NOTICE.

The yearly subscription to the Globe is $1.50, if paid in advance. If not paid in advance, $2 will be charged. A blue pencil mark around this notice indicates that your subscription expires with this issue. Please renew promptly.

GLOBOSITIES.

Sheriff Wilcox and Ed Horn made a trip to Arlington today.

Rev. Drake will preach at Condon next Sunday, morning and evening.

Don't forget the auction sale of Frank Bellard's horses at Condon next Saturday.

H. N. Frazer has also purchased a Home Comfort Steel Range of Bert Case, the agent.

Lewis A. Miller of Lone Rock, populist nominee for assessor, was in town Wednesday on business.

Teachers' regular quarterly examination will be held at Condon next week, commencing on May 13th.

A third daughter, weighing 10 pounds, was born to the wife of Ebel Clarno on the 19th of last month, on the John Day.

An agent was in town the first of the week selling maps of Oregon, at $12.50 each. Our school board purchased one for the school.

Five tons of dried swine were shipped from The Dalles to Juneau, Alaska, last week. Thus the American hog keeps up with the march of civilization.

Mr. B. F. Tennis, administrator of the estate of N. G. Sayre, was in town Wednesday on business before the county court. His eldest daughter accompanied him.

We learn that it was our Mayville Tom Morgan who was married at Eightmile recently. His many friends in this county extend hearty congratulations.

Don't fail to hear Judge Mariner's remarks on the Portage Railway and Transportation, in the hall on Friday evening of this week. Everybody invited.

George Settlemyer, a pioneer of 1840, died at the home of his daughter in Woodburn, Friday. He is 88 years of age and a brother of W. F. Settlemyer of Arlington.

John Bishop, who is working for Charley Gross has been wearing a nice, slick felon on one of his fingers. John says it would look and feel much better on some other fellow.

Mrs. Maddock, of the hotel, received a box of very fine salmon Wednesday from Arlington—the first received this season. It is needless to add that they "went like hot corn dodgers."

The revival is still in progress here, but will likely terminate Sunday. This has been one of the most enthusiastic revivals ever held in the town and a great deal of good has been done.

The ball Friday night was not as largely attended as was expected, only about 60 numbers being sold. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brown and Frank Prindle of Fossil furnished the music.

Rev. E. P. Green, formerly of Arlington, whose wife died about four months ago, was married a few days ago at Ellensburg to a Miss Cox, daughter of Mrs. Cox, the temperance lecturer.

John Meek expects to start in a few days for Wyoming, over the trail, with a large band of sheep, which he is helping to gather now in the Antelope and Prineville country for C. W. Barney.

L. W. Darling has just received for his Hay Creek ranch the finest windmill we have ever seen. It is all steel and 60 feet high. This is one of the best improved farms in the country.

Ed F. Horn of Contention, democratic nominee for county assessor, came over to town Thursday and remained here until Monday, shaking hands with his friends. He visited Arlington also before returning home.

Mrs. Smith, mother of Mrs. Frank Downer, sent to this office one day this week two eggs—one the largest, the other the smallest we have ever seen—both laid by the same hen. The contrast is quite a curiosity.

Miss Birdie Downing visited friends at Fossil the first of this week. Mrs. J. H. Putnam and children came over from Fossil with her Tuesday and visited her relatives here several days and her mother, Mrs. Meek, in Ferry Canyon.

Enormous crowds are expected out to hear Hon. A. S. Bennett speak at Condon next Monday at 1:30 p. m. and Hon. E. B. Dufur and Hon. J. H. Cradlebaugh on the evening of May 18th; at Fossil on the 19th and Arlington on the 20th.

The Examiner prize drawing will not come off until the first week in June. Subscribe at once through the Globe agent or you will be too late. This may be your lucky year. Even if you don't win a prize, the paper is well worth the $1.50.

School Supt. Kennedy is in town. He informs us that he will soon be able to make the spring apportionment of school money, $50 to each district. Before returning home he will visit our school, also those on Beecher and Key's Flats.

Road Supervisor John Madden of Lone Rock was in the city yesterday. He thinks the new county road scraper is the finest thing in the world for that purpose, and says it does fully as much work as 100 men could in the same length of time.

