield, who expects to erect a hotel here this summer. Mr. Wakefield has plenty of the wherewith lying in the bank, and there is no danger of the thing falling through. Geo. Knox and Mont Ward each bought several more lots on North Main street; F. M. Pilzer bought two lots in the block lying south of the public square, and expects to build a residence thereon at once. We understand a number were also sold in the south end of town.

So far as we are able to learn, Hon. W. H. Wilson, our present efficient prosecuting attorney, seems to be the favorite throughout this county and section for re-election to that position. He has made an excellent record for himself during his term in that office, and has made himself extremely popular with our people. The voters know from experience that a better man can not be found for the office, and they are not at all anxious to exchange him for a new, inexperienced man, who doubtless is not so well qualified for the position. Mr. Wilson ought to be re-elected, and we hope he will be.

An exchange hits the street loafer a stunner, in the following language: In the beginning God created heaven and earth and all things therein. He then created man and woman, and left the loafers on the corners. In due time they multiplied and spread into the saloons, postoffice and stores. In the latter place they sit and explain state and national problems that have vexed great minds, and exist by partially sampling goods. While he is thus engaged, his wife is out washing for his neighbors, and the poor helpless children are left at home to care for themselves as best they can. There is nothing more noticeable than the loafer.

The roar and din of the hammer and saw at Condon is almost deafening, and no doubt will continue so all summer. Four carpenters are busy on J. H. Miller's house, while two others—Mr. McMorris and son John are building an addition onto his store; Bill Thurnagle is hammering away at A. Henshaw's new furniture store; and work on Knox's large livery stable will begin next week. A dozen teams or more are constantly on the road hauling lumber from the Lost Valley mills, and lots are being sold almost hourly to parties who expect to build here this summer. Verily Condon is booming, under the GLOBE's powerful influence.

School clerk Darling has notices posted again for another school meeting on June 2d, for the purpose of electing one director to fill the unexpired term of W. S. Myers, resigned. Also to vote a small tax with which to pay the teachers, and a few other current expenses. It is sincerely hoped the voters of the district will be able to see, before it is too late, the vast importance of maintaining a good school in their district. The expenses already incurred must be paid, and we can't expect some other district to pay our debts. This is only what all other districts are obliged to do when school funds are needed. Do not get the idea into your heads that this voting a tax is a war between the town voters and the country voters. It is nothing of the kind. The town people are so much in the minority that the country people really ought to be more interested in the school than anyone else. Don't come to the meeting on the 2d, with your mind made up to "vote down any motion that is made for the good of the school," no matter what the motion is—which, we are sorry to say, seemed to be the case at the last meeting.

The Arlington Mudstinger last week made another sickly starvation groan in its distressingly weak effort at abuse of the GLOBE—the official and leading paper of Gilliam county. When the gazer of that worthless and starved-out would-be paper glances over the GLOBE and sees it literally running over with legal and other good-paying advertisements, besides containing all the important news of the county, it has the same effect upon him that a red rag has with an enraged bull. The miserable old whisky tank has made a most dismal failure at everything he has ever undertaken yet (except guzzling whisky) and it evidently is mortifying to him to see the GLOBE having such brilliant success, while he is gradually being starved out. If the snide pettifogger will devote the time he wastes in dabbauchery and abuse of the GLOBE to reading law, perhaps he might be able in the course of ten or fifteen years' time to be admitted "again" (???) to the bar to practice law. He might then be able to make a respectable living, and would not then be compelled to prostitute journalism as he is at present. The first issue of the Mudstinger was a disgrace to journalism, and it has been getting worse every issue—so everybody says. It will soon be in the dishonorable grave, already dug by its own guzzling management.

A Political Farce.

About the weakest and by far the littlest political shyster work yet heard of up to date is that of several parties who are now at work in the 7th district circulating printed "comparative records" of Judges Bradshaw and Watkins. As aforesaid, it is the weakest thing yet heard of up to the hour of going to press, except the Watkins boom for judge. The alleged "comparative record" seems to refer to the terms of circuit court held in Morrow county, and is sworn to by one F. J. Hallock. (Who the devil is F. J. Hallock, anyway? He doesn't seem to be chairman or secretary of any central committee, or is in no way interested in the courts). Couldn't a more prominent person be drummed up over there to shoulder the statements in question? This fellow Hallock does not testify that the "record" comprised the whole transcript thereof, and possibly his statement is correct as far as it goes—but it doesn't go very far. It is an injustice to Judge Bradshaw to misrepresent him in such a manner, and the whole thing is a miserable farce. If anything, it weakens the Watkins boom—which seems to be about as weak already as it could be. The following letter to one of our citizens this week explains the matter in its true colors, and is from thoroughly reliable parties, too:

THE DALLES, OR., May 20, '92.

MY DEAR SIR:—Having received several letters from your county in regard to the Watkins comparative statement, we take this opportunity of addressing you:

In the first place we, through the Sun, dared them to publish the alleged statement, so that the people might see it and give Judge Bradshaw an opportunity to answer it; but they refused to publish it, preferring to circulate it in a clandestine manner amongst some of their hired henchmen. It is such a contemptible, little piece of business that it is hardly worth noticing. It is not the whole truth about the matter, and is done for the purpose of misleading the people.

