GLOBOSITIES.

We had no Portland mail Wednesday, for some reason or 'tother.

Billy Brown of Lone Rock was over to our city Monday on business.

Mrs. S. P. Shutt and children visited her mother, seven miles west of town, this week.

Miss Bessie Fitzwater returned home Saturday from Eightmile, where she just closed a term of school.

Tommy Livingston has given up his position in the clerk's office, as there is not sufficient work at present for three.

The Baker City Democrat learns that $44,000 in gold was taken from a single pocket in the Virtue mine a few days since.

Harper's Bazar: The wife—Isn't that your eye-doctor? The Husband—I thought so until he sent in his bill. He's a skin specialist.

A burglar blew open an editor's safe the other day in The Dalles, and secured 3 cents; the editor had drawn out the other 2 cents to mail a letter.

The O. R. & N. Co. has reduced the rate on wheat between Biggs and Portland to 6 1/2 cents per bushel. This is a drop of about four cents since last year.

A conservative estimate has placed the cost of the present term of court in Wasco county at $10,000. The taxpayers will have a merry time settling the bills.

per announcement, Dr. Nott, the dentist, arrived here Monday. He will remain until the 20th—next Friday. Office in the rear of Hendrick's law office.

Albert Smith, who was married recently to Mrs. Buell, has rented G. W. Crawford's homestead on Matney Flat and they moved onto the place Wednesday.

Don't forget the fair in the hall this Friday evening by the Ladies Aid Society. You will miss a grand time and rare treat if you do not come. Admission free.

Durrant, the notorious San Francisco murderer, was denied a new trial, and will soon get his just deserts by acting as the central figure in a neck-tie party down there.

One day last week Marion Lamberson shot and killed a fine buck deer on Thirtymile and wounded another. The one killed dressed 400 lbs and the horns measured 4 feet from tip to tip.

Mrs. Henshaw met with a severe accident Saturday, having slipped and fell on an icy walk and was unable to walk for several hours. She is able to be around again, we are pleased to state.

F. O. Leloh, a former resident of this country but now living in the vicinity of Ajax, Gilliam county, Oregon, was in Goldendale Saturday after a load of mill stuffs at the Goldendale mill.—Sentinel.

Married, in Goldendale, Wednesday Nov. 27, John Couey, of Cleveland and Miss Estella Alexander, of Dot, Rev. Hawk officiating. [John Couey is a brother of our Frank Couey, of Trailfork.]

Capt. S. H. Miller has two wild turkeys, the eggs coming from the Mississippi valley, which he will cross with the domestic breed and thereby raise turkeys more suited to our climate.—Goldendale Sentinel.

A Condon little girl, after having spent half an hour before the mirror, a few days ago turned to her mamma and remarked: "How much prettier God makes little girls now than he did when you were born, mamma."

The Statesman says that Sprague is fast losing her population since the loss of the Northern Pacific car shops and division headquarters. Before the fire, Sprague had a population of 2000, with 600 voters. It is doubtful whether the registration for the next city election will show more than 100 voters.

J. H. Downing, wife and two daughters of Condon, Oregon, expect to spend the winter in Santa Clara valley. Mr. Downing will look over the valley with a view of locating here. He will take rooms in Santa Clara and probably make his headquarters here, and if an opening is found to suit him he will likely invest in business in town.—Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal.

Zelma, the "showman," who was through here last spring exhibiting what he called a mummy giant, passed through here Tuesday on his way to Lone Rock. He didn't have the mummy with him, for the simple reason that it is "in soak" to a Canyon City merchant for $15. We learn that the merchant says he'd much rather have the $15 than the mummy—and so would we.

The bankers of the United States have perfected an organization, for mutual protection against forgers, sneak thieves, and others who make the life of the average banker unpleasant. Hereafter every well regulated bank will have a rogues' gallery, and in fact be a regular police station on a small scale. This is a good move and will probably tend to lessen the liability of crime among bank employees.

N. H. Downing, editor of the Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal, in his last issue, says: We expected to see a fair-sized man when our cousin, J. H. Downing of Oregon, came down to see us, but we were hardly prepared for one of Oregon's heaviest. The scales groan under him at 223 pounds and he has evidently not stopped growing yet. We hope by giving him the strongest chair and placing props under the family bed to avoid an accident. Mr. Downing is delighted with this part of the state and will probably locate here should he be able to arrange his business to that end.

