DEFIED THE JUDGE.

A Chicago Jury Refused to Render a Verdict as Ordered.

CHICAGO, January 18.—Never has a United States Court in Chicago been the witness of such a scene as occurred in Judge Seaman's court to-day. An entire jury rebelled against the order of the Judge, and, though eleven of the jurors afterward submitted to the direction of the court, one juror, Julius Clayton, refused even under protest to obey the court. With a long imprisonment staring him in the face for contempt of court he was firm, and at the close of the day scored a victory over the Judge. The jury was sitting on a damage suit of Mary Cahill vs. the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, which began January 7. Miss Cahill was seriously injured at the Eighty-second street crossing by a switch engine owned by the defendant road. In the evidence before the court the brakeman and engineer admitted the facts as stated. The attorney representing the road made a motion, after the evidence was in, that a non-suit be entered on the ground that there was no responsibility attached to the road, as the action of the switch engine crew was not wanton or willful, and that the plaintiff was a trespasser. The jury was requested to retire, and the motion was argued. Judge Seaman said he would grant the motion and order the non-suit. After a hot wrangle between the attorneys Judge Seaman delivered his charge to the jury. He said, he said, nothing but sympathy for the woman, but under the circumstances there was nothing for the jury to do but to render a verdict for the defendants. He continued: "This must be your verdict. So say you all?" Not a man of the twelve moved or made a motion of assent. On the faces of the jurors was seen a dogged determination. Later on all but Juror Clayton acquiesced in the Judge's opinion. The case was finally dismissed on the stipulation that the order of dismissal should be equivalent to the rendering of a verdict by the jury on order of the court and under the protest of the jury. The jury was anxious to render a verdict of $24,000 for the woman.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Sentiment in Congress Not Favorable to the President's Suggestions.

NEW YORK, January 18.—The Sun's Washington correspondent telegraphs the following: An inquiry among Senators and Representatives fails to develop a sentiment in either House favoring the legislation recommended by the President in his recent message to amend the Hawaiian treaty so that the consent of this government can be secured for the construction of a cable under English auspices from Vancouver to Australia via Honolulu. The President's recommendation has not only brought to the surface all the opposition to a British cable, but has stirred up the friends of the American project who have not been active during the present Congress. Already several members have in preparation bills authorizing the laying of a Hawaiian cable under the patronage of the United States. One of the members of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, who does not wish to be quoted because he may be called upon to vote in the committee, in explaining why there could be no legislation as recommended by the President said to-day: "The request on behalf of Great Britain is made in order that it may secure a military cable in the Pacific Ocean, as it has one in the Atlantic Ocean and everywhere else. If this cable should be landed in Hawaii with the consent of the United States, it would be found that, if an emergency should arise, the United States could not send a single order for the movement of any of its warships over it. Great Britain seeks with this cable to strengthen its military arms. The permission which is sought for in this message of President Cleveland, I can assure you, will never be granted by the United States Congress."

PEOPLE'S CHOICE

The Officers Who Will Serve the State for Four Years.

THEIR FAC-SIMILE PORTRAITS

With Brief Biographical Sketches of the Men Who Proved to be in Sympathy With the Masses—Governor William P. Lord.

Governor William P. Lord was born in Dover, Del., in 1838. He graduated from college in 1860, just as the country when he resumed his interrupted legal studies. He was afterward appointed Lieutenant of the Second Artillery and detained for service on the Pacific Coast. In 1868 he resigned from the army and commenced practicing law at Salem, Or. In 1878 he was elected State Senator for Marion county, and resigned to accept the dignified position of Judge of the Supreme Court in 1880. For fourteen years Judge Lord was universally recognized as one of the most distinguished jurists on the Coast. As Chief Executive of the commonwealth of Oregon William P. Lord will undoubtedly add new laurels to those which have already crowned his life and fill the gubernatorial chair in a manner creditable to the State which elected him.

Harrison R. Kincaid. H. R. Kincaid, Secretary of State, was born in Indiana in 1836, and crossed the plains to Oregon as a pioneer in 1853.

At Eugene of the Oregon State Journal, a newspaper which is recognized all over the State as one of the leading framers of public opinion in Oregon. Mr. Kincaid was clerk in the United States Senate from 1868 to 1879. Since 1881 Mr. Kincaid has resided in Eugene and devoted himself to editorial work. He is looked upon as a man of splendid intelligence, sound ideas on all public questions and unblemished character.

