GLOBOSITIES.

Born, on July 24, to the wife of Chas. W. Gross, near Condon, a fine little daughter.

The postoffice department has ruled that hereafter drop-letters will only require a one-cent stamp, instead of a two-cent one.

The Willamette valley farmers are of the opinion that the recent hot weather has killed the grain aphid, and they are glad of it.

Hon. John Michell of The Dalles, one of the brightest orators in Eastern Oregon, delivered the oration at Arlington on the 4th.

John Anderson won the 100-yard foot race at Mayville on the 4th, easily defeating two or three of the best runners in the county.

Now it is proposed to exclude from our country all aliens over 14 years of age who cannot read and write the language of their native country.

The Harney County News says that Sheriff Gittings of that county has embezzled nearly $7000 of the county funds and skipped the country.

Ninety men are imprisoned in a coal mine at Wilkesbarre, Pa., with all means of retreat cut off. This isn't a very pleasant situation to be in.

Wm. B. Pontecost of Mayville left yesterday for the Walla Walla country, where he will spend the balance of the summer running a threshing machine.

W. R. Boyer, the popular old "Bach" of Glen, left several days ago for his old home in Florida on a visit to his mother, who has been sick for some time.

Dr. Hogan enjoyed the 4th festivities at Lone Rock and next day went to Fossil, where he will remain about a month in charge of Dr. Howard's practice.

J. H. Miller and family arrived here today. S. B. Barker and family, who have been occupying the Miller house, are moving into the Pitter house today.

Riley Frazer and family of Lone Rock left this week for a couple of months' visit with their relatives in Linu and Folk counties. Of course the Globe follows them.

Messrs. D. C. Beaber and J. W. Vanhorn of Hoover creek were in town yesterday and paid this office a pleasant call. They say the grain over in that section looks fine.

We learn that Jay P. Lucas, who intended to pay Condon a visit the first of this month, has concluded to not come up until fall, as he can not leave his farm work just now.

The Cleveland band did not play for the Alder creek people on the Fourth, the citizens of Arlington having offered them $50 and expenses to come there.—Goldendale Sentinel.

Statistics show a decided increase in marriages this year, which is pointed as a proof of better times. The secret probably lies in the fact that this is the last leap year for eight years.

Miss Daisy Downing is suffering with eczema on her face and was not able to teach the last three days of her school on Beecher Flat, and her sister Birdie finished the school for her.

Edgar Moore returned home Tuesday from his Portland visit and brought with him a fine new Rambler bicycle, which he rode out from Arlington. He will either raffle or sell his old one.

W. L. Barker of Matney Flat met with a serious accident Saturday. His horse stumbled and fell on top of Will, who is pretty badly injured but as no bones are broken he will soon be all right again.

In the match game of base ball at Antelope on the 3d, the Fossil nine was defeated by the Antelopes by a score of 9 to 11. The Fossil boys got even, however, by defeating the Mayville club next day.

The enormous number of cattle shipped from the Northwest recently has almost denuded a good many thousand hills of their grazing cattle, and ought to make good prices for cattle in the next few years.

Peter Schorback of Woodburn has invented a machine for digging, sorting and sacking potatoes. It is claimed that the machine will do the work of 60 men, and two men and two teams will be required to operate it.

H. N. Frazer and family and Miss Neva Nicklin, W. L. Wilcox and family, W. C. Caldwell and family and Gene Smith and family all expect to start next Monday for a month's outing in the mountains at Desolation Lake.

As evidence of the Globe's excellence as an advertising medium, the only advertising the Olex celebration had was through this paper, and about 800 people were there from all over the country. No posters were printed for the celebration.

It is estimated that the Hood River strawberry crop this year will net $60,000. During the season about 6000 pickers were employed, 4000 of whom were white people, the balance Indians. Last year a large number of Japanese were employed.

