

E. Y. Judd has recently returned from an extended trip to Europe and the Holy Land. Mr. Judd is largely interested in the Pendleton Wool Mills and gives the East Oregonian of that place an interesting interview. He says that Eastern Oregon wools are in strong demand in the Eastern markets and while the market will open low he expects it to gain strength as the season advances. Mr. Judd believes wools will open at a trifle lower than the ruling prices of last year, but by the time the season commences here, May 1, when the mill starts up in Pendleton, the demand, now growing better, will have caused such an advance as will at least cause customers to realize last year's prices. Oregon wools are in big demand compared with wools from other sections, and Pendleton scoured wools are high up in the estimation of Eastern buyers, on account of being free from short California wools, its long staple and the fact that it can be depended on for even quality. This year Pendleton will handle 5,000,000 pounds, making it the largest shipping point in Oregon.

There are many administrators and executors, and the last legislature enacted a law materially affecting their duties. The new law says: "An executor or administrator, within the first ten days of April and October of each year, until discharged from their trust, shall file with the clerk a verified account, showing the amount of money received and expended, from whom received and to whom paid, with proper vouchers for such payment, the amount of claims presented and whether allowed or disallowed, and any other matters necessary to show the condition of the affairs of such estate." If an executor or administrator has been appointed only sixty days when the first of April or October comes around, he is excepted under the law from filing this account. The law does not go into effect until May 24th, hence the filing of these accounts will not be necessary during the first ten days of the coming year.

Enough the late congress erred some things it was not without virtue. It left the poor man a legacy that he should not overlook. It reduced the tribute levied on necessities and reduced the cost of them, and left the income tax to collect from the rich the amount of revenue lost by the tariff reduction. It sought to reduce the tax burdens of the poor by levying a heavier assessment on the rich. More of such legislation would serve to arrest the further pauperizing of the masses for the benefit of the classes. If its laws are allowed to stand, time will vindicate the wisdom and the good intentions of the congress whose life went out March 4th.—Ex.

Eli Perkins says: Wages get lower as we go east. Here are carpenters' wages all over the world: America, $3; England, $1.50; Belgium, $1, Germany, 75 cents; Austria, 50 cents; Italy and Hungary, 25 cents; Turkey, 15 cents; China, 7 cents; Japan, 15 cents. Each low wage country can manufacture and ship to the next higher wage country, but not vice versa. America can not hope to ship to Germany until free trade shall reduce our wage to theirs. This would come with free trade. It is only protection that can prolong the dreadful day.

China and Japan are about to shake hands and declare the war off. To bring about this result, China has agreed to acknowledge the independence of Corea, and to pay to Japan a cash indemnity of not to exceed $250,000,000 in gold coin. The war has been the means of making some pretty good foot-racers out of the Chinese. When it comes to "waslin'" a pot of rice or rats the Chinese take the bakery, but they are not in it on the battle field. The roar of a cannon scares a Chinaman so that he never stops running until he breaks his neck.

J. W. Redington, editor of the Puyallup Commerce, Wash., has drafted and presented to the legislature a bill, which should become a general law. It provides that all newspapers, periodicals and magazines printed and published in the state of Washington shall hereafter be entitled to own and operate real estate, print shops, printers' devils and other personal property to the value of $10,000 without paying any taxes thereon, and shall in all respects be entitled to exemptions as are churches, schools and other educational institutions.—Ex.

A Roseburg republican paper says: There are some few people in the country who assert that the new tariff law is responsible for the dull times. This is silly talk to come from republicans when it is a fact that the present tariff is little, if any, lower on the average than the republican tariff up to the date of the enactment of the McKinley law only five years ago. And it was under such a tariff system that these same republicans declare the country grew to wealth and prosperity.

The Arlington Record man is a great prophet. He undertakes to predict what course Senator McBride will pursue during the entire six years for which he is elected. We suggest that the state weather bureau be dispensed with, and that people look to the Record man for weather indications, as well as all other things that are to take place in the future.—St. Helens Mist.

