

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1895.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOECOSITIES.

Charley Neal, the well-known Fossil carpenter, was over to Condon Friday on business.

Herbert Halstead and family of Lost Valley visited their relatives in Condon this week.

If you want to win a prize, subscribe for the S. F. Examiner through the GLOBE agent.

Bill Smith has not yet been successful in securing bonds and is still confined in the county jail.

It has been said that the prosperity of a country may be gauged by the number of its marriages. If this be true, Gilliam county is all right.

Mrs. E. Meek and son Will went over to Heppner last week to visit their relatives there a couple of days—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scrivner.

Dr. B. F. Nott, the Fossil dentist, will be at Condon from Dec. 9th to the 21st. Anyone needing dental work cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

Owing to the rough weather setting in, Mr. Lillie was forced to abandon his well-boring business until spring, leaving Mr. Frazer's well unfinished for the present.

Charley Sears and wife arrived home Wednesday from their extended visit with relatives at Portland and San Francisco. They report having had a delightful visit.

Atty. T. R. Lyons left for his home in Heppner at noon on Monday. Some important law business compelled him to be there on Tuesday, hence his hurry to get away on that day.

Saturday last, Ben Iremonger who lives near Tub springs, in Grant county, had the misfortune to have his horse fall with him, breaking both bones of the right leg between the ankle and the knee.

Born, on Nov. 29th, to Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMorris on Matney Flat, a 9-lb daughter. John says she has long black hair and he feels as proud of her as a little boy with his first pair of new boots.

Miss Eily Barton, the 15-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Barton, formerly of Lost Valley, this county, was married recently at her home in Ellensburg, to a photographer of that place.

Herman Wipper and W. B. Pentecost of Mayville, executors of the estate of H. W. Pentecost, deceased, were in town Saturday attending to business in that capacity. Mrs. Wipper accompanied her husband.

The testimony in a homestead contest case was taken before County Clerk Frazer Friday and Saturday. Emmett Armstrong is the contestant and Jas. E. Ramsey, defendant. The land in question lies on Beecher Flat.

Mr. A. E. Stroud, state lecturer for the A. F. & A. M., met the members of his order at Condon from Monday until Thursday, lecturing three evenings in their hall. He had intended to go to Fossil but the rough weather caused him to abandon the idea this visit.

Little Gertie Shannon, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shannon, four miles west of Condon, has been very sick the last week or so with appendicitis. Drs. Hogan and Howard had intended to perform an operation on her Wednesday, but as she is somewhat improved, it has not been done yet.

The weather was very cold and stormy the first of this week, the snow being nearly a foot deep on the level. As usual, there are always some people who predict a hard winter, but the prophets who have been watching the signs closest do not prophesy a very hard winter—and we hope they are right. Later, as we go to press the weather has turned warm and pleasant again and the snow is fast disappearing under the influence of the always welcome chinook.

The Ladies Aid Society will hold a fair in the Armory hall here on Friday evening, Dec. 13th. All who wish to donate any article to the fair are requested to leave them at the home of Mrs. Henshaw before the 10th. In connection, a nice lunch, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee, etc. will be served for 10c. Admission free. This is for a very worthy cause and all who possibly can do so should donate some article that can be sold at the fair.

Several fire alarms were given here within the last week, bringing out the bucket brigade in double-quick time. First the root in the GLOBE's flue burned out, searing us out of about a year's growth; next Chas. Fix's livery stable caught fire; then the roof of Geo. Tatum's house, and next Bill Dunlap's flue burned out. The fire in every instance was extinguished before any damage was done. It ought to be a warning for all to examine their flues carefully, as the danger from fire is greater than usual now that it is necessary to keep up large fires constantly. Nothing but the best of brick flues should be allowed in any of the buildings in town.

Arlington Items.

Judge Mariner was in town this week.

L. C. Edwards has a fine line of Xmas presents. Buy some before they are all gone.

Miles Shurte has a photograph gallery in town and is prepared to do all kinds of work in that line.

A gentleman friend of Ross Beardeley came up from Portland this week to hunt geese a few days.

The state lecturer of the A. F. & A. M. Mr. Stroud, was here Saturday and attended the lodge meeting.

W. I. Fletcher has so far recovered from the sprain received last week that he is able to be around again.

The shooting match here on Thanksgiving was well attended and created intense amusement and excitement.

Just why the stars and stripes are not more frequently displayed from our school building we are unable to say.

C. D. Bennett of Rock creek, the well-known auctioneer, has just returned from an extended trip to Southern Oregon.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. S. Foster of Olex died a few days ago. A. A. Carothers came in Monday for the coffin for the little corpse.

Rev. Bramblet of Lone Rock continues to hold revival meetings at this place, and they are well attended, notwithstanding the fact that regular meetings are being held at the M. E. church.

Chas. M. Spencer has traded his ranch to W. H. Robinson of Hardman, Morrow county, for his mountain ranch. Mr. Robinson was down here last week to complete the "swap" with Mr. Spencer.

While other portions of Oregon and Washington are having snow and cold weather, Arlington is still favored with warm and delightful weather. This speaks volumes for our town as a health resort.

An embryo lottery game has been run here for several nights. Of course some "lucky" person (bunco stealer) draws a prize, and the suckers fall over each other in their effort to win also, but they never win.

Charley Roysse has had the double misfortune to lose his little son last week. The little body was buried at Olex on Sunday. It is only a few months since Mr. Roysse lost his young wife. Verily he is having more than his share of affliction.

An agent for the S. F. Examiner was doing the town last week. The people should shun those traveling fakirs like they would a pestilence—as many of them are bilks. It is much the best and safest to entrust your money with home agents for any kind of business.