About 150 people met in Harrison's grove on Thursday, on the 4th and had a delightful picnic. J. A. Morris and G. Schilling each delivered an oration and the day was very pleasantly spent.

Ed Compton of Lone Rock, the well-known sheepman, has been in town several days and is one of half a dozen or more applicants for the position of stock inspector, which appointment will be made this week by the county court.

Mitchell Monitor: Corbett and Sharkey have signed articles of agreement for a $10,000 aside bull fight, or words to that effect. We will wager the Monitor against the Treadwell mine in Alaska that there is a man in Mitchell who can thrash the pair of them.

An exchange says that J. W. Bennett, an architect of Medford, has fallen heir to a handsome fortune of $65,000 by the death of a wealthy bachelor uncle in New York. Wonder if this is our John William Bennett, formerly of Arlington? If it is, he's a lucky maldoon.

A gentleman who recently visited Heppner says crops in Morrow county have suffered severely from the effects of the recent hot wave. The spring-sown grain in many portions of the county is entirely ruined. There will be better than half a crop over there, however.

County court is in session this week by Judge Mariner and Commissioners Clymer and Pitter. In our item last week referring to the changes in county officers we inadvertently omitted the name of Mr. Pitter, the new commissioner, who took charge of his office Monday.

Stewart Eakin possesses a remarkable heifer, says the Eugene Register. It is only 2 years old and has never had a calf, yet gives one gallon of milk per day and three pounds of butter per week. If her milking capacity keeps pace with her age, what will she give when she becomes of age?

Three cayuses were sold on the streets of Weston the other day, one for 5 cents, another for 25c and another for 35c, at poundmasters sale. The Indian who used to reckon his horses on a thousand hills as evidence of wealth, and grant with content, is no longer rich. Fortiori is the fate of the red man.—Leader.

The singular punishment of bigamy in Hungary is to compel the man to live together with both wives in one house. Something of the terrors of the situation is indicated by the fact that a number of Hungarian bigamists have petitioned the government to have their sentences changed to fourteen years penal servitude.

The Mitchell Monitor was one of the Northrup papers during the last campaign, and boasts of it. The Gazette knows that the Monitor desired to support Mr. Ellis $100 worth, but the cash not forthcoming the tune changed to a Northrup ballad. The question is, how much did the Monitor get for "It switch."—Heppner Gazette.

Frank Veatch, formerly of Lone Rock recently captured near Cottage Grov three white and two black crows, that had just come out of the same nest, and were not able to fly. The white crows are as white as snow, except that a few feathers on the outer edge of each wing are black. Their feet, legs and beaks are white and their eyes are blue.

Much is said of the bicycle as a disturbing element in business. One statement is that 2000 tailors are out of employment in New York because the vast army of wheelmen have ceased to wear fine clothes on Sunday. On the other hand, the profits of the rubber men last year were over $3,000,000. There are always two sides to a business revolution.

The hop industry in the valley is not what it used to be. The Yambill Record says: The hop harvest in this section will be very limited this season compared with former years, as many of the yards have been either plowed up or are being used for pasture. Only a few yards are being worked, but will be harvested only on condition that the price of hops will justify it.

At a sociable near Antelope recently they were having a good deal of fun when all at once the conversation ceased and all was still. A gentleman and lady were sitting together, he holding her hand; the stillness became monotonous, and to break it he remarked, "awful pause!" to which she quickly retorted, "well, if you had to wash and scrub as much as I do, you'd have awful pauses too."

The populist county platform in Union county, among other things, said: "Resolved that the salary of the superintendent of schools should not exceed $800 per annum." The people by their votes indorsed this platform, and elected J. E. Reynolds Supt. of schools. Under these circumstances the county court felt bound to reduce the salary of the superintendent to $600 per annum, and entered such an order to that effect.

