

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1895.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.00, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBESITIES.

Rev. E. Curran will preach at Lexington next Sunday.

Mrs. E. Meek and son Will visited relatives at Fossil this week.

J. H. Miller and family expect to start next Wednesday for Caldwell.

Read the notice of Jas. Kiser, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Sarah V. Clark.

Wayne Hamilton of Fossil was over to the county seat Monday paying his taxes.

The supreme court this week declared the Cello Portage railroad law unconstitutional.

Read Joe Trevett's new ad and then—if you feel like it—drop in and "take something."

The Mayville Odd Fellows have continued the time for bids for their new hall to June 15th. See notice.

Charles Enoch Baine (Keno) won by high dice a beautiful picture this week, raffled off by J. H. Miller.

If you cannot afford to take any other kind of a paper, even a paper of pins will give you some good points.

In writing a letter enclosing a subscription, no objection will be raised if you write on both sides of the paper.

J. R. Clark and family moved Tuesday from the Hill house in the south end of town to D. M. Rinehart's house.

J. H. Downing lost a fine milch cow in town this week by getting choked on a potato or something of that sort.

A pleasant dance was enjoyed by a number of young folks Wednesday night at the home of Mr and Mrs. A. L. Duthie.

A one-legged man in Seattle has fallen heir to $50,000. This is the kind of a fall that doesn't hurt a man very much.

S. A. Chapel of Ajax is at work at Glenwood, Klickitat county, Wash, this summer and orders his GLOBE sent over there.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Caven of Pine creek came over Wednesday on a visit to their relatives here, Sheriff Wilcox and family.

Joe Baird of Rock creek made proof on his Hd. Saturday before the county clerk, with Fred Douglass and Joe Baird as witnesses.

Col. Wm. F. Helm of The Dalles, special agent for the State Insurance Co. of Salem, was in town Saturday and wrote up several policies.

W. N. Brown and Billy Barr have established a hog ranch (or hogery) in Ferry Canyon and have a drove of about 225 fine porkers.

Governor Budd, of California, replies favorably to an invitation to attend the Oregon fair in September, and will be booked for an address.

Union county stockmen are securing means to buy salt, to be distributed on the range for the benefit of their stock. This is a wise movement.

The $30,000,000 that was to be raised by the income tax has vanished and an extra tax on beer will perhaps be imposed to make up the difference.

W. G. Flett, the veteran stockman of Shelby, was in town Saturday on business. Mr. Flett is one of Gilliam's most industrious and intelligent citizens.

J. R. Clark this week made for the K. of P. and I. O. O. F. lodges here a pigeon-hole book and paper case, which is a very skillful piece of carpenter work.

Charlie Wester and Henry Dodson have brought a band of horses from Gilliam county in eastern Oregon to the Ballston settlement.—Dallas Itemizer.

We learn from the Antelope Herald that Seville White, a young man 20 years old, was run over and killed by a 4-horse team and wagon Saturday last, near that town.

Hon. A. S. Bennett of The Dalles has been appointed by Governor Lord a regent of the State Normal school at Monmouth. He succeeds J. J. Daley of Dallas.

The Fossil Journal expects during the next year to see boats land at its wharves and never break cargo until they land their freight at Portland or Astoria.—Portland Sun.

Married, at the bride's home near Mayville on May 26th, Jas. H. Carter and Miss Grace Fortna, Justice Cary officiating. The GLOBE wishes the happy young couple much joy.

The Globe family thankfully acknowledges receipt of a box of beautiful flowers sent this week by Miss Louella Maddock, who is enjoying a delightful visit with friends in Portland.

Dalles, Texas, has offered $41,000 to secure the Corbett-Fitzsimmons boxing contest to come off at that place Oct. 20th. The bookmaker would do a thriving business in Texas this summer.

Dan Cameron's injuries proved to be more serious than was at first supposed, and upon the advice of Dr. Hudson he was taken to a Portland hospital for treatment, starting Sunday last.

Rev. Curran wears his face this week considerably marked up, the result of his being kicked in the face one day this week by his horse, after he was thrown off, caused by a stirrup breaking.

Tom Morgan will close a successful term of school on Matney Flat today. A portion of the exercises will consist of a fine picnic for the scholars and guests in Harrison's grove on Thirtyville.

Thousands of pounds of wool is being sent to the Pendleton scouring mill. It is estimated that over 30,000 pounds of scoured wool has been shipped East from there, which is equal to 130,000 in grease.

