

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1895.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.00, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

G. J. Caven of Pine creek was in town yesterday.

About five inches of snow covers this favored portion of Uncle Sam again.

M. O. Clarke is assisting in the clerk's office this week, in the absence of Mr. Lucas.

See the new livery stable ad of Chas. Fix, who asks for a share of the public patronage.

Born—At Condon, Thursday night, Jan. 17, 1895, to the wife of Wm. Caldwell, a son.

Mrs. S. A. Maddock and Frank arrived home yesterday from a week's visit in Portland.

Pat Skelly informs a GLOBE reporter that he will be married the 15th of next month. Who can guess the lucky damsel?

Miss Lulu Miller left today to resume her studies in St. Mary's academy in Portland, after a couple of weeks' visit at her home here.

Dr. A. I. Nicklin, formerly of this city, has been sued by the Pacific university, in Portland, on mortgages aggregating $8,300.—Engene Guard.

We received for publication this week a letter from Mayville, "roasting" a prominent Pop into a crisp. We refrain from publishing same, as we are not in that line of business.

The West Side, published at Independence, Polk county, says: B. L. Lucas and wife will move to Portland next week, where Bert has accepted a position with a bicycle firm in that city.

Tom Young holds the belt in this section for large hogs, so far as heard from. Saturday last he butchered two hogs, sixteen months old, which weighed 475 and 420 pounds, respectively. Who can beat it?

Bob Galbraith, who sold some cattle to F. M. Lacey last week and helped to ship them to Portland, arrived home Wednesday. Bob is a careful stockman and has made a barrel of money in the business.

The GLOBE has received an order to print posters and cards for a masquerade ball at Arlington on Feb. 19th, which promises to eclipse any affair of the kind ever given in the county. The ball will be given by the K. of P. lodge.

Mrs. Jennie Graham, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. G. S. Clark at Condon several weeks, left Tuesday with her children for her home in Oregon City. Mrs. Clark's health is somewhat better than it had been.

We acknowledge a pleasant call Wednesday morning from Mr. S. Collins of Arlington, formerly the U. P. agent at that place. Mr. Collins is a very agreeable and intelligent gentleman, and has been reading law for some time. He expects to be admitted to the bar before long.

Heppner Gazette: Attorney T. R. Lyons accompanied Mrs. Dawson and the remains of her son to Monmouth, from whence he will return to Heppner in about a week to straighten up the affairs of Mr. Dawson's estate and take charge of the office affairs of the law firm of Ellis & Dawson.

Butte City, Mont., was visited Wednesday by a million dollar fire. The flames reached a warehouse in which were three carloads of giant powder. It exploded killing nearly 100 people, mostly firemen, and wounding several hundred others. Nearly all the windows in the city were broken.

Last week's Fossil Journal was not printed until yesterday—just a week behind time. For nearly a year it has been a week behind, and the wonder is that it does not "skip" one issue and catch up. Nobody would miss it—or care, for that matter. It is a "fossilized" concern, sure enough.

Last week sixteen as fine hogs as ever grunted were butchered for J. L. Cooper on his place on Beecher Flat. Mrs. Cooper brought a load of most excellent sausage to town Monday, which "went like hot cakes." We are glad to report that Mr. Cooper is rapidly recovering the use of his arm, which was broken several weeks ago.

Arthur Brandenburg has closed up his confectionery store and restaurant at Condon, and thinks of locating at Moro, Sherman county. He went over to Moro this week to see about renting a building suitable for a store and barber shop. He informs us that if he locates there, Ed Trimble will learn the barbering business under him.

The GLOBE has just been re-designated the Official Paper for Gilliam county, which position it has merited and occupied for the last four years. It has also just had its 5th yearly contract renewed with the O. R. & N. Ry. Co., a mark of distinction that ought not to leave any doubt in the minds of the public that the GLOBE is the leading paper of the county. It has about three times more bona fide subscribers than any other paper in Gilliam county.

