

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1892.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, invariably in advance. No deviation from this rule. The paper will be stopped at the end of the time for which it is paid unless further ordered and paid for. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription has expired, and if you wish the paper continued you should remit the amount as soon as possible.

GLOBOSITIES.

Read all the business locals this week.

Miss Birdie Downing visited friends in Ferry Canyon this week.

Miss Mary Rippey left last week for a visit to friends in Boston, Mass.

Squire M. O. Clarke of Lone Rock was visible on our beautiful streets Monday.

Capt. B. Gaffney and P. Potterton each returned this week from business trips to Portland.

By request, Rev. Wise will repeat his sermon on temperance next Sunday evening at Condon.

Mrs. B. T. Snell and daughter, Miss Lena, are visiting friends in the Mayville and Fossil country.

G. W. Rinehart and L. W. Darling were in Arlington several days this week on business of a legal nature.

Wm. Lyle has resigned his position as postmaster at Crown Rock. His successor has not yet been appointed.

Supton Jim Brown requests us to state that he was in town Saturday, which accounts for this excellent item.

S. A. D. Hurt and family are now living at Ukiah, Unatilla county, to which address he has ordered his Glosz sent.

Mrs. Rogers of Seattle was a passenger on Tuesday's stage, enroute to visit her sister, Mrs. Henry Heidman of Rowe creek.

Herman Seekamp came up this week from Sonoma, to remain a few days in this section and will then return to that place.

Mrs. Wm. Dunlap and mother, Mrs. Rice, visited their relatives in Lost Valley Friday and Saturday, M. P. Balding and family.

Miss Daisy Downing discharged the duties of deputy clerk this week, while Mr. Fraser and family moved into their new residence.

Daughter—Shall we invite Dr. Bigbee to the reception? Mother—I think we'd better not; he's so absent-minded. He might charge it in the bill.—Judge.

Hon. W. R. Ellis has so far recovered from his recent injuries as to be able to sit up, and in a few days will be able to get around with the aid of crutches.

Charles Glasgow, formerly a resident of Baker county, was hung by a vigilance committee in Montana a short time ago for horse stealing.—Long Creek Eagle.

Miss Emma Meek came over from Fossil on Monday's stage, and visited her sister, Mrs. S. P. Shutt, a few days, and then proceeded to her home near town.

"Well, if that ain't mean," exclaimed the prisoner. "Every durned one o' the stories in this here paper they've gimme to read is continued, and me to be hung next week?"

Walter (seeing dissatisfaction on guest's face)—Wan't the fowl cooked to suit you, sir? Guest—Yes, all but the bill; just take that back and tell them to boil it down a little.—Life.

Mrs. Alex Mathews of Eugene came up last week and is visiting her relatives in this section. At present she is stopping at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Silas Keeney, near Mayville.

A new occupation in cities for ladies is that of gazing into their employers' shop windows in couples, and going into raptures over the display of lovely bonnets when likely customers are passing.

J. W. Smith and family, Miss Nettie Remington and one or two others from Arlington passed through our city Wednesday, enroute to the Cascade mountains for a couple of weeks' recreation.

See the new saw mill ad of Miller & Hill, who are now running the Bunch mill on Rock creek. They have been running less than a month, and have sawed out over 70,000 feet of excellent lumber.

Al Henshaw has been obliged to build a large addition onto the rear of his store already, which is pretty good evidence that his business is rapidly increasing. He has an enormous stock of furniture on hand.

Mrs. C. A. Dannehan returned home to Clem Tuesday, after a week's pleasant visit at the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Keeney, near Mayville. She was the guest of Mrs. S. A. Maddock on Monday.

Mr. Wm. Cornett, who had been living at the homes of his daughters, Mrs. W. L. Barker and Mrs. Geo. Knox during the last year or so, left this week for his home at Sunny Side, one of the suburbs of Portland.

M. L. Armstrong and wife visited relatives and friends in town several days this week. Just while resting, Mr. Armstrong built several brick fires in town. It is probable they will build and move to town this fall.

