GLOECOSITIES.

Work on our new church was begun this week.

Ed Nelson made a business trip to Fossil and Antelope last week.

Sheriff Wilcox and family are visiting relatives in the south end of the county.

J. K. Fitzwater made a business trip over to Zillah and North Yakima, Wash., this week.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet at the residence of Mrs. L. W. Darling next Wednesday.

Last year we shipped to Europe $55,000,000 in gold. This is not the editorial "we," however.

Mrs. S. A. Maddock and son Frank visited Arlington this week, starting Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Harve Blake of Rock creek visited the family of J. K. Fitzwater at Condon the first of this week.

Miss Lena Snell has been engaged to teach school in The Dalles again—the same room she had last winter.

Gene Smith made a flying business trip to Arlington this week, going down Tuesday and returning next day.

Mrs. Lida Brasfield left this week on a visit to relatives in Southern Oregon, and perhaps in Arizona before she returns.

W. E. Fowler, formerly cashier of the First National Bank of Arlington, is sojourning with friends in Northern Grant.—Eagle.

I. S. Van Vleet writes that he has just secured the position as principal of the La Grande public school, to commence soon.

Dr. Leslie Phillips, a scientist warns women against wearing their hair short. He says men become bald because they cut their hair.

We are constrained to say any town or community without a brass band is in want of spirit and enterprise necessary to success.—Burns Herald.

The Pendleton scouring mill has received to date 2,463,886 pounds of wool, of which 2,006,306 were brought in by railway, and 457,580 by team.

A flourishing little Sunday school was organized at the Ferry Canyon school house recently by Rev. Curran, and is held every Sunday at 2:30 o'clock.

Remember the meeting on Saturday of this week at Condon to consider the Coyote bounty scheme. There should and no doubt will be a large attendance.

Mrs. Al Henshaw and daughter Birdie returned home Monday from a couple of days' visit at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Sears near Mayville.

Henry Doores, who has been at work the last year or so for A. Renner, left this week on a visit to his home in Montana. He may not return before next spring.

Miss Petrenella Connolly has been visiting Mrs. C. J. Quinn and other friends in the Mayville and Fossil country the last ten days or more, and is having a delightful visit.

There will be preaching services in the school house next Sunday, morning and evening. A brief object sermon to the children will precede the morning discourse. All are invited.

G. J. Caven was over to town Sunday with a load of cherries. His wife, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Wilcox for several days, returned home with him next day.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Taylor of Rock creek visited their relatives at Condon over Sunday and then proceeded to George's homestead near Mayville, where they remained several days.

Arthur Myers has just filed on the Charley Wilson place six miles west of town, Mr. Wilson having relinquished his claim thereto. Arthur is having the lumber hauled for a new house.

James G. Blaine, discussing the Fourth of July, once said that America is the only country with a birthday; that all other countries began they knew not when and grew they knew not how.

Claudius Caesar Henshaw, one of the GLOBE force, has concluded to get one of those lately-invented air bicycle flying machines. He declares he will not walk when flying machines and air ships are so cheap.

John Reisinger has been visiting the families of Geo. Gibbons and Andrew Greiner for the last ten days. He says the longer he stays out here the better he likes it, and has already gained six pounds in weight.

Henry Hartman writes to his folks here from Wheatland, Cal., that he intends to return to Condon again this fall. He says this section beats any country he has yet seen in California and that he is coming back this time to stay.

H. N. Frazer has just completed a new well, which was "built" just below his residence in a ravine. Chas. Fix is also at work on a well on his lot behind his barn. The more wells in town the better; so let the good work go on.

It is a mistaken idea among a great many people who are under the impression that a justice of the peace has jurisdiction to perform marriage ceremonies only in his own precinct. Justices of the peace in Oregon have authority to perform marriage ceremonies anywhere in his county, but not outside of it.—Sun.

Mrs. Katie Kehm Smith of Oregon City, an infidel preacher, lectured in the school house here Wednesday evening. John Madden brought her over from Lone Rock and on Thursday proceeded to Fossil.

