

THE CONDON CLOBE.

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1894.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the CLOBE is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Rufus Ring of Fossil was in the city Wednesday on business.

Miss Dora Downing visited friends on Beecher Flat this week.

Ed Kelsar has located at Crane, Idaho, to which address he orders the Globe sent.

Ray Henson is home for a few days' visit from Malheur, where his cattle are ranging.

J. H. Downing and Gene Smith arrived home from Portland Wednesday morning.

John Blake arrived home Wednesday from Chicago, where he shipped a train-load of sheep.

Jas. S. Wheeler of Weston arrived here Tuesday to look after his land interests on Pine creek.

The delightful hum of the header can now be heard throughout this portion of Uncle Sam's domain.

Prendergast, the notorious anarchistic murderer, was very properly hanged at Chicago Friday last.

Rev. E. Curran will preach at Lexington next Sunday, leaving here Saturday and returning Monday.

Lucien Parker took charge of the stage line Monday and goes at the business with a vim that ought to win.

Charley Sears and wife, of Buckhorn, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henshaw at Condon over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Henson of Ferry Canyon visited friends in town several days this week, returning home Thursday.

The supreme court has decided that pension money can not be attached for debt, even when deposited in a savings bank.

County Treasurer S. B. Barker is in Portland this week on business. He will order a large stock of goods for his store.

J. B. Clark has been at work the last two weeks building a large granary for Couture Bros. on their place in Ferry Canyon.

Mrs. D. S. Flynn and child, of Lone Rock, left Wednesday for Silver Lake, Wash., where she will visit her aunt several weeks.

We learn from the Gazette that Jeff Hayes and Miss Grace Filkins, both of Heppner, were married at that place last Wednesday evening.

A number of our people were out on the hills above town last night viewing the red lights on the summit of Mt. Hood, made by a picnic party.

Mrs. Ida Welshhons of Clem left Wednesday for Portland, where she will remain awhile for medical treatment, her health having failed her recently.

All members of the Ladies Aid Society of Condon are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. Henshaw, president, next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A democrat is one who does his level best to do unto others as he would have them do unto him. The closer he lives up to this law the better democrat he is.—E. O.

The latest news concerning the great strike is that trains are moving everywhere again, and the strikers are only too glad to get their old positions back again.

G. J. Caven of Pine creek brought at load of his fine Royal Ann cherries to town Tuesday. They are the largest cherries ever brought to town, and readily sold at 10c a lb.

Frank Green, brother of Melvin Green, accused of stealing 7 horses in Umatilla county recently, was held to appear before the grand jury last week at Pendleton, with bonds at $500.

All over this section the recent very warm days have rapidly ripened the grain. Harvest has begun, and all indications are that it will be a bountiful one. Farmers are actively engaged at cutting grain.

South Africa is having the hottest summer known in fifty years. During the early part of last month the average shade temperature at Cape Town was 90 to 95 degrees, the heat in the sun ranging from 130 to 150.

The train arrived from Celilo Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Commencing Monday (10th) the transfer was made at Rufus, instead of Arlington. This shortens the run on the boat, and consequently the time in making the trip.—Chronicle.

Johnson & Wilcox have just had a stone culvert placed in the street, intersecting with the large Main street culvert, to catch the water that comes down the ravine north of their livery stable. It is a much-needed improvement.

It is reported that the real cause of Sheriff Levens' resignation in Douglas county was because, under the law compelling the sheriffs to pay their own and deputies' expenses while traveling about the country, it would take nearly all the salary provided—$2500.—Oregonian.

Ben Franklin is reported to have given this advice: "My son, deal with men who advertise. You will never regret it." If Ben was living today he would add to the first part of the advice, after the word advertise, the words, "in the Globe." That makes the advice up to date.

By reading the professional card of the editor of this celebrated weekly, on 1st page, the reader will observe that we are prepared to collect all kinds of accounts, from $1 up to $1,000,000, the latter amount being the limit. Please do not ask us to collect an account over that amount.

Money is scarce with everybody just now, and the printer is no exception to the rule. In order to meet our bills we have to make collections, and anyone knowing themselves indebted to this paper will please come forward and pay up. We surely have been as lenient as anyone ought to expect.

Everyone quite naturally complains of the heat, seemingly forgetful of the fact that this is the time of the year for it to be hot, and that if it wasn't so, it would be contrary to nature. The old negro was right when he remarked that "white folks, when they wasn't prayin' for rain, was wishin' it would clear up."

Jas. Snipes of The Dalles has been up in this section several days. The latter part of this week Mr. Snipes, D. B. Trimble, Tip Mobley and Stevens Bros. expect to deliver about 300 head of cattle at Deschutes to a cattle buyer named Grimes. Charley Royse assisted in driving the cattle to Deschutes.

J. B. Cason, a Grant county constable, was in town Tuesday getting "requisition" papers from the J. P. of this place, authorizing the arrest of Wm. Robinson of Haystack, who was at work on Schuttler Flat. He and another young man from Haystack are charged with the crime of horse stealing. The warrant of arrest was issued by Justice Z. J. Martin.