Politicians are singing a new song running something like this: All hail the power of lager beer, when candidates come around. Bring forth the mighty demijohn, prepared to heal the wound.

It is rumored that the democrats and populists of Sherman and Wasco counties have fused for the purpose of defeating W. H. Moore, the republican nominee for joint senator for the 3 counties of Wasco, Gilliam and Sherman.—Antelope Herald.

Just now Antelope is chuck full of sheepshearers. So are some of the shearers, who have adopted that manner of pastime while waiting for the weather to clear up so they can begin work. The price paid will be 50¢ per head, the same as last year.—Herald.

The county court has just had planted in the court house yard 56 fine young cottonwood trees, which were grown on L. G. Edelman's timber culture near Mayville. J. B. Jones set them out last week, and if they grow it will add largely to the beauty of the town.

Sheep raisers who want to shear their flocks are considerably annoyed by the continued rains and cold weather, which prevents shearing operations from progressing, but farmers are pleased with the downpour of rain, since it insures them abundant crops of grain.

County court is in session this week by Judge Mariner and Com. Clymer. J. R. Kaleson, the other commissioner, is visiting in the East and could not be present at this term. Mr. Clymer is rapidly recovering from his recent injuries received by a log falling upon him.

Miss Mabel Halstead is teaching the spring term of school in the Campbell district just north of town; Miss Pearl Fitzwater is teaching at Clem; Miss Grace Fitzwater the Lost Valley school, and Miss Lulu Keizer is teaching in the new district between Clem and Condon.

Married, at Condon on May 1, 1896, Mr. Fred Archer and Mrs. M. A. Redden, both of Arlington, Justice Shurt officiating. Mr. Archer is a professional horse trainer and has been all over the world in that capacity. Mr. and Mrs. Archer expect to move to Southern California soon.

Antelope has three couples of dancers who hold the record for "long-time" waiting. At a recent party in that place they waited for just two hours and twenty-two minutes, and would have waited all night had not the fiddler rebelled. Charley Perrin was one of them.

Jesse W. Nye, the good-natured old "luch" of Clem was up to town Tuesday on business. He informs us that he is getting rich scalping coyotes, having caught 60 of the varmints in one week recently. Jesse says he is still in the market for marriage, if any of the dear girls want him.

Senator Mitchell has promised the people of Eastern Oregon that the needed appropriation for the locks will be forthcoming the present session. The opening of the locks is of more concern to Eastern Oregon just now than the national questions which are absorbing public attention.

When a man goes to church and the single nail that holds his pants fast to his suspenders, drops out and goes rattling down on the hardwood seats like a cow bell, and lets his suspenders slip around his neck, he might as well go home for the sermon won't do him any good.—Exchange.

The 7000 head of fine yearling sheep that J. W. Blake purchased this spring for the Plat Valley Sheep Co. of Wyoming have just been sheared and will be started this week over the trail in a band of 20,000 for Wyoming. One band was secured in Grant county and one band in Morrow county.

J. S. McKinney, the ex-saw mill man has traded his Lone Rock property to Perry Ham for the latter's residence property in Condon—the house and lot just back of the furniture store, which Mrs. Ham purchased before they were married. "Mac" will not move his family to town before next fall.

Harrisburg Review: Mrs. Mary Shelton, aunt of Mrs. N. W. Canter, arrived on Friday's local from Eugene and will establish dressmaking parlors in this city. Miss Emma Edwards, also of Eugene, will be here the 1st of May with a stock of millinery. The two ladies will conduct the business conjointly.

General Weaver of Iowa, the noted populist leader, will speak at Condon on May 20th. He is billed to make four speeches in this county—one at Arlington, one at Condon, one at Mayville, the other at Fossil. Martin Quinn, populist nominee for congress, will speak at Arlington next Friday at 2 p. m.

The three hundred dollar exemption clause in our tax laws is one of the most foolish and absurd ever placed in the statutes of the state. That a man possessing $1200 worth of property should pay three times as much for taxes as the man worth $600 is simply ridiculous. Such legislation should be, if it is not, unconstitutional.—Goldendale Sentinel.