George H. C. Earhart of Lone Rock was in the city Wednesday on business. He is one of the thousands of staunch friends of the GLOBE and always renews his subscription a month or so before the time expires.

The bicycle raffled off at Barr's saloon Saturday was won by Billy Stephens, who threw 41 in three throws, on No. 65, which was bought by his father several days before. Billy rode it until next day and then traded it to N. C. Sorrel for a good horse.

As per advertisement, the Spuryer land, 160 acres, was sold Saturday by L. W. Darling, administrator, and bought by Mont Ward for $300. As it joins Mont's place on the east he now has one of the largest and best stock ranches in this section.

Shurte Bros. of Arlington informs us that since their advertisement appeared in the GLOBE last week they are receiving more orders for Crescent wheels than they can supply. It pays to advertise in a paper having a large and healthy circulation.

Medford Monitor: We are informed upon reliable authority that the leading citizens and capitalists of Klamath and Lake counties have signed an agreement to raise $800,000 subsidy for any company that will build a railroad through that section.

Supt. Kennedy has arrangements completed for holding a teachers' institute at Condon, commencing on Tuesday, July 30th, to last about two weeks. President M. G. Royal, of the Weston Normal school, will be in attendance, and it will be well worth the time of every teacher in the county to be present.

A bashful young man while attending a revival at Heppner was approached by an earnest young lady who said to him: "My dear young friend, it would do you heart good to lead you up to the altar." The young fellow hesitatingly replied that he appreciated the honor, but he was already engaged to two girls and he could not accommodate her.

There was a pretty lively prairie fire Sunday on Charley Brown's place at the head of Ferry Canyon. In order to rid the grass of grasshoppers he set the dry grass on fire which, fanned by a stiff breeze, made short work of the "hoppers" and also the grass for several miles around. Luckily no fencing or buildings were burned.

G. W. Jack, who moved with his family early last spring from Palouse to this section and filed on the O'Shea claim three miles southeast of town, whose relinquishment he bought, left this week for Pendleton, where they intend to remain until winter. He appears to be a hard working gentleman and will make a good citizen.

The editor of this paper was elected the representative from Antelope Lodge No. 44, A. O. U. W., to the meeting of the grand lodge to be held at Portland on the 17th inst. During our one week's absence, Dr. Pilkington will hold down the editorial chair in this office, and fill the capacity of defendant in all libel suits until we get back.—Antelope Herald.

Every country town of any importance in the whole country has a brass band—which is the pride of the town, even if they don't play very well. What is the matter with organizing such a band at Condon? We have the material here for a good band and believe all of our citizens would subscribe liberally for the wherewith to buy horns. All in favor of a band, say I.

The dispatches say that frosts have killed all crops throughout the farming districts in England. The result will be to make a market in England for American wheat and grain, which will bring good times to the western farmers. As soon as they find the money coming in from their products they will stop worrying so much about free silver, and the silver question will be no longer the political nightmare of this country when the people have had a few months of prosperity.

Last week several cattlemen of the Fossil country, members of the stockmen's union, wrote to Grant Wade of Rock creek that five head of cattle wearing his brand were over in that section and that they believed they had been stolen. Mr. Wade lost no time in going after his property, which he doubtless never would have heard of had it not been for the stockmen's union, one of the duties of its members of which is to notify the owners of, all lost or stolen stock. Grant informed us that this action has made him a firm friend of the union and that he will become a member himself at the first opportunity.

John Hawthorne was sentenced Saturday by Judge Bellinger in the United States district court at Portland to pay a fine of $100 and serve five years in the penitentiary at hard labor for the murder of Carpolis, an Indian policeman in Wasco county about one year ago. An effort was made to show the previous good character of the convicted man, and it evidently had some weight on Judge Bellinger, as the crime of which Hawthorne was convicted was claimed to have been an unprovoked and brutal murder, and that he had a narrow escape from being found guilty of murder in the first degree.