The president is now busy denying that he wrote a letter and inclosed a check for $500 to the father of the Indiana triplets. He wishes it distinctly understood that he is a single standard man.

The bicycle Ed Moore expected to arrive last week for raffle did not come. The numbers for the fine Victor bicycle for raffle by Dunn Bros. are nearly all sold and will be raffled off within a few days.

Mrs. Lease, the Kansas politician, says that bald heads is an indication of intellectual development. Coming from so good an authority we shall discontinue the use of Skookum Root and await results.

H. N. Frazer went up to Pendleton on Saturday night's train and next night started home with his wife and children, who had been visiting relatives there for a couple of weeks. They arrived home Monday evening.

Sheriff Wilcox and family and Herbert Halstead and family and Edgar Moore all left today for a brief visit to Portland. Before returning, Mr. Wilcox and family will visit his mother at Hillsboro, Mrs. Loui Manning.

We do not notice any move on the part of the stockmen of this section towards organizing a protective union. This is a very beneficial thing for all persons owning stock and we hope to see one organized here soon.

A Missouri woman fell into a millpond and when she was rescued a ten-pound catfish was entangled in her wire bustle (bustles are still fashionable in Missouri). Her husband wanted to set her again but she would not consent.

As per advertisement, the Berry place just west of town was sold Saturday at sheriff's sale, to satisfy a mortgage held against it by J. W. Smith. Ed. R. Smith came out from Arlington and bid it in for his father, at $450.

J. M. Cameron left this week with his large band of fine sheep for the mountains near Caleb, Grant county. Howard Tobey left this week also with his sheep for Austin. Charley Johnson will herd for him this summer.

Fifty law students were examined before the supreme court at Salem this week for admission to the bar. All were successful, and in the list we are pleased to see the name of John Lyons, who will soon locate at Condon in the practice of law.

The government has made a new departure in the way of furnishing beef to the Indians on reservations. Heretofore beef has been furnished dressed. It is now proposed to purchase stock cattle and compel the Indians to raise their own beef.

Geo. Rippey is raffling off a fine new $100 bicycle at his store in Mayville, and in order to make it an object for all to take chances on it he will give the winner his or her choice of either the bicycle, a new 2-horse top buggy or a new 3 1/2 Rushford road wagon.

Everything seems to indicate renewed prosperity for Oregon this year. Settlers are coming this way, the grain crop is in fine condition, the outlook for fruit of nearly every variety is good, and the markets are calling for the products of this section, which are the finest in the land.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Helm, who had been residing on the John Day river near Mayville for a year or so, have opened up a restaurant in Chas. Fix's building adjoining his stable, and will also run a bakery in connection with the restaurant. Mr. Fix is a firm believer in diversity of business.

Condon has two saloons again. Billy Barr and Joe Trevett each were granted licenses for the period of six months by the city council last week. Herbert Stephenson, who ran the saloon the last year with Billy Barr, has retired from the business and will embark in the sheep business soon on his own hook.

Al Henshaw arrived home from Portland Saturday. He says there is no truth in the Portland Sun's article saying that Jim Lotan upbraided him for voting for conviction against his sentiments. Sometimes newspaper reporters stretch on their imaginations terribly in order to make a readable article.

G. G. Parman is hauling lumber to build a large addition to his already fine house on his farm near town. Mr. Parman is very industrious and is always too busy to discuss hard times and the silver question—and for that reason he never sees hard times. We know of lots of others who ought to "follow suit."

Only three bids were presented for the building of the new church at Condon. J. R. Clark's bid was $187.50, S. S. Grider $180, W. A. Goodwin $170. Mr. Goodwin's being the lowest bid, he was awarded the contract, and expects to commence work on same a week from next Monday. J. R. Clark will assist in the work until finished.

The following item was sent us for publication from Arlington this week: "Two clips of wool was sold from the deacon's warehouse a few days ago. Little Phil, however, has the credit of making the sales, and obtained in both cases more for the wool than the limit left him by the owners."

If the strawberry growers of the inland empire should realize $2 per crate for their berries which sum would be from $150,000 to $200,000 they would not get enough money to pay their pickers and pay for the bicycles brought into the Northwest this year. The wheel has become a necessity as well as a luxury in these days of rapid progress.—Exchange.

Two gentlemen made a business deal last week at Walla Walla in which 30,000 bushels of wheat were contracted for this fall at 50 cents per bushel. The one who agrees to pay that price for wheat when the crop is harvested says he has no fears of losing anything on the deal, and may make considerable money above that figure when fall prices for grain are established.

