

THE CONDON GLOBE.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1896.

NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the GLOBE is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Did you get any valentines?
Charley Sears of Buckhorn was over to town today on business.

The soothing hum of the plow can be heard again in all directions.
Mr. and Mrs. Del Rice's little year-old child is very sick with lockjaw.

"Keno" is able to be out again, after several days' siege of pneumonia.

We regret to say that our band teacher, R. W. Cooke, is on the sick list this week with pleurisy.

Mrs. E. L. Taylor has just received an Encyclopedia Britannica, consisting of 28 volumes, of which she is justly proud.

Geo. Rose drove the stage to Arlington Saturday and returned Monday, it being his first and only trip in that capacity.

Mrs. J. W. Clarno returned to her home on the John Day river this week, after a pleasant visit with her sister at Tacoma.

Rev. G. W. Barnhart, the Methodist minister of Fossil, expects to conduct a series of revival meetings at Condon before long.

"Man is somewhat like a sausage, fair enough upon the skin; but you never know exactly how much hog there is within."—Ex.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reischer returned to their home in Portland Tuesday, after a six-weeks' visit with their relatives at Fossil.

All road supervisors are now required to furnish bonds in the sum of $500 for the faithful performance of their duties, says an exchange.

Charley Slater, who left Lost Valley several months ago for the valley, has concluded to return to this section again, so we are informed.

Only a week from this coming Saturday night until the grand entertainment in the hall. It will be worth coming many miles to see.

Wayne Grider is carrying his jaw in a sling, the result of having an aching tooth broken off by Dr. Hudson in his effort to extract it.

Long Creek has just voted down for a second time a school-tax proposition, and the children will be taught at private schools.—Eagle.

H. C. Strickland and Wm. Dunlap were the latest to join the Woodmen ranks. About a dozen more will be initiated at the next meeting—next Thursday night.

Miss Bessie Fitzwater has been teaching the primary department of our school since Wednesday for Mrs. E. L. Taylor, who is attending the teachers' examination.

The Pendleton roller mills have commenced by shipping 5,000 bbls. of flour to Australia. This is the first large shipment of flour from Oregon or Washington to that country.

Notices for the city election on March 3d have been posted. All of our citizens are requested to meet in the hall this Thursday evening to nominate candidates for the various offices.

The Oregon statute says in unmistakable language that the county printing all belongs to the official paper of the county, and no other paper has any legal claim to it.—Malheur Gazette.

Rev. Drake is still at Lexington conducting an interesting revival. Reva. Gilstrap and Davis concluded their meetings here Sunday night and left the next day for their homes at Tione.

The prospects of getting 50 or 60 for their wheat this fall has stimulated our farmers to put in a large acreage of grain, and this together with the favorable weather, insures the harvesting of a large crop this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Scrivner and little son Clarence came over from Heppner Saturday and will visit their relatives in this county about ten days. At present they are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. Meek.

The county court will consolidate the precincts in the county at its next meeting, for judicial purposes, so that there will only be about one-third of the present number of justices and constables in the county.—Dallas Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Downing and daughter Daisy arrived home today from their two months' visit in California. Geo. Neale met them at Arlington with private conveyance. Miss Birdie will remain in California awhile yet.

Supt. Kennedy has won the thanks and esteem of this whole school district by presenting to our school this week a large value full of standard text books, which will prove of inestimable value to the school. There are 23 volumes in all.

Young ladies should not hesitate to make use of this leap year. A school teacher at The Dalles says it is proper and quotes this paragraph of Scripture to prove her statement: "Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

A lady teacher in the public school at Antelope, in trying to explain the word "slowly," illustrated it by walking across the floor. When she asked the class to tell how she walked she nearly fainted when a boy at the foot of the class shouted, "How-legged, ma'am!"

Sheriff Wilcox was in the Fossil country several days this week, posting election notices. His wife accompanied him and will remain over there a week or so visiting relatives.

A terrible murder was committed in East Portland last Thursday night. A logger named Baxter cut his wife's throat with a razor, and attempted to cut his own, but was prevented by the police. Baxter is a brother-in-law of Wm. Gilmore, formerly of Arlington.

The order of the Woodmen of the World is becoming one of the most popular social and beneficial orders in America. Its many commendable features recommend it wherever a camp is organized, and it is enjoying a substantial growth throughout the country.

Wednesday, 12th, was Lincoln's birthday, and the day was appropriately observed by our public school by the rendition of an interesting program by the pupils and teachers. H. B. Hendricks made an interesting talk on the life of Lincoln, which was highly appreciated.

Since Bill Smith's escape from the county jail his whereabouts are as much of a mystery as if the earth had suddenly opened and swallowed him alive. It is no less a mystery the manner in which Jim Fuller has been able to commit his numerous depredations without arrest.

Everything is in readiness for the leap year ball this Friday evening, 14th, in the Armory hall, and the "dear girls" are wild with excitement over the prospects of the good time they intend to have. Nearly all of them have their partners engaged and anticipate a very enjoyable evening.

