Chairman.

Washington, Carter, of the committee, today called for a national convention of the United States.

United States.—In a usage and the instructive publican convention of the direction of the nation, the national convention gated representatives of the Re party will be held at the city Louis, state of Missouri, Tuesday, 16th day of June, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for president and vice-president of the United States.

Republican electors in the several states and territories, and voters without regard to past political affiliations, who believe in Republican principles and endorse the Republican policy, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the formation of a new ticket.

Delegates-at-large shall be chosen by popular state conventions, called not less than thirty days after this published notice, and not less than thirty days before the meeting of the national convention. Congressional district delegates shall be chosen at the convention called by the congressional committee of each district, in the same manner as the nomination of the representatives in congress is made in said district; provided, that in any congressional district where there is no republican congressional committee the republican state committee shall appoint from the residents of such district a committee for the purpose of calling a district convention to elect district delegates.

Delegates-at-large shall be chosen in the same manner as the delegates in congress are made. Delegates from the District of Columbia shall be chosen at the convention to be called by the committee of three provided for by the national committee meeting in Washington City, December 20, 1895, and such convention shall be constituted of members elected in the district primaries, to be held at such time and place and to be presided over by such judges of election as such committee of three may appoint.

In addition to the representation now authorized by the rules of the national convention for the territories of Utah, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona, the committee advises each of the said territories to elect four delegates, and the admission is recommended. An alternate delegate for each delegate to the national convention to act in case of the absence of a delegate, shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as the delegate is elected.

All notices of contest must be filed in writing with the secretary of the national committee, accompanied by printed statements of the grounds of contest, which shall be made public. The preference in order of hearing and determining such contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the dates of filing such notices and statements with the secretary.