I have talked with Judge Bradshaw about the matter, and he says the records do not bear them out in the statement. In the first place, at the February term of 1886—the first term held in this county by Judge Watkins, he was assisted by Judge Taylor, who was judge of this district, Taylor being present during that term for ten days and tried seven jury cases for Watkins. The statement is silent on that point, but gives all the credit to Watkins for the work done. Then again, when Watkins went on the bench, he took the business from Judge Taylor who had kept the docket up, so that Watkins had no old business to dispose of. Judge Bradshaw took the business from Judge Bird, who had been sick and unable to attend to business for about eighteen months, there having been no court in the county during that time, except when we could get some outside judge to come and hold court, and that wasn't very often; and when they did come they could not stay long enough to clean up the docket. The consequence was, the business came to Judge Bradshaw, in very bad shape, but he worked hard and faithfully, and the dockets are now all clear.

Another false point of the Watkins statement is, he doesn't show how long at each term of court the jury was held. Everyone knows that the expense and working time of court is while the jury is present. For instance, he claims that at the February term of this year the court held fourteen judicial days and tried five jury trials. Now, the records show that the jury was discharged at the end of the first week, making six judicial days, in which time five jury cases were tried. The balance of the time was taken up in hearing equity cases, at but little or no expense to the county. In his statement he does not mention the number of cases that were on the docket at each term, what kind of cases they were—whether criminal or civil—the length of time it took to try the cases, the expense of the term, or anything that would lead to show to the people the truth of the matter.

If he refuses to publish this statement we will publish it for him, with all necessary explanations, before election.

T. H. JACKSON,
Sec. Dem. Co. Cen. Com.
E. SCHUTZ, Chairman.

Neale-Clark Wedding.

On Wednesday evening, May 25, 1892, was solemnized the marriage of George L. Neale to Miss Mollie Clark, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Clark at Condon, Rev. A. S. Mulligan officiating.

Mr. Neale has been a resident of this place about seven years and has, by his gentlemanly demeanor and excellent character, won for himself the confidence and respect of a host of friends. Miss Clark is favorably known as a young lady of rare intelligence and beauty, and has been a resident of this place one year, having come out with her father's family last spring from Kansas.

The best wishes of the entire community are heartily tendered the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Neale will reside for the present at the Downing place just north of town, until the groom completes his new dwelling on his farm near town.

W. G. Keys and a number of other cattlemen will begin riding for cattle, June 1st, beginning at the head of Buckhorn for a general round-up, and on June 8th they will move to the old Cronwell corral, near Crowed Rock.

Ed Gibbons Drowned.

Sunday's Oregonian contains the following sad telegram from Umatilla, under date of May 21st:
"Ed Gibbons, a 15-year-old boy, was drowned in the Umatilla river near the railroad bridge to-day (21st). He went to take a bath and as he did not return, search was made and his clothes found on the river bank. His body has not yet been found. It is supposed he stepped in a deep hole and could not swim. The boy's folks live at Mayville, Oregon. About six months ago he came here, saying that his father, who is a painter, had given him $10 and told him to strike out for himself. The boy has been working in a hotel here since."

The unfortunate boy's father, Mr. Geo. Gibbons, passed through town early Wednesday morning, en route to Umatilla. The parents are heart-broken over the extremely sad affair. The father is particularly so, for the reason, as he stated to the editor of the GLOBE, that from the report given in the dispatch, people may think he had mistreated his son, which he says is a mistake. Mr. Gibbons has always been a kind and dutiful father, and the editor knows personally of several instances during the last year or two when the boy ran away from home and the father spent a great deal of time and money hunting him and bringing him back. The boy was naturally kind-hearted, and was not by any means vicious, but always had an irresistible inclination to rove around. The bereaved parents and family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

Thos. Rhea of Heppner is in this section buying wethers.
Mrs. H. M. Hoss of Condon visited our town the first of the week.

Last Saturday was the hottest day of the season, it being 104 in the shade.
Charley Frazer has started in the butcher business here for the summer.

Rev. Mulligan and wife came over from Fossil Saturday and returned home Monday.
Our old respected friend R. G. Robinson still does his own freighting, but it isn't likely he can keep up that lick very many more years.

Sheep shearing is all the rage about here now. Some wool has already been hauled to Heppner, and the coming week will see much of this season's clip landed in Heppner's warehouses.

The Haystack people visit our town quite frequently of late, the latest being Bob Brown and Milt Hale. Mr. Hale thinks of moving over here to reside with our genial people, in order to have the benefit of our first-class school.

Our town seems to have a new enterprise in the form of a "free lunch house and feed stable." They say competition is the life of trade; but there are times when it proves to be a most unfortunate thing for some people to have all the money they need or want. COWBOY.

Rock Creek Cuttings.

R. R. Plowman has disposed of his entire band of horses to Ralston Bros., of Dakota.

R. M. Johnson, Rep. candidate for sheriff, was through here last week, distributing free cigars.

The thermometer here registered 92 degrees in the shade Saturday—nearly hot enough to fry eggs by the sun.

Mrs. O. D. Taylor left this week for Turner where she will visit friends and relatives a short time. Mrs. E. Smith is visiting relatives in The Dalles.

Rev. Ferguson of Arlington was out on the creek last week, looking for a location for campmeeting, which he succeeded in finding in the grove at Olex. It will begin about June 15th. Cor.

"I'm used to a drop, anyway," as the old Dutchman said as he fell down stairs.
