THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

Those who have homesteads will find the following instructions from the interior department of importance: "Timber land embraced in a homestead, or other entry not consummated, may be cleared in order to cultivate the land and improve the premises, but for no other purpose. If, after clearing the land for cultivation, there remains more timber than is required for improvements, there is no objection to the settler disposing of the same. But the question whether land is being cleared of its timber for legitimate purposes is a question of fact which is liable to be raised at any time. If the timber is cut and removed for any other purpose it will subject the entry to cancellation, and the person who cut it will be liable to civil suit for the recovery of the value of said timber, and also to criminal prosecution under section 2461 of the revised statutes."

In the Income Tax case the supreme court is proving itself greater than the whole United States, not excepting congress and Pres. Cleveland. One thing is certain, the law could not remain on the statues except as a bone of contention. As a war measure it was very unpopular and only sustained by the patriotism of the people who recognized the exigencies of the times. As a means of raising revenue in time of peace it is odious beyond comparison. As it is a cross between democracy and populism we have nothing to say in its defense yet we believe if a majority of the people want it they have a right to and will have it, and their authority is even higher than that of the supreme court, as they can change the national constitution and the court cannot.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Complaint is made that all the loose money in the country has been paid in for taxes. In the past two months nearly $100,000 has been gathered up in this vicinity, and of course all this is withdrawn from circulation. Were taxes payable in two installments, part in the fall, one half this money would have been left in circulation six months longer. The people wanted the last legislature to provide for such payments, but like other things asked for, their wishes cut no figure with the members of that body.—Eugene Guard.

The Parisians kill between 16,000 and 17,000 horses for food every year. In France the prejudice against the use of horseflesh was just as strong 20 years ago as it is in Oregon now. The prejudice has gradually worn away, and the consumption of horseflesh increases every year. The horse ought to be more agreeable food than the pig. It eats clean food while pigs, particularly those raised by Chinese, are fed swill, which is every bit as bad as it smells.—Sun.

The Heppner Gazette favors amending the constitution so as to avoid vetoes by the president. With such legislative bodies as we have had in both state and nation in the past, the veto power is highly essential. The policy of the present day in all legislative bodies is to tickle those whom you would have tickle you, and abominable legislation is the result. The veto power has ably come to the rescue of the people many times.

Secretary of State Walter Q Gresham died Monday night in Washington, of acute pleurisy. It is thought Wm. C. Whitney will be appointed to fill the vacancy.

Think of your own faults the first part of the night when you are awake; and of the faults of others the latter part of the night, when you are asleep.

Big-headed people are never appreciated by any one but themselves. If your head is swoollen; young man, soak it.—Albany Democrat.

Any one who has ever had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism will rejoice with Mr. J. A. Stumm, 220 Boyle Heights, Los Angeles, over his fortunate escape from a siege of that distressing ailment. Mr. Stumm is foreman of Merriam's confectionery establishment. Some months ago, on leaving the heated work room to run across the street on an errand, he was caught out in the rain. The result was that when ready to go home that night he was unable to walk, owing to inflammatory rheumatism. He was taken home, and on arrival was placed in front of a good fire, and thoroughly rubbed with Chamberlain's Pain Balm. During the evening and night he was repeatedly bathed with this liniment, and by morning was relieved of all rheumatic pain. He now takes especial pleasure in praising Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. For sale by L. W. Darling, Druggist.
