GLOBECITIES.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris of Fossil visited friends at Condon and Arlington this week.

As March came in like a sore-tailed bear, the chances are that it will go out like a lamb.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Joseph Whyte of Matney Flat has been very ill the last few days.

As we go to press the weather has moderated considerably, with indications for a chinook.

A fine Kimball organ has been sent for to Portland for our public school and is expected here in a few days.

Our state penitentiary has now reached its high water mark, 400 prisoners being confined within its walls.

J. W. Cradick, an intelligent young farmer and stockman of Gooseberry, was over to town Friday on land business.

Snow fell at San Francisco Sunday, the first for ten years. The cold snap was general all over the United States.

The entire GLOBE force has been under the weather this week with colds, almost causing this issue to be a day late.

Charley Bain, (Keno) who has been sick with pneumonia for a month or so, is still confined to bed at Smith's restaurant.

The big Examiner prize drawing will probably be placed next month. Hurry up with your subscription or you'll be too late.

Miss Emma Harer, the Lone Rock school ma'am, is spending a few weeks of her vacation with her friend, Mrs. F. B. Stevens.

Judge Mariner and Commissioners Ralston and Clymer are conducting a regular session of county court at Condon this week.

Geo Bippsey and family expect to move this week to their new home, the Pettijohn farm near Mayville, which George purchased last week.

Owing to the blizzard and deep snowdrifts, no school was held on Monday and Tuesday of this week, but was resumed again Wednesday.

The heirs of Mrs. Laura C. Clark, deceased, made final proof on her Lone Rock homestead Tuesday before the clerk, as required by law.

S. Thomas of Olex was in town yesterday. His horse stumbled and fell on the street with him, catching his foot under and badly bruising it.

Miss Susan Dunn closed her three-month term of school on Eightmile, Morrow county, last week and has returned to her home in Condon.

The foot ball game Friday between the Mayville and Condon teams resulted in a victory for the Condon boys, who scored the only goal that was made.

Z. F. Moody, the well-known warehouseman of The Dalles, in his ad on 1st page, tells the sheepmen something that will interest them. Read it carefully.

Rev. Bramblet did not conduct his revival meetings here as long as he had intended, having closed Friday night. He expects to leave this week for California, to remain.

A Dexter (Lane county) Cor. to the Eugene Guard says: J. F. Keeney, familiarly known as Blind Johnny, is visiting his numerous friends at this place. He furnished excellent music for the social Saturday evening.

Miss Myrtle Perrin, formerly of Condon, was married at her home in Antelope Sunday last to Mr. Ben Glisan, a young business man of that place. The bride has many friends in this county who tender good wishes.

A private letter from Johnny McAllister, the Croy sheepman, concludes by saying that cattle, sheep and horses in his section are in excellent condition and that coyotes are being thinned out very rapidly there, for the bounty.

Several parties in town here purchased the scenery and stage paraphernalia of the Mayville Dramatic Club, after the drama, and expect to give our people an exhibition of local talent before long with the drama, "Bread on the Waters."

It is stated that it costs one dollar to transmit one thousand words over a wire by telegraph from New York to this coast, for which service the telegraph companies charge $50. A profit of $40 in a $50 enterprise is not to be sneezed at.

The Portland Oregonian has just awarded a prize of $150 for the best definition of a baby. The Heppner lady who won the prize sent in this answer: "A tiny feather from the wing of love, dropped into the sacred lap of motherhood."

Mrs. Chas. B. Sears received a dispatch Wednesday containing the sad news of the death of her father, Hon. M. B. Hathaway, Tuesday at his home in Vancouver, of paralysis, from which he had been afflicted for several years. As it was impossible for Mrs. Sears to reach Vancouver in time for the burial, she did not. The deceased was 73 years old and had been very prominent, having held many honorable and responsible positions.

Notwithstanding the rough, stormy weather the last week, the stages have been running almost on time, which reflects considerable credit on the plucky drivers. L. Parker, the proprietor, visited Fossil over Sunday, returning home to Arlington Monday.

There is now considerable "wind war" going on between this country and Spain over the Cuban question. Some think there is a better prospect for war with Spain just now than with any other country—but we predict that it will result in only a newspaper war.

A large crowd attended the auction sale of the Pentecost property near Mayville Saturday, notwithstanding the rough weather. We learn that everything sold very high. Grant Wade, Pat Skelly, J. W. Ebbert and son Roy, from this section, attended the sale.

B. K. Searcy informs us that he was in Arlington several days last week and beat the crack shots down there in a shooting contest with 22 and 25-calibre rifles. His score was 38 points out of 50; distance 100 yards. W. H. Colwell was 2d best, with a score of 37 points.

Dunn Bros. this week sold a half-interest in their merchandise store here to Barr Bros. (Billy and Oliver). The goods which are now being invoiced will be moved in a few days into the old Skelly building on the corner, which Billy Barr recently purchased. It is an excellent location for a store.

We understand that M. A. Moody, cashier of The Dalles National Bank and one of the brightest and most popular young business men in the state, is developing considerable strength for the nomination for congress from the 2d district. He has many influential friends working in his behalf.

