FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1895.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Sears visited friends in Condon from Saturday until Tuesday.

Judge Bradshaw is in Portland holding court for Judge Hurley, who is on the sick list.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Richards at Condon on Tuesday morning, Sept. 3, 1895, a son.

Louisiana is confronted with a prospective glut of molasses. This is a form of calamity that is likely to spread.

Geo. Gibbons today began painting the new Odd Fellows hall at Mayville, which is about completed and is a fine job.

Judge Mariner and commissioners Ralston and Clymer are in town this week conducting a regular session of county court.

Gene Smith this week received a complete stock of material of all kinds for his harness shop. Call around and buy something.

Our public school began Monday with an attendance of about 60 pupils to start in with. A great many more will come in later on.

S. A. D. Gurley, the leading attorney of Arlington, made a flying trip to Condon Tuesday, on business before the county court.

J. A. McMorris has been employed to teach the fall term of school in the Campbell district just north of town, commencing Sept. 16th.

John Hays, one of the successful sheepmen of Lone Rock, has been in this section all week, on the hunt for hay for his sheep.

The GLOBE is printed a little earlier this week than usual, owing to the editor expecting to be absent from town a couple of days.

Sunday last the wife of Charley Roysse of Rock creek gave birth to twins, both boys; but one of the little fellows has since died, we regret to state.

Drs. Hogan and Hudson made a professional visit to Rock creek Tuesday to prescribe for Mrs. Chas. Roysse, who is dangerously sick with convulsions.

Miss Bessie Fitzwater has been engaged to teach the Eightmile school, commencing next Monday. She attended the institute at Heppner this week.

G. Lafe Frizzell, the well-known stockman of Girds creek, Crook county, expects to move with his family to their farm near McCoy, Polk county, this fall.

Monday Dan Rinehart sold his residence property in town to J. M. Caldwell for $275. They say Jim would commit matrimony if some young lady would help him.

The contract for furnishing ten cords of 10-inch wood for this school district was let Monday to Frank Armstrong. Out of five bids his was the lowest, being $4.45 per cord.

Geo. Crum, one of the bright young sons of J. A. Crum, the Olex miller, left Monday for Corvallis, to enter the Oregon Agricultural College. Of course the GLOBE follows him.

The Territorial Board of equalization of Arizona have fixed the Territorial tax levy at 72 cents. That is one reason why Arizona is an excellent place to stay away from.

The Heppner Gazette says that Sunday last John S. Hoskins of Hardman and Miss Alice B. Bills of Gilliam county were married at the Farmers Hotel in Heppner.

J. E. McPherson and family of Mayville and Mrs. Alice Gager and daughter, Miss Nina, of Arlington, arrived here last week and will remain some time.—Eugene Guard.

Miss Ina Gordon came up Friday from her home near Douglass, Morrow county, and will attend our excellent school this winter. She is stopping with the GLOBE family.

Charley White and Henry Heidtman have both returned home from the east where the former sold a train-load of sheep and the latter a train-load of horses at fairly good prices.

Dr. Hudson was called to the John Day river, near Ajax, Tuesday to prescribe for Archie Huston, who was dragged by a horse and was suffering from concussion of the brain.

Crook county is making preparation to fall in line and pay a bounty for coyote scalps—having caught the idea from this county. It would be a good idea for all the adjoining counties to follow suit.

The editor of the Chicago News deserves to lose several million subscribers. He says there are only 105,000 male Americans who are not either bow-legged, knock-kneed or spindly-shanked.

Sheepmen, who have their flocks in the mountains, complain that the grass is becoming quite short; but there is no feed elsewhere and sheep will be kept in the mountain pastures as long as possible.

A prohibition paper affirms that a million people die annually from strong drink. We don't believe a word of it. When a man dies once he is dead and that is all there is to it. He can't die annually.

Captain S. H. Miller and wife left Tuesday for the Willamette valley on a month's visit. They will go overland and when they return they will come by the way of Condon, Gilliam Co., Or.—Goldendale Sentinel.

A little boy was asked in school one day this week by his teacher, "what is the root of all evil," and he promptly replied: "Our old spotted hog; I have to drive it out of our later patch about a dozen times a day."

Four murderers were taken from the jail at Yreka, Cal., Sat. night and lynched by a mob of about 250 men. One of the victims was Garland Semler, a young man only 19 years of age, who finished a course in the Agricultural College at Corvallis last March.

The sale of Dan Cameron's property did not take place Saturday, as advertised, owing to other parties having mortgages on the same property, thus complicating the matter in a way that makes it necessary for an extension of time.

Twelve jurors have at last been selected for the Durrant murder trial in San Francisco, and the famous case is now on trial. If Durrant is acquitted it will be more of a demonstration of the skill of his lawyers than proof of his innocence.

Joe Potter, the Arlington jeweler, and Ben Stever passed through Condon the first of the week on their way to the mines near Granite, where Mr. Stever intends to locate a claim. Bill Darling and Dave Cantwell went up there several days ago for the same purpose.

