Read the new ad of the O. R. & N. Co., on last page.

Billy Barr made a business trip to Fossil this week.

Shed Grider is doing some carpenter work for Bill Dunlap this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Downing are in Portland this week, having left Tuesday.

Miss Mary Marker of Pine creek is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Wilcox in town.

Our new county assessor, M. O. Clarke, was over from Lone Rock Thursday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Fraser visited their relatives, the Propst family near Clem Sunday.

Miss Bessie Fitzwater has been engaged to teach the Idea school, commencing next Monday.

Mrs. S. A. Maddock made a business trip to The Dalles this week, starting Tuesday and returning Thursday.

Atty. T. R. Lyons made a business trip to Heppner this week on horseback, starting Monday morning. He returned home last night.

Wayne Hamilton of West Fork visited Gilliam's capital Sunday last, and says Condon is the prettiest and liveliest little city he knows of.

County court for Gilliam county meets at Condon next week. The county board of equalization meets Sept. 10th. See notice in GLOBE.

Mrs. Mollie Perrin has reconsidered the matter, and may conclude to not move to Antelope, after all. She did not leave Friday, as stated in the GLOBE.

Mrs. Ed McKinney of Thirtymile has been stopping at Maddock's hotel the last week or so, under medical treatment. Her health has not been good for some time.

We pay annually for education in this country $600,000,000. In this instance the "we" is not used from an editorial standpoint. We make this explanation in good faith.

An Astoria paper says it was so quiet there one day recently that one could hear a note fall due. Wish these quiet times would work that way on some of our delinquents.

And now since that tariff bill passed, placing wool on the "free list," the price of the product has risen two cents a pound, and a still further advance is promised.—East Oregonian.

W. J. Edwards of Mayville drove a bunch of very fine beef cattle to Arlington this week to be shipped to Portland. W. J. is among Gilliam's most careful and successful farmers and stockmen.

J. L. Cary of Mayville was in the city Monday on business. Mr. Cary was elected justice of the peace for Mayville precinct at the June election, and is a very intelligent and agreeable gentleman.

Miss Snell arrived in the city Tuesday. She is a well known teacher of Gilliam county, having taught there eight or nine years, and has served on the county board of examiners.—Times-Mountaineer.

P. C. Buffington of West Fork was a passenger on Wednesday's stage. He was en route to Portland, where his son Eston has been sick for some time. If he is able to travel, his father will bring him home at once.

Andrew Armstrong, who had resided on Savies Island for a number of years, returned to Gilliam county last week with his family, prepared to stay with us hereafter. He is visiting his parents in Ferry Canyon at present.

In a recent issue of the Arlington Record we notice that certain operations—saporotomy and trachelorrhaphy had been performed. "Saporotomy" is good. How would it look to the medical eye had he spelled it "laparotomy"?

G. W. Moore of Hay creek brought a load of fine watermelons and corn to town Tuesday. He has a very good ranch, and as he will have this family paper in his home for the next year to guide him, his success is assured.

Chas. Pinkham and family visited their relatives at Condon the fore part of the week—Sheriff Wilcox and family. Charley has taken up a splendid ranch in the Cove, near the John Day, and has comfortable buildings erected thereon.

J. T. Hays of Arlington was in the city Wednesday with a load of choice fruit. Realizing that life is hardly worth living without the GLOBE, he also had his name placed upon our list. There is still room for more—if applied for soon.

Corvallis Informer: A. S. Henderson, who won the 100-yard foot race in Denver on Aug. 19th in 9 4-5, winning the American championship, is the same "duffer" that defeated Will Ray in this city about a year ago under the name of Sampson.

Our school clerk, J. H. Miller, has notices posted calling for a meeting of the voters of this district on Sept. 8th for the purpose of voting a tax or bonding the district to pay off the indebtedness and for running the school the ensuing term.

L. O. Ralston, the wide-awake and successful merchant of Olex, made a flying business trip to Condon and Fossil this week, returning home today. Mr. Ralston is as full of energy as an egg is of meat, and is one of Gilliam's shrewdest business men.

