HOSTILITY TO BORGONO.

The President of Peru is Hissed at Bull Fight.

LIMA, PERU.-Borgono has received Lima, Peru.—Borgono has received marked assurance that there is an element in this city which is decidedly hostile to him. A bull fight had drawn an immense crowd to the amphitheater, and when the matador on entering the arena raised his sword in salute to President Borgono a storm of hissing and whistling burst from the throng of spectators, and the cry arose: "No, he is no President; he is a usurper." The tumult, which lasted several seconds, created great excitement. Borgono is created great excitement. Borgono is pushing his aggressive tactics against his opponents, and arrests of persons who are hostile to him and to his administration continue in all parts of the Republic. The government is extremely hard pressed for money.

BANK PRESIDENT ARRESTED.

Tardy Justice Grips the Rascals of the Pacific and People's Home Savings Banks-Charged With Looting.

SAN FRANCISCO.-Slow San Francisco justice is at last moving to punish the justice is at last moving to punish the wreckers of the Pacific and People's Home Savings Banks. The grand jury pound for salmon, the carch amounting to the pacific and pound for salmon, the carch amounting the pacific and pound for salmon, the carch amounting the pacific and pound for salmon the pacific and pound for salmon the pacific and pound for salmon the pacific and pa has indicted R. H. McDonald, Jr., President of the People's Home, and he has been arrested and lodged in the county jail. The handcuffs were put upon his wrists, and he spent the night behind the bars, waiting for $100,000 bail. It is understood that other indictments are to follow, and that more of the band of rascals, who have fattened off of the money of the unfortunate depositors, are to be indicted and cast into prison. They are all badly scared. They have lost all that bravado with which they were given to telling the depositors that they could take the few dollars dribbled out or go without anything, and are hunting attorneys and arranging for bondsmen. They hardly know what to expect, and fear the worst. The arrest of McDonald was a bomb in their camp, and scattered all their feeling of "What are you going to do about it?"

TACOMA BANK CLOSED.

The City Had Much Money on Deposit Therein.

TACOMA. - The State Savings Bank has closed its doors on an order from the court. J. S. Whitehouse has been appointed receiver. This action was taken at the instance of W. F. Reynolds, the President, whose home is in Chicago. He arrived here two weeks ago, and has been convinced the institution is insolvent. He took action without the knowledge of the other bank officials, who are very indignant and claim the bank is perfectly solvent. The total deposits are $104,-040. The total assets are not known accurately, but the officers claim that they greatly exceed the liabilities. The bank is carrying over $156,000 worth of paper. The officers and stockholders claim that President Reynolds was induced to take this action by a man who wanted to be appointed receiver, but who failed to get the plum. The bank is a minor institu-tion, but this city has $89,982 on deposit there. City Treasurer McCauley said that he is not responsible for this money. He claims ex-Treasurer Boggs is the re-

AGAINST DEPUTY MARSHALS.

'ersunded Indians to Have White Men

WALLA WALLA .- When Judge Hanford left this city after the recent term of the Federal Court he carried with him affidavits containing sensational charges against Deputy United States Marshals McGuire Stratton and Wills of North Yakima. Fees in cases on charges of selling whisky to Indians have been a source of much profit to these officials. At the last fall term of court about eighty such cases were heard, nearly all from Yakima. Several Indian witnesses now make affidavit that these officials gave them money to give to white men to buy them whisky while the Marshals were secreted to witness the transaction and make arrests. The affidavits also state the Marshals would arrest men while drunk and employ Indians to teatify that they had sold them whisky. Five defendants also made affidavit that they were offered inducements by the Marshals to plead guilty. It is reported that Marshal Drake stated before leaving here that he would take prompt action in the matter as soon as the Coxey trouble was off his hands.

A POOR SEA BOAT.

The Steamer Rosalia Could Not Buffet the Heavy Waves.

SAN FRANCISCO.-The steamer Rosalia, which left port Monday for Puget Sound. has returned. The steamer intends to go on the Alaska route from the Sound, and before leaving she was fitted up for the accommodation of about fifty cabin passengers and a like number in the steerage. That meant the raising of the superstructure two decks higher, and the little steamer stuck away up out of the water and appeared to be top-heavy. She got off Point Reyes on her trip north and met with a strong head sea. She

NEW ORDER OF SISTERS.

It Takes Charge of a New Mexican Indian School.

SANTA FE, N. M.-Sister Agnes, who was Katherine Drexel, the noble Philadelphia woman and daughter of the late Banker Drexel, who has recently founded the society of the Catholic sisters known as the Order of the Blessed Sac-rament and is now Mother Superioress of the order, has assumed charge of the St. Catherine Indian school. She came here some weeks ago upon the invitation of Archbishop Chappelle, and looked personally over the situation, after which she decided to take this institution under the control of her order and make it a combination normal and industrial school, which promises to exercise a great influence in Indian educational matters. The idea is to impart an industrial education to the Indian boys and girls, while also having stationed here an extra number of sisters from the East, who shall while engaged as teachers go through a system of normal training themselves in order to become efficient as teachers in other Indian schools which this society may establish.