M. V. Harrison, wife and family, of Hood River, have removed to Eugene, where they will make their future residence, and where Mr. Harrison will go into the general merchandise business. At present Mr. Harrison is in the employ of P. Frank & Sons, Eugene.

A large congregation of people were out Sunday to hear the dedication services of Rev. C. F. Clapp, who is one of the most interesting pulpit orators on the coast. Baptismal rites were administered upon Harold Marvin, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Shutt.

Misses Ella and Katie Kiely of Eightmile returned to Condon Sunday and will remain here this winter. Katie will go to school and Ella will conduct a dressmaking establishment in the building one door south of the hotel. She understands that business thoroughly and is an accomplished milliner.

News has been received from Saginaw, Mich., that Parker Owens has arrived there with his prisoner, Rev. O. D. Taylor, who has been placed under $16,000 bail bonds to answer to the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Failing to procure this bail Mr. Taylor is incarcerated in the county jail.

P. H. Stephenson has just received his new stock of merchandise and is now ready to wait on his friends at his new store which he purchased of J. H. Downing a month ago. Herbert having wisely decided not to do any credit business, but says his prices are so low that it will effect a great saving to all who make cash purchases. See his ad.

There was a lively foreible entry and detainer action before Squire Randall at Olex this week. Henry Wilkins was the plaintiff and D. C. Williamson defendant. When nearly all the testimony was in the defendant proposed to enter into a stipulation to leave on or before next Monday, and the case was dismissed. S. A. D. Gurley appeared for the plaintiff.

John Michell, who successfully edited and published The Dalles Times-Mountaineer for the last 13 years, has sold out to J. A. Douthit, an experienced newspaper man of Prineville, who took charge Monday. Mr. Michell is one of the ablest and most brilliant writers in the state and will be greatly missed by the fraternity, but Mr. Douthit will receive a hearty welcome back to the ranks of journalism.

The state of Oregon vs. Mr. Pergue for assault and battery in striking David Scott, was tried in justice's court at Antelope last week. E. M. Shmitt appeared for the state and G. H. Dunn and Ed Miller for the defense. Monday the jury disagreed and a new jury was empaneled Tuesday, which also disagreed. A jury was then called from the country, which tried the case again Thursday, resulting in a verdict of guilty. Pergue was fined $45.

A short time ago Dudley S. Flynn borrowed a sum of money from Charley Earhart at Lone Rock, and was to pay it back in "a few days." Tuesday Dud loaded his wares and penates on a cayuse and lit out for the valley, to stay, coming through Condon and headed for The Dalles. Charley got wind of his intended trip and came after him and had the justice here issue papers for Flynn's arrest. The constable has not yet returned with the absconding debtor.

We are pleased to learn that Arlington is fast regaining its old-time activity and will soon be as good a town as in its palmyest days. Much of this is due to the fact that its enterprising business men advertise in the GLOBE, thus giving their town almost world-wide notoriety. With very few exceptions those in business there are thorough business men, who have the welfare of their town at heart and know how to keep up with the procession of thrift and enterprise. Those who want the trade ask for it through the GLOBE.

A country newspaper in Minnesota is in trouble. It has just learned that the scriptures say "man is dust." And it observes that dust settles, but its subscribers don't, so it comes to the conclusion that they are not men.

"Let the farmers agree not to plant for one year, and the world will starve," exclaims Peffer. Very true; and the farmers would starve along with the rest. It is not likely, therefore, that such a method of solving political and economic problems will be adopted.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A curious use for a husband is reported from San Francisco, where a Mr. Lomb and his wife kept a small shop. For 14 years the firm has avoided paying taxes by the wife's sending the husband to jail to serve out the legal time for the unpaid taxes, while she remains at the store attending to business.

The Telegram says: "A woman has created quite a sensation by appearing in Portland riding a horse astride. The day will come when this will not be an unusual spectacle. That is the natural way to ride a horse for either a man or a woman, and the French have a sensible adage to the effect that whatever is natural is right."

A lawyer in a courtroom may call a man a liar, scoundrel, villain, or a thief, and no one makes a complaint when court adjourns. If a newspaper prints such a reflection on a man's character there is a libel suit and a big row on hand. This is owing to the fact that the people believe what an editor says; what the lawyer says cuts no figure.—Exchange.

At the close of a session of circuit court in California last week the judge had retired to rest, but the noise of a faro table in an adjoining room disturbed him so much that he got up and dressed, and went in and told them that he had tried all legal methods to break them up and had failed, but now he was determined to adopt another plan. Before the night closed he broke the bank, and told the parties to be more careful in the future how they interfered with the court.