Attorney Geo. Goode has just received the appointment by the State Insurance Company as their general agent for this section. Any business of this kind entrusted to him will receive prompt and careful attention.

Attorney Goode has purchased the small Maddock building on upper Main street and is having it fixed up for an office. Eight feet will be built onto the rear, and Squire Clark will also attend to his justice work in the same building.

Messrs. Shed Grider, Del Rice and Jim Cooke left this week for the mountains near Austin, Grant county, where they expect to kill off a few buffaloes, elephants and other insects of similar habits. They took a good supply of bacon along.

Mrs. A. J. Walker and three children arrived here Wednesday from The Dalles and will make this their home for the present. Mr. Walker is a first-class carpenter, and a rustler from way back. He has used good judgment in providing a home here for his family.

Work on the dome of the state house at Salem has commenced. The appropriation, $60,000, will be expended to complete it. That much money spent on good roads would be of more benefit to the people and the state, says the Grant County News. Domes come high.

S. G. Beckwith, writing from New York under date of July 19th, says: "Hon. Henry Blackman, senator of Grant, Harney and Morrow counties, of Heppner, Oregon, is in America's metropolis. His mission East was to assist in notifying Mr. Cleveland of his nomination.

There is subdued and touching pathos in the valedictory of a Kansas editor, who winds up the affairs of the Lane County Farmer as follows: "With malice toward none and charity for all, I retire from the publication of this paper, and am ready for a soft job in the harvest field."

Dr. Nicklin and family have moved into the new Pliter building, one door west of this official think factory. With an M. D. on either side of us, we feel entirely safe from any danger of becoming fatally fondered on fruit, melons, etc., so don't be backward about bringing in such delicacies.

Judge T. A. McBride, the newly elected circuit judge, held an adjourned term of court at Hillsboro last week. He taught some of the witnesses a wholesome lesson. One man came to the stand the worse for liquor, whereupon the judge fined him $10 and ten days in the county jail.

Our city was full of good grangers Saturday, that being the day council proceedings were transacted. A number from a distance were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hendricks and Ed A. Putnam of Fossil. Many new members have joined lately, and the grab is in a highly flourishing condition.

At the special school meeting Saturday, Doc Brown was unanimously elected to the position of director, to fill the unexpired term of J. H. Downing, resigned. Doc is eminently qualified for such important official work, and with the present board of officers, our school will doubtless be kept up to its usual high standard.

John Brandenburg, after a short sojourn in Southern Oregon, concluded to return to his old home at Keswick, Iowa, where he thinks he will get married and settle down. A private letter from him concludes thus: "I think I will buy me a farm here, as this county suits me pretty well; and with the GLOBE to give me the news, I think I can sail all right."

We had the pleasure Wednesday of meeting Capt. Miller, of the Rock Creek Sawmill. He is an intelligent old gentleman, and has had a world of experience. Mr. Miller thinks he will build a dwelling house in town this fall and move his family here for school advantages. His son Philip and daughter, Miss Sophia Miller, visited friends in town Sunday last.

Attorney Goode and the editor of this popular weekly visited Halstead's large lumbering mills in Lost Valley Sunday last. The boys have everything in first-class condition now, to do good work and lots of it. They have been unavoidably delayed in getting the mill in running shape, but with fair luck they will now be able to turn out an enormous quantity of lumber this fall.

The first number of the Antelope Herald, published by Ervin M. Shutt, was issued July 22d. It is very neat, and well-filled with live local news and good-paying advertisements. The new paper is very creditable, considering the fact that its editor has not yet reached his 21st birthday. Mr. Shutt is doubtless the youngest man in the state having entire control of a newspaper.

People often write to postmasters asking the address of certain persons. It is a rule of the department that this information must not be given. If it is desired to learn whether a person is at a place, a letter directed to him will be delivered if he is there, otherwise returned, but this is all the postmaster may legally do towards giving information concerning the address of any one.