Excitement over the Goldendale mines continues to run high throughout Klickitat county. Farmers are leaving their fields to locate ground in the new eldorado, and locations are being made in every direction. A late assay of the rock shows $112 in gold. The ledge has been traced a distance of six miles, and several new discoveries have been made.

Our town was full of representative republicans yesterday, 4th, the central committee from the various precincts having met to apportion delegates and set the time for holding the primaries, convention, etc. Besides these, many other republicans were present, as well as the never-failing horde of office-seekers to shake hands and "buttonhole" the crowd. But it was no "patching" to what it will be when the convention is held.

The following item, clipped from an exchange, will no doubt be new to those who opposed Dolph for the U. S. senate a year ago: "It now transpires that J. N. Dolph's defeat was due to the A. P. A. vote and work in Oregon. Council No. 3, of Washington, D. C., is out in strong resolutions of praise to Oregon members for their work in defeating Dolph. Its action is based on information from an old Oregon pioneer who is now a member of that society."

At the school election Monday, W. S. Myers, whose term had just expired, was reelected to serve as director for three years; W. L. Wilcox to serve two years to fill the unexpired term of C. W. Gross, resigned; and Ed Dunn was reelected clerk for one year. The meeting voted the present teachers a high compliment for the very efficient manner in which they have conducted the school, and recommended that they be chosen again to teach a nine months' term, beginning next fall.

Over two hundred were out Friday night to see the drama, "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" by the Mayville Dramatic Club. The play was intensely interesting throughout and each character performed their part to perfection. After the drama, which ended at 10:30, a fine dance was enjoyed, for which about 50 numbers were sold. Music for the drama and ball was furnished by E. M. Clymer, violin, and Miss Carrie Danneman, organist. Supper for the crowd was prepared at Maddock's hotel and Rinehart's restaurant.

The last legislature made a change in the method of casting ballots. The voter does not now strike out the names which he does not want to ballot for. A simple cross made at the left of the candidate denotes his choice. The following is the provision of the law in question. On receipt of the white ballot as aforesaid the elector shall forthwith, and without leaving the enclosed space, retire alone to one of the compartments or spaces provided, and shall there prepare his ballot by marking immediately to the left of the name of the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled, or by writing in the name of the person he wishes to vote for.

The wheat market is steadily advancing and some dealers predict dollar wheat within a year. The causes which force the price of wheat up are many. The American crop of 1894 was short, the Argentine crop of 1894 and 1895 were short, the India crop, which usually cuts a big figure in the world's supply, is very short owing to the droughts in that country. Russia is holding her crops in anticipation of a rise in price. Australia usually draws on India for her supply but is now importing from the United States. South Africa usually gets her supply from Argentina, but is drawing on the United States. Taking the short crops of India and Argentina, and the probabilities of war in consideration, the price of wheat is bound to advance.

The senate has passed a bill granting the widow of the late General Gresham a pension of $100 a month. Such lavish expenditures as this is what makes the pension system obnoxious. In the first place Mrs. Gresham has no need of such bounties from the government, for Gen. Gresham was a wealthy man, and left her abundantly provided for, but if she were in need of a pension, there is no reason why she should be granted $100 a month, while the widow of a private, who fell in the trenches, only receives from $8 to $12.

A couple in Pendleton, on marriage bent went hunting for a justice of the peace the other day. The justice is also an auctioneer, and not finding him in his office the couple went to his auction room. They found him auctioning a lot of cradles from a bankrupt sale. He was notified of the presence of the couple and their errand. He stopped the auction and married them on the spot. Then, to reciprocate his kindness, probably, the newly wedded pair bought one of the finest cradles in the stock, and the crowd of customers cheered.

The worst blizzard and snow storm ever experienced in this section lasted from Saturday until Tuesday, drifting the snow in places to the depth of five or six feet. It was also the coldest weather we have had for several years, being 5 degrees below zero. The storm seemed doubly severe owing to the fact that during the last two months the weather had been as warm as it usually is here in the middle of summer, and no one expected any more cold weather this winter. This has been the mildest winter ever experienced in this country, so the old-timers say.

A new scheme for "bagging" wild geese has been invented by an ingenious hunter at Arlington. The scheme consists of a dozen or more trout-hooks and lines. The hooks are baited and tied to sagebrush roots or firmly anchored to pegs driven into the ground somewhere where the geese are in the habit of eating. A watch is kept for the geese, and when one is caught it is easily told from the great commotion caused. It is said that when two or three geese in the same flock are trapped in this manner anyone can ride up to within easy gunshot of the flock before they will fly.

The only advertising Friday night's drama had several small squibs in the GLOBE two issues, and a much larger crowd was out than attended the same drama at Mayville, which was advertised several weeks in the Journal and by posters. This is ample proof of the GLOBE's excellence as an advertising medium. A couple of years ago our citizens concluded a week or so before the 4th of July to have a celebration. The only advertising it got was a few lines in one issue of the GLOBE, and it brought out over 1500 people to the celebration—the largest crowd ever seen in the town. It pays to advertise in a paper having a healthy circulation; a paper that the people read.

Olex Explosions.

