An Antelope young man has been arrested for kissing a girl whom he had courted for two years. Served him right for waiting so long.—Exchange.

Atty. Sinnott of The Dalles was in Fossil this week. We understand for the purpose of representing Jas. Connelly as defendant in a trespass case in justice's court.

County court meets next week—the probate and law business by the judge on Monday and Tuesday and the commissioners' business the balance of the week.

A Eugene man who had a dog for sale handed the editor the following advertisement: "Good family dog for sale. Will eat anything. Is very fond of children."

Easter Sunday this year falls on April 5th. This is for the benefit of those who need plenty of time in which to make up plans and specifications for an Easter bonnet.

The Lane county populists have nominated Ross Mathews again for school superintendent. He was the nominee two years ago and was elected—to stay at home.

Mrs. D. S. Brown left this week for Creswell, Lane county, to visit her father, Mr. Scott, who has been sick several months. She expects to be absent about a month.

It is given out that Ex-Governor Penoyer has come back to the democratic fold, and it is said that he is willing to become the parties candidate for mayor of Portland.

We learn from the Antelope Herald that Charley Wilson and Miss Nettie Randolph, both of Clarno's Ferry, were married on Feb. 12th by Justice L. H. Hale of Pine creek.

Miss Nellie Cummings and cousin, Miss Mand Golden of Mayville went down to Shuttler Flat Wednesday to visit the former's sister, Mrs. E. O. Tobey a couple of days.

Victor, Colorado, is announced to be the highest incorporated town in the world, being 10,300 feet above the level of the sea. Leadville is 10,080 and Cripple Creek is about 10,000.

There are three thousand eight hundred and ninety convicts in the Texas state penitentiary. It is an ignorant company for there is not a printer nor a newspaper man among them.

It is reported that Dr. Nansen, the Norwegian explorer, has found the north pole and is now returning home with it. Dr. Nansen sailed on his exploring expedition in June 1893.

Mr. G. W. Rinehart is able to be out again after several days sickness with cholera morbus. For awhile he thought his last day on earth had arrived, but in that he was agreeably disappointed.

Rev. Drake returned home Thursday evening from his three weeks' stay at Lexington and Ione. He visited his family at Fossil the latter part of last week and is also with them at present.

The horse-slaughtering and packing establishment at Linnton has suspended operations owing to the fact that no profitable market could be found for its products.

Farmers in Sherman county are said to be hauling seed wheat from the railroad to their farms, they having sold too much wheat last fall, not leaving themselves enough for seed.

Rev. Bramblet has been conducting Baptist revival meetings in the church here this week and will continue all next week and probably longer. Rev. Bailey preached Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Some of the members of the Mayville Dramatic Club are already in town, preparing the ball, etc. for the drama tomorrow night, 28th. After the drama a grand ball will be given, at 50c a number.

We learn that Geo. Rippey is about to close a deal by which he will purchase Ben Pettijohn's ranch near Mayville, to take charge of the property at once. Ben expects to rent a farm near Prineville.

See the new ad of Shurte Bros. By energy, square dealing and low prices this wide-awake firm has built up a large and lucrative business, and their many friends are pleased to see them succeed.

Barr Bros. are greatly improving the street fronting their property on Main street, by filling earth into the low places, as required by an ordinance passed by the city council. Others ought to follow suit.

Herbert Halstead and family visited their relatives in town this week. So did Geo. Taylor and family of Rock creek. Mrs. Halstead returned home with her sister, Mrs. Taylor, for a couple of days' visit.

Monday night twenty of our fan-loving people drove out to the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Strickland on Hay creek and tendered them a surprise whist party, which they all enjoyed immensely.

Senators Allison's managers in Iowa this week sent us a lot of printed "boost," booming Allison for president, and asking the Globe to use its powerful influence toward that end. They forgot to enclose a check, however, and the matter was allowed to drop into the waste basket with a dull thud.

Charley Sears and wife of Mayville visited friends in town from Saturday until Tuesday. Mr. Sears favored the audience at the entertainment Saturday night with a beautiful cornet solo, which was highly appreciated. Charley is prominently mentioned as a candidate for sheriff on the republican ticket.

Aspirants for county office these days are thicker than flies around the bung-hole of a molasses barrel. It is astonishing the number of men who are willing to sacrifice their private business in order to serve the "dear public" in office. The number of aspirants will grow beautifully less about convention time.

Among the dispatches from Moscow to the Oregonian is this: Charges of unprofessional conduct have been preferred against Geo. W. Goode, who defended Bruce Boyd in his trial for burglary, and the judge has appointed District Attorney McNamee, F. L. Moore and G. G. Pickett a committee to investigate.

Wm. Brown, one of the prominent stockmen of the Lone Rock country, is quite ill from an attack of appendicitis, at the rooms of Eli Keeney, at The National bank building. He is now receiving treatment from Dr. Swinburne, but should an operation be found necessary he will go to Portland.—Heppner Gazette.

Upon a petition by the majority of the legal voters of school district No. 14, just north of town, Supt. Kennedy has granted a division of that district, the new district being formed out of the northeast corner of the old one. The families of L. B. Townsend, S. A. D. Hurt, Mrs. Keizer, J. Wasson and several other families reside in the new district.

Mrs. Chas. Slater and little girl, who spent the winter with their relatives near Portland returned to their home in Lost Valley last week. Charley informs us that it was all a mistake about his intention of leaving this county and settling in the valley. He has no idea of doing so, which shows good judgment, as he has one of the prettiest and best farms in the county.

Ed Cruikshank returned to Condon last week from San Jose, Cal., where he spent the winter. He is satisfied that there is no place in the United States where a man with limited capital stands as good a show to make money and get a start as he can in this section of the country—providing he has energy and is not afraid of work. For the present Ed is working for a gentleman on Rock creek.

