THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

DOES FARMING PAY?

If a merchant in the city is able to earn a competency of $3000 to $5000 a year he is considered wealthy by most people, yet this entire sum is oftentimes expended in providing the ordinary comforts of living, and at the end of the year he is in proportionate progress but little ahead of the well-to-do farmer, who has not been compelled to pay a rent of several hundred dollars a year for his home, but, rather, has got his living from his homestead as he went along. Farm life is self-sustaining and preservative, writes C. W. Norris in the Epitome. A young man in the country, working at $1 per day and board, is proportionately better off and more independent than a clerk in a city on $700 a year, who has to expend $500 for a living. One can save at the end of the year just as much as the other, and if there are chances in favor of either obtaining a good name and a competence they are in favor of the country boy. Any farmer who can support himself on a farm comfortably and make it pay a net income of 3 to 5 per cent on its cost is far ahead in competence to the man who lives in a city on a magnificent salary and has to spend it all for life and appearances. It is easy to figure that not one farm product is grown with a profit. One may prove falsely that it is a losing business to live at all, and that no economical man can afford to raise a family.

When the interest on the cost of the farm, the time of the farmer, the value of the manure, the taxes on the house and on the woodland, and everything else are all charged to the crops, the farmer ought to be bankrupt. Nevertheless, he finds a little money in his pockets as a surplus.

There is a story of a mathematical captain who defeated armies and gained victories by computation, and farmers are ruined nowadays by crazy arithmetic, for every crop grown is shown to be raised at a loss. And yet we live along, and no honest farmer gets acquainted with the sheriff or ends his days in a poorhouse. But, on the other hand, the farmer is the bone and sinew of the country, upon whom all other classes of people depend, and then they are the most independent class of people in the world. Few clerks ever become wealthy, for to pass into steady employment and good salary your merchant requires you to pass in popular society, so as to draw custom. To do this you must be ready with a helping hand for every entertainment that comes around. You can't take a day now and then to rest up or to go hunting or fishing, as you can if you are a farmer.

I get this from experience—nothing is guessed at. Farmers should give their boys an agricultural education, so they will know more about business farming, then we would have more good farmers, and I know we would hear less about the farm not paying. Try this, brothers and you will find I am correct.

William A. Stone, a member of the judiciary committee, June 15th, presented a bill in the house providing that any person or persons who shall belong to or who shall be appointed or designated by any society or organization existing in this country or any foreign country which provides in writing or by verbal agreement, for the taking of human life unlawfully, or for unlawful destruction of public buildings or other property where loss of human life is probable, shall be deemed an anarchist. Any person or persons being anarchists as defined by the first section of this act, who shall attempt the life of any person holding office under the United States or who shall attempt the destruction of buildings or other properties where the loss of life any such individual would be the probable result of such destruction of buildings, shall upon trial and conviction be sentenced to death by hanging.

A Chicago dispatch dated July 17th says: The European low rates inaugurated by the trading steamship lines may result in a wholesale exodus from Chicago of many men connected with the late strike. Never before in the history of steamship rates has it been possible to go from Chicago to an European port so cheaply. Since the cut rates have been inaugurated, the exodus from Chicago and the Northwest to various points in Europe has figured up a third of the local traffic to New York, according to estimates of local steamship lines, and the announcement of the last cut in rates has started a real heira of European-born people. Dozens of men who said they were now on strike have been making inquiries at the local steamship offices within the last few days, expressing their intention of going to the "old country" in case the strike was a failure. There was a half-dozen interesting phases of the present situation, and there is much food for thought in the depletion of the standing army of unemployed in this country by return of workers to their homes abroad. It is estimated that before long labor will be at a premium instead of a discount, and there are not a few who figure on a season of prosperity as a consequence of the return to Europe of thousands who have been in the past six months unsuccessful candidates for employment.

That the United States must adopt strict laws regulating the importation of the vicious and ignorant element is as apparent as it is that greater care must be exercised in granting citizenship to a class wholly unfit by nature and education to understand the principles of American government. Every now and then we read the good that may be done by the courts in exercising due discrimination in the issue of naturalization papers. An exchange calls attention to the example set by Judge Butler the other day at Philadelphia, that should be followed by all naturalization courts in refusing naturalization papers to a number of Italians who could not read or write any language. His ground for refusal was that applicants for naturalization are required to take an oath to support the constitution of the United States, and no one can be expected to support and obey that which he does not understand and cannot be taught to understand. If this rule was strictly observed it would debar the alien immigrant, no matter from what country, who cannot read the English language, from acquiring full citizenship.

State Treasurer Metschan informs us that state taxes are coming in more freely than last year, and that he now has funds on hand to meet all demands on the treasury, except warrants on the military fund. That there is still due the state a judgment against Multnomah county for the taxes of 1891, as equalized by the state board, the sum of $66,000. And for 1892 $41,000, making a total due the state from that county the sum of $107,000. This money was not turned over to the state treasurer as it should have been, but was put in the banks. When these banks open the state will probably get its cash.

Japan and China are angry at each other, and war is imminent. The trouble is about the Corea islands, in which there has been Japanese interference, and the great celestial empire is expected not to stand idle while her neighbor increases her territory and influence. As a principle of general philanthropy war is deplorable; but between Mongolians it will not cause as much regret as among more civilized Caucasians.

About $100,000 will be divided among the schools of Oregon this year against $170,000 last year. The decrease is due to the slowness in the payment of interest.