Friday morning Mrs. Lon Stevens attempted to awake her husband and found him to be in an unconscious condition, evidently suffering from the effects of an overdose of some powerful opiate. Dr. Doane was called to administer to the sufferer and found him in a critical condition. Dr. Doane called Dr. Sutherland to his assistance, and through their combined efforts Mr. Stevens was restored to consciousness. Sometime during the night he had taken an opiate, possibly with suicidal intent, and had not medical aid been promptly summoned the result would have been fatal.—Dalles Chronicle.

Mr. Dave Spaulding, the energetic young Scotchman who left here the 28th of last May on a visit to his old home, returned Monday, accompanied by his wife—a very pretty little lady, whose maiden name was Miss Cathern Sophia Eason, whom he married at her home in Scotland on August 20th. They proceeded out to their home on Trailfork Wednesday. Mr. Spaulding will be able to go into the stock and sheep business on an extensive scale, as we understand he was recently left a large amount of estate money. That is what this section needs more than anything else just now—men with capital and energy to develop the country.

Frank and May Hewett played to a large and appreciative audience at the Armory ball in Condon last night and will play again this (Thursday) evening, with an entire change of program. After the performance Mr. and Mrs. Hewett will furnish free music for a free hall for all who attend the show. The Hewetts are "way up" in their line of business and are much better than the average shows that visit inland towns. Their sleight-of-hand performance and mind reading is excellent and very mystifying. Mr. Hewett is a fine musician, his performance on the cornet alone being worth the admission price. He was at one time leader in Barnum's circus brass band. They will go from here to Moro, Sherman county.

At a meeting of our local camp of Woodmen of the World Thursday night the following officers were elected, the installation to take place at the next meeting: Ed Dunn, Consul; E. A. Nelson, Adviser; Lieutenant; L. W. Darling, Clerk; C. O. Portland, Banker; Dr. J. H. Hudson, Camp Physician; E. E. Smith, Watchman; F. B. Stevens, Escort; E. W. Moore, Sentry; T. G. Johnson on Board of Managers. The lodge is thinking of holding a public increase meeting some time next month, to which a number of friends of the members will be invited. In view of this public increase meeting the initiation fee will probably be lowered and a special effort be made to secure new members. As this is the best and cheapest life insurance in the world, to say nothing of the great fraternal benefit derived therefrom, it is expected that the camp will receive a number of new accessions.

Lone Rock Riplets.

A life insurance agent, representing the New York Mutual Life, was rustling in this berg last week. The last we heard of him he had engaged the services of our physician and went over to Haystack.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Barker came up Tuesday and visited Mr. Clarke, father of Mrs. Barker. We are very to say that Mr. Clarke is still in a critical condition. From all appearances he is gradually growing worse from heart disease.

Several of our citizens turned a helping hand for the public good Wednesday by fixing up the fence around the grave yard, which was badly needed. As soon as lumber can be had the grounds will be enlarged and a good substantial fence placed around it.

Everybody is rejoicing over the fine weather we are having of late. The grass is growing nicely and stockmen generally feel hopeful of an easy winter. Persons who have been over the country considerable of late say that stock of all kinds are in better condition in this locality than in most other places.

An effort was made last week to get enough subscribed to have two months more school, but we understand that the necessary amount of funds were not subscribed. The majority of our school patrons are in favor of maintaining our public school by a tax levy, as provided by our school law, as the only equal and just way.

We understand that J. B. Goff has accepted a new fire insurance policy from the Firemen Fund Ins. Co. of San Francisco, in place of the one he held in the defunct State Co. Mr. Goff also held a policy in the Northwest that "went fluey" a few months ago. Seems to us that this kind of insurance business is a good deal like legalized robbery. What do you think? J. Doz.

Last Friday an 11-pound boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. D. Gurley. Mother and child doing well.

An agent for the coming new book, historical of the active republicans of this state, canvassed the town Monday.

C. W. Shurte, our genial P. M., was presented with a fine boy on Tuesday of this week by his wife. Charley is doing as well as could be expected.

F. C. Hindle, the gentlemanly O. R. & N. agent, has just purchased as fine a shotgun as we have ever seen. He is "no slouch himself" at perforating geese.

Our good people have persuaded Rev. Bramblet to remain here until about Dec. 20th. He has been holding services here every day for nearly three weeks and has had a large and appreciative congregation each day.

Camp No. 56, Woodmen of the World of this place have elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Consul, Ross Beardsley; Adviser, S. A. D. Gurley; Clerk, R. H. Robinson; Escort, C. S. Wenner; Banker, R. E. Smith; Sentry, W. I. Fram; Watchman, F. H. Robinson; Board of Managers, J. A. Geisendorfer.

