

THE CONDON GLOBE.

THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF GILLIAM COUNTY, OREGON.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1896.

LOVE OR FEAR, WHICH

Dalles Chronicle.

The London Globe publishes a severe article on the invitation of the United States Venezuela commission to the governments of Great Britain and Venezuela to submit to the commission all evidence in their possession which is likely to further the work of the investigation, and inviting the two governments to be represented before it by attorneys without prejudice to either claims, and then says: "Great Britain will not allow this monstrous claim to determine the territory of a British colony within its jurisdiction. No power would admit it except at the close of a long and disastrous war. Were such a demand to be made by any other power, our only reply would be to hand its ambassador his passports and mobilize the fleet."

Is it that the British government has such great affection for the United States that it is so considerate? Are the ties of friendship so strong that this is the only government on earth from which it would tolerate such impudence? Or do the haughty Britishers remember the events of 1776 and 1812, and fear that the events of those times may be re-enacted if the American ambassador were given his passport? Whichever it is, it is pleasing to note that England does not care to resort to any overt acts that would terminate in an open rupture between the two nations, and is willing that the differences be settled by peaceable means.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

[From President Monroe's Message to Congress in December, 1823.]

We owe, therefore, it to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and the allied powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere, but with the governments who have declared their independence and maintained it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and just principles, acknowledged, we could not view an interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny [by any European power] in any other light than as a manifestation of unfriendly disposition toward the United States.

JAMES MONROE.

Every school boy and girl should be able to repeat the "Monroe Doctrine." It is destined to play no small part in the future of our country, as may be seen at present. Any boy or girl who is not familiar with it should learn it at once. Not to know the "Monroe Doctrine" is inexcusable ignorance.

There is a new species of corn, which is being cultivated with success in the arid regions of the eastern slopes of the Rocky mountains, and may prove highly important to the whole arid region of the United States. It is called Kaffir corn, because it had its origin in the Kaffir country of South Africa, and will grow well in localities where wheat and ordinary corn would die of drought. Last year great quantities of this new corn were planted in the dry regions of Western Kansas and Oklahoma. Though the season was an unusually dry one, the crops were good. We would be glad to hear of experiments with this corn in Eastern Oregon, where no doubt it can be grown successfully.

Gov. Lord has received a dispatch from the Secretary of War, asking the number of men in this state who are immediately available for military service. This undoubtedly shows that the feeling is strong in the East regarding the possibility of the United States occupying Cuba in the event of the confirmation of the report of the sale by Spain of the island of England. The Governor has telegraphed that Oregon's national guard contains nearly 2,000 men who could be mobilized at Portland within 48 hours.

In 1891 the legislature passed a law making it a crime for one to point a gun, whether loaded or not, at another. The act is a wise one and is directed at that class of thoughtless people who, after they have taken human life, are ready to exclaim that they did not know it was loaded. At the late term of the circuit court for Jackson county one Elwood Coyle fell a victim to this law. He was fined $50 and costs.

Congressman Culbertson, of Texas, is one of the greatest criminal lawyers in the United States. It is said that he has defended 110 men indicted for murder in the first degree and saved the necks of every one of them. The old gentleman is said to be a man of splendid ability but he has stood in the back ground in order to advance the political interests of his sons, one of whom is governor of Texas and the other U. S. district attorney of the eastern district of the same state.

The newspaper reporters and correspondents have, at least to their own satisfaction arranged the marriage of Ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Dimmick. They should now stand back and give the ex-president and Mrs. Dimmick a chance.

Sensible Advice.

Don't send your children off to high schools or colleges until you are sure that they can—

Write a good legible hand.

Spell all the words they know how to use.

Speak and write good English.

Write a good social letter.

Add a column of figures rapidly.

Make out an ordinary account.

Deduct 16 2/3 per cent from the face of it.

Receipt it when paid.

Write an ordinary receipt.

Write an advertisement for the local paper.

Write an ordinary promissory note.

Reckon the interest or discount on it for days, months, or years.

Draw an ordinary check.

Take it to the proper place in a bank to get the cash.

Make neat and correct entries in day-book and ledger.

Tell the number of yards of carpet required for your parlor.

Measure a pile of lumber in your shed.

Tell the number of bushels of wheat in your largest bin, and the value at current rates.

Tell something about the great authors and statesmen of the present day.

If they can do all this, and more, it is likely they have sufficient education to make their own way in the world. If you have more money to throw away upon them, all well and good—give them higher English, give them literature, give them mathematics, give them science and if they are very anxious about it give them Latin and Greek, or whatever the course they intend pursuing in life demands.—School Supplement.