Snippon Bill Brown this week delivered to the Portland butchers 225 head of beef cattle, receiving therefor 1 1/2 cents for cows and 2 cents for steers. The Brown Bros., Bill and Jim are extensive cattle raisers, and their stock always commands the highest prices.

Sheriff Wilcox is out this week subpoenaing jurors for circuit court, which convenes at Condon on Sept. 17th. It is thought the docket for this term will be disposed of in less time than that of six months ago. Several important criminal cases will come up at this term.

Gid Rains, who was sentenced from Gilliam county a year ago last April to 18 months imprisonment for horse stealing, passed through Condon this week en route to his home near Monument. He was liberated 49 days before the time was up, owing to good behavior.

S. B. Barker this week received from Racine, Wis., eight of those excellent Mitchell road wagons, and has already sold four or five. John Palmer brought them out from Arlington, all in a row, and a pretty sight it was as they came over the hill into town. A new red wagon is what "catches" the small boy.

Times are remarkably dull in legal circles, but when they begin to get better the fraternity will reap a harvest. There are many mortgages that are not foreclosed, simply because the holders are afraid the properties will not sell for enough to pay the mortgages and expenses.

George Washington Goode of Moscow, Idaho, the well known attorney and celebrated jurist, arrived in Condon Wednesday and will remain until after circuit court adjourns. Mr. Goode, accompanied by Dr. Hogan and Atty. T. R. Lyons, will go to Lone Rock the first of next week on legal business.

Miss Lulu Miller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller of this place, left the first of the week for Portland, where she will attend St. Mary's Academy for the next ten months. Miss Lulu is a bright girl and will learn very rapidly. It is needless to add that Ed is the loneliest boy in town since her departure.

Mrs. S. P. Shutt and children and Miss Emma Meek returned home Tuesday from a couple of days visit with their sister at Fossil, Mrs. J. H. Putnam. Mrs. Shutt lost a gold watch and chain somewhere on the road between Mayville and Thirtymile. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving same at the GLOBE office.

Since the return of H. B. Hendricks and Arthur Brandenburg from the mountains our people have been treated to some choice fish and deer stories. Some of them (the stories) are pretty hard to swallow. Hugh says he actually killed two deer and wounded a third—which is pretty hard to swallow, as above stated.

Al Henshaw has just received a very large stock of all kinds of furniture, wall paper, doors, windows, etc., the best ever brought to the country. His prices are so low that it will not pay anyone to send away for anything in his line. Call at his store, inspect his stock and you'll be sure to buy something. His courteous and fair treatment to patrons accounts for his large and rapidly increasing trade.

Among a number of others who presented themselves for naturalization in Judge Belcher's department of the supreme court of San Francisco was Antonio Nordesck, an Italian. He had answered the usual questions to the satisfaction of the court, but when asked what is the name of the president of the United States he promptly answered "Debe." Antonio's application for citizenship was denied.

Joseph Budd of Olex was in town Tuesday on business, and left his measure for a year's worth of GLOBE. Mr. Budd is a Grand Army veteran, and during his 4-years' service in the "late unpleasantness" he was pierced several times by the same kind of lead that sent many a brave man to his long rest during that strife. He was raised at Newcastle, Pa., and has never visited the home of his childhood since leaving there when a boy.

Dr. E. H. Griffin, Arlington's efficient and popular dentist, has been in town since Wednesday engaged at his profession. The doctor is one of the most sociable and interesting old gentlemen one could wish to meet. This may be largely due to the fact that he has been a constant reader of the GLOBE since its birth. Notwithstanding his old age—75 years, the doctor can easily read fine print without spectacles, and has as much vitality as most men at 50.

The Columbia River conference met at The Dalles last week. Among the names of ministers known to our readers having been appointed for the ensuing year are as follows: Geo. E. Rawlins, Wasco; J. W. Dennison, Heppner; G. E. Morehead, Antelope; W. H. Zellers, Fossil; G. W. S. Sturvy, Arlington; Frank Parrish, Pilot Rock; J. W. Rigby, Bickleton; H. Rasmus, Spokane; W. Deweece, Latah; D. L. Spaulding, Edwinton; J. H. Feak, Yakima; J. W. Helm, Ft. Simcoe.

