

Splendid Tribute

THE SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH
URGES THE USE OF THE Royal Baking Powder.

The magnificent tribute of the San Francisco Board of Health to the great purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder greatly disturbs the manufacturers of the lower grade powders. Their envious publications, however, cannot break the force of this unsolicited and unbiased high medical endorsement. Attached is a certified copy of their original report, with the signatures of the members of the Board in fac-simile.

We, the members of The Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients of the highest strength and character.

In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger Baking Powder than the "Royal."

THE BRAVE OLD CEDARS.

The banners of autumn are waving bright From tower and hill and mountain. Her cohorts and phalanxes gleam with light. By shining river and fountain: Her armies are standing in dress parade. Equipped with a martial splendor. But the gallant old cedars are undismayed. They die, but never surrender.

The maples, in close serried ranks, uphold Their standards of red and yellow. The orchard is burning in crimson and gold. The meadows are ripe and mellow. The sentinel poplar and sycamore Give welcome to every newcomer. And doff the brave colors which once they wore In honor of sweet, green summer.

But the cedars lift boldly their rugged arms. The favors of autumn scorning. And keep their green bravery, though the alarms Of surely winter give warning.

So loyal and true, so valiant and strong. The snows and the tempests daring. The gallant old cedars, a whole life long. The same old standard are bearing. —Zitella Cooke in Youth's Companion.

Language of Fowls.

Very tame hens often show a desire to talk to you, and it is usually possible to understand their meaning. Once a Cochin, whose years and breeding entitled her to a separate perch, came and stood in front of me, looked me full in the face and complained loudly of something I could not translate further. Patient investigation revealed that one of her perch had slipped down, and Mrs. Buff had no idea of sleeping on an inclined plane. Another time a nervous little Leghorn met me at the henhouse door fairly screaming and jumping with excitement. I understood, from the cackle which finished each sentence, that she had been disturbed on her nest. I did not wonder at her new powers of speech when I found the nest occupied by my cat and three small kittens.

When the chickens first begin to move in the egg, just before hatching, the mother hen sings to them a low, crooning song, very sweet and never heard at any other time. A friend tells me that her canary startled her one day by an entirely new call. It was so plainly "Come here, quick!" that she hurried to the cage to find an enormous cat, with face pressed against the window pane, staring in at poor Ned—a danger sufficiently great to account for the new call.

There are but two ways by which one can hear animals converse. One is by listening to them when they are not aware of your presence, always a difficult feat. The other is by winning their entire love and confidence.—Coleman's Rural World.

Savage Women.
All investigations among savage tribes, where women are engaged in active outdoor life, show that their strength and endurance are equal to those of men. Usually the drudgery and hard work come upon the women.

Dr. O. G. Given, physician to the Indian school at Carlisle, says: "The men, as a rule, are not as developed physically as the women, and are the drones of the Indian camp, while the women are the working bees." The American squaws are said to be "second only to the ponies in the size of their loads and in the distance they can carry them."

Dr. Kellogg says: "Among savage tribes the women do most of the hard work. The Mexican woman cultivates the ground, cares for the household, cooks the meals and makes the clothing for her lay lord, rears the children, and when moving day comes trudges off with all her household goods upon her shoulders and the younger members of her family on top of all. Stanley says that the strongest and most enduring porters he found in Africa were women."

"In Germany the peasant woman toils beside her husband in laborious employments, and appears to be as healthy as though she were a man. In France I found it a common thing to see a line of men digging a trench for a water pipe and a woman at the head of the line breaking ground."—Dress.

Lack of American Country Homes.
What American families have not yet achieved to a great extent, and the conditions of American life seem not to encourage, are real country homes, from which the dwellers shall go to town for the winter, and where their principal ties and their more serious expenditures shall remain. Until very lately the city house has been the rich American's real home. When men who have retired from business make their homes in the country, when people who now live in town for pleasure learn to spend three months in town and nine in the country, instead of vice-versa; when state roads and electric railroads make the country more accessible, and the expenditure in the country of money made in town makes the rural districts more interesting; when a lifetime spent in money getting in Wall street or "the Swamp" ceases to be considered "successful," there will be less difficulty than there is just now in providing that the city man's grandson may have a share of real country life that his grandson, when it comes his turn to come to town may have something worth fetching.—Scribner's.