Following are the names of the presidential electors of Oregon this fall: Democrats—W. M. Colvig, of Jackson county; Robt. A. Miller, of Jackson; Geo. Noland, of Clatsop; W. F. Butcher, of Baker. Republicans—J. F. Caples, of Portland; H. B. Miller, of Grants Pass; G. M. Irwin, of Union; D. M. Dunne, of Portland. It is extremely doubtful about any of the democrats being elected, owing to the 10,000 republican majority in the state.

Governor Penoyer has honored State Senator Jeff Myers of Linn county with the rank of lieutenant colonel as aide-camp on the governor's staff, vice Robt. A. Miller, resigned. Colonel Myers, as he will hereafter be known, is one of the foremost young democrats of this state, and distinguished himself at the last session of the legislature as the youngest member of the senate.

The next legislature of Oregon will be composed as follows: House—29 republicans, 18 democrats, 3 people's party; senate—16 republicans, 11 democrats, 1 democrat and prohibition, 1 people's party and 1 citizen. The democrats have made a gain of four in the senate and lose 1 in the house over the last legislature. The republicans lose 9, seven in the senate and two in the house.

Hood River Glacier: Mr. Fred Snow and wife of Arlington are visiting his mother and brother, Mr. Tom Wickens. Last week Mrs. Snow received the sad intelligence that her mother was dying in Seattle, and at once went over, arriving in time to be with her a short time before she died. The body was brought to Oregon City for interment, and Mr. and Mrs. Snow came back Tuesday.

Kings have their little financial difficulties, just like the rest of us. His majesty Malletoa, monarch of Samoa, is in very straitened circumstances because of the failure of the treasury to satisfy his demands for $25 a week salary. He has risen to the occasion, however, in a manner which furnishes proud evidence of the advance of civilization in Samoa. He has put a squad of his queens to work taking in washing.—St. Paul Globe.

Occasionally we get correspondence for publication that is not accompanied by the writer's name. Please do not overlook this in future, as we must know the origin of correspondence before publishing it. Surely no one need be ashamed of anything which is fit for publication. Of course the name of the writer is never published, unless desired, but we must know who the contributor is. This does not refer to regular correspondents, whose writing we know anyway.

Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock a 15-ton stack of hay belonging to Dan Ward, was burned on his place ten miles north of town. A stack containing four tons, only a few feet away, did not burn. There is not the slightest clue as to its origin, but there is no doubt as to it being the work of an incendiary. Mr. Ward is a very poor man, and the loss falls heavily upon him. A man must be pretty low in principle who will destroy such property through petty spite. Hanging is too good for such dangerous and vicious beasts.

Mr. I. A. Henderson and wife, of Beecher Flat, were in town Saturday. He informed us that some of his grain will yield remarkably well this season, notwithstanding the unfavorable year. He is very correctly of the opinion that if the people would plow deeper and cultivate their land better, they would have fewer failures in crops. Mr. Henderson knows this from long experience, and he always raises plenty of grain when many of his neighbors fail, simply because he plows deep and cultivates his soil thoroughly. Farmers, paste this in your hat.

Prof. and Mrs. O. M. Given received the sad intelligence this week of the sickness of their aged parents in Indiana, and expect to start for that state Sunday next. This is doubly unfortunate, as arrangements had been perfected to open a normal school at this place, under the supervision of Prof. Given. For the present, at least, it is probable that nothing more will be done in that direction, but it is hoped they will conclude to return this fall, and proceed with the school. During their short stay in our midst, Prof. and Mrs. Given have endeared themselves to our people, who very much regret their departure. Our citizens should not by any means let the normal school project fall through. All over this portion of the country we hear of families and scholars who intended to move to town to have the benefit of this school, and it would be a great disappointment should it fall through. It is for our citizens to say whether it will or not.

Beecher Flat Flabs.

Harvesting is in full blast, and the yield is much better than was expected. The drought has not scared people so badly, after all, as immigrants are arriving here almost daily. A Mr. Holman settled in this vicinity the other day, with a large family, which will be a valuable addition to our school fund.

