GLOBOSITIES.

See change of dates in county treasurer's notice.

Rev. E. Curran will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening.

Miss Nettie Schilling began teaching the Lower Ferry Canyon school Monday last.

Dr. Hogan visited his son, John W. Hogan, at Lone Rock a couple of days this week.

Our rustling harnessmaker, Gene Smith, made a flying business trip to the city of Ajax Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hamilton of Fossil made a trip to Arlington this week, returning home Wednesday.

Mrs. Lamberson left Wednesday for a visit to her daughter, Mrs. John Beardsley, who lives near Portland.

A foot race is to be run in Moro on Oct. 12th or 13th, between Boon Wheat and E. M. Shutt for $100 a side.—Observer.

Miss Lettie Lamberson returned home several days ago from Arlington where she had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Palmer.

The financial statements of the county officers this week will prove interesting reading matter to our taxpayers. Read them carefully.

Some of the finest corn we have ever seen was left this office Tuesday, which was raised by J. K. Fitzwater on his excellent farm in Ferry Canyon.

John Meek, who has been visiting his relatives here the last three weeks, left yesterday for Prosser, Wash., where he will spend the winter attending sheep.

S. B. Barker made a business trip to Portland this week, starting Monday. He will buy a large and choice stock of fall and winter merchandise for his store.

Mr. Lamberson and family of Ferry Canyon moved to town Tuesday to remain here during the winter for school purposes. They occupy the Plater house.

Joe Potter has moved his jewelry shop from the photograph gallery to the small building next door to Maddock's hotel. Call and see him, especially the ladies.

Mr. M. Fitzmaurice of Rowe creek went to Arlington this week to bring home his daughter Mary, who has been visiting friends in Arlington for two months.

The man who promised to come around after harvest and settle his back subscription will receive a cordial reception now that "harvest is over and summer's almost gone."

R. E. Lindsay received the sad news Monday by telegraph from Portland that his wife had suddenly grown worse and was not expected to live. He left at once for Portland.

If you desire to win the $10,000 farm, subscribe for the Examiner through the Globe man, who is agent for this section. Subscription price $1.50 a year. Now is the time to subscribe.

Hon. Wm. Hughes and Miles McKelvey of Heppner were over to Condon several days this week on business. Mr. McKelvey formerly was in the sheep business in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hickson of Rowe creek stopped in town Tuesday. Mrs. Hickson was on her way to Portland to have her eyes treated by Dr. Brown, the oculist, for cataracts, which have tormented her.

Charley Perrin, the Antelope harness man is in town on business. He informs us that his mother is not so well satisfied at Antelope as she was at Condon. It is impossible to find a better place than Condon for anything.

If there were more men like W. G. Flett, editors would not need to worry their brains out dunning delinquent subscribers. Monday he paid up his back subscription and two years in advance. Delinquents, how does that "strike" you?

Geo. Hansen and Ed Meek arrived home Monday from McDuffey hot springs in Grant county, where they had been for three weeks. They both are much benefited in health and speak in glowing terms of the curative powers of the hot water.

W. L. Barker and family moved into their town residence this week from Matney Flat, in order that their children may have the benefit of our school this winter. A number of outside families expect to move to town also for school purposes this fall.

Mrs. Nellie Barnard and little son Harold, and Hon. T. B. Hoover of Fossil were passengers on Tuesday's stage, the former en route to visit her old home at Summit, Benton county, where she will spend the winter with her parents, and the latter to Portland on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hendricks and daughter Daisy went to Lone Rock last week, where they were joined by their relatives, Andrew Neel and family and together they spent several days very pleasantly in the Camas Prairie country picnicking. They returned Sunday.

Tom McMorris and family of Trail Fork moved this week to Howell, Marion county, where his wife's folks reside. Tom thinks he will try his luck in the valley awhile, but it is a safe bet that he will be back to this section again within a year. His wife's maiden name was Miss Fannie Wooley.

The nominees of the republicans in Washington for congress are W. H. Doolittle and S. C. Hyde. "Do little and hide" is a very appropriate motto for congressmen generally.