An exchange says girls are of few days and full of mischief, and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. When the fair girl chews her gum with great haste, and stampeth her pretty foot, then look out. She cometh forth in the evening in low neck and short sleeves, but in the morning she lieth in bed while her mother hustleth.

Of course people have a right to get their job printing done wherever they please, but if they would patronize their home offices, and not outside fakirs, they would be just as well off, while the papers would be better off. It is the duty of a home paper to support its own town, and it is also the duty of the citizens, who receive the benefit, to support the home paper.—Exchange.

The editor of this official paper accompanied Assessor Wheeler Sunday last to the beautiful ranch of Geo. Coffin on Thirtymile. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin have as pleasant a home as can be found in this bunchgrass country, and a magnificent orchard surrounds the house, all of which is irrigated by water from the creek. It seems to us they will have fruit of all kinds enough to supply the entire county. Nobody can entertain guests more royally than do Mr. and Mrs. Coffin.

It isn't best to be too sensitive in this rough and tumble world. Don't allow yourself to worry over what people say about you. No matter what you say or do, it will appear different to different eyes. One will pronounce it just the right thing, while others will decide that it is wholly bad. At best you can only please a certain few, while the great majority don't know what you are doing and don't care. Do what you think is best under the circumstances and let the results be what they may.—Exchange.

Banker Joe Thomas and wife of Arlington were in town Sunday and Monday. While here Mr. Thomas sold two lots adjacent to the livery stable to Johnson & Wilcox; two lots in West Condon to Mrs. E. L. Taylor, and one lot to H. B. Hendricks, adjoining his residence property. Mr. Hendricks will build a barn on his new lot this fall. Mr. Thomas is about to sell his fine 1200-acre ranch on Rock creek (formerly owned by French Charley) to a gentleman from Puget Sound.

A man went into a store in a neighboring town and asked if he could rest four or five hours. The proprietor, who had just found a nest of new-born mice in the coffee grinder, told him he could, and then asked him why he didn't go to the hotel. The man replied: "I am suffering from nervous prostration, and the doctor said to get a quiet place to rest, and I see you don't advertise. I knew that I couldn't find a quieter place." And with that he settled back in his chair and watched the swallows build a nest in the cheese case.

The following is from the Budget of Astoria: "One of the most singular friendships I ever saw," said A. R. Mayfield, "is that between a rooster and two cats. The intimacy has lasted two years without a break, bidding fair to continue throughout the lifetime of the fowl and the animals. They are constantly together, the cats following the rooster wherever he goes and he, in turn, calling them up as he would hens whenever he finds food. When night comes he roosts upon a feed box, while the cats sleep together in the box. It is a case of pure infatuation, and the three are inseparable."

Jas. H. Hill, who was elected county surveyor at the recent election, failed to qualify and that office therefore is vacant. We are reliably informed that Val Wheeler will apply to the county court next week for appointment to this position. Val is well qualified for the work and a better man could not be found in the county for that office. His experience as assessor will aid him wonderfully in the work, and he says if he receives the appointment he will procure a first-class solar compass at once for the business. Val also intends to establish himself as land locator for this county. Gilliam county has been sadly in need of just such an institution, and we'll bet our old hat that Val will be able to settle up some of our large tracts of vacant land more rapidly than has that "Arlington Board of Trade" that sprang into existence several years ago.

"Procrastination is the thief of time." This fact has been demonstrated numberless times. One of them was in our people not getting the proper move on towards establishing a normal school here. When the subject was first agitated, Prof. Given, who was to be instructor, informed our people that if they wanted him to teach they would have to let him know within three weeks, as another position as principal awaited him in Indiana. This week while our people were still "talking" about the normal school they received a letter from Mr. Given stating that he had accepted the position at home. So the normal school for Condon has gone by the board, for this year, at least. But there is nothing to hinder us from having a first-class public school. Why not allow the amounts subscribed for the proposed normal to go towards paying a first-class principal, who, no doubt would be as competent a teacher as Prof. Given? With also a first-class teacher as assistant there is nothing to hinder us from having the best public school in Eastern Oregon.