The herd of camels that ranges between the Gila and Colorado rivers, in the plains below the Eagle Tail mountains of Arizona, is said to be increasing rapidly. It numbers upward of 400, despite the fact that many are killed and sold to miners for beef, and others are captured for circus troupes. This herd now forms the main supply for the showmen.

It is discovered that under a strict construction of the law of 1893, allowing discharged convicts $5, a $15 suit of clothes and transportation to his former residence, is no longer in force, no appropriation for this purpose having been made by the last legislature; and Salem people are worrying lest convicts be turned loose there ragged and "broke."

It is currently reported that an effort will be made by some disappointed politicians to defeat John H. Mitchell and W. R. Ellis two years hence. If either of the two men is the choice of the people, they will be returned to congress, but no ring combination will ever displace either of them.—Long Creek Eagle.

We are in receipt of a communication from George Gould of New York, asking the GLOBE to contradict the statement sent out by the Associated Press that his sister had paid the Count de Castellane $2,000,000 to marry her. George says there's nothing in it, and we hope he isn't lying about it.

Count de Castellane will surely be spoiled if he wasn't raised a pet. A cigar-maker in New York made 2500 cigars for the count which cost $1.50 each. It took two months to fill the order. At this rate the Anna Gould millions will soon go up in smoke, providing there's not a string to them.

Any fool can cry down his town but the sensible man will speak well of it, endure the evils in hopes they may grow less, and in the meantime squeal less and root for a living. Loafers and deadbeats are a class that are always "hard-up," no matter how good the times are.—Leader.

The beef market is rapidly improving and has reached the highest point touched in Chicago for a long time past. Of course the improvement is general throughout the country, and our stockmen have good cause to be elated.

When the new law goes into effect ten jurors can return a verdict in all trials by jury in the superior courts of the state of Washington, except criminal cases.—Goldendale Sentinel.

The last legislature passed an act extending the time for redemption on property sold under foreclosure of mortgage from four months to one year.

It is now feared that a settlement of the Oriental unpleasantness will result in precipitating a war between Russia and England. "So mote it be."

The pressing need in this country is a means for the American woman to get a title without having to buy a man with it.

Physicians Must Register. A new medical law passed during the recent session of the state legislature requires all physicians to register with the secretary of the state board of medical examiners and take out their licenses by the 1st of April. If this requirement of the law is not complied with physicians will be subject to arrest for a violation of the law, and in order to practice thereafter will be compelled to undergo an examination before the board. All that is necessary for physicians to do is to send their certificates to the secretary of the board, Dr. B. E. Miller, with a written request for a license. Many applications have already been received by the secretary. The board met on the 27th of this month, and by that time Dr. Miller expected to have nearly all the applications from the profession in good standing in.

SMITH, Arlington. Hogs For Sale. I have at my ranch, 2 1/2 miles south of Fossil, a number of thoroughbred Berkshire hogs which I will sell very reasonably. Apply soon before they are all gone. E. M. CLYMER. Lost—A Cow. About 2 years ago a roan cow, 7 years old this spring, branded MO on right hip, right ear cropped, strayed from my place near Hay Creek Butte. When last heard of she was ranging on Five Mile, this county. I will pay a suitable reward for her return to my place, or for information leading to her recovery. Z. T. DODSON. How to Cure Rheumatism. ARAGO, COOS CO., OREGON, Nov. 10, 1893.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies prescribed for that complaint, but found no relief until she used this Pain Balm; one bottle of which has completely cured her. I take pleasure in recommending it for that trouble. Yours truly, C. A. BULLOCH. Fifty cent and $1 bottles for sale by L. W. Darling & Co.

Repairing also done at the lowest rates. JOHNS RODGERS. Our local druggist desires us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gutfeld of Reedley, Fresno Co., Cal., as he handles the remedy referred to and wants his customers to know what a splendid medicine it is: "It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs. For sale by L. W. Darling & Co.