The Marquis de Mores, known to some of our readers, whose death in Tunis is reported, did not succeed in marrying very many millions in this country, but nevertheless succeeded in getting himself talked about a good deal. He married fairly rich in New York, engaged in the cattle business in North Dakota, killed a cowboy in cold blood at Miles City, and another one at Tombstone, Arizona, then went to France, where he got into trouble and served a term in prison, and was on his way to the Sudan to make it hot for England when he died.

Alford, the Illinois populist governor, is not yet suppressed, and from present appearances it will take more than the present forces brought to bear on him to suppress him. Like Penoyer of Oregon, he will not down until throttled and forced to the earth.—Santa Clara Journal. [Penoyer is not so badly throttled and downed as he might be. He is always elected by overwhelming majorities to any office he desires.]

Ex-Supt. Kennedy was in town the first of the week, turning over the paraphernalia of that office to his successor, E. W. Dagggett, who came up from Arlington to receive them. Mr. Dagggett's first work in that line will commence the second Wednesday of next month, when the regular quarterly examination will be held at Condon. He informs us that he has appointed as his assistants for the ensuing year Mrs. Lillian Stevens and Charley Royce. Mrs. Dagggett accompanied her husband to Condon.

The following will be of interest to those who expect to be bitten by rattlesnakes: Miss Cannon, while picking strawberries near The Dalles Tuesday was bitten by a rattlesnake, which struck her in the hand, the fangs entering in two places. As quickly as possible her wrist was bound to prevent circulation of the poison, and she was made to drink about a quart of whiskey. A physician was then summoned, who administered the proper medical antidotes, and cauterized the wound, and she is all right now.

One of our prominent fruit growers says: "Every year I hear of caterpillars destroying whole orchards, and nothing can be disposed of more easily. I bore a hole in the tree deep enough to reach the sap, fill it with sulphur, then plug it up. The result is magical. The sap takes the sulphur to every branch and twig and the caterpillars at once die. I gather the insects by the pint under the trees that have been infested with them before I noticed it and destroyed them. I have never known this remedy to fail, and I never knew a tree to be injured by it and have pursued this course for years."

The democratic national convention is in session at Chicago, but no nominations have yet been made, according to yesterday's dispatches. Senator Hill of New York was elected chairman of the convention and some powerful spouting is being done by would-be orators, boosting their favorite candidates. The Oregon delegation is solid for Penoyer for either president or vice-president, but it is not likely he will be nominated, as there are several other aspirants for the presidential nomination who are away ahead in the race—Bland of Missouri, Pattison of Pennsylvania, Russell of Massachusetts, Boies of Iowa, and Teller of Colorado.

Among them are Tanbeseck, chairman of the populist national committee; Fred Dubois of Idaho, Bill Stewart of Nevada, Ben Tillman of South Carolina, Pettigrew of South Dakota, Shafroth of Colorado, and shoals of smaller fry—members of other parties, of bolting factions, of leagues and syndicates of cranks, revolutionists and anarchists; a heterogeneous mob of all the visionaries, bedlamites and lunatics under the sun.

Cherish Your Girlhood. Exchange. Dear girl, don't be so often wishing you were grown-up women that you will neglect your girlhood. In the rush and hurry of these fast times there is danger that you will reach and strain after "young ladyhood" too much.

Be girls while yet; tender, joyous, loving, obedient and industrious. Womanhood, with its privileges and power, its burdens and its trial, will come soon enough. On this point one has said: "Wait patiently, my children, through the whole limit of your girlhood. Do not after womanhood; let it come to you. Keep out of public view. Cultivate refinement and modesty. The cares and responsibilities of life will come soon enough. When they come you will meet them, I trust, as women should. But, oh, be not so unwise as to throw away your girlhood. Rob not yourself of this beautiful season, which wisely spent will brighten all your future life."

Auction Sale of Cattle. The two 2-year-old stray steers that came to my place near Condon last fall and which I advertised and had appraised, as required by statute, will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, at the livery stable of Johnson & Wilcox in Condon on Saturday, July 18, 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m. A. J. Moore.

