Cork Pavement. The various discouragements which some of the European cities have met with in securing satisfactory street pavements have led to somewhat extensive and, it would appear, encouraging experiments with what is called cork pavement, from the fact that cork is the most prominent and essential ingredient in the amalgam of which it is composed. The pavement used in Vienna consists of granulated cork mixed with mineral asphalt and other cohesive substances, compressed into blocks of suitable size and form. Among the numerous advantages set forth in its behalf are cleanliness, noiselessness, durability, elasticity, freedom from slipperyness, whether wet or dry, and moderate cost. Unlike wood, too, it is nonabsorbent and consequently inodorous. It presents the minimum resistance to traction, and being elastic under passing loads does away with the vibration caused by heavy teaming. The blocks are imbedded in tar and rest upon a concrete base six inches thick. When taken up for examination, they have exhibited, when compared with new ones, a reduced thickness by wear of less than one-eighth inch, this in the case of a section of a London street leading to the Great Eastern railway station, subjected to continuous heavy traffic, the blocks having been in use nearly two years.

No Time to Tie Shoes. At one of the large thread factories, where some hundreds of girls are employed, a rule has been made that they shall wear only buttoned shoes. It was found that those who wore the other sort stopped their work a number of times each day to tie the laces that constantly came undone. In the case of one girl the minutes lost would not have been of any great consequence, but when it came to deducting the same amount of time for each of the 200 or 300 it was found that the daily loss was considerable. -New York Journal.

Comprehensive Review of the Important Happenings of the Past Week Cullied From the Press Dispatches.

Governor Lord, of Oregon, has issued his annual proclamation, as required by law, warning all persons against the reckless starting of fires in the mountains and among heavy timber.

Reports from Spokane say that crops in many sections of Washington are somewhat damaged, as a result of the hot weather of the past few weeks, oats especially having been badly burned.

News has been received in Havana that unknown parties have burned the Santa Barbara estate near Baro, province of Matanzas. The estate is owned by Senor Manuel Corenado, editor of La Discusion. The damage is estimated at $300,000.

The Venezuelans, through the efforts of President Crespo, intend to donate to the city of New York an equestrian statue of Simon Bolivar, and have commissioned the work to the Italian sculptor, Giovanni Turni, of Staten Island. The cost of the statue will be $200,000.

The report of Dr. D. A. Paine, of the Oregon state insane asylum, for the month of June, shows that 1,068 patients were confined in the institution at the close of that month. The expense per capita for June was the lowest, with one exception, in the history of the asylum.

A rebel group of 150 men attacked the town of Avalos, in Matanzas province, Cuba. The garrison repulsed the attack without loss. The rebels also attacked the town of Cidra, in Matanzas province, and poured sixty volleys into the place. They retreated as soon as the garrison returned the fire.

The two big sailing ships, the Santa Clara and the City of Philadelphia, sailed from New York last February, bound for San Francisco. The last heard of the Santa Clara was March 30, when she was spoken off the coast of Brazil. The City of Philadelphia was reported in the same locality March 3. Since then nothing has been heard of either vessel.

J. P. Minto, the retiring treasurer of Marion county, Or., showed his reluctance to turning over the office to his successor by removing all the county money from the vault and depositing it in one of the city banks, thus leaving the new treasurer with no money with which to pay county warrants. His action has occasioned much unfavorable comment.

Warner Miller barely escaped being shot while riding on a New York Central train from Albany to Herkimer. The train was passing through the outskirts of Albany, when a bullet crashed through the window an inch above Mr. Miller's head, covering him with splintered glass and passing out of the opposite window.

The trouble which occurred in Aurora, Ill., on the Fourth, when two misguided patriots pulled down a Greek flag, surrounded by American emblems is growing rather serious. A representative of the consul general is there investigating the matter. The representative says that it was an outrage as the Greek had his banner completely surrounded by American flags, which is eminently proper under international law.

A dispatch to the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange says the bark Mocha, from Vancouver for Santa Rosalia is ashore at Sooke inlet, and will probably be a total loss. The crew was saved.