Postmaster Darling has received a letter from the Willamet Iron Works of Portland, which reads as follows: "We are informed that your town wants a flouring mill and that you have not yet selected a man to build it. We have a man who wants a good location for a mill of that kind. What does your town offer in the matter? Please mention this to your citizens and have them give us a prompt reply."

The GLOBE is always glad to publish anything that gives the black eye to the superstitions of the day. A man who believes in the old saying, "See a pin, pick it up, and all day long you'll have good luck," saw a pin in front of the postoffice the other day. Bending down to get it his hat fell off and rolled into the gutter, his eyeglasses fell and broke on the pavement, his suspenders gave way behind; he burst the buttonhole on the back of his shirt collar, and he all but dropped his new false teeth. He got the pin, however.

C. W. Gross, of Condon, Or., who has been confined at the Portland hospital for several weeks with a complicated case of la grippe, which has affected his mind, was taken before the county court Monday and examined for insanity. He was committed to the asylum, the examining physician finding that Gross' condition was such as to render him unfit to be at large. The patient hears voices speaking to him, and one of his hallucinations is that the clock directs him what things to do and when to do them, and is afraid he will take the life of his friends. The doctor states that Gross' condition is due to la grippe, followed by hard work too soon after illness, and too early rising.—Oregonian.

The largest audience ever seen at an entertainment in Condon witnessed the school entertainment here Saturday night, over 300 people being present. All pronounce it the most delightful and interesting of the kind that they ever saw. The entire program was so well rendered that it would be an injustice to comment on any part without giving all of it. The entire proceeds of the evening amounted to $77.05, and after paying expenses there remains $58.30, which will go towards purchasing a good organ for the school. The ladies who worked so hard toward getting up the entertainment are entitled to much credit, and prove conclusively that whenever the ladies of Condon undertake to do anything they do it well.

Robt. H. Farrar, a former resident of Ajax, and who visited his mother, Mrs. Maley, several months last spring, died Friday evening at his home in Oakville, Linn county, of pneumonia. He had been sick only a few days and when the sad news of his death was received here, his mother and Billy were on their way to visit him and were as far as Arlington, intending to take the westbound train Sunday night. It was a terrible shock to the mother. Billy went on to the valley, but the heartbroken mother returned home, as the burial had taken place Sunday. The deceased was about 32 years of age and leaves three children to mourn his untimely death, his wife having preceded him to the other world several years ago. He belonged to the order of Masons and was universally respected.

They Register a Kick.

A number of citizens of the middle fork of the John Day have written to the East Oregonian, of Pendleton as follows:

"We are all farmers and stockraisers residing in this locality, in Grant county, and desire to say a few words to the people of Morrow, Umatilla and Gilliam counties, who are accustomed to drive their sheep over into our county to summer them and on their way to the mountains. The sheep have been in the habit of stopping in the spring and eating our range on their way to the mountains, and then, to fix us plenty, they come back in the fall and stop for a month or two and eat all the grass that is left, so our cattle have no fall range.

"Now, we, as a lot of law-abiding men, desire to state to those sheepmen that we want our rights respected. We have to live, and have no other way to do but to depend on our cattle, and if our grass is all eaten up by the sheep from other counties, we will have to close out our business. But we do not intend to do this, and will not put up with the action of the sheepmen much longer. We pay our taxes, and that is hard enough to do without furnishing feed for all the sheep of three counties. If the grass is all eaten from around our ranches, we will not be able to pay the taxes much longer. Right is right, and right wrongs nobody. These sheepmen that have been driving their sheep over here know where we live and what we mean. Grant county has 167 sheepmen in it now, that live in the county. One of these men owns 15,000 sheep, and others have large bands. There are enough cattle and horses and sheep owned in this county to keep the grass eaten down, without any sheep being driven in from other counties to cut down the food supply so that we can scarcely find pasture for our bands."

Arlington Items.

At a school meeting held here last week a 5-mill tax was voted.

George Schott passed through here last week from Huntington on his way home to Olex.

Mrs. Morgan of The Dalles came up for a few days and helped the choir out as she is a very fine singer.

Geo. McKay shipped a carload of horses to Portland last Monday. He has about six carloads here yet.

The band boys gave a dance last Friday night for their own benefit, which was largely attended and a pleasant time had by all who took part.

A school exhibition will be given here by the scholars of the school next Saturday evening. We understand the proceeds will go towards building steps from the street to the school house—something very much needed.

One of our fishermen brought down a large sturgeon from up the river last Saturday and staked him out here in the river. It was the center of attraction here all day Sunday and thousands of people would have gone down and seen it had they been here. It was about 9 feet long.

There are several old wells near Arlington that should be covered up or fenced. There is one just inside Mr. Smith's pasture that is about 50 ft deep and not a thing to warn a person of its presence in the dark. Some of these days there will be a long newspaper account of some one being missing and then in a month or two another account of finding the missing one in one of those old wells. They are very dangerous, as children are liable to fall into them at any time.

An exchange says: Don't ask an editor to suppress an item of news; some other paper will get it anyway. The next day something will happen to your neighbor and if he asks to have it suppressed you will be the first one to jump on the editor for not "daring to say that his soul was his own." Take your medicine when the news happens to fall your way, for really you have no more claim on the paper than your neighbor. Nearly every day the editor is called on for roasts and several other kinds of cookery for the benefit of this and that one, and yet those who request this would no more think of writing what they want the editor to write and assume the responsibility for it, than they would attempt to fly.

Say, have you seen that new improved "Little Giant" gang plow at Shurte Bros? It is a daisy.