Harry Clay will ship the balance of his mutton sheep to Portland next week. J. A. Crum is steadily improving from his sickness and will soon be around again.

Olex has had no mail for several days, owing the trains being blockaded by sand.

The song service at Olex church in two weeks meets Sunday evening, instead of at 11 a. m.

Com. Ralston is at Condon attending county court, having gone last week by way of his farm at Lone Rock.

Olex was deluged with drummers Saturday and Sunday. They went on their way south, grumbling at the blizzard.

H. D. Randall has sent teams to Arlington to move his family back to Olex. They spent the winter there for school advantages.

J. P. Thomas, formerly of Clem, has moved his extensive wagon and blacksmith shop to Olex and is doing a good business. He is an excellent mechanic.

Rev. Walbridge preaches every Sunday at Olex at 11 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend. He is an eloquent, entertaining and very interesting speaker.

Lone Rock Riplets.

The annual school meeting passed off quietly Monday, about 30 being present. Andy Sprouls was elected director and P. L. Han clerk.

Rev. Bramblet expects to start this week for California, where he will permanently reside. His family will remain here a short time yet.

We are pleased to note that Billy Brown is recovering from his recent illness and is now considered out of danger. He will probably be able to return home in a few days.

Winter! winter!! Snow to the depth of four inches fell here the first of the week and is as cold as 'blixen.' It is the severest storm of the winter and began with a terrific rain storm. R. M. Johnson, who runs the government water gauge, informs us that 3/4 of an inch of rain fell in 3 hours' time. Most stockmen had supposed winter was over and turned their stock out on the range, but they are doing some tall rustling to gather them up again to feed. J. D.

Card of Thanks.

I sincerely thank the good people of Condon for their kindness and many favors tendered me during my sickness.

MRS. R. A. BALDING.

Arlington Rems.

The band boys are progressing rapidly. S. T. France is building a house on his Rock creek ranch.

The Baptists held their first Sunday school here Sunday.

Editor Arnsworthy of Wasco was in town several days this week.

Mr. Arnsworthy, who has been quite ill for some time, is recovering.

Major Sidney Collins is spending a few days here with his family.

Rev. Bramblet has an appointment to preach here the 2d Monday of March.

J. W. Lundy will cease to act as clerk in the Arlington National Bank within a few days.

Some fears are entertained that the recent cold snap has injured the early fruit buds.

We have had genuine winter weather here for several days, the first of the kind we have had this winter.

The Record has been moved to the building recently occupied by Joe Potter which is a more central location.

Mrs. John Cunningham and children have returned from their California visit looking well and in good spirits. John is expected here soon.

Dr. Geisendorfer has returned from his trip to the valley, much improved in health. Dr. Sutro, who was here during his absence, has returned to Portland.

At our school meeting Monday J. M. Johns was elected director and A. W. Sherrard clerk. But little interest was taken in the meeting, as but few voters were present.

The season for spring fights has opened up here in a most vigorous manner, there being 4 Monday evenings—and not a good day for fights either. As a result the city's weasel skin is replenished to the tune of several dollars.

Messrs. Ross Beardley, R. T. Cox, C. W. Shurte, S. G. Hawson, A. C. Hawson and R. H. Robinson, members of the A. F. & A. M. of this place, made a trip to Bickleton Friday to visit the lodge at that place, returning home next day.

We have had no train or mail from the East since Sunday, owing to a sand blockade a few miles east of this place. The eastbound train arrived here Monday morning and remained at the depot until Tuesday evening, when it returned to The Dalles.

Two carloads of hogs were shipped from here to Portland last week.

Buttercups and other wild flowers have been in bloom here for several weeks.

The school entertainment here passed off very successfully Saturday evening. The band was present to add music to the occasion. About 300 people were present.

Monday night was "serap" night here, there being no less than four lively skirmishes and numerous jawing matches. We will not give names, as those who did the whipping paid for their fun and those who got whipped do not want any more notoriety out of it. The city is the only real winner in the fracas.

Saturday and Sunday were the worst days experienced here for years, there being a terrific wind and snow storm, forcing the mercury down to 5 below zero. The railroad east of town in one place was covered for over a mile with sand from six inches to seven feet deep, delaying trains several days. During the storm a small launch belonging to the ferry company broke its anchor chain and drifted ashore, knocking a hole in her side. The ferry boat was jammed upon the pontoon and nearly upset, and all of the small boats were swamped but none lost.

The City Election.

The city election Tuesday passed off very quietly, only 32 votes being cast. J. W. Barr was the only candidate for mayor, S. B. Barker having qualified for councilman. Ed Dunn for recorder had no opposition, as W. C. Caldwell refused to qualify for the position. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

For Mayor—J. W. Barr.
For Councilmen—Al Henshaw, S. B. Barker, W. L. Wilcox and P. H. Stephenson. Bill Thurnagle was the only other nominee who qualified for councilman and he received 7 votes.

For Recorder—Ed Dunn.
For Treasurer—J. H. Hindson.

The indignant mother—You say the young scamp took you in his arms! What did you say to him?
The artless daughter—I said "Hold on!"—Brooklyn Life.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.