While in Portland Mr. Al Henshaw bought a large stock of fine furniture of all kinds and everything needed for housekeeping, such as dishes, glassware, granite ware, matting, also a large box of bolts, all sizes, for machinery. Call and examine his stock and get his prices. Mr. Henshaw is one of the squarest business men in this country and does not owe a dollar to anybody.

C. J. Morey, who has just closed a term of school on Schuttler Flat, was in town this week interviewing our directors as to his chances for teaching our school, commencing in September. He informs us that he has taught school for many years in Multnomah county and was on the board of examiners in that county for a long time. Supt. Kennedy speaks favorably of him as a teacher.

Men who are offered $2.50 or $3 per day in Northern Idaho to work in the mines are not allowed to do so, and the mine owners are threatened with destruction of their property, if they employ men at these prices, by the leaders of the Miners' union. Such despotism as this, injurious alike to property and labor, makes these unions odious and intolerable in a nominally free country.

An exchange says that it is the successful man who has a good word for everybody. The more of a failure a man is the more he runs other people down and the deeper he gets his nose into other people's business. If that is the case—and there is no doubt that it is true—there are several very complete failures in this section, who never were known to say a favorable word about anybody.

The Commercial Tribune says that the greatest sin a man has to answer for now-a-days is poverty. He may have grievous faults, but if he has money, his faults are overlooked, but if he is poor, God help him, for he will find few others to do so. To say a man has made a success of his life, means that he has made money, it matters not how. To say his life has been a failure, means he is poor. It is no wonder that the poor are discontented.

In Wasco county they are killing squirrels with lice. They have tried to give them smallpox and other contagious diseases, but it failed. Finally they imported a few lousy squirrels, and now where there used to be twenty there is but one. The lice seem to eat them up alive. Those caught in traps are lousy and as lean as a match, and are more dead than alive. It seems to be a sure cure, and the time will come when they will sell squirrel lice over the country in drug stores as they now sell bird seed.

The dispatches show Michigan and Wisconsin have had six frosts during the month of May. Apples peaches and plums have been badly damaged. Throughout northern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois four-fifths of the crop has been ruined. In New York and Pennsylvania the mercury has been below the freezing point four times in ten days, and fruit has suffered severely. In Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska, the entire corn crop will be plant over. The Pacific Northwest seems to be particularly favored this season.

A dispatch from the Dalles, dated June 2d, says: The case of the state vs. Daniel Maloney and Charles Soelling, charged with larceny of horses went to the jury last night. The jury was out a little over two hours, and returned a verdict of acquittal as to both defendants. On the first ballot the vote was eight for acquittal and four for conviction. The verdict was expected, as the state did not make out as strong a case in this as in the other trial. The grand jury made its final report last evening, and was discharged. The most important item was the statement that the county had been defrauded out of over $1800 by the issuance of fraudulent warrants, and a recommendation that suit be instituted against some of the bondsmen of some of the preceding county clerks in whose terms the warrants were issued. The grand jury also advised that an expert be employed to check up the books of the sheriff's office since 1860.

The Orientals met one evening last week to unfold the mysteries of the Orient to some seekers of the true faith.

Curley Ebi, who has been quite ill for some time, was taken to Portland Monday night for treatment in the hospital.

Squire Ebi, his brother, accompanied him.

Dan Cameron, who was seriously injured in a runaway last week, was brought in on Sunday and on Monday night was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Dr. A. C. Hawson and R. T. Cox went to Pine creek fishing last Sunday.

We presume as it was Sunday the boys could not find any conveyances to bring in the large number of speckled beauties which they succeeded in bagging, so had to disappoint their friends.

There was a criminal case in the recorder's court Tuesday which was sharply contested. The city of Arlington was represented by S. A. D. Gurley, city attorney, and the defendant, J. Miller, was defended by Jno. A. Brown. Defendant was found guilty and fined by the court.

We understand there is to be a grand celebration and soldiers' reunion at Lexington on July 3d and 4th, under the auspices of the G. A. R. posts of this place and Heppner. Verily the spirit of patriotism still lives, and the old flag is as dear to the hearts of our people as it was in the days that tried men's souls.

Mayville Mutterings.

Miss Blanche Edwards' school at Fairview closed Friday last.

Allen McConnell and wife are expected home Saturday, 8th, from their visit in the valley.