Last Wednesday was a gala day for some of the Beecherflatters. The men went down to the bridge on Thirty-mile, and the women went along and had a picnic which was most enjoyable affair. The men gave three cheers for the builders, three more for the fine dinner, and a tremendous groan for the empty beer kegs. When the kegs came they were chucked full. So were some of the men, later on. Two learned speeches were delivered on the ground, one by H. R. Ramsay in behalf of Harrison, and the other by J. M. Carl for Weaver. Several other short addresses were made by other parties.

We extend hearty thanks to the honorable court for granting this—the long-sought and much-needed bridge. Now, if district No. 9 will only improve the road from Condon to said bridge, we will feel doubly grateful.

Lone Rock Rumbblings.

Henry Hughes has purchased a lot in our burg and expects to build and move thereon at once. He sold his sheep and does not propose to stay in the snow-covered mountains next winter.

The nights have been quite cool of late and the few early risers report getting an occasional glimpse of Jack Frost, which, however, does not last long when Old Sol gets his clutches onto it.

Rev. Wise of Condon came up Friday and delivered four splendid sermons, particularly one on the subject of temperance. Rev. Motor will conduct quarterly conference at this place on the 20th and 21st of next month.

Several people from abroad are rusticating in our unexcelled, healthy and peaceful locality, among them being J. W. Blake and family, Doc Brown and family, Mrs. Gene Smith and children, of Condon, and Mr. Jerry Thomson and daughter of Union, Or. Mr. Thompson is an uncle of Mrs. Goff of this burg.

A tourist party consisting of Rev. Muligan and a number of others expected to start this week for a couple of weeks outing in the mountains, but on Tuesday Ed Copner, the instigator of the scheme, received a letter from the reverend gentleman stating that the recent frosty nights seemed as an evil omen as to the outlook for much pleasure—hence the big air castle has collapsed with a dull thud.

Our people are becoming so disgusted with the "horseback stage accommodation" between Condon and this place that they are using their influence toward establishing another route, in order to have the benefit of passenger and freight accommodations again. For several years there has been sufficient patronage from passengers and freight to justify running a stage between these two places, and such patronage certainly has not decreased any. We would be very sorry to see the present route discontinued, but there is great danger of it being done unless a stage is again put on the route. Cowboy.

Arlington Antagonists.

T. Col Keizer, the old-time jobber, was in town several days this week.

Mrs. Jno. Beardsley paid her Arlington friends a visit last Wednesday, and proceeded next day to Moscow, Idaho.

There is certainly some excellent advice contained in the letter published under the head of "Salient Advice" in last week's Record.

L. O. Ralston is the father of a big, bouncing daughter, Mrs. Ralston having presented him with a 10-lb member of the gentle sex a few days ago.

The Palace saloon is closed, Jonas having forgotten the date his license expired. By not complying with the law regarding posters, he of course could not obtain his license.

Marshal Carlisle and U. S. Deputy Marshal Johnson took four individuals to Portland Saturday last, two Whites for selling them whisky and two Swabbers for drinking it and painting the town a vermilion hue.

Geo. T. Wells, a former resident of Arlington, died on the 19th inst at the residence of John Geisendorfer—father of our worthy doctor—4 miles east of Albany, the cause of his death being inflammation of the bowels. The old gentleman was apparently healthy, robust, full of life and vigor when he left Arlington. He was an honest, hard-working old gentleman, much respected by all. Sub.

Normal Training.

A good teacher makes a good school; but it usually takes special training to make a good teacher, just as it does to make a good lawyer or a good doctor. School directors are rapidly learning that a well-trained teacher at $60 is an immeasurably better investment than one without training at $30; the occasional exception but proves the rule.

The Normal School at Monmouth is now offering fine opportunities for training in the best modern methods of teaching. The demand for its graduates to fill good positions is rapidly growing. Catalogues cheerfully sent on application.

Notice of Teachers Examination.

Notice is hereby given that the regular quarterly examination of candidates for teachers' certificates for Gilliam county, Oregon, also for state diplomas and state life diplomas, will be held at Condon, commencing Wednesday, August 10, '92, at 1 o'clock p. m. Dated at Fossil, Or., this 26th day of July, 1892.