Now that spring has begun, the O. R. & N. Co. will commence grading up the road again, and repairing injuries to the roadbed occasioned by washouts, slides, etc. To this end over 500,000 ties have been ordered for use between The Dalles and Pendleton, and will shortly be distributed along the line.

A prominent educator says the pupils who have access to newspapers at home, when compared to those who have not, are better readers, better spellers, better in punctuation and better grammarians, and read more understandingly and obtain a practical knowledge of geography in almost half the time it requires others.

Hold-ups are getting to be quite a fad of late. Last week two hobos almost had their minds made up to hold up F. C. Hindle, the ticket agent at Arlington, but were scared off by the appearance of other parties. On Tuesday night the O. R. & N. agent at Heppner was held up by two robbers and relieved of about $60 of the company's money.

Jno. Knox one day this week killed the largest wildcat near Maddock's place on Thirtymile that we have ever heard of—it measuring nine feet from tip to tip, so John says. The cat had just had a heated argument with a porcupine and was lying on the ground trying to extricate some quills from its nasal organ when John gave it the contents of a shotgun.

M. Putz, the Mitchell miller, has written another letter to Dunn Bros., saying that he will visit Condon about May 1st for the purpose of interviewing our people on the subject of establishing a flour mill here. He says if our people show a willingness to help him he will build a mill here anyway, whether he sells his Mitchell mill or not.

J. H. Downing, wife and daughters left Saturday for their home in Oregon, after a pleasant stay of some two months. During their stay here they have made many friends, who see them go with regret. Mr. Downing will probably make his home here within the next five years, having fallen in love with Santa Clara as a place for a home.—Santa Clara Journal.

Mr. John Palmer, who resides 2½ miles south of town, received this week from his son-in-law, Frank Hanna of Trail Creek, British Columbia, a beautifully-illustrated advertising pamphlet, showing different views of Trail Creek, which is a new town in a very rich mining country. The townsite is owned principally by Mr. Hanna and the lithographs of him and his family appear in the pamphlet. Last year Mr. Hanna sold one of his mines there for $40,000.

That those who sit in the back part of the church may be able to see better, the floor in our new church was built to slope forward about ½ inch to the foot, which is a very good idea. But the chairs that are used in it have not been sawed off, so as to fit the floor, and it is extremely tiresome and painful to sit on them an hour or two during services. All who attend church complain about it and wonder why the chair legs are not made to fit the floor. The proper parties should see to it at once that the "hind" legs are cut off an inch or so and they will have the thanks of all who attend church.

Posters will be printed at this office tomorrow, announcing a public sale near Mayville on Feb. 20th of the personal property of H. W. Pentecost, deceased. The following property will be sold: 12 head of horses, 11 head of hogs, 11 head of cattle, 1900 bushels of grain, 1 harrow, 1 road wagon, 2½ sets of harness, 1 sleigh, carpenter tools, household goods, furniture, ½ interest in header, ½ interest in fanning mill, and other articles too numerous to mention. Nine months time will be given on all except the grain, on which only two months time will be given. Ten per cent off on cash sales.

A Chicago capitalist is about to launch on the Snake river a veritable floating mining camp. On the boat there is a good sized boarding and lodging house to accommodate 150 miners, an immense stationary engine and boilers, together with dredgers and pumps of all sizes. The mechanical boat battery will move up and down Snake river, working the banks for gold.

Supt. Kennedy, assisted by Mrs. Lillian Stevens and Miss Mabel Halstead, is conducting teachers' examination at Condon this week. The following candidates are being examined: Mrs. E. L. Taylor, Misses Grace and Pearl Fitzwater, Ina Gorton, Carrie Danneman, Birdie Henshaw, Lulu Keizer, Katie Kiely of Condon, Grace Cooke of Arlington, Lydia Thompson of Matney Flat, Claudia Cooper of Olex, Laura Simmons of Mayville and Mr. T. L. Stewart of Fossil. The greater number of those from Condon are pupils of our public school, who have no idea of securing certificates, but are merely being examined for the practice that is in it.

While we are all scrambling for every dollar in sight, we ought not to overlook the fact that we would stand a chance to get more dollars next year if we devoted a little more time to figuring on some new public enterprises to help the town advance in size and importance, instead of devoting so much time and energy in working against and denouncing old established businesses that are already here. Stand by each other; all pull together, and keep in mind the fact that "a town divided against itself can not stand." Nothing is so fatal to any town as for its citizens to be so divided and hostile toward each other that they prefer patronizing anybody or anything but the home enterprise.

Death of Mrs. Clarke.

Mrs. Laura C. Clarke died Monday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. B. Barker in Condon, after a lingering illness of several months. The burial took place at 3 o'clock next day in the cemetery here beside the grave of her husband, whose death occurred on Jan. 1st. A large congregation of sorrowing friends listened to a very beautiful and touching funeral sermon delivered in the church by Rev. G. W. Barnhart of Fossil at 2 o'clock p. m.

The deceased had always lived the life of a devout Christian and was a lady of sterling qualities. She was 65 years, 4 months and 12 days old at the time of her death. The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved relatives in their affliction.

Arlington Items.