G. M. Irwin. G. M. Irwin, Superintendent of Public Instruction, was born in Ohio, and received his education at the Ohio Wesleyan University. His early years were spent in Illinois, and he enlisted in the army from that State upon the outbreak of the war and made a meritorious record for himself in many of the historic battles of the great rebellion.

In 1880 Mr. Irwin came to Oregon, and has since his arrival been prominently connected with the educational affairs of the State. For many years he was President at the Blue Mountain University in Eastern Oregon, and that institution prospered under his supervision. Since 1888 Mr. Irwin has been active in political affairs, and was an elector on the Republican Presidential ticket in 1892. His election as Superintendent of Public Instruction, for which position a bitter fight was waged, set the stamp of public approval upon Mr. Irwin's career in Oregon.

C. M. Idleman.

C. M. Idleman, Attorney-General, was born in the Buckeye State 37 years ago, and his early education and initiation into the practical affairs of life were had in that State. His first start was made in the railway mail service on the Baltimore and Ohio line. He devoted all the time at his disposal to the study of law, and in 1883 was admitted to practice in the courts of Ohio. Mr. Idleman came to Oregon in 1885, and in copartnership with two well-known jurists established the firm of Johnson, McCown & Idleman. This firm immediately took high rank in the profession, and Mr. Idleman has personally conducted many important cases with distinguished success. Professionally and socially Mr. Idleman is regarded as one of the brightest and most talented young men of the State, and his election to the high office of Attorney-General is universally looked upon as a just recognition of his merits.

Phil Metschan.

Phil Metschan, State Treasurer, was born in Germany, but came to this country at an early age, and possesses all the distinguishing traits of a stalwart Americanism combined with the genial, frank manner for which the Teutonic character is noted. Mr. Metschan located at Cincinnati on his arrival in America, and has since resided at different times in Kansas, Colorado and California. He commenced life as a butcher, but has since been engaged in extensive mercantile affairs, and is to-day looked upon as a leader in public affairs. During a long residence in Grant county he filled many important offices with great credit. He was County Treasurer of Grant for three terms and County Judge from 1882 to 1886. In 1890 the Republican party, recognizing his sterling ability and purity of character, nominated Phil Metschan for State Treasurer, and he filled the office so successfully that he was renominated and re-elected in 1894 by a large majority over his Democratic and Populist opponents.

W. H. Leeds.

W. H. Leeds, State Printer, was born in New Jersey, and is still under 40 years of age. In 1877 Mr. Leeds moved to Tacoma, Wash., where he engaged in the newspaper and printing business until 1878, when he took up a permanent abode at Ashland, establishing the Ashland Tidings, which stands to-day among the leading journals of Southern Oregon. Not only in that section, but throughout the entire State, the Tidings has become a household word as a strong, brainy journal. Until his nomination for State Printer by the Republicans in 1891 Mr. Leeds had always refused to run for any office. He is well equipped for the position to which he was elected, and will bring the result of years of practical experience to bear in the discharge of his duties. Through his journal Mr. Leeds has for many years been the mainstay of his party in Jackson, Josephine, Lake and Klamath counties, and his selection for the office of State Printer by the Republicans is only a well-deserved reward for his work.

Bryan's Seigniorage Coinage Bill.

WASHINGTON, January 18.—Bryan of Nebraska has introduced a bill in the House to provide for the coinage of the seigniorage. A feature of the bill provides that any person presenting to the treasury greenbacks or treasury notes and demanding their redemption in gold or silver for the purpose of embarrassing the government, injuring its credit or compelling or securing an issue of bonds shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction be punished by imprisonment for not less than five years.

The Cruiser Olympia.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 17.—The great 8,500-ton United States cruiser Olympia will, it is said, be turned over to the government on February 1. Only a few finishing touches are necessary, and when she arrives at the navy yard she will be ready for service after shipping her stores and ammunition.

Reported Landing Near Wei Hai Foo.

LONDON, January 17.—A Chefoo dispatch says it is rumored the Japanese have landed in Shang Tung near Wei Hai Foo, and that the British fleet is cruising in the waters in the vicinity, watching the movements of the invading force.

He settled at once at Eugene, where he remained for two years. In 1855 he was imbued with the prevailing mining fever and tried his luck in the gold camps of California. Not finding the life to his taste, Mr. Kincaid returned to Eugene, and has since been a prominent character in the world of journalism as well as in political affairs. In 1880 he was both compositor and editor of The People's Press, an influential journal of that time, and in 1884 commenced the publication of the Oregon State Journal.