At a joint meeting of the representatives of the various secret societies of this place it was decided that the A. O. U. W. lodge should purchase the Griffin building, formerly owned by John Madden as a furniture store, and fit it up in the proper manner, and that the other lodges rent the building for lodge purposes.

Arlington has not yet brought out a candidate for congress—as have about all the other towns in the state—but there is ample time yet before the convention meets. We believe there are at least two of our citizens, either of which would be willing to sacrifice his private business in order to "save the country" by representing us in congress. They have what is termed the "office itch" in its most malignant form.

At the regular annual meeting of the Arlington Gun Club Wednesday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: R. T. Cox, president; Ross Beardsley, vice-president; S. A. D. Garley, Sec; F. H. Robinson, treasurer and scorer; R. E. Smith, captain. Several new members joined the club at its last meeting, and there is no doubt that we will soon have some crack shots that will merit national fame.

G. W. Rinehart of Condon was in town the first of the week.

Carlisle, Cox, Garley and Colwell went out the first of the week and killed a wagon load of geese.

Winter set in in earnest this week, there being doudles of snow every other place except here, where it is warm and pleasant yet.

The ball here passed off serenely on Thanksgiving. By the aid of Mose Kerby and R. H. Robinson's music the dancers were kept on the move.

Notwithstanding that this is considered the dull season of the year, Little Phil, the warehouseman, is doing a big business and is busy all the time.

The trap shooting that took place last week under the auspices of the gun club was quite exciting. W. H. Colwell made the best score, although others made good records. Clay pigeons were used.

Our live merchants are filling up their show windows with Xmas goods and anyone who brings his kids to town had better dig up or blindfold the youngsters, as there are things to suit all kinds of kids.

One of the secret orders here has bought the old Maiden store building from Dr. E. H. Griffin and will convert it into a lodge hall up stairs and a public hall down stairs. It is something much needed here.

The Arlington gun club met the first of the week and elected officers for the ensuing year. The club can put up some good shots, who are making their mark in the world—whenever they shoot at anything or fall down in the mud.

Quite a number of turkeys were shot for here on Thanksgiving, making fun for those who could shoot and bringing grief to those who had to pay for them.

Rev. Bramblet was the recipient of a very fine overcoat while here, donated by the good people of this place, to show their appreciation of his services while here.

W. W. Weatherford, of Shuttler Flat is spending a few days with his brother, Hon. J. K. Weatherford, at Salem. He was excused from serving as a juror at Portland.

It is not generally known that a man can hunt on a bicycle, but such is the case. Several of our boys go out goose hunting every week on their wheels and bring in game without any trouble.

The hog business has not been so brisk the last week as formerly but there are plenty hogs in the county yet to be marketed. By next year we hope to see a packing house located here or at some other place in this section of the country. It would save a large sum of money to the farmers. If there was a home market for their hogs they would save freight on all the waste and on all the bacon and hams that we import every year—just because there is no way to cure them here on a large scale. Nowhere in the whole country is there a better opening for a packing business than here in the Northwest.

Lone Rock Riplets.

R. G. Robinson has hired William Pierce of Dry Fork to winter 100 head of cattle for him.

Our present term of school will close in a couple of weeks. There is a spelling match at the school house every Wednesday night.

We hear it hinted that some of our "reform pretenders" are getting pretty sporty of late and may cause a ruction thereby if they don't take a tumble.

We are glad to learn that Mr. B. D. Clarke is improving somewhat from his serious illness. His son Myron was up and staid with him a few days, going back to Condon Tuesday.

The big Wineland dance hall is fast nearing completion. We understand that all arrangements are made for a big dance and blowout here on Christmas, to dedicate the new hall. When the ball starts rolling, Ed will be happy.

Winter has come at last, snow being nearly a foot deep in this locality and a frost fog has settled over the country, with every prospect for a siege of cold weather. Our sheep owners are feeding their flocks and the cattle men will soon have to fill up the vacant spaces in the bovines with some hay.

Quite an exciting plug horse race took place here Sunday between Frank Crawford and the May boys of Matney. May's plug was not in it. Several horses changed hands on the race, also a few nickels. Mr. McKinney invested a fine horse on the race and in consequence has one less to feed this winter.

JOHN DOE.

A Piano for $40!!!

Chicago's most prominent music house, Lyon & Healy, have a number of slightly used and second-hand pianos, taken in trade, used in concerts, and in fact not brand new instruments, which they have determined to sacrifice rather than to try to make room for. These instruments comprise Square pianos at $40, $65, $90, $100 and $125. Upright pianos at $125, $140, $150, $165, $190, $200, $225, $240 and upward. Grand pianos at $200, $250, $300 and upward. Nearly all originally sold for from 2 to 4 times their present price. Almost all prominent makes (in squares and uprights) are represented, including among numerous others Chickering, Knabe, Steinway, Weber, Decker, Steck, Fisher, etc. This is an opportunity that will not occur again, as Lyon & Healy never had so many pianos of this class before. Immediate attention is necessary. A good plan would be to order a piano, leaving the selection to Lyon & Healy. However, they will send a list and full particulars upon application. Any piano not proving satisfactory may be returned at their expense. Address at their new salesrooms, corner Wabash Avenue and Adams Street, Chicago. Distance is no obstacle in taking advantage of this remarkable chance to obtain a piano, for in proportion to the saving to be made, the freight charges are insignificant. If you do not already know them by reputation, any banker will assure you of Lyon & Healy's entire responsibility and record of over a third of a century for honorable dealing. Write to-day so as to avoid disappointment.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.