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair. DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER. Most Perfect Made. 40 Years the Standard.

Our band is making rapid progress and is now one of the best bands in Eastern Oregon. Summer has come with a vengeance. Tuesday afternoon the mercury stood at 100 degrees in the shade. The celebration here passed off very nicely, about 1500 people being present. The ball in the evening was a grand success.

Mr. Hill Mrs. H. C. Strickland conducted one of the two stands on the ground and sold doodles of lemonade, ice cream, etc., to the amount of $106. The other stand was run by Nott brothers, who also done a good business.

Arlington Items. The river is gradually falling. Robt. Barfoot and family are in Portland. Ball playing appears to be the rage here now. Rev. Walbridge and family have returned to Heppner. Henry J. Nott of Olex was doing business in town Tuesday.

Mr. J. W. Smith of Riverside, Cal., is expected here soon on a visit. The W. O. W. of this place installed their new officers on the 9th inst. Mrs. Wenner has returned from her Portland visit. So has Miss Pearl Wood. Attorney Gurley, wife and baby returned from the valley Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Compton will go to Hardman the latter part of this week to visit her mother. Billy Cahill has returned from the upper Columbia, where he had been securing wood. Our band is making rapid progress and is now one of the best bands in Eastern Oregon. Summer has come with a vengeance. Tuesday afternoon the mercury stood at 100 degrees in the shade. The celebration here passed off very nicely, about 1500 people being present. The ball in the evening was a grand success.

Long Rock Riplets. Mrs. A. Crawford and Mrs. Wick will start to the Teal hot springs in a few days to spend the summer.

Mrs. Al Henshaw and daughter Birdie of Condon spent the 4th here and are visiting old friends in this section.

We have had frequent thunder showers up here lately, but not much rain fell in this immediate vicinity. The eye crop is the largest we have had for years but the other grain needs rain.

The K. of P's gave their installation here on the 4th in a most creditable manner. The order has a membership of 50 and they take particular pains to make every one feel at home with them.

The people of Lone Rock had a grand time on the Fourth. About 200 people were at the picnic, of whom 150 ate at the public table. The program was well rendered and all who took part did remarkably well.

R. H. Robinson, one of Arlington's popular merchants, has just completed one electric motor and one dynamo, of about 1/2 horse power. We believe they are the first ones made in Eastern Oregon, and are Mr. Robinson's first attempt.

We are sorry that Mr. Barnhart did not explain himself here as he does in his explanation or answer to my communication. Had he done so, there would have been nothing said. Notwithstanding his denial, he said in plain language that the Condon church people do those things, and did not name any other section or town, and we gave it as he expressed it, as all the congregation can testify to. Rev. Bramblet did say that there were some in the Condon church who did those things, but we do not believe he did right in saying so; nor do we believe his saying so gave any one else a license to say so. I have no desire to injure Mr. Barnhart in the least; but he should remember that the press is not much more public than is the pulpit, and it is a damage to any place to have it denounced by either.

A Motley Crowd. Oregonian. The Chronicle, the great democratic newspaper of Chicago and the West, publishes a roster of the chief populists, bolting republicans, greenbackers, Coxeyites and other political ragtag and bobtail who are at Chicago for the purpose of "running" the democratic national convention. It asks: "Was there ever anything like this before in the world? Was a democratic convention ever before preceded in the occupation of the city where it was to be held by throngs of rosters, howlers, shouters, shriekers and bolters of other parties, dictating what the convention should do or should not do as to its platform and candidates?"

Among them are Tanbeseck, chairman of the populist national committee; Fred Dubois of Idaho, Bill Stewart of Nevada, Ben Tillman of South Carolina, Pettigrew of South Dakota, Shafroth of Colorado, and shoals of smaller fry—members of other parties, of bolting factions, of leagues and syndicates of cranks, revolutionists and anarchists; a heterogeneous mob of all the visionaries, bedlamites and lunatics under the sun.