J. W. Smith is repairing his store. Charles Shurte is plowing his yard. Our school will continue until May 1st. H. J. Nott of Olex was in town Tuesday.

J. D. McKinney was in on Tuesday to make homestead entry.

Dan Rinehart of Condon was in after freight a few days since.

J. W. Redford is preparing to have a fine lawn adjoining his hotel.

Our farmers are preparing to sow, and everything begins to look like spring.

A. W. Sharrard has moved into the building occupied by Mr. C. S. Spencer.

Rev. Greene has moved to Heppner and the Heppner minister has located here.

Rev. Bailey, a Baptist minister from Prineville is holding protracted meetings here.

Chas. McAllister of Croy, was in town on Tuesday. He reports his sheep doing well.

Our boys are almost constantly tooting their horns and will soon be able to make sweet music.

Mr. Flisk is quite ill. He has been ill for some time, and as he is getting well along in years his recovery is doubtful.

The many friends of Dr. J. A. Geisendorfer will regret to learn that he has been quite ill for several days. He is convalescent now.

Last Saturday was a royal day for bronchos. Charley Gilmore was badly hurt by one falling with him, little Harold Ebi was "bucked off" and kicked in the stomach and Bill Snell's team upset his cart and ran away. No one was seriously hurt, however.

John Blake was in town for a few days last week.

Sand, wind and growling about the weather was in order Thursday of last week.

We saw them putting together some kind of a new-fangled gang plow at J. W. Smith's a few days ago.

Mrs. Steele started from here the first of the week to her homestead near Tillamook, where she expects to reside this summer.

The Robinson boys have painted their store, both inside and out, which with their new stock of goods makes it very attractive.

Mrs. T. C. Mobley of Olex has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Hankins, several days, who has been quite sick for several weeks.

Frank Babbe is getting his boat in readiness for the spring and summer fishing here and at the mouth of the Yakima river.

Mr. Nelson has his new ferry boat, the "Monitor" well on the way to completion. It is a three-screw propeller and is expected to be one of the best ferry boats on the river when completed.

Prof. Henry is here and the boys blowing their heads almost off every evening. They have rented the old hotel building near the depot for practice purposes and to get where they would not run everybody out of town.

Lone Rock Riplets.

Rev. Cason delivered an instructive sermon to a large and appreciative audience Sunday night.

The basket sociable given last Thursday night for the benefit of Rev. Brauhlet was the means by which about $6 or $7 was raised.

The Orientals had another time last Saturday night. Eight new converts were initiated, after which about 16 or more repaired to the dining hall of the Lone Rock hotel, where a sumptuous lunch awaited them.

Three or four of the Lone Rock boys went over to Winlock to attend a ball last Friday night and came back reporting a high old time. Plenty of tanglefoot was on hand and the affair soon assumed the appearance of a genuine wild and woolly West carnival. Several fist and skull fights were indulged in, and hundreds of pistol shots were fired and two men were stabbed, Henry Hawk being one of them. JONAS DOZ.

In a Tight Place.

Chicago Tribune: "I've got to have something to fill out this column with," said the foreman of the Spiketown Blizzard, poking his head into the editorial sanctum. "That's all there is about it. I've run in all the dead ads and all the catch-lines and slugged out everything till there isn't even a piece of wood reglet left in the office, and I'm short yet half a dozen lines or more."

Whereupon Editor Clugston sat down and wrote as follows: "Owing to the crowded state of our columns this week we are compelled to omit several interesting communications now standing in type. Friends must please bear with us. Advertisers must be accommodated. Until the pressure on our columns has eased up, correspondents will please write briefly and confine themselves to simple statements of fact."

The Candidate.

When he ran for office he was as social as could be! Always telling lots of jokes: "Hello, Billy! how's the folks?" Early mornin'—evenin' late, Always hangin' round your gate; Kissed the children, come from school, Helped the old man hitch his mule; Showed a new five-dollar note; "Sammy, how're you goin' to vote?" Just as cunning as could be: "Want an office? Vote for me!" Wore the cheapest kinder suits—Old wool hat an' army boots; Promised, if they'd help him win, "They'd get rich when he got in!"

Now he's in the office. See! With the big-head, as bigoted as kin be! Ain't tellin' so much jokes—Never asks you 'bout the folks! Voter feelin' mighty sore: "Never saw your face before!" Wool hat—boots—done laid 'em by! Wears a heavier, slick 'an high! Voters stand, an' look in wonder; Want a office? Go to thunder!" —Portland Telegram.

A Home Company.

The cheapest life insurance in the world. You don't have to die to get your money. The Washington Cooperative Life Insurance Association of Portland, Oregon, is a purely mutual beneficial association, equitable and economical in every respect, as reference to its table will show. It is purely beneficial, as it not only protects the loved ones in case the protector is removed by death, but the policy holders as well. He has made the afternoon of his life pleasant and comfortable by his own frugality and very little self-denial. Call at once and see Al Henshaw and learn how this can be done. Do not let this golden opportunity pass by. Remember you do not have to die to get your money. Al Henshaw, agent, Condon, Oregon.