It is claimed by some physicians that the brain cannot rest perfectly unless all light is excluded from the sleeping-room and, whether in going to bed at night or simply lying down for a half-hour's rest in the middle of the day, this precaution should be taken. When a house has an eastern or southern exposure, the rooms will be filled with light long before it is time to get up, and unless some means be taken to prevent, the morning rest will be more or less broken. Especially is this true in the case of little children, and it is well to accustom them from the first to sleep in the dark.—Harper's Bazar.

Within the last few months several business men of the county have asked us why we do not publish a list of the taxpayers and the amount on which each pays taxes. We can not see where anyone would be benefited by such proceeding. Under the new law of no deduction for indebtedness, the list is very misleading. A great many persons who can not pay 5 cents on every dollar they owe, are recorded with property amounting to thousands of dollars, and we fail to see how anyone would be able to rate the standing of such persons by printing the list.

A newly-elected judge in the valley, in charging a jury for the first time, said: "Gentlemen of the jury, charging a jury is a new business for me, as this is my first case. You, as well as myself, have heard all the evidence in the case. If you believe what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you, your verdict will be for the plaintiff, but if on the other hand, you believe what the defendant's counsel has told you, then you will give a verdict for the defendant. But if you are like me and don't believe what either have said, then I'll be d—d if I know what you will do. Bailiff take charge of the jury."

A movement is on foot by some of our citizens to organize a joint stock company with a capital of $10,000 for the purpose of building a grist mill at Condon. The shares are placed at $50 each, and although the paper has been circulated only a couple of days, over $2000 of the amount is already subscribed. As Condon is situated in the center of the greatest and best wheat belt in the West there is every reason to believe that this is the best location in the state for such an enterprise. It would not surprise us to see the mill in operation within three months from now.

Don't send letters away to a distant postoffice to be re-mailed. They are a give-away, did you know it? The postmaster is obliged to stamp on the letter before sending it, "Received from— to be mailed at Pendleton," or wherever the place. An instance is known where a young man, without having left town, wrote letters to a young lady dated at all the principle cities in the Union, his idea being to convince her that he was a great traveler. When, on his return from his extended tour he was confronted with his letters, all decorated with the "under cover" stamp, showing that every one of them had been written from home, he felt more like traveling than ever before.

Flattering reports are brought us from all sections regarding the wheat prospects. At no time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant have they been brighter than they are this year in Eastern Oregon. Fifty cent wheat this fall would inaugurate an era of prosperity unequalled by any we have been favored with in the past. The large acreage in this section, and the magnificent yield promised, will make the output much greater than it has been in previous years, and, of course, the returns will be correspondingly greater. Our people have no cause to despond. Prosperous above the most favored sections of the civilized world, and endowed with the blessing of good health, what more can be desired?

Mr. Smith, of the Fossil Flouring Mills, returned home this week from his extended visit to relatives in the South and East. He informs us that owing to the strike, which had all the railroads tied up, he was obliged to travel over 7000 miles in coming from Ohio to Oregon and was nearly three weeks on the way. All the roads are open now, however.

Sheriff Wilcox now has two more boarders, the latest accession being Wm. Simmons, a young negro aged about 17 and Walter Glenn, a white lad of about 15 years. Friday of last week these boys, who are both wandering hobos, broke into a house a short distance east of Arlington, belonging to R. Hartnett, and stole some clothing, etc. They were arrested and the stolen property found in their possession. The boys admitted their guilt and, upon waiving examination, were bound over to the grand jury by Justice Ebi, with bonds placed at $400 each. The sheriff brought them out the first of the week and they will be guests at the Hotel de Wilcox until the September term of court, when the "coon" will doubtless go to the "pen" and the boy to the reform school for a term.

Arlington Items.

L. G. Edelman is on his farm for a short time.

Wm. Phillips of Olex spent several days in town last week.

The steamer "Spokane" brought down a large scow last Friday.

J. H. Ward and son are building a granary on Shuttler Flat.

L. C. Edwards and family made a trip to The Dalles last week, returning on Saturday.

The west-bound trains and boats occasionally bring large numbers of men to work on the road.

Messrs. Wilson and Coe went across the river hunting last week, but returned empty handed.

On Saturday there were two steamers and a passenger train here at the same time, presenting quite a lively scene.

L. C. Edwards has employed a clerk, the work of attending to the store and telephone being too much for one man to attend to.

Some Coxeyites who have been boarding in Idaho, at Uncle Sam's expense for sixty days, passed through en route to Portland last Friday.

Jack Rodgers has bought the Henderson building and is having it repaired. Looks like Jack is tired of batching and contemplates some serious move.

Six or seven of our young men with their best girls went down the river on the "Almota" last Saturday, returning Sunday. They report having had a good time.

Last week the boat that carries the mail between The Dalles and the Cascades became "unseaworthy" and as a result we had no mail from Portland for about six days.

Mr. Geo. Barfoot is the champion fisherman of the town. He can be seen nearly every evening wending his way homeward with a string of fish, taken from the great river of the West.

