Miss Mabel Halstead closed a successful term of school on upper Beecher Flat Friday.

Geo. Rippey and family have been visiting relatives all this week in the Mayville country.

Anyone desiring to purchase a magnificent new $100 organ at one-half that amount can learn of the "snap" by applying to the Globe man.

Active preparations are being made for the grand entertainment by our public school on Feb. 23d. No one can afford to miss this rare treat.

Lord Salisbury has reconsidered the Venezuela matter and now says that he is a supporter of the Monroe doctrine.

Uncle Sam is a good teacher.

The warm spring weather was brought to an abrupt close Monday night by a fall of six inches of snow, most of which has already disappeared.

Lloyd Montgomery, who murdered his parents and D. B. McKecher near Brownsville a few weeks ago, was hanged at Albany Friday morning at 7 o'clock.

J. C. Meek, who has just returned from a month's visit with relatives and friends in California, arrived in Condon Wednesday and will visit his folks here about a month.

Dorsey Ramsey, the Condon-Lone Rock mail carrier who was sick last week, is now able to take the route again. Frank Crawford carried the mail during Ramsey's sickness.

Last Sunday, 2d, was "ground hog" day. If we remember right, his hogship was able to see his shadow that day, and in that event we need not expect spring weather for six weeks yet.

J. P. Lucas was one of the Monmouth delegates that met at Portland Tuesday. We learn from the Monitor that a number of their friends tendered Mr. and Mrs. Lucas a surprise party Friday evening of last week.

The people of this section will be pleased to learn that Wiley Miller and family expect to return to Condon this spring, after an absence of two years in Douglas county. Wiley is expected here about March 1st.

The first leap-year proposal is reported from Kentucky, where a young lady proposed, and was accepted and the couple married the same day. This ought to encourage some of the marriageable young ladies in this section.

The farmers feel greatly encouraged at the rapid rise in the price of wheat. There are thousands of bushels of old wheat yet in this county for sale, which will be hauled to Arlington as soon as the roads are in hauling condition.

Under the recent land-tax law of Michigan all lands held by the state for three years for nonpayment of taxes are now subject to homestead entry. A homesteader can take up 240 acres by paying 20 cents an acre for five years.

Rev. Arthur Boyce, principal of the Middle Oregon Baptist Academy of Grass Valley, Sherman county, was married on the 25th of last month to Miss M. E. Haynes of that place. The groom is a brother of our Charley Boyce.

We regret to say that Mrs. John Palmer has been ailing for some time with severe pains in her head. In order to be able to receive personal treatment she will stop in town a short time at Maddock's hotel, under Dr. Hogan's treatment.

Wm. Dunlap, the blacksmith, has just had a well dug on his residence property and plenty of good water was secured. We are glad to note such improvements and hope that within another year a good well will be found at every home in town.

George R. Hanna, one of the successful farmers living between Clew and Olex, was up to town Saturday on business. He says the grain in his section never looked better at this season of the year, and predicts a heavy harvest and good prices for wheat.

Rev. Barnhart preached at Condon Sunday last, morning and evening. His wife accompanied him. Revs. Gilstrap and Davis of Ione, of the Christian or "Campbellite" church, preached here every evening this week, commencing Tuesday evening.

Messrs. Andrew and Paul Greiner and Jas. W. Dyer, appraisers of the estate of H. W. Puentes, deceased, were over to town Wednesday being their report of the same. They appraised all of the property at $387.50—the personal property at $1197.50 and real property at $1350.

John Maddock has received a letter from the Frye-Bruhn Co., stock buyers and butchers of Seattle, instructing him to buy for them two carloads of good fat hogs, weighing from 225 to 250 pounds, free from piggy hogs and stags, to be delivered at Arlington on April 5th.

Mrs. J. H. Hudson received the sad news this week of the death of her sister at her home in Toronto, Canada, on Jan. 28th, of consumption. She was married to a prominent clergyman of that city at the same time that Dr. and Mrs. Hudson were married last May.

The following persons from Condon attended a pleasant surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danneman at Clew Friday evening: Misses Lonella and Mary Maddock, Cora Myers, Carrie Danneman, and C. O. Portwood, Elgin, Walter and George Myers and Homer Propst.

Rev. Geo. R. Wallace, the notorious sensational preacher of Portland, who has been blackguarded a good deal lately by the Portland papers for indulging in games of chance—mining deals, etc., has resigned his position of pastor of the First Congregational church at Portland, and will perhaps leave for pastures new.

The Condon Brass Band is progressing serenely under the able instruction of R. W. Cooke. The most recent accessions to the band are Fred Cornett, Steve Couture and Wm. Dunlap. Through the courtesy of P. H. Stephenson the boys are permitted to use one of the rooms in the rear of his store to practice in.

Walter A. Goodwin returned home Saturday from a two-weeks' visit in the Eightmile and Idea country, preaching the gospel of the Latter Day Saint faith. Mr. Goodwin was ordained as a minister of the gospel by Rev. Clapp, of San Jose, Cal., who was here in September and preached Mrs. Goodwin's funeral sermon.

