THE CONDON CLOBE, DEMOCRATIC

FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1894.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

The fundamental cause of the present hard times, says the S. F. Post, is the fact that speculation in land has run so high that business cannot prosper and bear the burdens of land values. The whole civilized world practically has been a "boom town" on a large scale. The boom has reached the bursting point. The strain of land values on business is too great to be borne. Hence the hard times. Now there First District, J. K. Weatherford, First District, Binger Hermann; is one of two things, or perhaps of Linn; Second District, James H. something of both, that must occur Raley, of Umatilla. before the hard times end. Either the boom must burst, so that business can resume upon a lower level as to charges for land; or else some tremendous impetus must be given to business which will enable it to go on and prosper upon the present high plane of land values. The Wilson bill might give the impetus. If there is free trade enough it will, Free trade would make business spring into activity for a time. But if that bill does not give us free trade it will give to business the necessary impetus, and, in that case, we shall have to wait for the end of hard times until we see in Clarence A. Shurte, of Arlington. our daily real estate reports a very marked decline in the value of land.

Col. Watterson, the stalwart editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and the chief architect of the free trade plank in the Chicago democratic platform, is a good story teller. "The Wilson bill," says Col. Watterson, "reminds me of an incident that once happened in Louisville. A well-known local gambler thought he had a good As usual, last week's Journal hasn't Condon precinct: For justice of thing in a stranger who appeared anything else in it but abuse and conthe peace, Geo. "Take the money stranger," gasped the astonished native as he fell in a fit. Take the money! But that wasn't stake the money! But that wasn't stake the money! But that wasn't stake the money! the hand I dealt you." So with the Wilson bill. It is not the hand the Chicago convention dealt the democratic party and which the people of the United States backed with of the United States backed with their votes."

It is reported from Memphis that the Knights of Labor are about to very apt to accomplish very much. An embark on a campaign having for exchange bears this assertion out in the its object the deportation of the ensuing: Some years ago four sons of a negroes of this country to some Connecticut farmer were married in the part of Africa. Note the following figures compiled by Mr. Moreton Frewen, who is perfectly familiar with the gold mining industry in the dark continent, which gives its annual output in ounces for the past five years:

As this is worth about $16 per is a large addition made yearly supply of the precious metal. And as Africa is largely unexplored, it is altogether probable that new fields await the gold seekers.
