GLOBOSITIES.

As we go to press, the long-looked-for chinook is on hand. Thanks, awfully.

Alex Balsamer, our shoemaker, has gone to Portland to visit a couple of weeks.

Miss Frankie Schott of Rock creek is visiting her friends in Condon, the Misses Downing.

Miss Stella Flett of Shelby came up last week to stop in town and attend our school the balance of the term.

A bill appropriating $80,000 for Oregon's exhibit at the World's fair has passed both houses of the legislature.

A bill has been introduced in the Washington legislature providing for the erection of a capital building to cost $2,000,000.

J. P. Lucas was summoned by telegram last week to Eugene, owing to the death of his brother-in-law, Dr. Shelton, of that place.

Howard Propst returned home last week, having finished his course of studies in the college at Albany, where he had been since last summer.

Clarence Meek, who has been engaged in the sheep business in Washington several years, is visiting his mother and other relatives in this section.

Rev. Rawlins will preach at Condon this Friday evening, and will then proceed to Heppner where he expects to conduct a series of revival meetings.

The mortgage tax and the indebtedness exemption clauses have been repealed by the legislature and only lacks the signature of the governor to become a law.

Born—Near Fossil on Feb. 3, 1893, to the wife of J. G. King a bouncing daughter. All parties doing well, including Jim, who is the happiest man on Butte creek.

We are glad to state that Mr. Thos. Young is able to be out again, after a prolonged illness lasting five weeks. Herbert Halstead is also able to move around a little.

After March 4th the United States senate will have two John Mitchells—John L. of Wisconsin and John H. of Oregon. The former is a democrat, the latter a republican.

The latest report concerning Cleveland's cabinet is that Governor Boies of Iowa has declined the secretaryship of agriculture, preferring to make the race for senator next fall.

Miss Kate Greiner has been very sick at her home near Mayville during the last two weeks with a severe attack of pleuri-pneumonia. She is improving under Dr. Hogan's treatment.

The Inland Empire will be greatly benefitted next summer by the extra moisture during the months of December and January, and the yield per acre in 1893 may be expected to be tripple that of 1892.

Counting up his salary and his allowances for expenses, President Harrison will have received from the government exactly $380,000 when he shall have retired from the White house on March 4, next.

Rev. Wise requests us to announce that after services next Sunday evening at Condon there will be a meeting of the officers and members of the church, to elect new officers, etc. A full attendance is desired.

The visits of statesmen to Cleveland have ceased. At his special request he will be left severely alone from now untill inauguration, giving him a breathing spell and ample time in which to prepare his inaugural address.

Notwithstanding the earnest desire expressed by our farmers for a bountiful fall of snow, they appear to be wholly satisfied now and would be gratified if the "beautiful" would cease falling and the welcome chinook make its appearance.

We acknowledge receipt of an invitation from the World's Congress Auxiliary, upon the nomination of Hon. John H. Mitchell, to attend the World's Congresses in the department of the public press, to convene in Chicago during the week beginning May 22, 1893.

Since the time has been extended for payment of the forfeited railroad land, a number of persons who had just previously paid in their money have since had the same returned to them by applying to the clerk. Others who desire to do so can likewise act promptly.

In the senate on Saturday the judiciary committee reported Cross' senate bill No. 50, providing for the payment of salaries to sheriffs, clerks and recorders. The report was adopted and the bill ordered to its third reading. This change will not effect the present incumbents in office.

A crusade is being made against old paper money in circulation, as it is said to hold disease germs in abundance. For the sake of the souls of some of our delinquents who are about a quarter of a century in arrears, we have concluded to run the risk of contracting the cholera and smallpox, and will take old paper money from now on.

The newspapers of California are still complaining of the "girl famine" in that state. The Macedonian cry has reached England, and the papers over there are responding with the proffer to send over a lot of their young widows, as they have a superabundance of them.

The Blackman bill appropriating $86,000 now in the state treasury, the result of Oregon's proportion of the U. S. direct taxes, passed the house Friday. It appropriates the money to the different counties of the state for road purposes, to be used and expended under the direction and supervision of the county court.