The chance to secure a flour mill for Condon, as explained in another column, is too good to be allowed to go by. A good mill here would bring many thousands of dollars to this section every year that heretofore have been sent away for flour, besides it would make a better market for wheat. By all means encourage the enterprise.

Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal: John Downing and wife have returned from their trip to Los Angeles. They report a good time and have seen some pretty places since leaving here. Mr. Downing however says this part is good enough for him. He is so well pleased that he has closed a deal for some land which he will set in fruit trees and as soon as they mature expects to make his future home on the ranch.

Jim Fuller, the horse thief, has not been captured yet and is not likely to be. Wm. Morgan brought word to town Monday that Fuller crossed that day near Bill Brown's place and went over through Buckhorn with three good horses, one having a pack on. It is a wonder that he did not try to steal all the balance of the horses in the county while he was at it. Fuller is no slouch himself.

County tickets in this county this spring will be nominated on a platform of reduced salaries in hopes of saving many dollars to the county. The people generally would not oppose anything that would have a tendency to reduce taxes. The man who doesn't show a disposition to yield to the demands of the people for reduction of expenses and taxes would do well not to stand in a place where he can be hit next June.—Long Creek Eagle.

The ladies of Condon have concluded to give a Leap Year ball in the Armory hall on Friday evening, Feb. 14th, which will be the first of the kind ever given here and cannot help being a very enjoyable affair. They are sparing no pains to insure its success and it is sure to be the grandest event of the season. Tickets for ladies over 14 years of age, 50c; under that age, 25c. Supper will be served at Maddock's hotel at 50c a couple. All are invited.

A number of members of the republican club of Condon met in the clerk's office Saturday and elected the following five delegates to the State Republican Club, which met at Portland Tuesday: H. N. Frazer, S. B. Barker, H. B. Hendricks, John Lyons and John Portwood. Mr. Frazer was the only one of the five who attended, the others sending their proxies by him. Not a very large number was out to the meeting here, but what they lacked in number they made up in enthusiasm. The following new officers were elected for the Condon Republican Club: John Lyons, president; S. B. Barker, vice-president; H. B. Hendricks, secretary; H. N. Frazer, treasurer.

A great many people along the mail route between Arlington and Fossil regret to learn of the trouble Bill Lee, the stage driver, has got himself into. He has been one of the stage drivers almost constantly for over two years and has always been very obliging and courteous to everybody, and appeared so harmless and honest that no one suspected he would ever be arrested on a charge of larceny. Bill's worst habit was his great love for "tanglefoot," and it may turn out that he was loaded with some of that kind of enthusiasm when the trouble originated. He is an orphan and came out from Iowa five years ago to try his luck in the wild and woolly West, the only previous business he had here being the purchase of a horse and wagon from the same place.

The city council appointed judges and clerks Monday evening as follows: Judges—G. W. Rinehart, J. R. Clark, W. L. Richards. Clerks—E. E. Smith, Jno. Lyons. The city election will be held on Tuesday March 3d. No time has yet been set for the convention, to nominate candidates. This is a good time to add that as S. B. Barker has made a most excellent mayor, conducting the office with much credit to himself and the people, he should be prevailed upon to hold the position another year, if he will accept it. He is our heaviest taxpayer and for that reason will always be interested in keeping taxes as low as possible. It is dangerous to have any office of that kind, in which the interests of the taxpayers are at stake, filled by men who pay no taxes—who have no respect for the taxpayers and property. The four councilmen—Al Henshaw, J. W. Barr, E. E. Smith and E. W. Moore, and the recorder, Ed Dunn, also deserve credit for the able manner in which they have discharged their respective duties, and should find no opposition for reelection if they want it.

Arlington Items.

Hon. J. E. David spent Tuesday night in town.

G. W. Rinehart and Gene Smith were in town last week.

Owing to the mild weather no ice has been put up this winter.

We understand that Major Sidney Collins is very ill in Portland.

Fremont Wade's smiling countenance was visible on our streets this week.

H. N. Frazer spent Monday in this place, enroute to attend the republican league meeting in Portland.

Bill Snell rode a wild broncho Sunday, to the great delight of a large crowd. Bill knows how to hold 'em down O. K.

Our band boys have raised enough funds to secure the services of a good instructor and as we have already several good musicians in the band it will not be long until it will be one of the best bands in Eastern Oregon.

At a band meeting Friday night the following officers were elected by acclamation: President, S. A. D. Garley; vice-president, L. C. Edwards; secretary, J. W. Lundy; treasurer, Frank Shurte; board of control, R. H. Robinson, F. C. Hinde and F. T. Hurlburt.

Joe Badd of Olex was here on Monday securing a coffin for the burial of the little child of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ward, who died suddenly last Sunday night while it parents were returning from church with it. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad affliction.

Quite a number of our nimrods, with a pack of hounds, enjoyed a coyote hunt last Sunday. One coyote "bit the dust." S. Carlisle was in hot pursuit of the fleeing enemy and his horse stepped into a badger hole and fell, throwing the rider and breaking the neck of the horse. Several of the boys renewed the chase on Monday, securing another coyote. The coyotes evidently do not like the appearance of the hounds, and fight shy of them.