The Dunn-Keizer Wedding.

Married, at The Dalles, Monday evening, Aug. 27, 1894, Mr. Edward Dunn and Miss Cordelia Keizer, both of Condon. They were married in the Catholic church by the Rev. Father Brongest, and a large congregation was present to witness the happy event.

Both contracting parties are among the best people of the county and are held in the highest esteem by all who know them. The bride was one of Gilliam's most charming and accomplished school ma'tams, whose amiable disposition endeared her to everyone. Mr. Dunn is a member of the large mercantile establishment of Miller & Dunn Bros. of Condon. He is a young man of excellent habits and character, whose chances for a long and useful career are exceptionally good.

The bride and groom left Tuesday for a few days' visit in Portland and are expected home tomorrow. Mr. Dunn has engaged the Armory hall and music and invites all his friends and everybody to come out tomorrow (Saturday) evening and enjoy themselves at his expense.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn will go to house-keeping in the Mrs. Brown residence as soon as their furniture, etc. arrives from Portland.

A very large circle of friends join the GLOBE in wishing the happy couple a long and happy life.

In a private letter to her folks, Miss Lulu Miller, who accompanied them to Portland, says that the boat on which they were passengers, struck a rock at Cascade Locks and sank within a few minutes. All got off safely, waited for the next boat, and proceeded merrily on to the city.

Arlington Items.

Mose Kirby is learning to ride the bicycle.

Mrs. Sweet is at The Dalles attending conference and visiting.

J. W. Miller and daughter of Matney Flat were in town last Thursday.

G. W. Rinehart of Condon came in on Sunday night, returning Monday.

Mr. Cook and family of the Junction house will move to town this week.

J. R. Phillips brought in some fine beef cattle last week from Rock creek.

Mr. Sullivan and family have moved to town, and expect to make this their home.

Jas. Blalock, who had been in the Sound country for several years has returned.

Rev. R. C. Motor has been reappointed presiding elder and will continue to live here.

Many threshers and wagons are constantly going out to supply the wants of our farmers.

Andy Cochran and wife of Rock creek will move to town soon and will remain during the winter.

W. E. Fowler returned last Thursday. He was sick for some time while in the East, but will soon be himself again.

Rev. Strong and wife from Pennsylvania arrived here Tuesday. He has been appointed to this circuit and will reside in Arlington.

Squire Ebi's team became frightened Monday night and ran for some distance before he could secure the lines, when he soon called a halt.

Hon. J. E. David of Blalock made a trip to this place Tuesday. We expect to see some good work done by Mr. David for Eastern Oregon at the coming session of the legislature.

Wednesday of this week Ross Beardsley, N. Baird and W. E. Fowler started on horseback for Malheur lake. They took two pack-horses and expect to be gone several weeks. They will doubtless have a pleasant trip, as all of them are good jovial fellows.

On Tuesday Robt. Hartnett assaulted and beat our wagon-maker, Frank, for which he was arrested on the following day and brought before Judge Ebi. Atty. S. A. D. Gurley appeared for the state. Defendant was fined $20 and costs, which he paid.

Messrs. C. W. Shurte and Walter Compton and families left last Friday for the Mountains in Wash., to be gone for about two weeks. Judging from the number of German almanacs Frank put up for them we expect them to return thorough German scholars.

Home Again.

H. B. Hendricks and family and Arthur Brandenburg returned from the Cascade mountains Friday. They report having had a fine time, and had lots of fish and venison on the trip. With H. B. as nirmod and Arthur as fisherman, they are a hard crowd to beat. They report bruin and berries scarce in the mountains, but they brought home jerked venison and salted and canned trout to convince us they had the genuine article and not second-hand. Atty. Hunsford and his estimable wife joined the company at Moro and were with the crowd until their return to Antelope. This crowd, like all others who go for health, pleasure and fun, tell some amusing stories and anecdotes and the one we have in mind just now is on Arthur B., who chased the polecat, thinking it was a porcupine. The polecat has a "peculiar" way of making his presence conspicuous which the porcupine has not and which fact Arthur discovered himself.