A SEATTLE PROJECT.

Scheme to Develop Trade Between the Sound and Central America.

SAN FRANCISCO.-It is now reported that Seattle's scheme to develop trade between Puget Sound and Central American ports will be inaugurated with Council has prevented any action from being taken on McCauley's bond; consequently he really did not have charge of the city's money taken in prior to his election.

For return cargoes coffee, hides, tropical woods and silver ores could be carried, and a profitable passenger traffic could be developed between ports on the lower coast. The scheme is to turn half or more of the Central American trade from San Francisco to the Sound, and it is regarded as likely to prove successful, unless the Pa-cific Mail Company and the Southern Pacific agree to make concessions calculated to ward off the attempt to take a big proportion of the trade away from this city.

Litigation Over an Estate Ended. SEATTLE. - Soon after the death of J. Gardner Kenyon, a wealthy property owner here, a half cousin named Watson W. Moore set up a claim to the estate, denying that there were any nearer living relatives. After many months' search Moore then began suit on a note for $20,-000, said to have been given by Kenyon for legal services. Enlarged photographs were made of the note, and after a hearing lasting several days the jury brought in a verdict against Moore. Kenyon died two years ago, and litigation has been in progress since then.

He alleges the Nazarene also told him President Cleveland was a man of honest purpose, who would eventually straighten out Cleveland was a man of honest purpose, who would eventually straighten out the kink that at present threatens the business of the country, and that Prendergast, the assassin of Harrison, is going to be made an archangel after being hung. SITUATION AT BLUEFIELDS.

The Chief of the Mosquito Indians Has Returned.

New ORLEANS.-Advices from Bluefields by the steamer Rover, which left that port May 6, say that a sensation was created there on the 5th instant by the arrival of Robert Henry Clarence, Chief of the Mosquito Indians. Soon after the occupation of Bluefields by the Nicaraguan troops, owing to the belief that an attempt would be made on his life, the young chieftain disappeared, and made his way to the Indian settle-ment at Pearl Lagoon. His visit here was as short as it was unexpected, rewas as short as it was unexpected, remaining only a few hours to purchase supplies, which he took away with him on a small vessel flying the Colombian flag. This caused a good deal of speculation, and in reply to inquiries he said that he had in no way surrendered his rights as Chief of the Indians within the jurisdiction of the reservation, but, claimed that he had assurances of Britchaining the treaty of Senate and an honor of this kind is not claimed that he had assurances of British support in maintaining the treaty of Managua. British Consul Hatch confirmed this belief, saying that England would pense of closing the treaty without compelling respect for it.

CHILDREN KIDNAPED.

Large Number of Mysterious Disappear ances in St. Joseph.

St. Joseph, Mo.—The police are working upon the theory that an organized band of kidnapers are at work in this city. In addition to the mysterious disappearances of W. H. Harrison, a wellknown traveling man, and two little daughters of Patrick Day the disappear-ance of three other small children is now reported. Mrs. Gay's two little daughreported. At night they failed to reappear, and although a search has been kept up ever since, nothing of the nature of a clew to their whereabouts has been discovered. Besides these one other child is also mission. ing. All are under the age of 12 years. These mysterious disappearances, the strangest part of which is that they all occurred in broad daylight, have so alarmed all parents that little children are guarded with the utmost zealousness.

The Tide Turning. Washington. - Representative Mc-Gann, Chairman of the Labor Committee, predicts that a turn in the tide of immigration is not far off, and that when in stock which does not represent actual it comes it will offer the solution to the depressed condition of American labor now existing. The tide of immigration has been steadily toward the United has been steadily toward the United States for years, said he, until the labor market of Europe is being drained, so that the commercial classes are awake to the necessity of keeping their laborers at home. Furthermore, the leading men of Germany, France and Great Britain place the labor question foremost among the great national questions, while in this country the public man who seeks to advance the cause of labor is set down as a demagogue. as a demagogue.

Marion C. Butler, President of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union, made an argument before the House Committee on Postoffices the other day in support of the postal telegraph sta-tions. The Alliance favored the postal telegraph scheme because it would cor-rect an evil of monopoly. McGuire of California also spoke in continuation of his argument on the ambiest which he his argument on the subject, which he began last week. He declared the telegraph business is a monopoly; that an attempt to meet it by private competition would result in no benefit to the people; consequently the government ought to assume charge of the business. He believed for $25,000,000 the present Western Union plant could be duplicated and the people would not have to pay the interest on $90,000,000 capitalization investment. Replying to questions, he said he did not think any one could perform the work of the postal service as cheaply as the government. This re-mark led Loud of California to remark that he was willing to take a four-year that he was willing to take a four-year contract for the work at $50,000,000 per year. Sundry difficulties that would possibly arise in the transfer of the telegraph to the government were suggested by members of the committee, but McGuire believed these could be overcome or obviated in ways that would not work hardship on the telegraph companies.