Hugh Strickland's magnificent stallion, "Usurper," died Friday at the Hay creek ranch. The horse had been ailing for several weeks, and Friday morning the enormous brute rared up, gave a mighty groan and expired within a few minutes. This was a valuable animal, and horse raisers say he was the best horse in the country.

The bill of Representative Coon relative to the formation of new counties appears to be a worthy one. It requires the petition of 100 tax payers to be filed with the county clerk 60 days before a general election. The sheriff must also certify that there is $700,000 worth of property in the proposed county and that neither of the counties losing territory will be left with less than $1,000,000 worth of property.

A Chicago paper accuses the Union Pacific of cutting passenger rates between Ogden and the Missouri to an extent which will almost certainly result in an open reduction of 50 per cent. The regular rates on such tickets is $40. The Union Pacific is accused of placing large blocks of tickets in brokers' hands at prices which enable them to sell at from $18 to $21. One of the scalpers informed a competing line and a number of the tickets were obtained at the price named.

It is understood that an effort will be made to have laws passed by the legislature which will reach vandals and wantons in a more effectual manner. As the law is now, a person who maliciously destroys another's property is fined by the court, and the fine is turned into the public treasury, leaving the injured one to repair the damage done him at his own expense. A change in the law would inflict a penalty sufficient to pay for the damage and a balance to go to the treasury.

When Mr. Cleveland appointed Senator Lamar secretary of the interior, the latter had just married a young wife, who enjoyed herself for a whole week in the delightful pastime of house-hunting. At last she found just what she wanted. The dwelling seemed to be pre-eminently a suitable residence for a cabinet officer. She drove to the senate, of which Mr. Lamar was still a member, to tell her husband the news of her discovery. His first question was: "What is the rent, dear?" "Seventy-five hundred a year." The senator lapsed into deep thought, and the young wife said rather nervously: "Do you think it extravagant?" "It is not that," returned Lamar, slowly; "I was wondering what I should do with the other $500 of my salary."

Many a business man cuts down his newspaper advertising just at the wrong time. It is not the return from judicious advertising which brings success? It is the cumulative effect. Watch the business of two firms, one a live persistent, aggressive advertiser, the other, negligent. Which becomes the leading merchant in a few years? Buy a space in your paper, make it interesting and don't begrudge the money. Advertising in a live paper pays. The paper can live without your advertisement better than you can live without its effect. Every line in a newspaper costs something. If it is for an individual it should be paid for. If the grocer was asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent and must rent to live.—Exchange.

Free-Send For One. The Union Pacific have published a very neat pictorial world's fair folder, containing colored lithographs of the various exposition buildings, birds-eye view of the grounds, with a complete map of the city, showing location of the fair, hotels, railway depots, street-car lines and city parks. Copy of the map be had by addressing W. H. Hurlbert, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Portland, Oregon.

Cal Hale Convicted.

The case of the State of Washington vs. Cal Hale, in the bank robber case at Ellensburg, went to the jury Monday evening at 3 o'clock, after one week's hard work on both sides. After deliberating six hours the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty, as charged in the complaint." He will not likely receive his sentence until the other boys have their trials, Kinsey's being in progress now. Some of Hale's witnesses arrived home Wednesday, and report that an effort will be made for another trial. The result is anxiously awaited by friends of the boys in trouble.

Lone Rock Rumlings.

Died—At the home of R. G. Robinson at Lone Rock on Thursday, Feb. 2d, the only child of Calvin and Gretchen Robinson, aged about four months.

Our school teacher Mr. Stratton went to Gilliam's gay capital Wednesday to attend the examination. Charley Earhart also went to the metropolis Tuesday.

Wednesday morning a messenger arrived here from Heppner with a telegram from Tom Kinsey at Ellensburg, to Nat Scott, which read as follows: "Scott, we want you to testify in our case. For God's sake, come; you can get here on time."