Wm. Lee, a former stage driver on the Arlington and Fossil line, was arrested Saturday on a charge of larceny of a suit of clothes and a watch belonging to one of J. A. Crums boys, who is attending school here. He was brought before Recorder Hawson Monday night, waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $250, in default of which he was committed to jail. The democratic deputy prosecuting attorney, R. T. Cox, appeared for the state.

A sand storm raged here Wednesday awhile, causing things along the river to look natural again.

Shurte Bros. are fixing up their store in fine shape to receive the large stock of goods that is on the way from the East.

Sandrats are putting in their appearance in large numbers, causing the farmers to predict that spring is here. Our farmers will begin early to poison the pesky brutes.

Some of our broncho scratchers ride a few of McKay's bucking horses every Sunday, to amuse those who have nothing else to do but watch them. Some times they ride a cow bareback for a change.

W. H. Colwell has shown us a very fine barometer that was sent to him by B. S. Pague, weather forecast officer of Portland, which will be used in this county for a few years to determine the air pressure and to establish the altitude of some of the most noted places.

Cash Rogers from Morrow county came over with his dogs the first of the week to round up some of Gilliam's $2 coyotes. Some of our boys joined in the chase and S. Carlisle's horse fell and broke its neck, also Carlisle's nose which he used for a bumper when he struck the ground.

Our band boys have engaged Prof. Henry of Weston to beat music into them for three months or more. Eight of the boys got together Saturday night and played several very nice pieces to a large crowd on the street—just to show our people that there is some musical talent in Arlington.

Miss Louise Geruff of Arlington was complimented very highly by the executive committee of the manufactures association, who examined the compositions submitted by the school children of the state under 15 years of age, on the benefit of patronizing home manufactures. Miss Geruff was 230 competitors and she was the only one named from Eastern Oregon.

A Flour Mill for Condon.

The following letter from M. Putz, the Mitchell miller, is self-explanatory:

MITCHELL, OR., Jan. 24, 1896. DUMM BROS., Condon, Oregon:—Last summer I visited Mayville for the purpose of finding out how badly they wanted a mill over there and learned that they were all in favor of it, some saying that Thirtymile is the most favorable location for a mill, in order to reach it easy from all directions.

I am so situated here that I cannot do satisfactory business with my mill owing to the squirrels, and am on the lookout for a better location. I would either sell my mill here and build a new one, or would move this machinery. But I would need some financial aid, as I want more machinery in order to increase the capacity, also a new engine. Here I run by water.

If I move my mill over there I would be obliged to ask for aid to the amount of about $2,500, and would not ask it as a bonus, but simply as a loan for a short time until I got started, when I would pay it all back. As to my ability to conduct a mill and my reliability I can give all the recommendations that could be asked for. The Mitchell people can testify to that.

Please let me know if you think the people of your town and section want a first-class mill bad enough to be willing to assist me as mentioned above. Should your reply be favorable I will visit your town in the spring and give the matter my personal attention. Should I establish a mill there, my motto would be, "live and let live." I would not expect it all.

Yours resp'y, M. PUTZ.

Lone Rock Riplets.

The snow fell to the depth of about six inches Monday night.

John Madden brought a load of apples and cabbage Monday, which he sold to P. L. Ham, our merchant. Mr. Madden informs us that the demand for cabbage is not half so good this winter as it was last, on account of there being no snow for sleigh-riding.

The funny people of our locality met in the hall Saturday night and enjoyed the rare treat of helping organize an Oriental society. The business commenced at 10 in the evening and at 12 adjourned to the Andrews restaurant, where an elegant supper awaited them. Then the fun continued until 4:30 a. m. Several from Condon were present.

Last Wednesday night the inhabitants of our burg were considerably excited on discovering that Jim Fuller, the notorious horse thief, was in town. He left the stolen horse tied to a fence a couple of hundred yards from town and a boy came along and found the animal and rode it into town, and about that time the thief was discovered prowling around in Wineland's back yard. Several of our city braves armed themselves for self-defense and threatened to take the law-breaker dead or alive, but he walked down through the center of town, meeting several persons, among them being our constable; but the man didn't offer to surrender to any of them and finally disappeared. In about an hour from this time three men came in from Fossil, having trailed the thief the entire distance and was only a short distance behind him. He was seen about three miles from town Thursday morning on the Hepqner road; but it seems that the effort to catch him has been given up.

Nearly everybody in the state by this time knows of the escape from the county jail at Roseburg three weeks ago of Sam Brown, a cold-blooded murderer, who was sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 31st. To the disgrace of the whole state, it has been discovered that the officials who had charge of the jail and prisoner were bribed by Brown's rich relatives in Douglas county to allow him to escape. Another disgraceful feature about it is the fact that the officers have not made any effort to capture him, although he has been seen frequently in that vicinity since his escape. Many of the valley papers and citizens bitterly denounce the new law placing sheriffs under salaries, for the reason, as they give it, that many of the officers are too lazy and indifferent to go to the trouble of trying to capture criminals—when their pay goes on anyway, whether they do any work or not—apparently being perfectly satisfied to have little else to do but draw their salaries and work for reelection.—Monitor.