Eston Buffington was examined by county judge and Dr. W. H. Saylor at Portland Tuesday and ordered committed to the insane asylum. He is 26 years of age, and hails from Fossil, Gilliam county. He was born on French prairie. Using cocaine and morphine indiscriminately dethroned Buffington's reason. When under its influence he is uncontrollable and liable to inflict bodily harm upon any one within his immediate reach.—Oregonian.

The state tax levy for 1895 has been fixed at 3 mills, as against 4 3/10 mills last year. As will be seen by the published county court proceedings this week, the levy for this county has been fixed at 9 mills for county purposes (same as last year) and 4 mills for school purposes, as against 3 mills last year. Thus the total tax levy this year will be 13 mills, which our taxpayers will be called upon to pay soon. The total tax levy last year was 16 2/3 mills.

The Oregon legislature convened at Salem Monday. We are pleased to note that Senator W. W. Steiwer of Gilliam was honored with the election of temporary president of the senate, having received more votes for the position than all the other nominees combined. Hon. Joe Simon was elected permanent president, and the legislative mill is grinding away at a lively rate. The most exciting feature of the session will be the election next Tuesday of J. N. Dolph for the U. S. senate.

Messrs. S. Collins, R. Ed Smith, Ross Beardsley and C. S. Wenner of Arlington attended a meeting of the Condon K. of P. lodge Tuesday night, and assisted in conferring the degrees upon new members. This lodge is becoming very popular and is receiving many new members here. Mr. Collins is Past Chancellor of the K. of P. Lodge, No. 25 at Arlington. His lodge has just presented him with a beautiful Knights' emblem, which he wears for a watch-charm, and of which he is very proud.

A dispatch from The Dalles to the Oregonian, dated Jan. 10th, says: Hon. W. W. Steiwer, joint senator for Gilliam, Sherman and Wasco counties, is in the city, en route to Salem. While here, he was consulted with by a number of citizens, relative to matters pertaining to this section. There will be one or more schemes to cut off portions of Wasco county to aid various villages which aspire to the dignity of being county seats, and the members from neighboring counties will go to Salem forwarmed. Mr. Steiwer has expressed himself as favorable to the re-election of Senator Dolph.

A year ago Wasco county warrants were selling at 90 cents; now it is hard to get them at 95 cents, and they are continually going up. They will soon be at par, as they were before the financial depression began. A corresponding rise has occurred in Dalles city warrants, which are now selling for 95 cents on the dollar.—Times Mountaineer. [The treasurer of Wasco county advertises that all warrants registered prior to Feb. 1, 1891, will be paid. Just why Wasco county warrants, four years behind, sell at 95 on the dollar, and only 90 on the dollar is all that can be had for Gilliam county warrants, only 18 months behind, is difficult to explain. Will some one explain the mystery?]

Death of J. W. Dawson.

His former law partner, T. R. Lyons, received a message Sunday morning from Heppner conveying the sad news of the death of J. W. Dawson, who died in that city at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, after a brief illness with pneumonia. Mr. Lyons and J. P. Lucas, an old friend of the deceased, left at once for Heppner and also attended the burial, which took place Tuesday at McMinnville, Yamhill county.

The deceased was one of the most talented and highly respected young men of Eastern Oregon. His parents reside in Polk county, this state, where he passed his earlier years, and was highly esteemed. He was a graduate of Ann Arbor college; located in Heppner about two years ago, and soon after formed a partnership with Representative Ellis and T. R. Lyons of Condon, with whom he has since been associated in the practice of law.

A dispatch from Heppner, dated Jan. 14th, says: The remains of J. W. Dawson will be sent to McMinnville for interment. The funeral services were held at the Methodist Episcopal church, South, tonight. The largest congregation that ever gathered at the church listened to the sermon, which was delivered by Rev. F. C. Adams. The business houses were all closed this evening in honor of the dead, and a general air of sorrow prevailed in our little city.

Arlington Items.

Miss Grace Redford has about recovered from her illness.

Phil Heppner spent several days in Portland last week.