The Virtues of a Turkish Bath Brush.
Everybody can't have a Pompeian bathroom, nor an accomplished maid, nor a perfumed bag containing the most exquisite preparation of soap to use as a wash-rag, but everybody can have a Turkish bath brush, and that is more important than either. The face itself is generally greatly helped by a very gentle brushing, using at the same time good and pure soap. The face ought to be washed with it at least several times a week. There are skins so thin that necessarily good—that they cannot stand brushing, but don't presume yours is one of that kind till you know it. The chances are that it will help it 50 per cent. All those ugly roughnesses you sometimes see on girls' arms and shoulders will almost invariably disappear by brushing. The amount and force of it should be regulated by each person according to her own experience.—Herald of Health.

Grading Society.
Dodge City has only three grades of society, according to a recent arrival from the west. The first, or "aristocracy," is composed of those who put out their washing. The "middle class" does its own washing, and the "lowest class" is that which takes in washing. This is the most simple and complete distinction yet known, only it leaves one large class unaccounted for—those who think washing an unnecessary luxury.—Boston Post.

NATURE'S SUREST ALLY.

If nature did not struggle against disease, even in early constitutions, with incessant would be the course of a malediction to its fatal termination. While nature thus struggles let us, at worse than our own, aid her efforts with judicious medicinal help. Experience must be our guide in battle with disease, and that "clasp to our feet" indicates how often the stomach biters as a self, tried and thorough ally of nature. If the blood be insect with life, if the bowels and stomach are inactive, if the kidneys fail to expel impurities of which they are the natural outlet, a course of the Bitters is the surest reliance. If the sufferer, one, moreover, that is sanctioned by professional indorsement and use for nearly half a century. No American or foreign remedy has earned greater distinction as a remedy for and preventive of chronic liver complaint, malaria, constipation, kidney and rheumatic trouble and debility.

Spring is coming. All are glad. Hopakiria with it, Men are sad.

SAFE, SURE AND SPEEDY.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as ALL-COCK'S POROUS PLASTER. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin. Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALL-COCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

Three Children Poisoned

By Impure Vaccination—Covered with Sores

How Their Lives Were Saved.

Mrs. James Throuwer
San Jose, Cal.

"When we were living in Chico, Cal., my three children, respectively 5, 7 and 10 years of age, were all in good health until they were vaccinated in January, and after that notice of them was well for months. They were all blood poisoned by impure matter used in vaccination. In August I began giving them Hood's Sarsaparilla. They were covered with Sores From Head to Foot.

After they had taken the medicine for about a month, the eruptions healed, their appetites became natural, they slept well and commenced to gain in flesh. They have not had a sick day since. No children are more robust and healthy." Mrs. JAMES THROUWER, San Jose, California.

Justice to All.

It is now apparent to the Directors of the World's Columbian Exposition that millions of people will be denied the pleasure of becoming the possessors of

World's Fair Souvenir Coins

The Official Souvenir of the Great Exposition—

The extraordinary and growing demand for these Coins, and the desire on the part of the Directors that equal opportunities may be afforded for their purchase, have made it necessary to enlarge the channels of distribution. To relieve themselves of some responsibility, the Directors have invited

THE MERCHANTS

Throughout the Nation to unite with the Banks in placing Columbian Half-Dollars on sale. This is done that the masses of the people, and those living at remote points, may be afforded the best possible opportunity to obtain the Coins.

THE FORTUNATE POSSESSORS

of SOUVENIR COINS will be those who are earliest in seizing upon these new advantages.

$10,000 Was Paid For The First Coin

They are all alike, the issue is limited, and time must enhance their value. The price is One Dollar each.

HOW TO GET THE COINS:

Go to your nearest merchant or banker, as they are likely to have them. If you cannot procure them in this way, send direct to us, ordering not less than Five Coins, and remitting One Dollar for each Coin ordered.