Miss Minette Ashby, an accomplished young lady of Salem, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. H. P. Steers at Fossil for several weeks, visited her former school mate, Miss Birdie Downing, at Condon Saturday and Sunday. They attended the Sacred Heart Academy at Salem together three years ago.

Misses Louella and Mary Maddock visited the latter part of last week at the pleasant home of B. Kiely on Eight-mile. Miss Ella Kelly returned home recently from an extended visit to friends in Portland. Her younger sister, Miss Katie Kiely, expects to attend St. Mary's Academy in The Dalles this winter.

Ed Nelson, the stage man, returned home Saturday from Pendleton, where he had been on the sad mission of attending the funeral of his father, John Nelson, who died at his home in that city on Sept. 29th. The old gentleman had been ill for some time with complaints common to people of his age, being 87 years old.

Two hanging lamps were raffled off at the drug store Saturday evening by high dice. One of them was won by Val Wheeler by a throw of 43, and the other was won by Sylvan Palmer by a throw of 41. A half-dozen or more had not yet thrown the dice when Palmer sold his chance and the $12.50 lamp to Arthur Brandenburg for $4.

The only criminal case tried in Sherman county, at the term of court just closed, was that of Anderson Morris who was charged with an assault with a dangerous weapon. Morris and Jacob Brock had a dispute in the harvest field about two months ago, when Morris struck Brock in the eye with a pocket knife. He was found guilty and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Rev. Zeller of Fossil, the new Methodist minister, preached two very interesting and instructive sermons at Condon Sunday last. Mr. Zeller is a very intelligent gentleman and one of the most accomplished orators we have heard in this country. This was his first visit to Condon and he has made a very favorable impression upon our people. He expects to preach here one Sunday in each month hereafter.

Charley Gross met with a very painful accident Sunday morning at his home just north of town. He was trying to put a bridle on a young horse when the vicious brute caught his hand in his mouth, gnawing it in a horrible manner and biting clean through one finger, bone and all. He came to town at once and had the frightful wounds dressed by Dr. Hogan. It will be fully a month before he will have the use of his hand again, which is very unfortunate, especially during the busiest part of the season.

Friday last our directors received word from Prof. O. H. Parker of the Chemewa Indian school, who had been engaged to teach our school this winter, that he had found it impossible to leave there in time to take charge of this school. It is quite a disappointment to our people, and it is not yet known who will be employed as principal. However, the school was commenced Monday last with Miss Ethel Parman as teacher, who will conduct the school alone until a principal is secured, when Miss Parman will take charge of the primary department.

Miss Estella Flett and her brother John of Rowe creek are among the pupils from a distance who will attend our school this winter. They are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Mont Ward, their father, W. G. Flett, bringing them to town the first of the week. W. G. is a very intelligent and honorable gentleman himself and fully realizes the importance of giving his children a good education—something when once attained can never be taken from them. Our country needs many more men with the energy and sound judgment that is possessed by W. G. Flett.

Wedding Bells.

Married, at Arlington on Wednesday morning, Oct. 10, 1894, Mr. Geo. R. Hanna and Miss Anger Landree, Judge O. S. Elbi performing the ceremony.

Miss Landree's home is in Salisbury, Mo., and it was while visiting her sister, Mrs. Lee, on Rock creek two years ago that she met the ideal of her affections and fate. Mr. Hanna owns a splendid farm near Olex and is one of our most industrious and honest young farmers. The bride arrived at Arlington from Missouri on Wednesday morning's train and was met at the depot by her intended husband. They proceeded at once to the hotel, where Judge Elbi pronounced the words that made them man and wife, and they then proceeded to the groom's home, which was comfortably prepared for the occasion. Their many friends join the Globe in hearty congratulations.

Married, at the home of the bride's brother, Robt. M. Johnson, near Lone Rock on Tuesday, Oct. 9, 1894, Mr. Hugh B. Neill and Miss Belle Johnson. The groom came to that section several years ago from San Jose, Cal., and has since been in the employ of Bob Johnson, working with sheep and the blacksmithing business. The happy young couple expect to move to San Jose this fall where they will make their future home. They have a host of friends who tender good wishes.