The democratic and republican tickets will perhaps appear in the Globe next week. The tickets in every other county in the state have been published for the last month, and it is a mystery why the matter has been allowed to be delayed in this county. No party need hope to be favored by the voters unless the tickets are published so the public can see who the candidates are.

A Philadelphia woman has invented a bottle that cannot be refilled. It is a thousand pities that some woman doesn't invent an attachment to prevent men from emptying bottles.

While drilling for artesian water at his brewery in The Dalles, A. Buchler made a discovery that is liable to prove of greater value than half a dozen artesian wells. At the depth of 70 feet a vein of coal was discovered. The coal lies under a solid formation and below it is granite. At the point where the drill passed through it the vein was seven feet in thickness and the total is of good quality.

Judge Mariner will talk to our people in the Armory hall at Condon this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the subject of the Portage Railway and Transportation, of which he is one of its strongest promoters. He is thoroughly posted upon the subject and as this is something that interests every citizen of Eastern Oregon, everybody who possibly can come should be present to hear his remarks.

Mr. L. C. Edwards, of the firm of Johnson & Edwards, druggists, Thursday sold his interest to the remaining partner, Mr. Edd J. Johnson, who will continue the business. Mr. Johnson has been manager of the store since its establishment, Mr. Edwards having been engaged in other matters at Arlington, to which he has now decided to devote his whole attention.—Baker City Blade.

Saturday, at one o'clock in the afternoon, Cripple Creek, Colorado, the greatest gold camp at present in the world, was almost wiped out by fire. An angry courtesan threw a lamp at her lover, which hit a lighted stove and started the blaze. In a few minutes the building was in flames, and a high wind springing up just at that moment, spread the fire to adjacent buildings and caused a loss to the city of over $1,000,000.

Atty. W. H. Wilson of The Dalles was in Condon Tuesday on business before the county court. He was counsel for defendants, H. Wipper and W. B. Pentecost, administrators of the estate of H. W. Pentecost, deceased, in the case of Mrs. Pentecost against the estate. The plaintiff was represented by H. H. Hendricks of Fossil, who was also present. A compromise was effected between the litigants, the plaintiff agreeing to take $400 as her dowry.

A lively sensation occurred a few days ago at Walla Walla. A pair of adulterers who had been living together as man and wife were notified to leave town and upon their refusal to do so, a posse escorted the couple to the outskirts of town, stripped them of their clothing and administered a vigorous dose of tar and feathers and sent them on their way "rejoicing." They had not shed all of the feathers yet when they reached Portland.

Judge Northrup of Portland has accepted the nomination as an independent sound money candidate for congress from the 2d district. He is a staunch republican and as this will split the republican vote between him and Ellis, a great many think that Bennett will "slide in" without a doubt. Two years ago the vote for congress in the Second district was as follows: Ellis (Rep.) 18,675; Raley (Dem.) 9,013; Waldrop (Pop.) 10,749; Miller (Pro.) 775. Ellis plurality, 8,126.

H. C. Dodson, who was nominated by the populists for county clerk, has refused to accept, thus leaving the contest between the present incumbent, H. N. Frazer and Charlie Shurte of Arlington. Miss Lydia Thompson, who received the populist nomination for school superintendent, has also refused to accept, leaving Mrs. Lillian Stevens and Clare C. G. Morey to compete for that office. The democrats did not make any nominations for coroner and as Geo. Tatom, who was nominated by the republicans, refused to accept, it is more than probable that Arthur Marvel, the populist nominee, will be elected by a rousing majority.

Charley Prindle was in town the first of the week interviewing our citizens on a proposition to build a grist mill at the Byrne place on Thirtymile. He says his object in wanting to build on the creek is that water for the engine can be obtained more readily, also wood. The Mayville people are anxious to have it built on the creek and are willing to subscribe one-half of the $3000 bonus asked, if the people of this section would subscribe the other $1500. Our citizens do not seem to feel inclined to take any stock in the project unless the mill is built at Condon, but whether they will change their minds remains to be seen. There is one thing certain, this section needs a mill badly.