The tongue of the scandal monger is now busy in Heppner. How so many people can find pleasure in defaming, traducing, reproaching and disgracing the name of anyone is a mystery. If every person, the good people of Heppner not excepted, would follow the old axiom, "say a good word or nothing of every one," how much better we would be, and how much pleasanter and happier this life.—Gazette.

It is indeed very encouraging and gratifying to us to learn from our advertisers that they are highly pleased with the GLOBE as an advertising medium and newspaper generally. They all tell us that they are meeting with good results from having their ads planted in the rich and fertile soil of the GLOBE. One of our heaviest advertisers informed us this week by letter that he considers the GLOBE the best advertising medium and country newspaper he ever saw. All of which is duly appreciated, as aforesaid.

Men who are dishonest or careless about paying their debts usually inflict greater punishment on themselves than on their creditors. Physicians do not care to wait upon them in case of sickness, newspaper publishers do not spend much time in preparing their obituaries, and when they want office their creditors are pretty sure that a man who will not deal justly with individuals will not be safe to trust in a public capacity. Such men rarely get good positions, and it is very difficult for them to obtain accommodation even in dire extremities. It does not pay to be dishonest.

Nearly every newspaper we pick up contains accounts of abortions and the arrest and conviction of the murderers, some of whom get long terms in the penitentiary. In many portions of the country this dangerous and disgraceful practice is carried on to such an extent that decent people stand aghast with horror. Something must be done to discourage such indiscriminate taking of human life, and about the most effective remedy is several convictions and sentences to the penitentiary in every neighborhood where it is known to be practiced—and it would not be necessary to go very far away to find cases to make examples of.—Gazette.

A newspaper is the greatest help to a community that can be. It is a standing advertisement that always attracts. It gives more free advertisements and explanations of the place than all others. It never lets pass a good opportunity to advocate the interests of its home enterprises. It helps its churches and speaks for its schools; resents all insinuations against the character of the citizens and industries of the town, and lives but to benefit the community. To repay its untiring efforts it asks the support of the people, not in a begging manner, but as a recompense for its labor. It is entitled to livelihood, because it gives more than it takes.—Gazette.

We notice by our exchanges that the county courts of the various counties in the state orders published every couple of years a list of uncalled-for county warrants, which were forgotten by the parties for whom they were issued. Such a list has never yet been published in this county since its organization eleven years ago, and there is a large list of them, some nearly that old. The Times-Mountaineer at The Dalles published such a list last week and in it we notice the name of Charley Clarno, who has a warrant there of $1.70, issued about four years ago. The county court advertises that if such warrants are not called for within 60 days they will be cancelled. The list in Wasco county this time aggregates nearly $400.

Arlington Items.

E. W. Hatch has moved to his farm for a short time.

Jos. Budd, a G. A. R. veteran of Olex, was in town this week.

Mr. Chamberlain from across the river brought a load of fine fruit to town last Tuesday.

Dan Cameron was visible to the naked eye on our streets the first of this week. He is rapidly recovering.

Two ladies' bicycles were raffled off here this week. The happy winners are Ross Beardsley and Miss Pearl Wood.

A. C. Hawson and wife left Monday evening for Astoria and the seaside, where they will remain for one month.

Frank Munkers and Charles Spencer started this week for the Willamette valley, going via the Barlow route. They expect to be gone several weeks.

A sister of Mrs. J. C. Sweet, who has been visiting here for several days, was suddenly called to her home in the east by a telegram announcing that her eldest daughter had been seriously injured by being thrown from a horse.

Justice Ebi's court was grinding all day Tuesday, the occasion being a criminal action against a resident and taxpayer of this county, charged with the larceny of a pup. The defendant was fined $25 and costs. The case will be appealed to the circuit court.