In Walla Walla fire destroyed two one story buildings and the upper floor of a two-story building on Main street between Fourth and Fifth. The fire was caused by a lamp exploding in the rear of a millinery establishment.

Yale was defeated, but not disgraced in the third heat of the Grand Challenge cup, which was rowed at Henley-on-Thames. Leander won by one and three-fourths lengths in 7 minutes and 14 seconds. The record is 6 minutes and 51 seconds.

The rush of tourists to Alaska this season is remarkable. The Queen, which has just sailed, carried as passengers 180 first-class and almost as many more in the steerage. All the glaciers and points of interest are visited during these summer trips.

From advices received by the Australian steamer Mowera, which has just arrived in Vancouver, B. C., it now seems probable that the Queensland government will join New South Wales and Canada in granting a subsidy to the Canadian-Australian steamship line. Captain Bird, on behalf of James Huddart, managing owner of the line, recently interviewed the Queensland government, and it is said the government will recommend that parliament grant a subsidy of $5,000 per year for three years. The company is at present negotiating in England for the construction of larger steamers for the line.

Wanted No Railroad. In Niles, Mich., workmen lately have been engaged in repairing the St. Joseph valley railroad and putting it in running order, much against the wish of property-owners through which it runs. The latter, heavily armed, drove the workmen away and began tearing up the rails and leveling the roadbed, determined to destroy the railroad. The farmers retained possession and the railroad company's workmen feared to approach them. Several miles of the road were destroyed. The railroad company is powerless, but will endeavor to regain possession and complete the road.

Killed by a Posse. Ed Murphy, alias George Mooney, alias Burdette Wolf, who killed Andrew Artman, at a sheep camp in Grant county recently, was run down and killed by a posse on the John Day river, near Dayville. It is generally believed that Morphy or Mooney, is none other than Burdette Wolf, who killed Birdie Morton, his betrothed sweetheart, near Mount Taber, Or., October 12, 1892. It is said he admitted his identity to the sheepherders, and then afterward fearing his secret would be told, went back and tried to kill them. He murdered Artman, but the other escaped.

Vault Blown Open. An unsuccessful attempt was made in Bakersfield, Cal., to blow open the vault of the county treasury. Three holes were drilled in the front combination of the outer door, but none reached the vital part of the lock. Had the outer door been opened there would still have been an inner door to the vault, and a heavy steel safe inside to open before the money was reached.

Laborers Crushed. Four laborers were buried by the caving-in of a trench in Kansas City, Kan. Two of the men, Frank Scantifice and Donnie Holton, had their lives crushed out. Charles Jacobson was fatally injured. J. W. Callahan escaped practically unhurt. The trench was being built to lay a gas main.

Killed in a Quarrel. Isaac Swearingen was shot and killed by Harry Campbell at the house of the former, near Prineville, Or. The two men quarreled over the fact that Campbell persisted in visiting Swearingen's daughter after having been forbidden the house, and during the fight which ensued the old man was killed.

Robbed the Mail. Advice from Barranquilla, United States of Colombia, tell of the theft of $250,000 by two young men of high social standing. One is a nephew of a high official. The money was in course of transmission through the mail. The robbery was accomplished by breaking into the postoffice at night. The next day, the deed being discovered, inquiry was set on foot and a large part of the stolen money was found in the possession of the two young men. The balance was unrecovered, but will probably be reimbursed by relatives of the young men, to save them from the consequences of their crime.

Killed in the Act. W. Lemrisee, postmaster of the suburb of Forest Park, near Chicago, was sitting in his parlor in company with his son, his two daughters and two women visitors, when the front door opened and a negro carrying a big revolver walked in. He ordered young Lemrisee to stand, and when he did so, told one of the girls to search the boy's pockets and hand over the money she found. While this was going on Mr. Lemrisee quietly slipped into the next room, and getting his revolver, blew out the negroes brains. It is thought the man intended to rob the postoffice.

Must Pay Postage. Railroad companies no longer may carry their business letters over their own roads without paying postage to the government. An order has been received from Postmaster-General Wilson by Major Stewart and Postmaster Hering, insisting upon the enforcement of the postal laws against railways carrying their own letters. An exception is made in favor of letters that have to do with the business of the train carrying them. But all letters to station agents and officials are forbidden to be carried without postage, and the inspectors are directed to enforce the law.