On Friday evening a negro and a white boy were arrested on a charge of having burglarized the residence of R. Hartnett about three miles east of town. On Saturday they appeared in Squire Ebi's court for examination. S. A. D. Gurley, Atty., appeared for the state. Defendant's waived examination and in default of bail were committed to jail. They are evidently traveling hobos. The evidence against them is very strong, and as they have admitted their guilt, their path will not be a smooth one.

LENA E. SKELL, Teacher.

Whether Pasteur and Koch's peculiar modes of treatment will ultimately prevail or not, their theory of blood-contamination is the correct one, though not original. It was on this theory that Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass., nearly fifty years ago, formulated Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

A Word to the Sleepless.

Dr. J. E. Huxley says: The way to go to sleep is, in brief, to curl under the clothes like a kitten, or put the head under the wing like a hen. This insomnia seems to be now a universal affliction. We live wrongly; sit up late and overwork the brain, and then go to bed in an excited condition. No one seems to have hit upon the natural remedy. I think I have. People take choral and the like at their peril, and the fatal consequence not seldom ensues. It is all wrong, for you cannot control the dose required for the exact circumstances. But try nature's plan instead: Lower the supply of oxygen to the blood, produce a little asphyxia, limit the quantity of air to the lungs, and heart and circulation becoming quicker, the brain loses its stimulant and sleep follows. When you find yourself "in" for a sleepless night, cover your head with the bed clothes and breathe and rebreath only the respired air. Thus you reduce the stimulating oxygen and fall asleep. There is no danger. When asleep you are sure to disturb the coverings and get as much fresh air as you require, or, when once drowsiness has been produced, it is easy to go on sleeping, though the air be fresh. What do the cat and dog when they prepare to sleep? They turn around generally three times, and, lastly, bury their noses in some hollow in their hair, and "off" they go. They are in no danger, although it might look as if they were, from the closeness with which they imbed their noses.

Now a Deserted Village.

"A poet could write on 'The Deserted Village,' with Virginia City as a subject and surpass Goldsmith's immortal production on the same topic," said a resident of San Francisco to the Globe recently.

"The first time that I was ever there," he said, "the population of Virginia City was greater than that of the entire state now. Everything ran wide open. Magnificent hotels and opera halls, palatial residences, stores that would have done credit to New York, millionaires who spent money freely, maintaining a society that for brilliancy and gaiety could not be equaled in the United States. I was there a short time ago. The hotels and opera houses are closed, the residences empty, the stores removed to other and more prosperous places. Dwellings that cost hundreds of thousands of dollars are given over to the bats, and the broken panes of glass, the shutters hanging upon a single hinge or flagging in the wind give a gruesome sense of loneliness. In years to come it will afford magnificent spectacles of ruins, and even now in some sections of the town there is a sense to the beholder of being in a city of the past. Millions were made and lost, and the history of Virginia City would be one of the most thrilling stories ever written."

New Teachers at Monmouth Normal School.

The following new teachers were elected by the board of regents of the State Normal School at Monmouth at the annual meeting held in June: Methods and psychology, H. B. Buckham, A. M., recently of the Buffalo, N. Y. State Normal; mathematics, E. J. McCaustland, B. S. Cornell college, Ia.; chemistry and botany, E. E. Balcomb, B. S. D., Kansas State Normal; physics and mathematics, W. B. Brown, A. B., Kansas State Normal and Indiana State University; music and drawing, Miss Anna B. Sickles, Detroit Conservatory of Music.

Prof. Buckham takes the place of Prof. P. A. Gitz, who resigned to accept the principalship of the Ellensburg, Washington, State Normal.

Prof. Balcomb will take the place left vacant by Prof. W. J. Spillman, who was elected last spring to the chair of agriculture in the Washington Agricultural College. The present faculty of the school consists of ten members all of whom are teachers of ability and experience, with thorough special preparation for their work. The future of the school seems to promise much valuable work in the interests of the public schools of the state.

Classical Idea of Hell.

The Greek word hades as it appears in the New Testament and the Hebrew word sheol in the Old Testament are used in the most general and literal sense—that of denoting state of condition of the dead, including the grave as the abiding place of the body, and the world of spirits as the abode of the soul. The Hebrew idea of it is very fully given in Job x 21-22. It may be interesting to those of our readers who have been paying any particular attention to the various opinions of hell, purgatory, hades, etc., as they have appeared in the department, to see the above compared with the pagan notions from which the Greek word hades has been derived.

Among the Jokers.

Grandpa's birthday: "Many happy returns of the day, grandpa; and mamma says if you give us each 50 cents we mustn't lose it." Little Dot—Oh, I'd give anything if I was old enough to have a husband. Mamma—Mercy me! Why? Little Dot—I'm so tired of being petted. "I shall celebrate my 224 birthday next week," said Miss Giddy to her dearest friend. "I suppose you forgot it when it came around eight or nine years ago." Was Miss Fypp's reply. The man who boasts that he works with his head instead of his hands is respectfully reminded that the woodpecker does the same, and is the biggest kind of a bore at that.—Chicago Herald.
