

THE CONDON CLOBE.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the Globe is $1.50, invariably in advance. No deviation from this rule. The paper will be stopped at the end of the time for which it is paid, unless further ordered and paid for. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription has expired, and if you wish the paper continued you could remit the amount as soon as possible.

GLOBOSITIES.

See the new sawmill ad of Miller & Hill.

Hon. Wm. Hughes of Heppner is in town.

Wm. Snell and wife are visiting their friends in town.

Dr. Nicklin is having the lumber hauled for a new residence.

See corrected form of the sheriff's statement published elsewhere.

Capt. Miller of the Rock creek saw mill was in town Wednesday.

Wm. Stahl and wife visited friends in our city several days this week.

The notorious murderer Wolfe was captured near Heppner Tuesday.

Born, Monday, Nov. 7th, to the wife of C. H. Ogle near Condon, a daughter.

We noticed the physiognomy of P. E. McQuinn of Butte creek on our streets the first of the week.

Mrs. C. Schott and daughter, Miss Frankie of Rock creek, visited friends in town Wednesday.

Rev. Wise will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening and at Matney at 2 p. m.

Ed. Horn, the successful young stockman of Condon, made a flying trip to Portland this week.

Rev. Rawlins of Fossil will commence revival meetings at Condon next Monday evening. Everyone is invited.

The young folks gave another of their pleasant club dances Friday evening, which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Budd Brown returned home to Fossil this week, after an absence of several months in the Baker City and Grand Ronde country.

County court is in session this week, Judge Wm. J. Mariner and Commissioners W. J. Edwards and J. R. Ralston being in attendance.

Eugene Guard: John Winzenreid of Cloverdale showed us a peerless potato last evening that takes first premium. It tipped the scales at 6 1/4 lbs.

John Welmar, an industrious Pennsylvanian Dutchman, living near Olex was in town Wednesday making arrangements to prove up on his homestead.

Steve Fletcher is having the lumber hauled for his new house, which will be built just north of Dan Rinehart's residence. Girls, who is the lucky one?

A private dispatch to this great weekly Wednesday from Grover Cleveland conveys the intelligence that he is much pleased over the result of Tuesday's election.

Chas. Dahlke, who had his arm broken, mention of whom we made last week, is now stopping in town for treatment, and is getting along as well as could be expected.

Queen Victoria has been in ill health for some time, and informs us by private letter that she will spend the winter in Italy. She thinks the climate there will restore her fast-fading health.

Eugene Guard: T. E. Cawfield, a wealthy young man of Salem, and Miss Effie Young, daughter of C. W. Young who resides about two miles north of Eugene, were married at Salem Thursday.

The election Tuesday throughout the county passed off serenely. A great deal of interest was manifested in this election and the result was a full vote, it being much larger than at the June election.

As we go to press, a case is in progress in justice court, wherein Billy Harmon is plaintiff and Isaac Frazer of Lost Valley is defendant. The complaint charges Frazer with assault with a deadly weapon, a knife.

Henry Steers, the genial and prosperous stockman, returned home to Fossil this week from California, where he disposed of a large number of good horses. Henry has been very successful in the stock business.

D. M. Rinehart is having a large addition and square front built onto the south end of his livery stable, which will add much to its appearance and convenience. By hard work and square dealing, Dan is making the business pay.

Ed Nelson, the affable stage man, returned this week from Pendleton, where he had been looking after his property, also the fair sex. Ed denies that he was married while up there, but his denials are too thin to swallow. Boys, go for him.

O. F. Kizer and family, who have been residing near Mayville several years, moved this week to Rowland, Linn county, their former home, and where Oke expects to run the postoffice. They are good citizens, and we are sorry to lose them.

A grand masquerade ball will be given in the large Cantwell hall in Lost Valley on Friday evening, Nov. 18. Price of tickets, including supper, $1.50. There will be every accommodation for the comfort of guests, plenty of horse feed, shelter, etc. Everybody invited. Jas. Ramsey will be floor-monger.

The Shaw property in Condon, belonging to Billy Barr, is offered for sale very cheap, if applied for soon. It can be bought all furnished throughout, ready to move into.