A Tent Collapsed. A serious mishap that will disarrange the Christian Endeavor meeting, which is now in session in Washington, occurred Thursday evening. The tent "Williston," one of the largest stretches of canvas on the white lot, blew down and appears to be wrecked. It is feared it will be impossible to raise it again, as it is water-soaked and torn. This tent was calculated to hold about 10,000 people.

Repudiated by the Sun. The New York Sun in an editorial formally repudiates the national Democratic platform, and supports McKinley for the presidency.

Three Buildings Burned. The Central hotel and two buildings belonging to the C. P. K. Paint Co. at San Luis Obispo, Cal., were destroyed by fire.

BRYAN OF NEBRASKA

Nominated for President by the Democrats.

DELEGATES STAMPED TO HIM

He Carried All Before Him and Was Chosen on the Fifth Ballot - The Demonstration.

Chicago. - W. J. Bryan, "the boy orator of the Platte," and ex-congressman from Nebraska, was nominated by the Democratic national convention at Chicago, upon the fifth ballot.

Ever since Bryan's brilliant oratorical effort on the third day of the convention, he has been steadily gaining strength in the convention, and after the first ballot former supporters of other candidates rapidly transferred their allegiance, singly, in pairs and in droves, to the young statesman who had so ably defended their free-silver cause in and out of convention, and at all times.

After Mr. Bryan was nominated the convention unanimously ratified the choice of the majority.

The decks were cleared for balloting, which was to begin as soon as the Democratic national convention reassembled, at 10 o'clock on the fourth day. The real struggle opened with the delegates wrought to an intense pitch over the sensational developments of the previous day, when the

W. J. Bryan

Bryan wave swept through the convention, and threatened for a time at least to stamper it then and there. It had disturbed all calculations and thrown the ranks of the other candidates into confusion.

The Bryan forces were making the most of the phenomenal rise of the young orator of Nebraska. The adjournment at midnight had given the leaders of other candidates an opportunity to rally their forces, and it served also to give some hours in which some cool counsel might prevail against the wave of sentiment which was at high tide the night before.

Delegate Miller, of Oregon, added to the list of nominations the name of Sylvester Pennoyer, of Oregon. The names of Bland, Bryan, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews, McLean, Pattison and Pennoyer were before the convention.

There were no other nominations, and Chairman White announced that the roll-call of states for the nomination of president, would proceed. Great excitement swept over the hall. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Blackburn, 83; Bland, 233; Boies, 86; Bryan, 105; Campbell, 2; Hill, 1; Matthews, 37; McLean, 54; Pattison, 95; Pennoyer, 10; Russell, 2; Stevenson, 2; Teller, 18; Tillman, 17; not voting 183.

On the second ballot Massachusetts deserted Bland for Bryan, which created a sensation and started the other states, and in the two following ballots Bryan kept gradually gaining one state after another, until the result of the fourth ballot showed Bryan in the lead with 276, Bland having fallen to 241. This precipitated another demonstration which lasted for forty minutes. Twenty thousand people yelled themselves hoarse cheering for the Nebraskan. Several of the states' delegates then retired for consultation, and when they filed back into the hall the fifth ballot was taken, resulting in Bryan receiving the necessary two-thirds. On motion it was made unanimous.

The convention then adjourned. A night brief session was held, but a vote on the vice-presidential nominee was not reached.

W. J. Bryan's Career.

William Jennings Bryan, who is popularly known as "the boy orator of the Platte," is the youngest man ever nominated for the presidency by a political party in the United States, exceeding, as he does, the age limitation fixed by the constitution by only sixteen months. He is the editor of the Omaha Daily and Weekly World-Herald, one of the leading silver organs of the country, and has for many years, both on the rostrum and through the columns of his paper, been an advocate of the free coinage of silver.

He was born in Salem, Marion county, Illinois, March 19, 1856, which makes him now but a few months over 38 years of age.