Last Saturday evening, at the residence of Judge and Mrs. O. S. Ebi, Mr. R. E. Smith and Miss Elsie Ebi were married, Rev. J. N. Dennison performing the ceremony. The young couple are both residents of our town and have many friends who wish them success and happiness. They are spending their honeymoon at the seaside. May their voyage o'er the sea of matrimony be a pleasant one.

Lone Rock Riplets. Wm. Matlock was thrown from his horse last week and laid up for a few days, but he is all right now.

The prospective K. of P. meet next Saturday at Lone Rock to complete arrangements to organize a lodge.

Rev. Hinton of Grass Valley, Sherman county, preached to a full house last Sunday in Rev. Bramlet's place.

Mrs. Martha Hogan and little son left the first of this week for Canby, Clackamas county, where they will remain several weeks visiting relatives.

Lewis Miller sold his steers a few days ago to Bill Matlock for $24 per head. There is a good market for all kinds of heeves this summer, which is encouraging to the cattlemen who have waited so long.

Mr. Alex Hardie and wife were in this valley Monday. Mr. Hardie says that there are thousands of bushels of wheat in his part of the country yet and there will be lots of feed for stock this winter, although the crops are very light this summer.

Mrs. Katie Kehm Smith of Portland, the secular preacher, gave one of her lectures to a large audience in the school house here Monday evening. She keeps her hearers interested from beginning to the end of her lectures, and makes a vigorous demand for taxation of church property.

Several of our sheep men have made arrangements to go to Condon on the 20th to the coyote bounty meeting. We believe there should be something done to thin out their numbers and exterminate the pests. There are hundreds of them and they kill thousands of dollars' worth of stock each year. We shall be glad to see those interested make a move that will last and one that will encourage the county court to keep the bounty on for a few years at least. The sheepmen have kept up a war with the coyotes from the start but others not knowing them as the shepherd does, have neglected to kill them as they should have done. J. Dox.

Mayville Mutterings.

Mrs. Malinda Withers is on the sick list the past week.

The carpenters commenced work on the new I. O. O. F. hall Monday.

Mr. George Taylor and wife of Olex are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Retta Schomp has secured a class in music at this place and will teach music this summer.

Died, July 16, the six-months-old child of J. L. Carey. The funeral will take place in the Fossil cemetery. Rev. Zellers will conduct the services.

Miss Maggie McConnell, daughter of Al McConnell, came out from Sylva, Kansas, arriving here Thursday and will visit her parents and relatives here a year or so.

W. J. Edwards and sons Frank and Fred, Ed McConnell and George Crum all arrived here from the valley Friday. Mrs. Edwards had arranged a surprise party for them that evening. By nine o'clock about thirty invited guests had arrived and commenced dancing, which was kept up till the small hours of the clock, when all repaired to their respective homes, pronouncing it a success in every way. I. D. CLARE.

The 4th at Haystack.

After riding through beautiful mountain scenery, we got there about 10 o'clock and found the grounds just below the hall well crowded and packed with happy and patriotic people. The first of importance on the program was the reading of the Declaration of Independence by Prof. Crabtree, after which, in a very nice little speech, he introduced the orator of the day, Mrs. Katie Kehm Smith, from the Willamette Valley—a curly-headed, nervous little woman, whose head is somewhat flat on top. She, by the aid of a northeast wind, entertained us for over an hour with a discourse that was appropriate in the absence of the song, The Star Spangled Banner. In plain English she told us that Uncle Sam was not so much "pumpkins" as we thought he was; but the firecrackers popped away just the same. Next we had a nice basket dinner, the only drawback of which was more good things than we could eat. After dinner Mrs. Smith delivered us a lecture in the Liberal hall, and the boys ran a horse race somewhere in close proximity. I understand that Jimmy Williams won the derby. By virtue of a good deal of whipping and swearing he came out under the home wire about 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening. The exercises closed by a dance in the hall till broad daylight, and notwithstanding that we are a resident of the United States and humble subject of the "bottle-bellied" majesty, King Grover, we tried to be happy and moderately succeeded.