The following officers have been elected by the Knights of the Maccabees of this city to serve for the ensuing term: Sir Knight Commander, S. A. D. Gurley; S. K. Lieut-Com., W. S. Farr; S. K. Record-keeper, F. I. Shurte; S. K. Finance-keeper, E. B. Frum; S. K. Chaplain, A. W. Sherrard; S. K. Physician, J. A. Geisendorfer; S. K. Sergeant M. J. Canty; S. K. Master at Arms, J. A. Geisendorfer; S. K. First Master of the Guards, J. P. Rodgers; S. K. Second Master of the Guards, C. E. Hatch; S. K. Sentinel, R. E. Smith; S. K. Pickett, D. Sweetin.

Mrs. Robinson of Lone Rock is here visiting her sons.

The weather has been very warm here for the last week.

Fred Whithey of this place lost two fine hogs a few days ago from poison, or something of that sort.

Ray Henson of Condon shipped a band of cattle from here to his range in the Malheur country last week.

Mrs. Mary Garrison of Canby passed through here this week on her way home from a short visit with relatives at Lone Rock.

The Methodists are holding revival meetings here, with large attendance and great interest. Let the good work go on, in what we holler.

A band of lambs belonging to Mrs. Mary Brown of Condon was taken across the river here last week. They are the finest sheep we have seen this season.

Rev. Bramblet gave a lecture here last week from his chart, which raised quite a commotion in camp and caused a challenge to be sent to several ministers to debate certain questions raised; but none have accepted yet.

Geo. McKay of Mitchell brought 135 head of horses here last week to break for the saddle and harness until spring, when he will ship them to the East. Tuesday they broke down the corral fence and started back to their old range but the boys caught them about 30 miles from town and brought them back. A professional horse trainer, Jack Glasgow is engaged to train the horses.

"Mariar, I want ter tell yer one thing; I kin never marry a girl wot chews gum."

"Well why don't you give up yer horrid cigaroote?"

"With us men it's diffrent; we needs a stimulant."

"Detectives wanted; no experience required," was an advertisement that caught the eye of a gullible youth at Antelope. He was ambitious, and wrote to the concern for information. They sent back word to the writer to include $5.00 for his commission, which would be sent. He did so, and received the terse reply: Thanks for the money; you are too much of a sucker to make a detective. Turn your talents in another direction."

A Just Verdict.

The case of the state vs. Thomas Lewis was given to the jury at The Dalles Saturday afternoon, and within thirty minutes the court was informed that a verdict had been reached. When the verdict was read it was that the jury found the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment. The crime for which Lewis was tried was the burning of 80 tons of hay belonging to Phil Brogan, near Antelope, on the night of the 13th of November. Although the evidence given in the trial of this case was entirely circumstantial, it was so conclusive that the jury could arrive at no other conclusion than that the defendant was the guilty party.

This has been one of the most expensive cases to that county that has been tried during the present term of court, 16 witnesses having been brought from Antelope, but it is money well expended, for Lewis' crime is one that should not go unpunished. Society has no protection against the diabolical deeds of an incendiary, except the punishment meted out by the courts after the crime has been committed, the property of the victim destroyed, and whenever one of this class of criminals is brought to justice, society feels the relief that it may serve to prevent other similar crimes.

Banker Bush Interviewed.

A. Bush the Salem banker, well known throughout the Northwest, has just returned from a two months' trip in the East. Most of his time was spent in the New England states, New York and Washington, D. C. From his observations, Mr. Bush feels warranted in saying the worst of the hard times is over in the East. Mr. Bush is a Cleveland democrat, and is very discreet in his statements of the business condition of the country, as associated with politics. He maintains that times would have been as distressing had Harrison been re-elected. Mr. Bush gives President Cleveland the credit of averting disaster and maintaining the credit of this government. He finds a considerable business element in favor of re-nominating Cleveland. Should he be the nominee, Mr. Bush estimates that, besides the sprinkling of democrats, he would carry the support of half the republicans that can read and write. He considers Allison's chances best, and Reed's next best for the republican nomination. The position of neither, says Mr. Bush, is clearly defined on the money question. Mr. Bush has felt the pulse of business in the East, and gives it out there will be a strong demand made on both political parties for a platform clear and unequivocal on the money question. Mr. Bush is also an orthodox democrat on tariff lines, and goes so far as to say that Eastern manufactories are becoming adjusted to the new order, and want no change. Free wool, with a reduction on manufactured woolsens, he holds, is worth more to Oregon than a high tariff on wool. While Banker Bush concedes that things now point to a republican victory next year, yet he sees a glimmer of hope for his party in the fact that this is an era of tidal waves, and the unexpected may happen.