This would be a good market for the Siwash to sell deer skins, as something of that sort is badly needed to patch the skinned skins of the coasters, both old and young. The warmest trip yet is the one when the fellow "went it a heat" in the gold pan.

Last Tuesday while chasing cattle, Geo. Boone's horse stepped into an extinct badger-hole and immediately thereafter he capsize, pitching the old gentleman about 50 yards ahead. He just happened to light on the hardest spot of earth in Oregon, and was pretty badly bruised up in consequence.

We are credibly informed that one of our young neighbors is likely to get "rounded up" shortly. It is pretty well known that three different sets of wedding invitations have gone forth, and all have also gone by the board—fizzled out, metaphorically speaking. But the grand bounce from the old lady will be the next scene on the program, and the gay Lothario aided out over the fence by means of a No. 12 brogan. That'll fetch 'im.

The news of Cal Hale's conviction is a great surprise to all of us. Our people are all asking themselves the question: "Can it be possible that Cal is guilty, when so many witnesses testified to seeing him in this county on the very day the robbery was committed?" The general impression seems to prevail that had the Fossil and Arlington papers not had so much to say in the matter, the boys would have had a better case. It sometimes turns out very poor judgment for newspapers to try a case before the court does.

Myron O. Clarke was over to the county seat the first of the week and effected arrangements to embark in the butchering business in that place. We all regret very much to lose the Clarke family from our midst; but we venture the assertion that they will not be absent from here long, judging from the fact that no one has ever left here yet who did not "sneak" to get back before they were gone six months. There is a peculiar magnetism about this place. However, we all wish Mr. Clarke and family good luck in the new venture. Cowboy.

The Examination.

Teachers' quarterly examination is in progress at Condon this week, by Supt. Parker, assisted by Miss Bessie Fitzwater. Miss Snell, the regular assistant, failed to get here, owing probably to the rough weather. Following are the names of the applicants:

Misses Laura and Nettie Schilling of Matney, Miss Grace Frizzell of Lost Valley, Miss Stella A. Flett of Shelby, Misses Estella and Bertha Johnson, Gracie M. Fitzwater, Carrie Boyer, Sadie Parman, Fannie Wooley of Condon; Messrs. S. I. Stratton and New Madden of Lone Rock, and J. A. McMorris of Condon.

The annexation of the Sandwich Islands to the United States will be but a question of time. The native population is entirely unfit for self government, besides is rapidly dying out. It will soon fall to the lot of some nation to establish a protectorate and none other has the favorable position occupied by the United States. While it is true that the commercial interests of Great Britain on the high seas are beyond comparison greater than ours, the islands are more contiguous to the United States territory than that of any other nation. Americans have the bulk of the commerce of the islands, and the Pacific ports on this coast are their natural trading points. The islands possess great value and strategic importance either in peace or war. They are the only coaling station in the middle Pacific, are on a direct line of the commerce between America and Asia, and with the opening of the Nicaragua or Panama canal will be the touching point for a vast commerce between Atlantic ports in Europe and America and Asia. There will be no lack of support to the administration that firmly demands ultimate control of these valuable possessions.

Fault-Finding.

An exchange says: Few can discern the real secret of successful rebuke. Many are too apt to increase rather than diminish the errors to which they object. Misdirected efforts to subdue a child's, or even an adult's evil tendencies generally serve to inflame them. Pastors, parents and teachers, the appointed guardians of our communities, sometimes allow their protests against the wrong to degenerate into a temperance, peevish or melancholy whine. None will deny there is need for fault-finding. Discrepancies in conduct require skillful repression, and immoral traits must be pruned away if the character of the boy or man is to mature into the whit flower of a blameless life. But is there not a little too much gratuitous fault-finding? With some people it becomes a very hateful habit. Continual reference to errors induces willful perseverance in them, and familiarity which incessant complaint breeds contempt for it. The safest rule seems to be that only when all other and gentler resources have been tried and found useless, should we venture upon the distinct mention of specific faults.