Charles Enoch Bain (Keno) met with a very serious accident Saturday night. He rooms on the second floor of Johnson & Wilcox's livery stable, and about midnight he got up in his sleep, walked out at the door and fell 12 feet to the plank floor below. Tom Johnson, who also sleeps in the barn, heard him fall and quickly went to his assistance. Poor Keno was as limber as a rag and apparently as dead as a door-nail. Dr. Hogan was hastily summoned and the boy soon regained consciousness again. Strange as it may seem, no bones were broken, and he is already able to walk about town again, but will not feel "at himself" for a long time yet. It was a narrow escape from death.

Rev. E. Curran delivered a touching farewell address Tuesday evening, part of which was in poetic form on the subject of "Goodby," which was very appropriate and beautiful. Before leaving next morning Mr. Curran invested in a "glory ticket," permitting himself and Miss Emma Meek to wed. The date for the marriage was set for today (Thursday) at Portland, Rev. C. F. Clapp to officiate. They expected to leave the same day for their new home in Oakland, Cal., where Mr. Curran will preach one sermon every Sunday and also take a course in the Pacific Theological Seminary of that city. It is not known who will be appointed to succeed him at Condon, but the new minister is expected here about next week.

A good story is being told of a young lady not many miles from Condon who found a package of love letters that had been written to her mother by her father before they were married. The daughter saw that she could have a little sport, and read them to her mother, substituting her own name for that of her mother, and a fine young man for that of her father. The mother jumped up and down in her chair, shifted her feet and seemed terribly disgusted, and forbade her to have anything to do with the young man who would write such sickening and nonsensical stuff to a girl. When the young lady handed the letter to her mother to read the house became so still that one could hear the grass grow in the back yard.

The Credit System.

We are not running a business college nor do we feel prepared to give lessons to business men, but it does seem to us that there is one very bad habit practiced in all business matters of our whole country, one which works a great hardship to the seller and the honest buyer. We allude to the credit system.

Experience has shown us that the creditor must lose a certain per cent of his debts on account of the buyer's failure to pay. This works a hardship on the buyer who pays, for the seller must sell his goods at an advance sufficient to these losses. Therefore, the man who pays his debts must pay a certain per cent of the debts of the men who do not pay.

Under the credit system, all experience has proven that men—almost all men—will purchase goods under a credit system which they would not buy if they paid the cash. How much better would the condition of our country be if no man owed a cent. Let us admonish our people to think upon this subject.

Shurte Bros. of Arlington are also agents for the "Victor" and "Rambler" bicycles.

Arlington Items.

R. H. Robinson is on the sick list this week.

The upper room of our school house will soon be ready for use.

Any Redford visited friends at Glen and Condon the last week.

Mr. Grubb was in town Saturday making final proof on a timber culture.

Postmaster Shurte made a flying trip into the country this week on business.

Sidney Collins has gone to the valley for a couple of weeks on a hop-picking expedition.

A Miss young of Gooseberry will teach the primary department of our school this winter.

J. F. Potter, our popular jeweler, is out in the mountains, looking after his gold mine, to remain until the 6th.

One of our telegraphers, Mr. Abbey, will leave here in a short time to take a position as chief dispatcher on the Oregon Pacific Ry.

E. W. Daggett was elected 3d vice-president of the Epworth League convention at Spokane last week during the session of the Columbia River conference.

All of the many houses in town which have been vacant so long will soon be filled again. Arlington is improving, and will soon have its old-time appearance. 'Bah for Arlington!

Butcher Bros., who have just taken charge of the Vendome are doing their best to please the public and are succeeding admirably. Frank Munkers expects to move with his family to Salem in a few days.

Lone Rock Riplets.

We had a light frost here Sunday night, killing some tender plants.

George Perry has gone to the head of the John Day to look after his sheep.

John M. Brown is in Spokane this week attending the Methodist conference.

John Madden has bought 250 acres of wheat over on Eightmile, where he has taken his drove of hogs to fatten.

Rev. Bramblet and family have returned from the springs. They say there were only a few up there yet when they left.

W. H. Colwell pulled out his thresher the first of the week and threshed his grain—the only one who will thresh any here this fall.

W. H. Colwell and family will move to Arlington to spend the winter, on account of Mrs. Colwell's health, as the lower altitude is recommended by her physician.

The smoke has disappeared to a certain extent within the last few days, the rains having driven it out. This has been the smokiest summer here for a great many years.

Andy Sprowles, our Blacksmith, has sold his house and bought a lot from J. E. Bennett and is building himself a larger one than his old one. It will be completed in a short time and will help the looks of that part of town. J. Dos.

Keys Flat Notes.

Mr. James Carter of Mayville is on flat visiting this week.

Saturday Johnny Brandon was quite seriously injured by his horse falling on him.

Friday of last week there was a heavy thunder shower in our neighborhood, almost amounting to a waterspout. During the storm, Hill & Haley's team took fright and ran away, upsetting a load of hay they were hauling, causing some damage to the wagon.

Sunday when Benny Greiner was driving up his father's horses, another horse ran and struck the horse he was riding with his fore feet and knocked him down. The saddle horse he was riding rolled over him, injuring him badly about the head and shoulders. U. D. C.