More snow is falling today and snow balling is all the rage.

A. C. Hawson is doing business in the metropolis of Oregon.

Several members of the K. of P. were out to Condon this week.

Frank Stephens of Condon was in Arlington on business last week.

The reading circle met at J. M. Johns' residence Wednesday evening.

Shurte Bros. have been making some improvements in the postoffice.

There is to be a ball here this Friday night. All are invited to attend.

Our marshal was busy scraping snow from the street crossings last week.

F. M. Shurte is quite ill at the home of his son, C. A. Shurte in this city.

Dr. Z. T. Dodson and daughter Mabel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. D. Gurley last Sunday and Monday.

Notices are up for a special school meeting to be held Jan. 24th. Our citizens never refuse to vote a tax for school purposes.

The little friends of Lissa Maguire gave her a pleasant surprise party one evening of last week, the occasion being the anniversary of her birth.

County Court Proceedings of Gilliam county, Oregon, January term, 1895.

Viewers report for county road No 84 read a second time and read ordered open. People make a grand mistake these hard times when they send away for necessities of life. Do your trading at home and thus help the local merchants along. Think of the times they have carried you through when you were out of cash; and when you want to make purchases for cash patronize those who have accommodated you. This rule applies to all kinds of business.

Lone Rock Riplets.

There are a lot of competitors in bed colds here just now.

Rev. Bramblet and daughter Rose went down to Willow creek last Friday where he will hold a protracted meeting, so we understand.

There was a change of 41 degs. in the temperature last week in just 30 minutes. How is that for quick work in the weather business.

The weather has been very mild for the last few days. Several inches of snow fell here Wednesday night. Those who were feeding sheep some time ago have turned their flocks out on the range to grass.

Last Friday Dr. E. R. Hunlock and wife arrived at Lone Rock to make it their future home. They brought with them a full line of drugs, which this place is very much in need of. The doctor will move his stock of drugs into the R. G. Robinson store building, where he will do a fine business—if he will only put an ad in the GLOBE.

The three hunters we spoke of last week that started for Wall creek have returned, bringing back two deer. They say they did not get lost, but they "fetched up" in the Gilliam Bros. pasture in Corneob—not by any means in the direction of Wall creek, which looks strange to us. We refrained from giving their names last week so will not this. "Put up" boys, or the whole thing will go next week.

The man who wants us farmers to use wide-tired wagons, and compel us to do so by law, had better bag his head. If they are so much better than the narrow-tired wagons all one will have to do is to introduce them and farmers will use them—as they are the ones that keep up the roads of the county, and not the fellows who go to Salem and engineer some scheme through the legislature for a few dollars. It is rather unpleasant, we will admit, for a man to run into a chuck hole with a buggy when he is running over the county electioneering, but if the farmers can stand it he ought to. The poor farmer has to haul all his wheat and other produce over the same road and if there is any kicking let him do it. We will adopt anything that will benefit us without being compelled by law to do so. J. Dos.

Opposed to the Salary Law.

The Sentinel presents some plain arguments against high salaries and the salary law. It says:

"We are uncompromisingly in favor of a reduction in the salaries of county officers; also that the salary law be abolished. When the salaries were established they may not have been too high, but now they are out of all proportion to the price of labor or the price of products. The officer who at the present time draws a salary of $1500 per year can with the proceeds purchase 6000 bushels of wheat. The officer whose salary is $2500 per year can purchase 10,000 bushels of wheat with it, or the equivalent of a hard year's labor for twelve men. That is too much of a discrimination in favor of a man with a four-dollar education, who hasn't the energy or business ability to earn one-fourth that much money in private business. Citizens paying taxes on property worth $30,000 and $40,000 are not making that much money. If wages and products must henceforth be at the lowest possible ebb, high salaries must go. The farmer who supplies the market with 25 cent wheat, the miller who grinds out flour for fifty cents per sack, the merchant whose custom comes from poorly paid laborers, all of these, cannot pay these outrageously high salaries, and they must go."