Linseed oil is a sure remedy for both hard and soft corns. If they are indurated and very painful, the relief it gives in a short time is most grateful. Bind on a soft rag saturated with linseed oil, and continue to dampen it with the oil every night and morning until the corn can be removed easily and without pain.

A Birthday Remembrance.

We clip the following from the Saginaw (Michigan) Courier-Herald. Mrs. S. A. Maddock of Condon is a daughter of Mrs. Murphy, in whose honor the party was given:

A very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Margaret Murphy at her residence, 217 Gage street, Monday afternoon, on the seventy-ninth anniversary of her birth. About 20 of her friends gathered, leaving a pretty work basket which they presented her. One of the ladies read the following address:

Please accept this token of esteem from your friends, in it you may keep your odds and ends. Your needles and thread, and also your pins. And know where to find them when work it be-gins. 'Tis not of great value, but it means much to many who think that your friends they have been, and 'tis hoped you will keep it and use it all. And be able to use it to the end of your days. We know you are getting along very old, for this we can see and have also been told, but we hope you will live to wear this one all And we'll get you another when that comes about. We wish you much joy and a long happy life. That will always be bliss without a moment of strife: That your children be spared you to please, comfort and keep. For a great many years before your long sleep. After spending a pleasant afternoon and partaking of supper the friends left wishing her many returns of the day.

A Too Long Delayed Verdict.

"Yes," said the old traveler, "I was on a jury in California once. It was a murder trial. I didn't want the fellow hung, and so stuck out against the other eleven for nine days, locked up in the jury room, when they gave in, and we brought in a verdict of 'not guilty.' And then I was ready to stab myself with spite."

"What about?"

"Cause the mob had hung the prisoner on the first day we were locked up."

The value of a good name was well exemplified the other day, when a man asked one of our druggists for a bottle of Sarsaparilla. "Whose?" inquired the clerk. "Whose? Why, Ayer's, of course. Ye don't suppose I'm going to run any risks with Hannah, do ye?"

Ayer's Hair Vigor has no equal, in merit and efficiency, as a hair dressing and for the prevention of baldness. It eradicates dandruff, keeps the scalp moist, clean and healthy and gives vitality and color to weak, faded and gray hair. The most popular of toilet articles.

A person is prematurely old when baldness occurs before the forty-fifth year. Use Hall's Hair Renewer to keep the scalp healthy and prevent baldness.

"Teaching is the noblest art but the sorriest trade."

P. L. CAMPBELL, Pres. or W. A. WANN, Sec. of Faculty.

The secretary of the Elkhart Carriage and Harness Mfg. Co., of Elkhart, Ind., informs us that their prices will be lower for 1894 than ever. He wishes us to ask our readers not to purchase anything in the line of carriages, wagons, bicycles or harness until they have sent 4 cents in stamps to pay postage on their 112 page catalogue. We advise the readers of this paper to remember his suggestion.

Attention

In time to any irregularity of the Stomach, Liver, or Bowels may prevent serious consequences. Indigestion, costiveness, headache, nausea, biliousness, and vertigo indicate certain functional derangements, the best remedy for which is Ayer's Pills. Purely vegetable, sugar-coated, easy to take and quick to assimilate, this is the ideal family medicine—the most popular, safe, and useful aperient in pharmacy. Mrs. M. A. BROCKWELL, Harris, Tenn., says:

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills cured me of sick headache and my husband of neuralgia. We think there is

No Better Medicine, and have induced many to use it.

"Thirty-five years ago this Spring, I was run down by hard work and a succession of colds, which made me so feeble that it was an effort for me to walk. I consulted the doctors, but kept sinking lower until I had given up all hope of ever being better. Happening to be in a store, one day, where medicines were sold, the proprietor noticed my weak and sickly appearance, and after a few questions as to my health, recommended me to try Ayer's Pills. I had little faith in these or any other medicine, but concluded, at last, to take his advice and try a box. Before I had used them all, I was very much better, and two boxes cured me. I am now 80 years old; but I believe that if it had not been for Ayer's Pills, I should have been in my grave long ago. I buy 6 boxes every year, which make 216 boxes up to this time, and I would no more be without them than without bread."—H. H. Ingraham, Rockland, Me.

To Whom It May Concern.

My son, John Archie Webb, aged 15 years, having left his home on July 9th, without cause, I hereby notify the public that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by him. J. C. WENN, Mayville, Or., July 9, 1894.

Notice.

L. W. Darling has made arrangements with capitalists to buy county scrip. Parties having scrip to their credit in clerk's office can write to Mr. Darling to draw the scrip, and he will remit the proceeds by mail.

A horse kicked H. S. Shaker, of the Freeman House, Middleburg, N. Y., on the knee, which laid him up in bed and caused the knee joint to become stiff. A friend recommended him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did, and in two days was able to be around. Mr. Shaker has recommended it to many others and says it is excellent for any kind of a bruise or sprain. This same remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

W. H. Nelson, who is in the drug business at Kingville, Mo., has so much confidence in Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he warrants every bottle and offers to refund the money to any customer who is not satisfied after using it. Mr. Nelson takes no risk in doing this because the remedy is a certain cure for the diseases for which it is intended and he knows it. It is for sale by all druggists.

Last June, Dick Crawford brought his twelve months old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and being sickly everything ran through it like water through a sieve. I gave it the usual treatment but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25-cent size had been used, a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puffy constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this Remedy. J. T. MARLOW, M. D., Tamaroa, Ill. For sale by all druggists.