Mrs. C. C. Shaw received a decree of divorce this week, Judge Bradshaw having had the case under advisement since the September term of court. Attorney Goode feels greatly elated over his success at procuring this divorce, as he says there were some pretty fine points of law to consider in this case.

Those who promised to haul us wood on subscription will please remember that rough weather will soon set in, and it should be hauled while the roads are yet good. All who are indebted to the Globe in any way are requested to settle at once, as we are building and need the money. Please do not forget this.

A dozen or so of our little fellows became wild and woolly with election excitement Tuesday, and marched in regular procession style all over the city, bearing banners and flags and screeching "Rah for Cleveland," loud enough to hear them a mile. They also hung Harrison in effigy on the highest flagpole in town.

E. W. Daggett, an intelligent young man who recently came out from Michigan, is in town this week in attendance at the examination. He is an agreeable gentleman, and has taught several terms already. Mr. Daggett is making his home for the present with his cousin, Judge Mariner, at Blalock, where he is teaching school.

Messrs. E. A. Freed and R. T. Brown, agents for Wiley D. Allen, musical instruments, Portland, have been in our city the past week. They have their sample organ at Maddock's hotel, and as they are both good singers and musicians, they have furnished much agreeable entertainment for some of our people during their stay here.

Frank E. Edwards, son of Hon. W. J. Edwards of Mayville, is making rapid progress in his studies at the Oregon Agricultural college in Corvallis. According to the rules of the college, the standing runs from 60 to 90 per cent, 60 per cent being considered very good. Frank's average standing is from 75 to 90 per cent, which reflects much credit on his ability, as he is only 17 years of age.

Saturday last F. M. Pliter had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Brick Bolding on a charge of cattle stealing. At his preliminary examination Monday it was proven beyond a doubt that the calf in question belonged to Brick. It exactly resembled one belonging to Mr. Pliter, hence the mistake and arrest. Squire Clark dismissed the case at plaintiff's cost, which amounted to about $40.

F. A. Allen, Matney's genial, good-natured blacksmith, returned home this week from a visit to his children and other relatives in Cowlitz county, Wash. There isn't anything singular about this, save the fact that Fred brought with him from Seattle, an accomplished young lady, Miss Minnie Wrede, whom he married on Monday, 7th inst., Squire Clark performing the ceremony. Their many friends join the Globe in hearty congratulations.

Quarterly examination is going on at Condon this week by Supt. Parker, assisted by Miss Lena Snell. The applicants are: Mrs. Josephine Conroy of Clem, Mrs. Elsie Hale of Arlington, Miss Estella Flett of Shelby, Miss Susie Dunn of Condon, Misses Emma Meador and Estella Rhen of Fossil, and Messrs. E. W. Daggett of Blalock and Chas. Roysse of Idea. There are two applicants for state diplomas, Misses Lena and Josie Snell.

Lone Rock Rumbblings. Fall-sown grain looks beautifully green already, also the grass, and stock of all kinds are in excellent condition.

Our people are all busy now hauling wood and extracting spuds from the dark rich loam, while they are resting.

Hon. Joe Ralston took the election returns to the county seat Wednesday. If you see Miss May in Condon, just ask her how she came down.

Mat Halverson went to Heppner this week to take a position in the National bank. Mat leaves a host of friends in this place who wish him all success. He has won the respect and confidence of all our people.

The election here passed off quietly. This precinct gave 3 more votes for Harrison than all the rest put together, which surprises us, as it always gave a democratic majority before. The day terminated by a grand ball at the hotel, which was largely attended. Cowboy.

Printers' Ink Saves Riding.

AXAX, OR., Nov. 7, 1892. ED. GLOBE:—Please discontinue my "strayed horse" notice in your excellent paper; the second week's notice brought my colt. Printers' ink saves lots of riding and unnecessary expense. With kind regards, ANDREW PALMER.

To Whom it May Concern. The public is hereby notified that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Annie Ward, who has willfully left my bed and board. DAN. H. WARD.

CONDON, Nov. 10, 1892.

Dig Up Notice.

If all accounts due me are not paid before the 15th inst., they will be placed in the hands of a collector. This is positively the last call. I must have what is due me, G. S. CLARK.