The populists of the 7th judicial district did not make any nomination for prosecuting attorney. This leaves the contest between Hon. J. H. Cradlebaugh of The Dalles and Mr. Jayne of this county. We understand that Mr. Cradlebaugh ably filled the position of prosecuting attorney for a number of years while a resident of Nevada and has practiced law perhaps as extensively as any lawyer in the 7th district. Judge Bradshaw says that Mr. Cradlebaugh has practiced considerably before him recently and that none of the lawyers have any advantage over him in legal ability. He expects to visit this county soon and our people will then have a chance to become better acquainted with him.

Arlington Items.

Dr. Vogel, oculist of Salem is in town. The continued rains have done much good.

Bob Robinson has a pet coyote, which he prizes highly.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Johnson was in town on business last week.

The Baptists have purchased a new organ for their church here.

Dr. Geisendorfer made a professional trip to Portland Saturday night.

Elder Moore failed to reach this place to fill his appointment for Sunday.

Messrs. Thornton, Clay and Earfoot have sheared their sheep at the Thomas barn.

M. J. Canty, our reliable harness maker, has been selling a great many saddles recently.

Quite a number of our citizens are expecting to go to Olex next Sunday to attend services.

Atty. S. A. D. Gurley left Monday on professional business before the U. S. circuit court at Walla Walla.

Postmaster C. W. Shurte returned home Sunday last. He reports having indulged in sleighriding in Dakota a few days before he started for home.

A timber culture contest and two homestead entries were disposed of by U. S. Commissioner Gurley on Friday of last week and a timber culture proof on Saturday.

The children of the M. E. and Baptist churches had a grand time May 1st. They had planned to have a picnic on Pine Creek in Washington, but the rain prevented, so they repaired to the Coffin hall, where a royal feast was spread and a general good time had.

Lone Rock Riplets.

Born, to the wife of A. J. Sweeney, Feb. 20th, a son, at Oracle, Arizona.

George Crawford came up from the Condon country last week to give us a few pointers on the silver question.

Robinson, the Jew, is doing the valley this week. He says his name is not Levi but says he is a whole lot worse than his brother. (And so he is.)

Sam Holcomb of Wenatchee came to this place the first of the week, and will stay here several months. He has some kind of a prospecting scheme on hand. We hope he strikes it rich.

Geo. Wright brought in a dozen coyote scalps last week. The things are much scarcer in this section than they have been for many years. There has been no loss in sheep from them this spring.

Jeff Neel stepped on a 20-penny wire nail that was sticking through a plank last Sunday and ran it into the ball of his foot about two inches, causing a very painful wound, which has laid him up for the time being.

Some people are crying hard times, whom we believe did not make very much when times were good. Don't kick just because some one doesn't give you something for nothing. Work more and grumble less and times won't be so hard perhaps.

Mayville Mutterings.

Born, on March 30th, to the wife of Luther Kenaston, a fine baby girl.

Mrs. Al McConnell is on the road to recovery and is able to be up and around again.

A. J. Shelton and M. E. Weir have returned home from Prineville, where they delivered a band of beef cattle.

Mrs. Ella Rinehart has received a stock of ladies' and children's hats, which she will sell to suit the times.

Fred Edwards of Mayville, Gilliam county, formerly of Lane county, has been elected class editor of the freshman class of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis.—Eugene Guard.

Maud McConnell gave a pleasant card party to a number of her young friends Wednesday evening of last week, that being the anniversary of her 14th birthday. I. D. C.

A person is never greater surprised than when informed that the best paying gold mines in the world are those in which the ore never exceeds an average of $10 per ton, yet the masses of the people believe that the great gold mines produce $200 or $300 per ton. The Treadwell mine on Douglas Island in Alaska, which has paid a greater dividend to its owners and stockholders for the last seven years than any other mine in the world, has never exceeded $6 per ton on an average for twelve months. The next great producing mine in the United States is the Homestead, and this mine on an average gives less than $6 a ton. The Anaconda mine at Butte gives an average of $12.60 per ton; the richest mines in South Africa on an average do not exceed $14 per ton.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.
